

7 ARTISTS TO GIVE CONCERTS BY RADIO

Three Fine Programmes Slated for This Week.

MUSICIANS WELL KNOWN

Pianists, Violinists, Vocalists and Orchestra Will Play in The Oregonian Tower.

CITY'S BEST ARTISTS TO FURNISH RADIO MUSIC THIS WEEK.

Monday night, 7:30 to 8:30—Miss Mildred Nichols, violin; Miss Genevieve Clancy, soprano; Dorothy Hawkins, piano.

Wednesday night, 8 to 9—Tessa Berger, violinist; Louis Vietor Saar, piano; Ruth Allen Vassie, operatic soprano and M. de la Parolle, baritone.

Friday night, 8 to 9—Herman Kenin's Portland hotel orchestra.

A list of seven artists, chosen from among the most distinguished musicians now in Portland, will give over three fine radio programmes in The Oregonian tower this week, in addition to the Friday night concert. The music will be broadcast by The Oregonian in conjunction with the Shipowners' Radio service.

Monday night, between 7:30 and 8:30 o'clock, a trio consisting of Miss Mildred Nichols, violinist; Miss Genevieve Clancy, soprano, and Dorothy Hawkins, pianist, will give a concert of solo music. This concert will introduce Dorothy Hawkins to the radio audience. She is a young pianist of exceptional ability and with an acknowledged place in the local music world and her solos will be exceptional treats.

Musicians Well Known.
Miss Genevieve Clancy, soprano soloist at St. Mary's cathedral, is well known to radio listeners and equally well liked. She has already sung twice in The Oregonian tower and both times with highly gratifying success. She will sing four solos tonight accompanied on the piano by her sister, Miss Mary Clancy.

Miss Mildred Nichols, violinist, needs no introduction to the radio audience or to music lovers in general. She has played twice on the radio and her bow is considered one of the best in Portland. Miss Nichols is a former pupil of William Wallace Graham, violinist of Portland.

A slight departure from the regular Wednesday night concert will be noted in the programme for that night. Instead of a double concert, four recitals by prominent artists have been arranged. Each of the four artists will contribute three double numbers.

Recitals to Come First.

During the first hour the music will be entirely instrumental. These recitals will be given by Louis Vietor Saar, prominent New York pianist, and Tessa Berger, violinist of Portland. Miss Berger played once before in The Oregonian tower. She is a comparatively new violinist to Portland but not so new but that she has already won a place among the leading musicians and it was at Mr. Saar's request that she was engaged to play.

Louis Vietor Saar is a noted teacher of piano and concert pianist from New York City, who is spending the summer in Portland teaching a coterie of local students, and he is one of the most distinguished artists offered to radio listeners for many weeks. Mr. Saar will play six solos during the first hour on Wednesday night.

Audiences Are Delighted.
The second concert will be given by Ruth Allen Vassie, operatic soprano, and M. de la Parolle, baritone. Mrs. Vassie was formerly a widely recognized teacher of voice and a singer of note. Owing to the sickness of her husband, she was given up her music for an extended interval and is now taking it up again. She has a delightful voice and a large repertoire, and her part of the concert will consist of six numbers.

M. de la Parolle, baritone, first sang for radio in The Oregonian tower on Wednesday night, July 26, and at that time delighted the radio audience with his splendid voice. Mr. de la Parolle recently returned to Portland after a long absence and is again active in local musical circles. He will alternate numbers with Mrs. Vassie and will sing six selections.

On Friday night Herman Kenin's Portland hotel orchestra will give its regular weekly concert of dance music and feature instrumental solos. This orchestra is playing a series of radio programmes during the summer months. The concert will also include a number of vocal solos.

MOTOR CARS STILL SHORT

Many more automobiles are needed by the Multnomah County Bar association to transport the visiting delegates from the national convention, which has just closed at San Francisco, who will arrive in Portland tomorrow and remain through many of the guests will have their families with them.

Immediately upon their arrival at the Union station, at 7 o'clock, the visitors will be taken by motor to the Lancaster camp on the Columbia river highway where they will be served with a specially prepared salmon barbecue luncheon.

