

Women's Activities

Tuesday, "The Honor System and How Campfire Does Its Work"; Wednesday, "Campfire Activities and the Seven Crafts"; Thursday, "The Relation of Symbolism to Everyday Life"; Friday, "Organization"; Saturday, outdoor ceremonies in Laurelhurst park with presentation of certificates to those who have taken the course. During Miss Kemphorne's stay in the city, a luncheon will be given in her honor.

Miss Kemphorne, who will arrive in Portland today, did her first Campfire work nine years ago in Alaska. For the last five years she has been field secretary of the national organization and has recently returned from New Zealand, where the work is flourishing. She spent much of last year in England, where the work is progressing rapidly.

The Campfire programme affords wholesome activities, which are organized largely around the home, the church and the school. In 1921 a total of 1,721,951 honors were won by Campfire girls, the accomplishments being: Home, health, hand, required, camp, nature, business and patriotism.

Betsy Ross tent No. 1, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, will give a benefit luncheon Thursday from 11:30 to 2 o'clock in room 625 courthouse. Mrs. Margaret E. Becker is chairman.

State Parent-Teachers to Meet at Eugene.

Postponed Conference Will Be Held Late in October.

The State Parent-Teacher association will hold a conference at Eugene late in October.

On account of the national convention held at Tacoma in May the Oregon state meeting was postponed for a year. However, due to the needs of co-operative action, the state board has deemed it imperative that a meeting be held this fall.

The date will be definitely announced soon. Mrs. O. L. Poindecker of Eugene, a member of the state board, will arrange the date to conform with the convenience of the hostess associations at Eugene.

All states have been requested to revise their constitution and by-laws in order that they may conform with the national. The committee on revision will, in the near future, present the proposed changes through the press. The various associations are urged to study them carefully and instruct their delegates as to their votes.

Every association is entitled to several delegates. Plans should be made now for each delegate's trip. Mrs. J. F. Hill, state president, has planned to stress the educational side for the ensuing year. All matters pertaining to child welfare will be given special consideration.

All members not on the mailing list of the State Magazine should send their names to the business manager, 425 Board of Trade building, at once, in order that they may receive the September issue which is now on the press. Individual subscriptions will be raised to 25 cents beginning October 1.

Rose City Park association, after an active summer's work will hold the first meeting Tuesday afternoon, September 18, at 2 o'clock in the school auditorium. All are invited to attend.

Royal circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, met Wednesday night and began their new campaign. Every member get a member, followed by a banquet and dance.

A 500 party was given by the President association, Ladies of the Grand Army of Republic, recently at the home of Gracia Sanderleaf.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church is to be held in the chapel Tuesday of this week at 2:30 P. M. Mrs. F. E. Grigsby has arranged a programme on India, and the Women of her circle will serve tea.

The first meeting for the fall of the Evening Auxiliary will be held at 7:45 o'clock. Miss Lenora Ashton, leader, will speak on "India." Mrs. T. C. Lewis, Miss Mary Donny and Miss Ella Acheson will each give a talk on the subject, and Miss Martha Case is to lead the devotional service. Mrs. T. W. Zimmerman will sing. Christmas gifts for missionaries should be brought to these meetings. A social hour follows the programme.

Buckman Parent-Teacher circle will hold its first regular meeting at the first meeting of the new season, Wednesday, September 13, at 8 P. M. The members of the school board, the city superintendent, and Mrs. D. B. Kelly, president of the Portland Parent-Teacher association, have been invited. An invitation to all parents and friends is extended.

The Oak Grove Social Service club will hold its first regular meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. William Green at Lakewood station Thursday, September 14, at 8 o'clock. The programme will include the study of the colonization and the social, political and economic development of the United States. The first papers, which will be delivered by Mrs. Mattie Pierce and Mrs. Anna Palmblad, will concern the early Nordic, Spanish, English, French and Dutch explorations of the new world. The meeting will follow a noon luncheon, which is to be served by the hostess.

Reminiscent Programme Is Held by W. C. T. U.

Guests at Quaint Affairs Alternate Between Tears and Laughter.

ATTIRED in a "Dolly Varden" A polonaise worn over a white linen petticoat of almost solid eyelet embroidery, with hair done high and a long side curl, Mrs. Cora Ponnay welcomed the members and friends of Central W. C. T. U. to her home, 950 East Salmon street, for an "old-time" party Wednesday afternoon.

The large rooms were well filled and a reminiscent programme caused the listeners to alternate between tears and laughter.

