POINDEXTER HAS FIVE OPPONENTS

Time for Candidates to Get in Washington Race Ends.

REPUBLICANS IN LEAD

Several Contested Nominations, Including U. S. Senator, Show Up in Ranks of Democrats.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—With republican candidates far in the majority, as usual, and only two contested nominations showing up in the democratic ranks, filings for congressional nominations, supreme court judgeships and state senatorships for joint districts closed at noon today. No sign of dissension within the farmer-labor party appears in the filings, those candidates who have filed being unopposed.

Last-day filings give the farmer-labor party a candidate for congressional nominations in each of the five congressional districts. The only democratic congressional contest developed in the last-day filings is that of Judge Sam H. Hill of Waterville and Fred Schade of Spokane for the fifth district nomination.

The seat in the United States senate now occupied by Miles Poindexter is the most hotly contested. Ten candidates have filed for the three party nominations for the senatorship, six republicans, three democrats and one farmer-labor candidate. The republican candidates are Austin E. Griffiths, Seattle; Miles Poindexter, Spokane; Mrs. Frances C. Axtell, Bellingham; George H. Stevenson, Seattle; Lee Tuttle, Yakima, and George B. Lamping, Seattle. Democrats seeking the nomination are C. C. Dill, Spokane; James Cleveland Long, street, Port Townsend, and Lyman Seelye, Bellingham. The farmer-labor candidate is James A. Duncan, Seattle.

Many in Congressional Race.

Five republicans are seeking nomination for representative in congress from the first congressional district. They are John F. Miller of Seattle, incumbent, and Philip Tindall of Seattle, H. Alvin Moore of Seattle, Thomas Casey of Seattle and James W. Bryan of Bremerton.

Other candidates are Fred N. Nelson, Bremerton, farmer-labor, and Edgar C. Snyder, Seattle, democrat.

Three republicans seek nomination for representative in congress from the second district, including Lindley H. Hadley of Bellingham, incumbent; Nelson J. Craigue of Everett and Charles A. Turner of Everett. Two democratic candidates have appeared, Fred A. Cline of Mount Vernon and Minerva E. Troy of Fort Angeles. P. B. Tyler of Everett has filed for the farmer-labor party nomination.

The third congressional district has only two republican candidates, O. M. Nelson of Montesano opposing Albert Johnson of Hoquiam, who is seeking re-election.

J. M. Phillips of Aberdeen has filed for the farmer-labor nominations.

In the fourth congressional district John W. Summers of Walla Walla is unopposed for the republican nomination for re-election, with Charles R. Hill of Colfax the only candidate for the democratic nomination. The candidate of the farmer labor party is Elisha Bowles of Prosser.

Webster Is Unopposed.

J. Stanley Webster of Spokane is unopposed for the republican nomination for representative in congress from the fifth district, and two democratic candidates have appeared. They are Fred Shade of Spokane and Sam B. Hill of Watertown. Harry J. Vaughan of Spokane is the farmer-labor party candidate.

Five candidates have filed for six nominations for six-year terms as justices of the supreme court of the state, there being three vacancies to be filled, hence the primary election will mean nothing more than a test to indicate the strength of these candidates in the general election. The candidates who have filed are Mark A. Fullerton of Olympia, Kenneth Mackintosh of Seattle and Emmett N. Parker of Olympia, incumbents; and W. D. Lane of Seattle and Bruce Blake of Spokane. For the two-year term on the supreme bench to complete the term of the late Judge Wallace Mount there are two candidates, Chester R. Hovey, incumbent, and William H. Pemberton of Bellingham.

W. Lon Johnson of Colville is unopposed for the republican nomination for state senator from the second senatorial district, comprising Stevens and Pend Oreille counties. Robert Horton of Colville is seeking the democratic nomination to oppose Johnson in the general election.

Contest for State Senator.

J. C. Crawford of Grand Dalles and J. A. Miller of Goldendale are contesting the republican nomination for state senator from the 16th district, which includes Skamania and Klickitat counties. The winner will contest with George F. Christensen of Stevenson, democrat, in the general election.

Percy L. Sinclair of Seaview, republican, is out for renomination and re-election as state senator from the 19th district, comprising Pacific and Wahkiakum counties, and he is opposed by John W. Kleeb of South Bend.

In the 24th district, which includes Clallam, Jefferson and San Juan counties, William Bishop of Chimacum and E. E. Fisher of Port Angeles are contesting the republican nomination. Joe L. Keller is the only seeker for the democratic nomination.

C. Mr. Johnson, who has just recovered from a tonsilar operation and the extraction of many of his teeth, had made plans to return to his district in the interest of his campaign, but has decided to remain in the national capital in view of the fact that President Harding has requested congress to remain in session in order that it may deal with the rail and coal strikes if necessary.

COOLIDGE TO TURN SOD

GROUND FOR ROOSEVELT STATUE TO BE BROKEN.

