STORE PROPRIETOR IS SHOT BY ROBBER

MEAT MARKET MAN LOSES $140; BULLET IN FOOT.

Victim May Be Crippled Perma- nently by Wound—Fleeing Outlaw Is Pursued.

Otto Eichenhoff, proprietor of a meat market at 414 Woodstock avenue, was shot in the foot early last night by a holdup man who had just robbed the merchant of $140. A bone was broken by the shot and the victim may be crippled permanently.

The robber entered the market through the front door, stuck a revolver over the counter and handed the surprised owner of the shop a red handkerchief, telling him to put all the money he had into it.

After the thief got the money he wanted, Eichenhoff remains where he was until the robber could get a motorcycle which he said he had in front. The robber went out through the front door and Eichenhoff ran out the back door and circling the building gave chase to the fleeing thief, who was making his way on foot with all speed.

Seeing his pursuer, the robber turned and fired two shots before he disappeared.

Answering Eichenhoff's telephone call, a squad of policemen and detectives arrived within a few minutes, but found no trace of the hold-up. The robber is described as a man about 28 years of age, wearing a white collar, a light suit and light cap and weighing about 165 pounds.

The men had worked on street paving jobs in Newberg and had been paid off early this week.

The men and girls went from here toward Salem. The machine broke down five miles from that city and again the next night near Dallas, where it was abandoned.

The truck was owned by Tom Francone, 173 Caruthers street, who is an uncle of the boy. The Palatico boy fell off without being noticed.

FEDERAL AUTHORITY DEFIED

First Arrests for Violations Made in Georgia.

INJUNCTION DRASTIC ONE

Action Taken in Chicago Court Declared to Indicate Presi- dent Means Business.

WATCROSS, Ga., Sept. 2.—Nine arrests were made here today upon warrants charging violation of the strike injunction of the federal court and warrants have been issued for others, according to the statement of John W. Bennett, district attorney.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—Defiance of the federal government's injunction against the railroad shompen's strike came from the American Federation of Labor today when it telegraphed renewal of its fullest possible support to the strike leaders in Chicago and expressed a wish for the success of the struggle.

Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, who yesterday announced that the executive council next Saturday would consider the question of a general strike call, in retaliation against the government's injunction move, sent the telegram renewing the pledge of support to the enjoined strike on behalf of the federation.

Although department of justice officials here would not discuss Mr. Gompers' telegram, it was believed that the renewal of the federation pledge to support the strike might automatically bring Mr. Gompers and his associates within the scope of the injunction, which specifically enjoins anyone from aiding in the obstruction of railway operation. Actual support of the strike, it is contended, could be construed as violating the terms of the injunction.

Support Pledge Renewed.

Mr. Gompers' telegram, addressed to B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employes' department of the American Federation of Labor, was as follows:

"At the meeting of the labor legislative representatives July 31 a resolution was adopted conveying to you and through you to the striking railway shompen the pledge of our sympathy and support to the fullest extent within our power. At the meeting of the same conference this evening it was decided to ratify and emphasize the declaration made July 21 and pledge anew our sympathy and support and the best wishes for the success of the striking railroad shompen in the attainment of their cause."

The telegram was signed by Mr. Gompers as "chairman, conference labor legislative representatives."

The dispatch of this message was regarded here as signaling the first formal act of the American Federation of Labor in pursuance of a policy of resistance to the injunction. Within a few days plans probably will be announced for legal attack upon the injunction. The federation is considering the legal course it will pursue in an effort to have the injunction set aside when the hearing is held September 11 on the motion to make the temporary restraining order permanent.

Legal Battle Renewed.

Primarily the labor leaders will maintain that the injunction is in direct violation of the Clayton anti-trust act, which holds that there can be no enjoining of peaceful picketing. The Chicago injunction even goes so far as to enjoin "oral persuasion" to induce railroad workers to "leave their tasks. This drastic

MRS. VALENTINO OFF FOR STAY IN EUROPE

ACTOR AND WIFE TO WED AGAIN IN MARCH.

Bride Whose Marriage Was Pro- nounced Illegal to Study Architecture in Paris.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Winifred Hudnut Valentino and screen actress, sailed today for Paris on the liner Olympic, to be separated from her husband, Rodolph Valentino, idol of feminine film fans, for six months. Early in next March, she announced, he will join her in Paris to ship-news reporters.

Valentino was at the pier to bid his wife an affectionate farewell.

