

OREGON CHAMPIONS AT TENNIS HOPEFUL

Return of State Title Is Desire of Veterans.

PLAYERS ARE PROMISING

Walter A. Goss Thinks Woldford and Kenneth Smith Have Good Chance at Coming Tourney.

Twenty-three years ago General Walter A. Bethel was declared the first Oregon state tennis champion. Last year Bill Ingraham of Providence, R. I. won the title. Another champion will be crowned on the Irvington club courts next week, with the annual Oregon state championship tennis tournament slated to begin Monday, July 16.

In the span of 23 years Oregon representatives have won the title but eight times. It has been a great task developing Oregon's youthful stars to a point where they can be depended upon to uphold the honors of the state. Since General Bethel won the title in 1899 the laurels have been carried several many times to California, several times to British Columbia and occasionally to Puget sound.

Goss Checks Invaders. Walter A. Goss stopped the rush of the invaders on these occasions and finally won the famous Eysk challenge cup. General Bethel repeated his feat of winning the championship last year and last year victory and Brant Wickersham held it one year. These were the old timers who flashed to the fore who must now be considered the veterans of the father-and-son events.

In recent years two Oregon sons have defended the honors. Catlin Woldford won the title once and Phil Near once. When Near won the British Columbia championship in 1919 the British Columbia people were forced to drop their claim to the title to the effect that they always were able to keep British Columbia championships at home.

Woldford Coming Champion. "It's rather tough luck to develop a national contender in British Columbia and then find that he has almost outgrown our facilities. However, he is a sample of Oregon's youth whom we are very pleased to display even though we find ourselves somewhat handicapped in putting up a proper defense against our welcome invaders."

"In Catlin Woldford we have a very fine tennis player. He is a generalissimo to the last degree. His game is sound to the core and his only defect is one of temperament when he sometimes seems to be laboring under some sort of nervous abandon which delays his getting some of his own shots quickly ironed out. His form is beautiful and he is a safe and sure model for the beginner to follow."

Kenneth Smith Next Hope. "Kenneth Smith is our next hope. Kenneth Smith is still a youngster, but what he has thus far accomplished is a mighty fine article. His big need is to put up his game in the forefront of the state. He is fast and a hard hitter with a good service. He sometimes is too close to the net, sometimes not close enough and is slow to react, which is proof of his untapped position."

"When Kenneth works out his problems in the tennis court, the net he will be just about as good as a tennis player as Oregon has thus far brought forth."

"Harry Gray and Rogers MacVeagh may do us some good, but they are both essentially double players and they have both worn out too many tennis shoes to learn any new tricks."

Goss Jr. Father's Hopeful. Goss Jr. did not mention the time when he was one of this band of young racquet players. He has forgotten all about winning state championships now and is preparing for the coming father-and-sons event. He says that he will be ready in 1935, when Walter A. Goss Jr. will be 16 years old and steps into his father's shoes.

Prizes to Be Given. Prizes for the tournament have been purchased and will be presented to the winners immediately after the final matches.

A. B. McAlpin has had a conference with the committee and as referee is anxious to get all the details as well arranged in advance, so that no hitch may develop. The arrival of his stable brings the total horses now at Randall up to 12.

The arrival of his stable brings the total horses now at Randall up to 12. The stable of Walter Cox, Lon McDonald and several other prominent drivers are still to come. Many of the famous reinmen already are here, having arrived preceding the opening of the 1932 harness season which was ushered in here in the Greater Cleveland district with the meeting at the North Randall half-mile track June 5.

Among stables quartered here now are those of Johnny Thomas, Charles Valentine, Dick McMahon, Fred Edman, Fred Egan, Sep, Pailin, Ben Whitehead, Tommy Berry, Fred Bennett, Frank Phillips, Nat Ray, Harry Stokes, Marvin Childs, Will Squire, Will Rosemire and Will Catron. The latter two are handling the Pastime stable, Catron having recently returned from Russia.

