WEDDINGS and engagements planned for the distinguished visitors have been of vital interest to the social world during the past week. Two beautiful wedding ceremonies took place and several announcements were made. Entertaining for the bride-to-be filled the early part of the week, which was completed by a round of smart affairs for out-of-town visitors, especially the party of the vice-president.

Miss Nellie Hemenway and Carl E. Price were married Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Roscoe H. Giltner. The ceremony was unique in that no wedding march was played, and the bride entered the room on the arm of the bridegroom. An elaborate reception followed the wedding service. Yesterday noon Miss Janet Peters became the bride of Leonard Melville Floan at Seattle at a home wedding. This ceremony, too, was quiet and unpretentious, and was witnessed only by relatives.

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Charlie Fenton and Dudley R. Clarke comes today as an interesting bit of news to the smart set. Another charming Portland girl who has told of her coming wedding is Miss Caroline Montague, who will be the bride of George Beza.

Miss Dorothy Van Way, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Charles Van Way, and popular in the army set, has chosen next Thursday as the day of her marriage to Lieutenant C. B. Ferenbaugh. The service will be read at 3 P. M. in the Van Way home. The bride-elect's sister, Miss Mary Elizabeth, will attend her, and Captain David Simpson will be best man.

Several informal affairs have been giving during the week for Miss Marvel Turnure, fiancée of Herbert W. Allen Jr., and Miss Florence Holmes, whose engagement to Walter Gerke was announced last week. Vice-President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and their two children, with Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Stearns of Boston, arrived in the city yesterday and are being entertained. On Tuesday Mrs. Coolidge will honor Mrs. Stearns at a reception at the home of Mrs. Wallace McCamant. Several dinner parties have been planned for the distinguished visitors. Mrs. Richard M. Blatchford, wife of General Blatchford, was hostess at a beautifully appointed tea Friday from 4 to 6 o'clock, honoring Mrs. Channing E. Delaplaine. Many Portland society women motored to Vancouver to attend it.

Another interesting tea was that given by Mrs. Sumner, wife of Bishop Walter Taylor Sumner, Thursday at Bishopcroft, for the Episcopal convention fund. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Wilson Johnston, Mrs. John S. Parke, Mrs. Horace M. Ramsey, Mrs. E. T. C. Stevens, Mrs. E. B. Lathicum and Mrs. Robert Warrack.

The dance at Waverley Country club last evening was one of the most charming affairs of the season.

The luncheon to have been given by Mrs. Robert N. Stanfield Tuesday at Waverley club in honor of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. F. W. Stearns has been canceled on account of the death of Mrs. Stanfield's father, John F. Hill. Mrs. Stanfield left for Pendleton Thursday morning to attend the funeral.

Among the important items of business to be considered is the adoption of a plan to collect the flowers daily and transport them to the collecting room at 221 Second street, which will be in charge of Mrs. Roger Hastings. About 50 Episcopal women will assist the committee in the daily distribution of flowers at the convention hall, which is to be the municipal auditorium.

Another Episcopal women's committee which is hard at work in the deaconess committee under the leadership of Mrs. J. F. McIndoe, president of the woman's auxiliary of St. Mark's church. These women are making preparations to entertain the deaconesses of the church, who come to Portland. This will be the first general convention at which these church workers will be entertained. St. Mark's parish house, the second floor of which is already equipped with comfortable apartments, is being fitted over for them. The large parish room will be furnished as a living room, where the deaconesses will be provided with ample accommodations for meeting their friends, and the upper rooms will be furnished as bedrooms.

September 14 has been set aside as Deaconess day, when corporate communion will be celebrated at 7:30 A. M. in St. Mark's church, followed at 9:30 A. M. with breakfast in the parish house. The afternoon will be devoted to a conference. On one evening during the convention an official reception will be given to the visiting deaconesses. The exact date of this event has not been announced.

Members of the deaconess committee assisting Mrs. McIndoe are Mrs. John S. Parke, Mrs. W. L. Thompson, Mrs. Edward Baumister, Miss Janette Perkins and Deaconess Noelie of Seattle.

The motor corps committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Walter E. Bliss, chairman, has practically completed all arrangements for the highway and sightseeing trips, which are to be given to all visitors.

A two-hour trip through the city and surrounding territory, 21 miles in length, has been mapped out by the committee. The city trips will be made daily except Saturday and Sunday at 1 and 3:30 P. M., beginning September 4, and will leave from the auditorium. The Columbia river highway trips will be made daily, except Sunday, beginning September 2, and will leave from the Multnomah hotel. The only thing the committee lacks now to perfect its plan is the donation of more automobiles for these trips. Persons who are willing to show a group of visitors over the city or along the highway are requested to phone Mrs. Bliss, East Main 1465, or Mrs. J. Hunt Hendrickson.

The city sightseeing trip will start from the auditorium and will cover the following route: West on Market street, to Park, to Montgomery, to Fourteenth, to Yamhill, to Nineteenth, to Everett, to Twentieth, to Lovejoy, to Cornall road, to Westover road, to Albemarle terrace.
