Mrs. Joseph H. ...

E. Samuel, Miss Mal Hirsch, Miss Ruth Lowengart and Miss Freda Baruh. Mrs. Milton Kahn was general chairman of arrangements. Mrs. Charles F. Berg was in charge of entertaining the men.
Mrs. Ben Selling and Mrs. J. Lippett, who presided Wednesday, were assisted by Mrs. Herbert Sichel, Mrs. J. Hausman, Miss Ruth Lowengart and Miss Judith Lippett. Mrs. Sigmond Frank and Mrs. Albert Feldenheimer poured Thursday. Mrs. Isadore Koshian and Mrs. Julius Louissou were in charge Friday.
Two important weddings were listed on the social calendar for the week. On Wednesday Miss Lura Tamiesie became the bride of John M. Lanninger of Chicago; last evening Miss Doris Henningsen and Severin Harkson were married.
Announcement of the engagement of Miss Jane Sellen and Allen Meier was of great interest on Friday morning.

Miss Stella Reggs who is spending the summer here after returning from Mills College.

Miss Lura Tamiesie and John M. Lanninger of Chicago were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. Phillippe Tamiesie. Members of the immediate family witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. W. W. Youngson. At 10 o'clock a reception was held. In the receiving line with the principals were Dr. and Mrs. Tamiesie.
The bride wore a white tulle gown, crepe gown, beaded and embroidered. Her mother wore a black lace dress. Presiding at the coffee urn were Mrs. A. E. Tamiesie and Mrs. Roscoe R. Giltner. Mrs. George Alexander and Mrs. Kate Kelly cut the cake. Miss Marlan Mitchell, Miss Mary Holmes and Miss Helen Killeen assisted in the dining room and Miss Florence Holmes, Mrs. C. M. Maurice and Miss Nell Hemmway assisted in the reception room. Mrs. J. W. Gray and Miss Mildred Steinmetz were stationed at the punch bowl.
The Tamiesie home was decorated with cut flowers and ferns. A stringed orchestra furnished music during the evening.
The bride is a Stanford graduate, a member of Chi Omega and president of the Portland alumnae association of that fraternity. Mr. Lanninger was a member of Phi Kappa Psi at Franklin and Marshall college in Pennsylvania. He is the son of J. W. Lanninger of Philadelphia and is secretary-treasurer of the Independent Publishing company of Chicago.
After a three weeks' trip through Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Lanninger will make their home in Chicago.

Mrs. Robert A. Bowden of Sacramento, Cal., who, with her two little daughters is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Skene Moody, has been delightfully entertained Thursday she was honored at an informal tea by Mrs. George A. Boring. Friday Mrs. A. Craig McMicken entertained at a tea in compliment to the California visitor.
Miss Catherine Wilkeson, daughter of Mrs. Samuel Wilkeson of Tacoma, was married to Joseph Hamilton Lambert of Portland Wednesday at a beautiful church wedding in Tacoma. The marriage, which was solemnized at St. Luke's Pro-Cathedral, was one of the most impressive of the many marriages which have had their setting in the beautiful little memorial chapel, so essentially a part of the early history of Tacoma.
In arrangement and appointment every detail seemed perfect. Mrs. Mary E. Hayden had charge of the interior decoration of the church with a result which had never been surpassed. Shasta daisies in delicate clusters filled the window ledges, swung in hanging baskets and marked the entrance to each pew. With them were arranged sprays of huckleberry and feathery gypsophillum, all forming a bower of blossom and greenery. Sprays of Dorothy Perkins roses were tied with daisies and formed an outline for the latticed windows. Tall white lilies against a background of palms outlined the altar and among them gleamed the light from the waxen tapers adding to the impressive effect. The chancel and altar were entirely in white and green.
The church was filled with guests, all of whom have known the bride for many years. Miss Mary Ella ive girl. She attended Miss Catlin's school, later finishing at Mills college. Mr. Meier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Meier. He was graduated from the Portland academy and attended the University of Pennsylvania. He served in the navy during the war. No definite plans have been made for the wedding, but it is possible that Miss Catherine Sellen, whose engagement was recently announced, will arrange a double wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dale Wilson (Dorothy Sanford), whose wedding was a recent event, visited at Columbia Gorge hotel and at Trout lake, and have gone to make their home in Sherman county, eastern Oregon, where Mr. Wilson has business interests.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Ralph W. Hoyt entertained with a beautifully appointed tea, complimenting her daughter, Miss Katherine Hoyt, who has arrived in Portland after an extended visit in the east. Mrs. William Reginald Jackson (Elizabeth Jacobs) of Kansas City, a popular visitor in Portland, and Mrs. Phillip L. Jackson, about 50 society maids and matrons called during the afternoon.
A charming old-fashioned picture such as one might see on a piece of old Dresden china was made by the bride party last night of Miss Doris Henningsen and Severin Harkson. The ceremony was read by Rev. Walter Jenkins at St. David's Episcopal church at 8:30 o'clock. Palms, spiraea and roses decorated the church. Miss Edith Strowbridge played the wedding march.
The bride was beautiful in her white satin gown trimmed with rose point lace and pearl ornaments and long tulle veil caught with orange blossoms in a coronet. Orchids, lilies of the valley and dainty ferns comprised her wedding bouquet.
Her attendants wore quaint costumes made in similar style of simple basque waists with diminutive sleeves, hooped skirts ornamented with silver "love knot" bows. Their hats were trimmed with soft ostrich plumes, and they wore silver slippers and silk lace gloves.
Miss Edith Marshall, maid of honor, was crowned in pale green satin. The bridesmaids were dressed in pastel shades—Miss Suzanne Casinsinger of Tacoma, Robert Stubbs of Portland and Carl Donworth of Seattle.

A wedding supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ware Lane, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. The guests included members of the wedding party and a few additional friends. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert are spending their honeymoon at the Wilkeson cottage near the Tacoma Country club and will later make their home in Portland.
The bride is the daughter of the late Samuel Wilkeson and graduate of the late Elwood Evans, a Tacoma pioneer. She is a graduate of Annie Wright's seminary and attended school at Rosemary hall, Greenwich, Conn., and spent a year in a girls' school in Munich, Bavaria. She was the founder of the Girl Scout movement in Washington and has made a brilliant record in the work, having been appointed regional director for the northwest.
Mr. Lambert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weston Lambert. He is a popular club and business man of Portland. He is a graduate of Shattuck Military academy of Fairbault, Minn.

Interesting news was that of the engagement of Miss Jane Sellen to Allen Meier, which was announced recently by Miss Sellen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Sellen. The news came as a complete surprise to their many friends. Miss Sellen is a very popular and attractive ingering of Tacoma, Robert Stubbs of Portland and Carl Donworth of Seattle.