Golf Balls to Sell for a Dime. NEW YORK, July 1.—A golf ball to sell for 10 cents has been put on the market, and is now being handled by a large chain store organization. It is produced by a large company, and on account of the low price it is inferred that scrap rubber is used. The wholesale price is $2 a gross. Those who have used the new product say it is as lively as any other makes and will stand rough handling even better.

TWO OF THE NEW COMERS TO THE PORTLAND TEAM, OF WHOM BILL KLEPPER AND ACTING MANAGER TURNER EXPECT GREAT THINGS.

GREB LOSES BIG CHANGE

FIGHT FANS SORRY MATCH WITH GEORGES FAILED.

Carpenter Too Busy in Europe Picking Up Easy Money in Battle With American.

Georges Carpenter's formal declaration to meet Harry Greb in a bout for the world's light heavyweight boxing championship in this country this season is regrettable. This match promised to be one of the big affairs of the year in the big arena at Madison Square Garden. The Frenchman declares that he has already been matched to fight Nilles in Paris in September and Beckett in London in October. Both these affairs can be classed as set-ups for the man who last year essayed to take the world's heavyweight championship away from Dempsey. Carpenter is so busy picking up easy money when it is forced upon him.

When Carpenter would give Carpenter quite a battle, the Pittsburgh whirlwind might not win, but Carpenter would knock him out in a battle. And there are quite a few who believe that Greb would have a good chance to outpoint the holder of the world's light heavyweight title.

To those who have been closely studying the trend of pugilistic events for the last few months, the fact that Carpenter is so busy picking up easy money when it is forced upon him is not surprising. It is a fact that Greb is a very fine boxer and a very good fighter. He is a generalissimo to the last degree. His game is sound to the core and his only defect is one of temperament when he sometimes seems to be laboring under some sort of nervous abandon which delays his getting some of his own shots quickly ironed out. His form is beautiful and he is a safe and sure model for the beginner to follow.

When Kenneth works out his problems in the tennis court, the net he will be just about as good as a tennis player as Oregon has thus far brought forth.

"Harry Gray and Rogers MacVeagh may do us some good, but they are both essentially double players and they have both worn out too many tennis shoes to learn any new tricks."

Goss Jr. Father's Hopeful. Goss Jr. did not mention the time when he was one of this band of young racquet players. He has forgotten all about winning state championships now and is preparing for the coming father-and-sons event. He says that he will be ready in 1935, when Walter A. Goss Jr. will be 16 years old and steps into his father's shoes.

Prizes to Be Given. Prizes for the tournament have been purchased and will be presented to the winners immediately after the final matches.

A. B. McAlpin has had a conference with the committee and as referee is anxious to get all the details as well arranged in advance, so that no hitch may develop. The arrival of his stable brings the total horses now at Randall up to 12.

The arrival of his stable brings the total horses now at Randall up to 12. The stable of Walter Cox, Lon McDonald and several other prominent drivers are still to come. Many of the famous reinmen already are here, having arrived preceding the opening of the 1932 harness season which was ushered in here in the Greater Cleveland district with the meeting at the North Randall half-mile track June 5.

Among stables quartered here now are those of Johnny Thomas, Charles Valentine, Dick McMahon, Fred Edman, Fred Egan, Sep, Pailin, Ben Whitehead, Tommy Berry, Fred Bennett, Frank Phillips, Nat Ray, Harry Stokes, Marvin Childs, Will Squire, Will Rosemire and Will Catron. The latter two are handling the Pastime stable, Catron having recently returned from Russia.

GIANTS' MANAGER ONLY OPTIMIST IN CROWD.

AMERICAN LINEUP SAME BUSH SHAMES BULLETS

Yank Pitcher's Speed Is of Dazzling Order. Whenever Batter Gets Two-Bagger Off Joe It's Clinch-He Just Shut Eyes and Swung.

By George Chadwick. (Copyright 1932 by The Evening News, Inc.) NEW YORK, July 1.—(Special)—It is nearly mid-season today in both major leagues. It is also within three days of the Fourth of July, which has come to have some sort of mysticism about it, because once upon a time a fellow discovered that the team which won first in the league on the glorious Fourth was also first when the season was over.

