

UNIVERSAL SCORES TRIUMPH IN PRODUCING "THE STORM"

Eastern Theater Records Smashed by Photodrama Founded on Langdon McCormick's Story, Providing Capital Entertainment.

House Peters, who is scoring the biggest hit of his screen career in Langdon McCormick's powerful screen production, "The Storm."

UNIVERSAL has every reason to feel proud of "The Storm." This feature, founded on Langdon McCormick's story, vaudeville sketch and stage play, is a capital melodramatic entertainment. The story is very well told and grips the interest from first to last and the producers are deserving of every credit for the manner in which the beautiful winter scenes are produced...

Directorship Won After Hard Struggle.

Hugh Hoffman Awarded Universal Post in Recognition of 12 Years' Preparation.

HUGH HOFFMAN has been given a company of his own at Universal City. Another ambition realized. Ninety-nine out of every 100 in the production end of the business want to be directors. One out of every 1000 realize this ambition. Hoffman was only been trying for 12 years, so there is still hope for others...

Film Rights to "Timber" Are Bought by Mayer.

Production Will Be Made Elaborately Under Direction of Barker.

LOUIS B. MAYER announces the purchase of the famous Harold Titus novel, "Timber," as the story for Reginald Barker's first independent unit production. The director is now selecting an all-star cast for the picture, which will go into production within the next two weeks.

Record "Set" Constructed for Special Film.

"The Eternal Flame," featuring Norma Talmadge, Forces Expenditure. The largest motion picture "set" ever registered by the motion picture camera, not even excepting the gigantic sets in the spectacular foreign productions, will be seen in "The Eternal Flame," Norma Talmadge's forthcoming eight-reel feature production, directed by Frank Lloyd. It is a big ballroom scene of the period of Louis XVIII, in which 800 men and women, in court costume of the second restoration design, appear on the dance floor and in promenade.

one; then came Jack Ford, the director, followed by Charles Jones and Shirley Mason. Tom Mix hasn't been heard from, but Tom thinks more of his horses than he does of his cast, so the old boat will probably do for a while.

Gloria Swanson Denies Rapping Hollywood.

GLORIA SWANSON has indignantly denied making any statements while in Europe that were in any way a reflection upon Hollywood. She had been back only a few days at her California home when some of her associates in the Paramount organization questioned her about remarks that had been attributed to her in French newspapers.

Statements Attributed Her While Abroad Repeated by Star.

"I never gave out any sort of an interview in Paris," she declared. "I was alone with my English and French friends. I never gave out any sort of an interview in Paris, she declared. 'I was alone with my English and French friends. I never gave out any sort of an interview in Paris, she declared. 'I was alone with my English and French friends.

Rupert Hughes Has Habit of Wearing Bow Neckties

Author Carries Walking Stick and Nearly Always Smokes Cigar, But Might Pass for Business Man.

YOU have read what the stars eat for breakfast, what they wear, how they fix their hair, the color of their eyes, height, weight and circumference. In fact, there is hardly any personal fact about the actors that has not been bruited from the houseboats. But such intimation about well-known authors is hardly to be found in all the public prints.

Liberty Theater Offers Double Bill with Keaton

"Frozen-Face" Contributes Mirthquake, "My Wife's Relations," Which Is Unquestionably His Greatest Comedy Production.

"Harrowing" scene from "My Wife's Relations," in which Buster Keaton produces another highly ludicrous picture, supported by Kate Price.

BUSTER KEATON gives the Liberty theater patrons a real mirthquake in a two-reel comedy "My Wife's Relations." Anyone with relatives—and almost everyone has suffered with them at one time or another—can appreciate the comedy possibilities in such a picture. "My Wife's Relations" takes these possibilities and makes them into reality as it unfolds in two reels of splendid gags and situations that bring continuous laughs.

Eugene O'Brien Will Play Opposite Norma

Fans Pleased That Former Team Again Will Work Together.

WHAT Sir James Barrie discovered in Maude Adams, Robert Hitchcock has found in Norma Talmadge—a consummate actress to recreate the characters of his tumultuous novels.

