of Mr. and Mrs. L. Allen Lewis is at the Good Samaritan hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

An important social event on the calendar for this week is the wedding of Miss Doris Henningsen and Severin Harkson, which will be solemnized next Saturday evening at St. David's Episcopal church. Rev. Thomas Jenkins will officiate. Miss Henningsen has been delightfully entertained since the announcement of her engagement, and has proved one of the most popular brides-elect of the season.

At an impressive service, Miss Dorothy Sanford became the bride of Leonard Dale Wilson last evening in the Unitarian church, with Rev. William G. Elliot Jr. officiating. The church was effectively decorated with delphinium, chrysanthemums, syringia and huckleberry. Ralph Hoyt played the organ and Misses Jane and Anne O'Reilly accompanied him on violins. The ushers were Winn Nicholas, Jay Russell Coffey, Harold Sanford and Robert Ellsworth. York Wilson of Boise, Idaho, attended as his brother.

A headress in oriental style with bands of looped crystal beads suspended from a coronet of rarest lace was most attractive to the bride. Her gown was of white crepe satin made in straight lines. Head-dress ornaments at the waist and an outline of pearl trimming on the tunic were the only trimmings. Her flowers were opheia, roses, white sweet peas and lilacs of the valley.

A quaint gown made in Dolly Varden style, was worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Harold Sanford. It was of tulle and tulle with a basque and tiny nosegays interspersed with blue ribbons on the skirt. She wore a silver wreath in her coilure and carried a colonial bouquet.

Little Virginia Gault was a petite flower girl, dressed in white organdy with a blue sash and carrying a basket of roses. A black velvet suit was worn by Master Tom Coffey, the ring-bearer.

No reception was held following the ceremony, but a wedding supper was served to the bridal party at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Sanford.

After a short motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will make their home in eastern Oregon.

The wedding of Miss Lura Tammie and John M. Lansinger of Chicago will be solemnized next Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. Philippe Tammie. Only members of the immediate family will witness the ceremony, but friends will attend a reception afterward. Miss Tammie is an attractive and popular girl and has a host of friends who will regret the fact that she is to make her home in Chicago.

Mrs. William Reginald Jackson (Elizabeth Jacobs) has arrived in Portland and is visiting her mother, Mrs. Frederick A. Jacobs, at the Mallory hotel. Mrs. Jacobs will honor her daughter with a luncheon this week.

Mrs. Oscar Menefee and her daughter, Miss Flora Jane Menefee, are in the city and are residing at the Mallory hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Hartwell and their small daughter Victoria