The hunch—or the omen, or whatever it may be—doesn't work out. Barney Dreyfus and George Gibson still are the best of every pitcher they were basking in the smiles of fortune, as the good novel writer would say, and when it came October here was a soul in Pittsburgh would do them reverence. One fan was so all-fired mad that he thought Barney's grounds should be shut up because the fans have loved the Pittsburgh populace so outrageously.

Teams Are Sized Up. When it comes to the middle of the season, however, the manager begins to know the value of everything that he had on hand, and from then until the last hour of grace which dawns for him, he plans to make the best of every player on his payroll.

There is not a manager in the National League today who is really backing up the pitcher who he has accepted as the manager of the Giants. He will not say that he will win even with the season half behind him, but he knows that he has a better chance than any of the other clubs if this pitcher lasts long enough.

Branch Rickey is optimistic. He still thinks that his St. Louis Cardinals will show a spurt similar to that which they exhibited in the closing days of 1931. He seems to believe that the Cardinals will make them really had no bearing on the outcome of the race.

Brooklyn Has Chance. Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Boston and Philadelphia have nothing to show for the year. Brooklyn isn't giving up yet, but the Brooklyn club has too much weight and too little speed to have little more than a distant hope that they will show a spurt similar to that which they exhibited in the closing days of 1931.

Neer and Davies Win Intercollegiate Doubles Title Is Captured. Lucian E. Williams Takes Singles Championship by Defeating Wray Brown.

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—Lucian E. Williams, Yale, won the singles championship and Phil Neer and James Davies, Leland Stanford, the doubles title of the Intercollegiate Tennis association at the Merion Cricket club today. This is the first time a Pacific coast team has ever won the doubles championship.

Williams defeated Wray Brown, Washington university, St. Louis, 6-3, 5-1, 7-5. In the doubles Neer and Davies scored a three-set victory over Williams and G. N. Wheeler, Yale, 8-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Williams and Brown played a deep court game. Brown, who is an aggressive net game player, was forced to abandon this style because of the heavy condition of the court due to a rain storm, which caused the postponement of the start of the match a half hour.

The Yale man was much steadier than the Washington university player. Neer and Davies made a hard fight to stave off defeat in the third set. Williams leading in games, 4-1. Brown dropped the back court style of play and by rushing to the net at opportune times won the next four games. Williams, however, rallied and won the final three games.

The best tennis was provided in the doubles. Neer and Davies gave beautiful exhibitions of volleying and driving.

The serving of Neer and the general court play of Davies carried the Pacific coast players to the capital. Three times Davies slipped and fell on the wet court, but he kept the ball while on the ground and arose in time to earn a point for his team. The first two sets were bitterly contested, but in the third set Williams, tired from his previous match in the singles, weakened.

Athletic Heart Scouted. No Such Thing, Says Coach at University of Chicago. Do athletes suffer from athletic heart? A. A. Stagg, athletic coach at the University of Chicago, says "there is no such thing." Some physicians say there is, but the coach says he never experienced it.

Jockey Jeers at Emperor. French Rider Demands 10,000 Marks for Winning Race. George Stern, who rode Ramus to victory in the French derby at Chantilly, smiled broadly as he pocketed a large bonus which the owner of Ramus, Marcel Boussou, handed him.

"Brokers are more generous than emperors," said Stern reminiscently. Former Emperor William of Germany, so a story goes, sent a hurry call to Stern to ride his horse in the grand prix in Berlin a few years before the war. Stern won the race for the emperor and the court jockey afterwards handed the jockey 3000 marks.

GIANTS' MANAGER ONLY OPTIMIST IN CROWD.

AMERICAN LINEUP SAME BUSH SHAMES BULLETS

Yank Pitcher's Speed Is of Dazzling Order. Whenever Batter Gets Two-Bagger Off Joe It's Clinch-He Just Shut Eyes and Swung.

