BY L. H. GREGORY. Whatever else he may accomplish with the Beavers, Al Demarce has already converted them into a scrappy ball club that isn't licked until it really is. That new spirit won them an even break with Seat-tie in yesterday's double-header. After the Suds had run away with the first game, 8 to 2, with Vean Gregg hurling, the Beavers copped the second one, 2 to 1, with a fight-ing wind-up in the eighth. And, remarkable to say, it was the superlative flinging of Harry Biemiller, the speed-ball king, that made the win possible. Smoke Ball Harry chucked one of the best ball games of his young life. He had the stuff, he had the control and he had the fighting heart in the pinches that enabled him to bear down with men on bases and never

Biemiller Whiffs Hood.

The Suds garnered only six hits off his fast-jumping smoke ball, and three of them were dinky scratches. three of them were dinky scratches. The only solld smack off him all afternoon was a home-run drive by Wally Hood over the right-field fence in the first inning. Biemiller got back at Waily for that one by whiffing him in the first of the ninth after the count was three bails and one strike, and when the Suds were trying their durndest to get a man on the sacks to the the score.

But best of all, Biemiller, the wild man from Georgia, gave only three man from Georgia, gave only three bases on balls. He was zipping his fast one over the heart of the plat-ter most of the time. Ever and anon he would show brief signs of yielding to wildness. When he did that Rowdy Elliott would get down behind the plate, oup his two hands together and pray, command, hyp-notize Biemiller into shooting it over. How well Rowdy steadied him may be realized from the fact that three or four times when Bie-miller had three balls on the batter, or three and one, he would get it over and make the batter hit, or a strikeout victim three times. He simply couldn't hit that smoke ball. Deacon John Adams, for all his managerial dignity, took three swings twice and sat down. Wally Hood whiffed once, Wisterzill once and Burger once.

Biemiller, in short, was just wild nough to be effective. The Suds atters weren't inclined to crowd the plate and take liberties with his delivery when the next pitch might come zooming at their beaks.

It was a real pitchers' battle, that game—one of the best on the Portland field this year. Burger was almost as good as Blemiller, though time and again the Beavers had him in bad holes from which squirmed with the facility of an

Until the eighth, Wally Hood's homer for the Suds in the first homer for the Suds in the first comed like a pair of Scotch breeks on a Monday clothesline. Beavers repeatedly got a man or two on the sacks, yet couldn't push in the tying run. In the fourth they had two on with only one out, in the sixth two, on with two out, and in the seventh Poole reached third with one gone, but then the attack would flivver.

Old Pep Comes Back.

But in the eighth the home boys snapped into it with the old fight-Gressett, first up, waited out two strikes, then lammed a screamer to left for a double. Mc-Cann sacrificed and both were safe when Burger threw to third and Gressett slid under the peg. Ike Wolfer rammed a line swat to left and Gressett came home, McCann racing to third. Dick Cox in the pinch brought home the winning run with a deep sacrifice fly to left Only two runs, but they were enough, for in the ninth Biemiller was invincible. Hood he whiffed after giving him three balls. Poole made a grandstand grab of Barney's drive and Wisterzil popped to Mo

In the first game lanky Vean Gregg held the Heavers in the hol-low of his big palm. It was a close battle for six innings between Crumpler and Gregg, with errors-giving the Suds two of their runs in the second. But in the seventh they landed on Crumpler, scored two more, and had the game sewed away. Even so, the Beavers tried hard in the ninth, but could score Judge Landis recently in a supplementary decision declined to modify his original decree in any particular. Hence the Coast league meeting of August 1 to decide as to the status of all parties concerned.

William H. McCarthy, president of the league, is an implacable enemy of Portland and of Mr. Klepper. He has publicly announced that he will has publicly announced that he will carry out the Landis decree to the letter and has declared that Klepper