Lack of Prairie Schooner Holds Up Screen Story.

Kiser Director Unsuccessful in Hunt for Absolute Essential.

MAE NORTON O'FARRELL'S screen story, accepted by the Kiser studios under the title of "Landscape of the Mist," is being held up because Broderick O'Farrell, the Kiser director, and also husband of the writer, has been unsuccessful in his search for a prairie schooner. The story is a real life, set in the west, but as yet it has been impossible to find even one.

Close-ups of Film Folks

Thomas Meighan and his wife, who on the stage formerly was known as Frances Ring, at breakfast in their charming home, located in studio-land.

THOMAS MEIGHAN is just a regular fellow off the screen as well as on it. In his home and among his friends he is known as "Tom." He is a six-foot, easy-going fellow, always at ease, with a wealth of Irish humor, and a wholesome affection for children.

LIBERTY THEATER OFFERS DOUBLE BILL WITH KEATON

"Frozen-Face" Contributes Mirthquake, "My Wife's Relations," Which Is Unquestionably His Greatest Comedy Production.

"Harrowing" scene from "My Wife's Relations," in which Buster Keaton produces another highly ludicrous picture, supported by Kate Price.

BUSTER KEATON gives the Liberty theater patrons a real mirthquake in a two-reel comedy "My Wife's Relations." Anyone with relatives—and almost everyone has suffered with them at one time or another—can appreciate the comedy possibilities in such a picture. "My Wife's Relations" takes these possibilities and makes them into reality as it unfolds in two reels of splendid gags and situations that bring continuous laughs.

RUPERT HUGHES HAS HABIT OF WEARING BOW NECKTIES

Author Carries Walking Stick and Nearly Always Smokes Cigar, But Might Pass for Business Man.

YOU have read what the stars eat for breakfast, what they wear, how they fix their hair, the color of their eyes, height, weight and circumference. In fact, there is hardly any personal fact about the actors that has not been bruited from the houseboats. But such intimation about well-known authors is hardly to be found in all the public prints.

Eugene O'Brien Will Play Opposite Norma

Fans Pleased That Former Team Again Will Work Together.

WHAT Sir James Barrie discovered in Maude Adams, Robert Hitchcock has found in Norma Talmadge—a consummate actress to recreate the characters of his tumultuous novels.

Lack of Prairie Schooner Holds Up Screen Story.

Kiser Director Unsuccessful in Hunt for Absolute Essential.

MAE NORTON O'FARRELL'S screen story, accepted by the Kiser studios under the title of "Landscape of the Mist," is being held up because Broderick O'Farrell, the Kiser director, and also husband of the writer, has been unsuccessful in his search for a prairie schooner.

Close-ups of Film Folks

Thomas Meighan and his wife, who on the stage formerly was known as Frances Ring, at breakfast in their charming home, located in studio-land.

THOMAS MEIGHAN is just a regular fellow off the screen as well as on it. In his home and among his friends he is known as "Tom." He is a six-foot, easy-going fellow, always at ease, with a wealth of Irish humor, and a wholesome affection for children.

"ONE CLEAR CALL"

Cast includes Claire Windsor, Milton Sills, Henry B. Walthall and Irene Rich.

We are holding this "new" picture over for the second week, for it is worth it. We call it "new" because you'll find new thrills, new throbs, new laughs and new tears. It is "different" because no one of the splendid cast does what you expect him to do. Ask anyone who has seen it.

KNOWLES' PICTURE PLAYERS Portland's Largest and Best Theater Orchestra

COLUMBIA THE COOL Theater Today's The Day!

Eugene O'Brien Will Play Opposite Norma. Fans Pleased That Former Team Again Will Work Together.

Majestic Presenting Monroe Salisbury in 'The Great Alone' - A Story of Alaska. The Cool Theater Today's The Day!

Pathe News Mut & Jeff THE CIRCLE THEATRE PRISCILLA DEAN IN HER CROWNING SUCCESS 'WLD HONEY'