Mrs. Valentino, who was registered on the ship's passenger list as Winifred O'Shaughnessy, her name before she was adopted, is accompanied on her voyage by her foster parents, Richard Hudnut, the perfume king, and Mrs. Hudnut.

For the first time in the knowledge of newspaper photographers Mrs. Valentino posed for the camera men on ship board. And the tall, handsome actress, whose nose de screen is Natcha Rambova, attired in a long, black silk pointed gown with full, flowing sleeves and her tawny colored hair braided and coiled beneath a large black hat, dotted with yellow flowers, set another precedent when she talked freely of her plans to ship-news reporters.

She said she could be of no assistance to her husband in his legal battle for freedom from the terms of his contract with the Famous Play- (Concluded on Page 3, Column 2.)

OWNERS AND MINERS REACH SETTLEMENT

OLD WAGE SCALE EXTENDED UNTIL AUGUST 31, 1923.

Sensors Pepper and Reed Bring About Compromise Following Appeal by President.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—An agreement to end the protracted anthracite strike "in the immediate future" was reached by the operators and miners in a late session tonight. The men will return to work on the basis of the old wage agreement to extend until August 31, 1923.

The announcement of the agreement was made by Senators Pepper and Reed of Pennsylvania. The agreement was reached after a communication from President Harding was received by the parties to the controversy.

Under date of September 1 the president wrote:

"The public interest transcends any partisan advantage that you might gain by further resistance. I urge you in the name of public welfare to accept the proposal that has been advanced by Senators Pepper and Reed."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—Warm gratification was expressed by administration officials tonight when informed that the policies commission of the anthracite operators, at a meeting in Philadelphia, had agreed to accept the Pepper-Reed compromise plan for settling the strike in that industry. MYSTERY AHEAD OF THIRD PARTY

Progressive Choice Baf- fles Even Leaders.

STATE SESSION IS TUESDAY

Inner Circles Divided Over Pierce and Hall.

WHOLE TICKET IN DOUBT

State Chairman Has No Forecast of Developments; Delegates to Be Hand-Picked.

What will the harvest be when the newly or-nised progressive party holds its state convention Tuesday? Leading spirits in the movement profess an inability to answer. Street gossip, however, undertakes to supply the solution and predicts a state ticket and a Multnomah county ticket largely composed of individuals who have already received democratic or republican nominations in the primaries.

There is, admittedly, a difference of opinion in the inner circle over the governorship. Some want to endorse Walter M. Pierce, the democratic candidate, for governor, and others favor bringing out Charles Hall, defeated by Ben Olcott in the republican primaries, as an independent candidate for governor.

Elton Watkins, democratic nominee for representative in the third congressional district is expected to have the progressive endorsement.

Medford Man Advocated.

For state treasurer the inner circle is also in dispute. There are advocates of C. E. Gates of Medford for this place. Mr. Gates, who thought of being a gubernatorial candidate some time ago, has publicly declared that he is not a party bolter and that he will support the republican ticket. In view of this clear-cut declaration, there is little likelihood of Mr. Gates having the state treasury nomination wished on him by the progressives.

Democratic connumerators have been feeling around to see if the progressives will support a democrat for treasurer. The nomination is now a blank on the democratic ticket through the withdrawal of Milton A. Miller and the democratic state committee will fill the vacancy in the near future. Jefferson Myers positively refused to be a candidate and now petitions are in circulation asking J. K. Weatherford, a war-horse of Albany, to consent. Also there is talk of having E. A. Clark as the candidate. Mr. Clark being cashier of the Citizens bank, Portland.

Dr. McElveen Mentioned.

Judging from the street gossip, the democrats are hoping to line up endorsements for their principal candidates at the hands of the progressives, for the only republicans even vaguely mentioned are Charles Hall for governor, and Dr. W. T. McElveen, pastor of First Congregational church, for congress. Judging from the signs, J. H. Graham of Baker, democratic nominee in the second congressional district, will be endorsed in preference to Representative Sinnott. There is no talk of opposition to Representative Hawley in the first district.

From the Willamette valley comes a report that Fred L. Gifford, exalted cyclops for the Ku Klux Klan in Oregon, and one of the men who signed the call for the progressive party, wants to be nominated for state treasurer. This rumor is not credited in Portland.

Norman Richards, state chairman of the progressive party, confessed that he has an idea what will develop at the convention, nor how many delegates will be present. He says he has tried to keep bolsheviks out of the organization, at least in prominent places, and says that if they don't like the way the progressives are being managed they (Concluded on Page 4, Column 1.)