Wallace McCamant to Make Principal Address at Ceremony on Tuesday.

Ground for the Roosevelt equestrian statue will be broken Tuesday afternoon in the park blocks opposite the Ladd school. Calvin Coolidge, vice-president of the United States, will turn the sod and make a few remarks. He will be followed by Wallace McCamant, who will deliver the principal address. City Commissioner Pier will be in charge.

Dr. Henry Waldo Coe, who is the donor of the bronze, received word yesterday that the finishing touches on the statue are being placed in the plant of the Roman Bronze Works in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miss Elizabeth Waggoner, sister of Mrs. Coe, and art director of the Hollywood high schools, who is now in New York, will inspect the work and if found satisfactory will accept the statue on behalf of Dr. Coe.

Arrangements have been made for direct shipment of the bronze from New York to Portland by steamer. Insurance against breakage and loss of any kind has been obtained. It was found impracticable to ship the bronze by rail because of its size. The statue will leave New York on August 26 and will reach Portland four weeks later.

The tentative date of unveiling has been set for October 27, the birthday anniversary of the late Colonel Roosevelt.

A large crowd is expected to turn out to witness the ground breaking ceremonies. Commissioner Pier has arranged for roping off the streets surrounding the block in which the ceremony will be held and thus preventing vehicular traffic from interfering with the spectators.

The 55th infantry band, escorted by 200 troops led by General Blatchford, will take part in the ceremony. The usual 19-gun salute in honor of the vice-president will be fired by two artillery companies of the Oregon national guard, assigned to this duty by Geoerge A. White, adjutant general.

DISMISSAL OF PHONE RATE CASE HELD UP

Attorney-General in Doubt of Authority to Act.

RELIEF LIES IN COURT

Amended Answer Held Necessary in Pending Suit to Accomplish Object Commission Seeks.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Another legal entanglement in connection with a resolution adopted recently by the public service commission, looking to a reduction in the rates of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company in this state, came to light here today.

In a letter addressed to the public service commission, I. H. Van Winkle, attorney-general, indicated that the Oregon statutes do not provide any authority whereby he may withdraw his answer to the complaint in the suit initiated by Robert G. Duncan and others of Portland to set aside an order issued by a previous commission on February 28, 1921, authorising an increase in the telephone rates, without filing in the courts an amended or substitute answer.

Kerrigan Resolution Affected.

The resolution to which the attorney-general's letter refers was prepared by T. M. Kerrigan, one of the recall members of the public service commission, and provided merely for the withdrawal of the answer to the complaint in the Duncan suit, which would have allowed the case to go by default. The resolution was adopted at an executive session of the commission held this week.

Newton McCoy, also a recall member of the commission, supported the resolution, while it was opposed by H. H. Corey, third member of the commission, who participated in preparing the order of the previous commission allowing an increase in the telephone rates.

"I have your letter of August 9," said Attorney-General Van Winkle, in his letter, "transmitting a resolution passed by your commission on that date in which you request that I withdraw the answer filed by this office in the case of Robert G. Duncan and others against the public service commission, in the Multnomah county circuit court.

Legal Procedure in Doubt.

"Responding, I have to advise that upon looking into the statute relating to such matters, it is not entirely clear what is the exact procedure to be followed in complying with your request.

"In order for me to do this intelligently and effectively, it would seem advisable for me to request of your commission information as to the nature or contents of the amended or substitute answer to be filed in the case. As I understand the procedure in such cases, it would be necessary for me, in compliance with your request, to apply to the court for leave to amend or withdraw said answer, and substitute another. This should contain a statement of the facts which you wish to set forth in said amended or substitute answer.

More Information Requested.

"I wish to assure you that it is my desire to comply fully with the requirements of the law and to cooperate with you in every way in which I can, or in which I am authorized, in the execution and exercise of the important powers and wide discretion vested by law in your commission in the establishment of just and equitable rates of public utilities, and in all other respects relating to the lawful discharge of your duties, leaving to you, of course, full exercise of such discretion."

None of the members of the commission was in Salem today, but attaches of the department indicated that the information asked by the attorney-general probably would be supplied early next week.

Blackfeet Chief Champion Gopher Killer of World.

Split Ears Slays 1600 Little Pests Since Last Snow.

GLACIER PARK, Mont., Aug. 12.—Montana thinks that it has found the world's champion gopher killer in Chief Oscar Split-Ears, a Blackfeet chieftain on the reservation at Browning, near here.

Recently at a tribal council in the office of F. C. Campbell, the reservation agent, several of the chiefs turned the talk to gopher killing, each reporting the extermination of large numbers of the prairie rodents this season.

Split-Ears startled the group when it came his turn, by calmly announcing that he had killed 1600 gophers since the snow left the ground this spring. The others asked for proof of this and laughed politely when Split-Ears said he had buried the tails—always retained for proof—and would have difficulty in locating them.