By George Chadwick. (Copyright 1932 by The Evening News, Inc.) NEW YORK, July 1.—(Special)—It is nearly mid-season today in both major leagues. It is also within three days of the Fourth of July, which has come to have some sort of mysticism about it, because once upon a time a fellow discovered that the team which won first in the league on the glorious Fourth was also first when the season was over.

The hunch—or the omen, or whatever it may be—doesn't work out. Barney Dreyfus and George Gibson still are the best of every pitcher they were basking in the smiles of fortune, as the good novel writer would say, and when it came October here was a soul in Pittsburgh would do them reverence. One fan was so all-fired mad that he thought Barney's grounds should be shut up because the fans have loved the Pittsburgh populace so outrageously.

Teams Are Sized Up. When it comes to the middle of the season, however, the manager begins to know the value of everything that he had on hand, and from then until the last hour of grace which dawns for him, he plans to make the best of every player on his payroll.

There is not a manager in the National League today who is really backing up the pitcher who he has accepted as the manager of the Giants. He will not say that he will win even with the season half behind him, but he knows that he has a better chance than any of the other clubs if this pitcher lasts long enough.

Branch Rickey is optimistic. He still thinks that his St. Louis Cardinals will show a spurt similar to that which they exhibited in the closing days of 1931. He seems to believe that the Cardinals will make them really had no bearing on the outcome of the race.

Brooklyn Has Chance. Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Boston and Philadelphia have nothing to show for the year. Brooklyn isn't giving up yet, but the Brooklyn club has too much weight and too little speed to have little more than a distant hope that they will show a spurt similar to that which they exhibited in the closing days of 1931.

Neer and Davies Win Intercollegiate Doubles Title Is Captured. Lucian E. Williams Takes Singles Championship by Defeating Wray Brown.

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—Lucian E. Williams, Yale, won the singles championship and Phil Neer and James Davies, Leland Stanford, the doubles title of the Intercollegiate Tennis association at the Merion Cricket club today. This is the first time a Pacific coast team has ever won the doubles championship.

Williams defeated Wray Brown, Washington university, St. Louis, 6-3, 5-1, 7-5. In the doubles Neer and Davies scored a three-set victory over Williams and G. N. Wheeler, Yale, 8-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Williams and Brown played a deep court game. Brown, who is an aggressive net game player, was forced to abandon this style because of the heavy condition of the court due to a rain storm, which caused the postponement of the start of the match a half hour.

The Yale man was much steadier than the Washington university player. Neer and Davies made a hard fight to stave off defeat in the third set. Williams leading in games, 4-1. Brown dropped the back court style of play and by rushing to the net at opportune times won the next four games. Williams, however, rallied and won the final three games.

The best tennis was provided in the doubles. Neer and Davies gave beautiful exhibitions of volleying and driving.

The serving of Neer and the general court play of Davies carried the Pacific coast players to the capital. Three times Davies slipped and fell on the wet court, but he kept the ball while on the ground and arose in time to earn a point for his team. The first two sets were bitterly contested, but in the third set Williams, tired from his previous match in the singles, weakened.

Athletic Heart Scouted. No Such Thing, Says Coach at University of Chicago. Do athletes suffer from athletic heart? A. A. Stagg, athletic coach at the University of Chicago, says "there is no such thing." Some physicians say there is, but the coach says he never experienced it.

Jockey Jeers at Emperor. French Rider Demands 10,000 Marks for Winning Race. George Stern, who rode Ramus to victory in the French derby at Chantilly, smiled broadly as he pocketed a large bonus which the owner of Ramus, Marcel Boussou, handed him.

"Brokers are more generous than emperors," said Stern reminiscently. Former Emperor William of Germany, so a story goes, sent a hurry call to Stern to ride his horse in the grand prix in Berlin a few years before the war. Stern won the race for the emperor and the court jockey afterwards handed the jockey 3000 marks.

THIBODAUX VICTOR IN LATONIA DERBY

Sensation of Kentucky Special Repeats. Finish Is in Canter

Yoshimi Defeated by Ten Lengths With Olympus Third. Purse Is $15,000.

