NOT ONLY those society folk who have gone to the beaches and mountains for rest and summer pleasures, but also those who are staying in town are enjoying a real vacation time. The weather during the past week has been ideal for out-of-doors entertaining. Informal teas in the garden, afternoons spent on the veranda, tea at the country club and motor trips out the Columbia river highway are proving popular. Lovers of sport have relished these sunny days. The Irvington club, where the state tennis tournament was played, and the Tualatin Golf club, where the golf tourney was held, have attracted many. The white tennis flannels of the men, the chic sport costumes of the women participating in the games, and dainty summer frocks of those who went to witness the sport and take tea at the clubhouse, made charming pictures.

On Monday Mrs. William MacMaster presided at the tea hour at the Irvington club, and was assisted in serving by the Misses Margaret Biddle, Louise Linthicum, Polly Kerr, Elizabeth Halley and Anna Wheeler. Mrs. Victor Johnson and Mrs. E. L. Davenport were hostesses at the tea table Tuesday. The following young girls assisted: Misses Mary Louise Platt, Barbara Stanfield, Marguerite Wieland, Jane Talbot, Dorothy Smith and Margaret Spencer.

Wednesday, Mrs. R. W. Neighbor was in charge, and serving were Misses Janice Parker, Maud Neighbor, Elizabeth Ettinger, Marian Matheson and Catherine Henderson. Assisting Mrs. Walter Cook Thursday at the Irvington club were Misses Edith Marshall, Harriet Griffith, Helen Marshall, Janet Griffith, Suzanne Caswell, Catherine Carter and Margaret Cook.

Mrs. F. C. Felter and Mrs. L. S. Martin presided Friday and Mrs. W. B. Ayer was the hostess yesterday. Assisting on Friday were the Misses Elizabeth Martin, Frances Murphy, Elizabeth Tafe, Margaret Howe, Mary Aileen Martin and Ruth Felter. The visiting tennis players were honored at a dance Friday evening at the clubhouse. Mrs. Rogers MacVeagh and Mrs. Joseph Mulder were in charge of the social activities for the week at Irvington.
