

SMYRNA IS TAKEN, SAYS TURK REPORT

Town Declared to Have Surrendered to Army.

500,000 ARE REFUGEES

Mustapha Kemal Pasha's Reply to Proposal for Armistice Not Known in London.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Wireless despatches from Smyrna report the surrender of the town to the Turks, according to a Constantinian despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. It was stated this morning that the commander of the Turkish advance guard has demanded of the surrender of the Greek forces within the town, promising safety to the civilian population. General Polymenakos declared his determination to hold the place, but it was believed that he would be forced to yield.

The Times published a Constantinian report that General Polymenakos already had been superseded as commander-in-chief by General Demanakis, which would take the decision away from the former and thus save his face.

Marines on Guard.

Details of the landing of all marines at Smyrna have not been received, but some despatches state small parties were put ashore merely for guarding the consulates, allied property and subjects.

The number of refugees who have arrived from the interior at various ports in Asia Minor, including Smyrna, was estimated at 600,000, according to Reuters. The condition of the refugees was described as pitiful.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha's reply to the proposal for an armistice has not reached Constantinople, so far as is known, but it is believed, according to the Daily Express correspondent, that the nationalist leader will refuse to sign off his troops, except on his own terms, including the Greek evacuation of both Asia Minor and Thrace, surrender of all Greek arms and supplies in Asia Minor, and payment of the cost of the Turkish campaign.

Athens News Service.

Little is known what exactly is happening in the Greek capital and many rumors are afloat. King Constantine is said to have hurriedly summoned Crown Prince George and the inference in some quarters is that he may contemplate abdication.

PARIS, Sept. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)

French troops occupied Smyrna today, according to advices received by the French minister of marine from Smyrna.

Everything passed calmly, the advices stated, the behavior of the Turkish troops being perfectly correct.

ALLIES TAKE OVER SMYRNA

Greek Administration Gives Up Control of Town.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service. Copyright, 1922 by the Chicago Tribune.)

SMYRNA, Sept. 9.—From 10 o'clock tonight the Greek administration at Smyrna is ceded and the town is turned over to the allies.

Radiograms were sent to Mustapha Kemal Pasha asking whether allied officers could enter his lines to discuss a peaceful occupation of Smyrna. This decision was taken after a meeting of the consuls.

The American, British, French and Italian consuls probably will enter the town tomorrow afternoon. The Greek fleet will be ordered to leave the harbor tonight, leaving control of the city entirely in the hands of the allies.

Every effort is being made to evacuate all the Greek troops. The town is in a state of great excitement.

Greece is now making a hurried exit from Asia Minor. Smyrna is choked with several hundred thousand refugees and many deserters. The chief danger is that the deserters are getting out of hand. The Greek troops are coming back in an ugly temper, the officers and men crying "Long live Venizelos" on the streets.

"The entire army is mad and impossible to control," said High Commissioner Sterchias. "It is burning and destroying everything on the line of retreat. Magnesia was burned yesterday and half of Aidin was destroyed."

Militarily it is impossible to reorganize the Greeks, whose morale is low after the decisive defeat. Most of the troops fled immediately before the terrific onslaught of the Turks.

Every available ship is being used to evacuate refugees to a nearby island. The feeding and sanitary problems are acute. Wealthy Greeks are selling all their possessions and many are getting into their automobiles for safe keeping.

All American women, 100 naturalized American women and the same number of naturalized American men, were shipped from Smyrna today. The balance, 60 native-born Yankees, are sticking here. They have rented a theater on the waterfront as a gathering place in case of danger. Three hundred feet out in the harbor ride two American destroyers and three others are en route here.

If trouble comes machine guns will control the streets, while the 60 American civilians will be reinforced by five landing parties of 50 men each from the destroyers to protect American lives and property. Rifles were racked on the destroyer Lithfield this morning, ready for quick action. The American gobs are delighted at the prospect of a little "gunpowder party."

MRS. HARDING IS EAGER

a frequent test of national capital sightseers that they were gung up to the White House to call on the president's wife. This became no joke after Mrs. Harding took charge of the presidential household, because on many occasions she would step forth and greet tourists from other parts of the country who had entered the White House satisfied at being permitted to see nothing more than those few scattering rooms which have at most times been open to the public.

An incident is told of how not long ago a group of factory girls from one of the great industrial cities used their meager savings to come to Washington to see the nation's capital. As they went along laughingly under the trees shading broad Pennsylvania avenue one of the girls remarked, "We are going up to see Mrs. Harding."