After the conference Split-Ears disappeared and was not seen around the reservation until a few days ago when he came to Mr. Campbell's office carrying a 35-foot rope to which were attached 3215 gopher tails.

"I couldn't find the tails I buried," the chief told Mr. Campbell through an interpreter, "so I went out and killed some more gophers."

Split-Ears' remarkable string of gopher tails will be kept for exhibition at the Montana state fair in September.

Boardman Project Prospers.

BOARDMAN, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—"The Boardman project is the greenest spot this side of Ashland," is the comment of S. H. Boardman, who has just returned from a tour of valley points. The water supply for irrigation has been ample for all purposes this season. Prospects are excellent for at least four cuttings of alfalfa, some farms having already put up the third and the price of hay promises to be satisfactory. Some is now moving to market at $14 and $15.

WEST BEATS SOUTH IN LUMBER EXPORTS

Northwest Movements in 6 Months 624,367,409 Feet.

GAIN IN 1922 IS LARGE

Columbia River Domestic Shipments 242,114,609 Feet, Foreign 172,999,262 Feet.

PUGET SOUND BUREAU, Seattle, Wash., Aug. 12.—For the first time in the history of the American lumber industry the export trade of the Pacific northwest exceeded the export trade of the southern pine region during the first six months of 1922. In that period Washington, Oregon and British Columbia shipped 624,367,409 feet of lumber overseas as against 315,192,627 feet for the southern pine region, the fir movement having been 98 per cent greater than pitch pine exports. Export and domestic cargo shipments of lumber from the Pacific northwest in the first half of 1922 totaled 1,598,857,150 feet, as compared with 738,159,036 in the first half of 1921, an increase of 116½ per cent.

Inspection Report Made.

These figures are shown in an analysis of the semi-annual shipping report of the Pacific lumber inspection bureau, by the West Coast Lumbermen's association. Of the total cargo shipments of the period the inspection bureau inspected 1,422,307,599 feet.

With notable increases in foreign and domestic cargo shipments in nearly every direction, the market list is headed by California, the north Atlantic ports and Japan, in the order named. California shipments increased 102½ per cent over the first half of last year, the comparative footage being 703,578,510 feet as against 347,801,289. North Atlantic coast shipments ran to 238,952,376 feet, which was 27,000,000 feet more than were shipped to those ports in the entire year of 1921, the banner year up to this time. The rate of increase over the first six months of 1921 was 154½ per cent.

Japan Shows Biggest Gain.

Figured on the percentage basis Japan shows the largest increase of any market, foreign or domestic. The total of Japanese purchases to July 1 was 381,019,667 feet. For the same period of last year the Japanese bought 90,850,884 feet. With a percentage increase for the period 319 per cent, Japan ranks next to California, as the second largest actual purchaser of Pacific northwest lumber, and in first place among all foreign buyers.

Other export markets which showed substantial increased buying over the previous year were Australia, with a gain of 242 per cent; Europe, 22 1-5 per cent, and China, 21 per cent. Increased shipments were also recorded to the Hawaiian islands, the west coast of South America, Alaska, Panama, Central America, Cuba, India, South Africa and the east coast of South America. By comparison with the first six months of 1921 there was noted this year a slight falling off in shipments to the Philippines, Egypt, Mexico, New Zealand, the South Sea islands and the Straits Settlement.

By districts the Pacific lumber inspection bureau reports the six months' totals of domestic and export lumber shipments as follows:

British Columbia, domestic 31,551,077 feet; foreign 111,077,702 feet.

Puget Sound, domestic 262,801,519 feet; foreign 209,541,898 feet.

Grays Harbor, domestic 240,829,461 feet; foreign 96,870,417 feet.

Willapa, domestic 58,131,886 feet; foreign 10,036,925 feet.

Columbia river, domestic 242,114,609 feet; foreign 172,999,262 feet.

Coos Bay, domestic 159,061,189 feet; foreign 23,341,205 feet.

Radio Intrigues Fancy of Chinatown Residents.

Chinese Boys of San Francisco Are Wireless Enthusiasts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—The radio telephone has taken hold of San Francisco's Chinatown to a greater extent than any other part of the city, judging from the aerials to be seen on the roofs of the buildings in the oriental section. Nearly all of the buildings in Chinatown house more than one family and many of the buildings have from one to five aerials.

Ming Wo Ko, a dealer in electrical equipment, is authority for the statement that most of the radio sets in Chinatown are owned by boys from 10 to 18 years old. Many of the receiving sets are of the crystal variety, although some of the older youths have acquired audion detectors and amplifiers.

Two Chinese electrical firms in Chinatown receive the concerts that are broadcast in San Francisco and vicinity from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night and entertain their patrons with concerts by means of loud-speaking devices.

The antenna of many of the Chinese radio fans is supported by elaborate masts mostly painted light blue. Several of the antenna are of the four strand variety, but most of them consist of one wire.