YANKEE GIRL QUILTS KING IN MID-DANCE

RULER OF SPAIN IS LEFT STANDING ALONE.

Miss Katherine Dickey Explains Embarrassing Situation in Casino at Deauville.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—An embarrassing incident on the crowded ballroom floor of the Casino at Deauville, France, a month ago, in which the king of Spain was left standing alone by his dancing partner, Miss Katherine Dickey of Atlanta, while she hurried to greet her father, James I. Dickey, a director of the Atlanta National bank, was explained by the young woman today on her arrival on the Mauretania.

The royal consternation at being told to "wait a minute" in the middle of a dance and suddenly deserted was assuaged, however, when Miss Dickey sought out Prince Nicholas, second son of the king of Rumania, and induced him to convey her sincere regrets. The king accepted the situation good naturedly and remarked to Prince Nicholas on the democratic ideas of American girls.

"Don't make me ridiculous," Miss Dickey said to reporters, "but the king was so like us Americans that I felt I could ask him to wait a minute, not thinking at all of the rigorous etiquette that surrounds a European monarch."

AUTOPSY MADE ON DEER

Procedure Necessary to Decide Who Killed Animal.

THE DALLES, Or., Sept. 2.—(Special.)—It was necessary to cut open a deer which was shot jointly by Charles Bohn and George Wernmark of this city to determine who fired the fatal bullet. It was learned today when the hunters returned from Curry county.

Bohn thought the bullet which killed the deer had been fired from his gun, but the autopsy proved that it was Wernmark who fired the death-dealing shot.

Long was taken from the sheriff who had him in custody and was hanged to a tree.

ELKS DEDICATE NEW HOME HERE

Portland Lodge No. 142 Lays Cornerstone.

MANY VISITORS PRESENT

Ruler of Seattle Local Is Master of Ceremonies.

STREET PARADE STAGED

Celebration Given Last Night at Oaks Park, With Public Invited to Attend.

Purple and white predominated in Portland yesterday. The Elks were the cause.

Portland lodge 142, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, laying the cornerstone of its new home at Eleventh and Alder streets, sent out an invitation for its fellow lodges to assist in the ceremony, and they responded in numbers.

Seattle lodge No. 42 sent its officials, its band, cadet corps and several hundred members. Vancouver, Wash., Elks turned out in force. So did the lodges from a half dozen Oregon cities. The result was the predominance of purple and white garments and decorations on the city's streets.

The cornerstone was laid, with proper ceremony, by Walter F. Meier, exalted ruler of the Seattle lodge. Preceding the ceremony a dress parade of the lodgers wound through the downtown streets. Last night Elksdom joined hands with the rest of Portland in a monster justification at the Oaks.

Special Train Chartered.

The antlered herd commenced to invade Portland late Friday night. A special train brought 142 of the Seattle men to the city. On arrival they formed in parade line, and headed by their band, marched to the old Elks' temple at Broadway and Stark street.

Yesterday morning another Seattle delegation of 46 reached the city. Elks from nearby cities and towns arrived by train and automobile. The temple at Broadway and Stark street was their mecca.

Yesterday's ceremonies commenced when the parade line formed at Eleventh and Broadway streets at 1:30 o'clock. Following the motorcycle policemen and an automobile carrying the standard of the local lodge, came the local Elks' band and drum corps, headed by Frank Henderson, drum major. The local drill team, the Seattle concert band and drill team followed. Officers of the Seattle and Portland lodges, clothed in their insignia of office, marched behind the bands and drill teams.

Big Crowd Assembles.

A crowd of almost 1000 people had gathered at the site of the new temple when the parade arrived. The music and the existing crowd drew more spectators and by the time the ceremony commenced several thousand people were massed about the grandstand.

The ceremony was simple. Dr. E. V. Morrow, exalted ruler of the local lodge, made a few appropriate remarks. Rev. Oswald Taylor led in prayer and the copper container, which was to be deposited in the cornerstone was produced. The old copper box, taken from the cornerstone of the temple erected in 1895, was placed in the new container. Copies of the four local newspapers of the day, a roster of the members of Portland lodge, photographs, souvenirs and documents relating to the history and progress of the lodge, were placed in the container. A cooper's smith was summoned, the edges of the receptacle were sealed and the box was then dropped into the niche prepared in the stone.

Stone Laid in Place.

Exalted Ruler Meier grasped a silver trowel, presented by the Vancouver, Wash., lodge for the ceremony, and attacked a pile of mortar