They had hardly more than entered the White House when word in some way reached Mrs. Harding that some working girls were out in the corridor leading to the executive offices. Almost immediately she appeared to greet them, introducing herself as the president's wife and engaging the girls in conversation which soon drove away the shyness at first felt on actually finding themselves in the presence of the nation's first lady.

Mrs. Harding asked them many questions about themselves and, as they related it afterward, showed them through all parts of the White House and into many a nook and corner upon which but few of the wives of the nation's greatest statesmen have ever fallen.

Resides the four regular White House receptions during each social season, abandoned by the Wilsons and restored by the Hardings, Mrs. Harding instituted a series of garden parties for wounded and disabled veterans of the world war on the White House lawn and several lawn parties for whomsoever, regardless of class, might desire to attend.

She made numerous visits to Walter Reed hospital, on the edge of the city, where she would shake hands with the disabled soldiers and speak comforting words to as many as she could see in the course of an afternoon. An excellent example of the human side of this president's wife was carried in a newspaper dispatch some time ago when it was related how she sent $100 to a minister in Ohio so that he might not have to chloroform a faithful old horse that had grown useless in service and whose owner felt financially unable longer to keep him.

It is declared to be no exaggeration that Mrs. Harding in the year and a half she has been at the White House has shaken hands with more than any dozen of her predecessors.

DISASTER TO BE PROBED

ARGONAUT MINE CONDITIONS TO BE STUDIED.

Only a Few Feet Progress Made by Crews in Attempting to Reach Entombed Men.

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—An investigation of conditions in the Argonaut mine disaster, where 47 miners have been entombed since August 27, was ordered by Governor William D. Stephens, it was announced tonight.

Clarence E. Jarvis, member of the state board of control, will conduct the investigation.

Jarvis was formerly assessor of Amador county, in which the Argonaut mine is situated, and is said to be familiar with mine conditions. He will arrive here tomorrow.

When the 1 o'clock shift came out of the Kennedy mine today, where efforts are being made to drive through to the Argonaut mine, it was stated that nine feet had been made on the 3600-foot level and 12 feet on the 3900-foot level.

This leaves 212 feet of muck to be cleared out of the 3600-foot level, plus 75 feet of rock. On the 3900-foot level there still remains 71 feet of muck, plus 142 feet of rock.

Dr. Stanojevic, consul for the Serbs, Croats and Slavonians, arrived here today. He stated he is here to make investigation of working conditions of his countrymen.

Water Meters Are Opposed.

Recommendation that no water meters be installed or attached to the water supply system of any establishment using automatic sprinklers for fire protection is made in a report sent to the city council by the board of appeal of the building code.

The board is making this recommendation also suggests that a public hearing be held before the city council for the discussion of this question.

IDAHO U. S. JUDGE ENJOINS STRIKERS

Railroads Get Temporary Injunction Against Men.

VIOLENCE IS CHARGED

Federal Court Issues Mandate of Widespread Importance to Union Shopmen.

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Federal Judge Dietrich today handed down a temporary injunction restraining striking railroad shopmen in Idaho from interfering, hindering or obstructing in any way the operations of the railroad within the state. He acted on petition of the Oregon Short Line.

The petition requesting the order was supported by numerous affidavits which cited alleged acts of violence on the part of the striking shopmen in Pocatello and other southern Idaho railroad towns. September 18 has been set as the date to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

Order Wide in Scope.

The court's order is widespread in scope. It commands the defendants and "all other persons in active concert or participation with them and all persons associating or acting with them in the so-called strike of the six federated shop crafts named, absolutely to desist and refrain from in any manner interfering with the free use and occupation of the plaintiff and of any and all its property or premises of any kind or character and from interfering with, hindering, obstructing or stopping any of the business of the plaintiff or its agents, officers or employees in the operation of the railroad."

It restrains the strikers from "destroying or injuring the railroad's property," and from "the use of threats, kidnapping or personal injury."

Strike Activities Limited.

The order further provides that the strikers are restrained "from assembling, loitering or congregating upon, about or in proximity of the shops, roundhouses, depots, tracks, yards or other of the railroad's premises at Pocatello, Montpelier or Glenns Ferry, or elsewhere, for the purpose of doing or attempting to do any of the acts so restrained as aforesaid."

Bridge Contract Let.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—The county court today awarded to L. M. Bentley, local builder, the contract for constructing a wooden bridge across the east fork of Hood river at Winans city. The structure will take the place of the famous "crooked" bridge, which precipitated the county's only recall election in 1913, when members of the county commission were re-elected by the electorate. The contract price of the new bridge was $6700. The old bridge was condemned by the state highway department last year.