Latonia, Ky., July 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Thibodaux, the surprise horse of the Kentucky special, when he ran a sensational second to Whiskaway and beat the great Morvich, came back today and won the Latonia derby from Yoshimi and Olympus in the easiest kind of fashion.

Withdrawal of Broomster and Margaret Winsor had reduced the field to three starters. The race was run over a distance of a mile and one-half for a purse of $15,000 and $2000 of which went to the second horse and $1000 to the third. Olympus was first to show in front when the barrier went up, Thibodaux following and Yoshimi, a slow beginner, trailed.

Yoshimi was first to show in front when the barrier went up, Thibodaux following and Yoshimi, a slow beginner, trailed. The half mile Olympus had increased his lead to three lengths and appeared to be running easily. This position he maintained until the horses turned into the back stretch. Here Earl Pool, jockey on Thibodaux, shook up his mount and passed the eighth pole passed the favorite and took the place money by a margin of five lengths.

A $2 mutual ticket on the winner paid $13.50 to win and $2.40 to place. Yoshimi paid $3.20 to place. While the time was 4 1/2 seconds more than the track record of 2:12 3/4, the favorite was Minto 24, there were many horsemen who believed that had the Cincinnati owned colt been ridden out these figures might have been equalled if not lowered.

In December of last year Bush, Sackey and Everett Scott were traded to the Yankees for Peckinpaugh, Quinn, Piercy and Collins. The "cogmomen" Buller, hardly seen since he was traded to the Yankees, looked like a slow freight alongside one of his speed balls.

J. DUNN'S DEATH MOURNED. Sole Owner of Indians Held Patent for Baseball Magnates. Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, is one of the most widely known and respected men in the sport of baseball.

SPORT ENTAILS GREAT RISK TO THOSE WHO PLAY. Game Combination of Bowling, Golf, Lacrosse, Billiards and Horsemanship. Lovers of almost any popular sport enjoyed in the incident would find an appeal in Japanese polo, or "polo," as it is called.

Japanese Polo Unique. Tris Speaker became manager of the Cleveland team, the Indians are the only team in the major leagues to have a manager who is a former player. Speaker was a star pitcher in the Cleveland team's history.

CLEVELAND NEEDS PITCHERS. Indians Hover Around .500 Mark in American League Race. CLEVELAND, July 1.—Baseball fans are asking this question: "What is the situation with the Indians?" For the first time since Tris Speaker became manager of the Cleveland team, the Indians are in a position to win the pennant.

Donohue's Injury Blow to Moran. The recent injury to Pete Donohue, young right-handed pitcher, has been a blow to Moran, intrepid leader of the Cific Reds. Pat was counting on Donohue as one of his mainstays in the box and believed that the Irish lad would help put the Redlegs up among the leaders.

Two Women on Scratch. Miss Marion Hollins of Westbrook, holder of the women's national golf title, and Mrs. William A. Gavin of Belleclair, the metropolitan champion, are the only women players from the New York district placed on scratch, according to the report of the handicapping committee of the Women's Metropolitan Golf association.

Safe or Out? A Runners are on first and second but first base is empty. The pitcher is in the box and the batter is ready to swing. The pitcher has thrown the ball and the batter has swung.

Pugilistic Values Differ. The difference in pugilistic values on this and the other side of the Atlantic is as marked as the ability of the fighters. Over in England the difference is even more marked.

Koehler to Lead Penn Staters. H. L. Koehler of Stroudsburg was elected captain of the Penn State baseball team for a second year. Koehler, who plays short on the team, led the Nittany nine during the season just closed, and is also captain-elect of next season's baseball team.

It Will Be Worth Your While to walk up to HENDERSON'S 410 STARK STREET. And see his complete line of suitings. Out of high rent district.

The Evinrude's Little Brother. The Evinrude Centrifugal Pump. The Most Wonderful Pump on the Market. Here is the Pump the Japanese and Chinese truck gardeners are using for irrigating. It will pump more water for less money. Runs almost an entire day on 2 gallons of gasoline.