Many of the local attorneys who would supply cars for the occasion are absent from the city on their vacation, so that the public in general is being called upon to help out in the situation. All who will grant the use of their cars to the transportation committee are asked to communicate by telephone with either J. O. Bailey or Ralph Coan.

Auto Dealers Notified.
OLYMPIA, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Automobile dealers all over the state were notified today by R. Franklin Hart, superintendent of the motor vehicle division of the state license department, to get their applications for 1922 license plates in early. The dealer plates this year will be made in advance to avoid the use of temporary cardboard plates.

GRAZING WORK REVIEWED

FOREST AREAS PRESERVED FOR FUTURE USE.

Adequate Feed for Game Provided by Establishing of More National Reserves.

W. R. Chapline, chief of the office of grazing studies in Washington, D. C., has been in this city during the last week after having completed an inspection of the work of one of the grazing specialists of the forest service in the Wasatch national forest in Washington. Grazing Examiner Lenzie has carried on some interesting research work in that locality during the last year. He determined the grazing resources with a view to conservation of other game recreational and other forest resources.

Mr. Chapline found that though over half the total area within the national forest boundaries is under private ownership, it has been possible through the co-operation of the owners to establish satisfactory grazing management. By greater use earlier in the season of the range at lower elevations, where the feed dries early, and delaying the entrance of the sheep on the higher elevations until the range there has made its good growth, it has been possible to graze more sheep, provide cheap forage late in the spring when feed

MIDDLE SISTER SCALED

PARTY OF MAZAMAS CLIMB TO PEAK IN 5 HOURS.

Elevation of 10,968 Feet Reached by 35 Mountaineers Without Mishap or Obstruction.

BY ROBERT W. OSBORN, Executive Secretary The City Club.
CAMP MONTAGUE, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—The first official mountain climb on this outing occurred last Wednesday, when 25 Mazamas scaled the middle Sister in five hours, for an elevation of 10,968 feet. Every member of the party that started the climb and returned in excellent condition. The only disappointing feature of the trip was that a cloud enveloped the summit shortly after the party arrived and remained aggravatingly there until the climbers left.

The first official climb was led by L. E. Anderson, a veteran mountaineer and traveler. Leaving camp at 7:20 o'clock, the ascent was made by noon at an easy gait. Return to camp was made by 4 o'clock. Boychuk, the official photographer, accompanied the party and took some fine pictures, including a sunset at the summit, the best he ever witnessed.

An interesting glacier was explored and seen today and the first, which actually means sliding down a long snow field on the seat of your hiking trousers, was a compensating feature of the return.

The vanguard of huckleberry pickers arrived today and the first fruit placed on the local market was readily disposed of at prices ranging from $1 to $1.25 a gallon.

GOLDENDALE, Wash., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Roads in the Kikickit country have been lined since the first of the month with hundreds of Indians on their way to the huckleberry patches in the high altitudes of the Cascade mountains in the Columbia national forest reserve northwest of Mount Adams. The aborigines present a picturesque appearance attired in gay tribal regalia.

AVERAGE WOMAN IS LAZY, DECLARES CIRCUS AERIALIST

All Cannot Be Great Athletes, Says Aileen Siegrist, but Many Ill Can Be Avoided by Constant Exercise.

AILEEN SIEGRIST is a member of the world's largest family of aerialists. Twice each day for nine months each year and for a period of eighteen years she has flown through the air in the days of her circus "big top." Her flights through space would, were they computed, form a distance sufficient to compare with the distance of the picture of health. You will see Miss Siegrist when the great, new Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined show exhibit here Friday August 25.

Miss Siegrist entered upon her aerial career when she was a very little girl. Her father gave her lessons during the school vacation periods. She likes to talk about her work. "I am not strong enough to have been left sight of to a great extent. All cannot be great athletes and probably many would not care to be. But many an ache and many an ill could be avoided through consistent and constant exercise. The exercise, if am not strong enough to stand exercise, is, in my opinion and experience, the excuse of a lazy woman. I was not in any way remarkable when I first began my life work. Nor was I strong physically. My father was my teacher and he began by giving me very easy and short exercises. Gradually I grew more hardy, and as I progressed my lessons became more strenuous. Now it is such immense feature acts as that of the Siegrist troupe that make the great Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined show differ from any circus that has yet toured America. The companies of aerialists also include the famous Kirskevian and Ernest Clark, whose triple twisting somersaults have never been equalled in the history of lofty performances.

TRAINS ARE LATE; 2 ARE CANCELED

Effect of Strike Not Felt, Roads Here Aver.

STRIKERS SEE RESULTS

Union Men Declare Delays Are Confession of Weakness by Railroads.

Statements giving assurance that the railroad strike situation is well in hand continue to be issued by the offices of officials of the lines centering at Portland, while at the same time trains are being posted as late in increasing numbers, and leaders of the striking shompen declare equipment is in bad order and steadily getting worse.

The Spokane, Portland & Seattle railway canceled two trains, locals, between Lyle, Wash., and Portland, effective today, but it was denied this had anything to do with strike trouble. It was said by General Manager Davidson that it was purely a business proposition, as the trains did not pay.

Strike leaders declared yesterday that members of the "big four" brotherhoods of trainmen, engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen "are rarin' to go out" because of the poor condition of equipment and the fact that repairs are made by inexperienced strike breakers, adding extra miles to the total Oreganous occupation trainmen follow.

Armed Guards Resented.
On top of this is the grievance felt by reason of armed guards in shops and terminals here, a considerable number of men carrying weapons being hired by the lines centering here to protect lives of strikers and railroad property. This is the basis of threatened action by the brotherhoods on eastern roads and it is felt locally that the brotherhood members may go out here on very short notice, should conditions become more aggravated.

The Southern Pacific's crack passenger train, the Shasta, bringing Vice-President Coolidge and his party, was posted half an hour late last night.

The Spokane, Portland & Seattle railway's train from the east was 45 minutes late. The Union Pacific train from the east was three hours late and the Great Northern train from Seattle was one hour late.

SPITE PLOT UNCOVERED

LIQUOR "PLANTED" IN STORE AND ARRESTS FOLLOW.

Attempt to Drive Confectionery Out of Business Confessed by Reputed Bootleggers.

Details of a plan whereby a confectioner endeavored to drive a rival from business by "planting" moonshine in his establishment were revealed in a purported confession to the police today by a bootlegger, said today by Mike Charlie and Louis George.

Through information given by George Duputis, Beeman, Schirmer and Talley trapped Charlie in the act of leaving some illicit liquor in the store of M. Panoff, 45 1/2 Washington street, Friday night. Charlie's confession is said to have implicated Koozi Christ, joint owner with Mike Christ of a confectionery business at 235 North Fourteenth street, as the man who planned the plot.

Charlie owed Christ money, he said, and under a verbal agreement to "plant" some liquor on the Panoff premises. The plan is said to have required co-operation from Louis George, who is in the Panoff store, and Koozi Christ is said by George to have offered him $100 for his assistance, and that he was paid down. Christ followed Panoff and Mrs. Panoff Friday night until he saw they were safely within a moving picture show before giving orders to Charlie, it is claimed.

Charlie was arrested in the act of putting a pint of moonshine in a cigar box on a shelf in the store. Christ was arrested yesterday morning. Both he and Charlie were thrown in the city jail of $500 bail.

Illegal possession of liquor is the only charge which has as yet been filed against the pair.

Lester W. Humphreys, United States attorney, will not retire from office on September 1, as he planned, and his successor will not be appointed until the coming political battle in Oregon is settled at the November elections, an official letter from Attorney-General Daugherty announced yesterday.

BOOSTERS INSPECT ROAD

Rapid Progress Made on Glenwood-Yakima Project.

WHITE SALMON, Wash., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—D. H. Sorter, game commissioner for this district, accompanied the road boosters of Hood River to Glenwood to inspect the Glenwood-Yakima road. The Hood River business men turned over a check for $855 to the secretary of the association at Glenwood.

Mr. Sorter reports the road now open to the Muddy, with the exception of a detour around Dairy creek, but the right-of-way there has already been slashed.

Rapid progress has been made with the funds available. The Big Muddy bridge is nearly completed and 2 1/2 miles of road remain to be completed to connect with the Yakima end of the highway.