Mrs. Nellie Pollock, wearing the skirt of her much beruffled blue silk wedding dress, sang a group of old-time songs; Mrs. E. B. Gittings wore a white linen dress made from sheets hand-woven from flax grown on the old Gittings homestead in Maryland more than 100 years ago. With this were worn black silk mitts and a big locket with samples of the family hair under glass. Other relics were exhibited. Paper flowers on a marble-top "center table" gave a quaint touch to the "best room."

Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden and Mrs. Alice M. McNaught, candidates for the legislature, spoke briefly of the things they hoped to help bring about in the way of home protection, good citizenship and equitable distribution of the tax burden. Both are W. C. T. U. members. Mrs. Hidden read the call for the organization of the New Hampshire W. C. T. U. 40 years ago, and read from manuscript her opening address at this meeting, at which were present Julia Ward Howe, Mary Livermore, Alice Stone and other notable women.

Old songs, in which all joined, and refreshments closed a delightful afternoon.

Woodstock W. C. T. U. will hold an all-day meeting next Tuesday at the home of E. R. Body at 5721 Woodstock avenue. The basket luncheon, which is to be held at noon, will be followed by a business meeting and election of officers.

The Women's Forum will hold the first meeting Monday, September 18, with Mrs. E. C. Cochran, 800 East Twenty-sixth street, as hostess.

Mrs. Cochrane, Mrs. A. Bouham and Mrs. Emmet Drake will be hostesses.

The business meeting will be at 11 o'clock and luncheon at 12. The programme is as follows: Rollcall—Things Worth While. Paper—"Primary Needs of the Home," Mrs. C. T. Allingham. Civic Lesson—Constitution of the United States, W. P. Briggs. The calendar for the year is a strong, practical one, and it is hoped that all members will be present the first meeting.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church is planning for a large attendance at the "Homecoming day" meeting Wednesday, September 13, at 2 P. M. Frances Kallstedt, national worker from San Francisco, will speak on "Our Work Among the Negroes" and Dr. Parker will be present and address the meeting. Mrs. Esther Wolfvogel will lead the devotions and Mrs. W. H. Chatten will sing. Mrs. C. A. Rice and Mrs. E. J. Paterson will assist the hostess, Mrs. E. S. Collins, at her home, 877 Westover road. Take Twenty-third street car to Johnson street, walk three blocks west.

Williams chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will meet at the University club Wednesday, September 13, at 2 o'clock. Cordial invitation to this function is extended to all Daughters of the American Revolution who are attending the general convention of the Episcopal church.

In response to requests from various teachers and nurses, the department of physical education of the Y. W. C. A. is offering as a special feature class this winter a class for teachers and nurses only. The type of work offered will meet the immediate physical needs of the teacher and the nurse. The strenuous feature of the general routine of the gymnasium work will be eliminated in favor of the more esthetic and that which is conducive to much-needed relaxation. Miss Georgia L. Wey will personally conduct the work. The class, which will meet once a week, will organize Wednesday evening, September 20, at 7:30 o'clock. This hour may be changed to a later afternoon hour if preferred. Any information concerning the class may be had by calling the Y. W. C. A., Main 7876.

THE woman's club season in both city and state will have an auspicious opening Saturday, September 16, when the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. Ida B. Callahan of Corvallis is president, and the Portland Federation of Women's Organizations, of which Mrs. Alexander Thompson is president, will hold a joint luncheon at 12 o'clock in the ballroom of the Hotel Multnomah.

Right Rev. Thomas F. Gallor, D. D., bishop of Tennessee and presiding bishop of the council, will be an honored guest and speaker on this occasion. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, rector of St. Thomas church, Fifth avenue, New York, widely known as numbering among its communicants more wealth and aristocracy than any other church in the country, will speak on "Work Among the Foreign Born in New York." Dr. Stires' church maintaining a large institutional church and mission in the heart of the foreign born district, and he is in close and constant touch with thousands of people representing all nations of the world. Mrs. John M. Glenn of New York city, president of the national council of Church mission help, will speak on "Pulling Together." The programme is in general charge of the American citizenship department of the state federation, of which Miss Vella Winner is chairman. A musical programme is being arranged by Mrs. W. H. Braeger, president of the Monday Musical club.

The general chairman for the luncheon will be Mrs. E. Bonduant. Mrs. Charles E. Runyon heads the reception committee and the decorations will be in charge of Miss Julia Spooner, assisted by members of the Portland Grade Teachers' association. Mrs. Ernest Crosby is in charge of reservations; Mrs. C. G. Tipton is in charge of the placing committee. Each chairman will name her assistants. Plates for the luncheon will be 15 cents and reservations should be made at once by calling Mrs. Crosby, Tabor 9877.

The health education work of the Oregon Tuberculosis association, conducted through the modern health crusade, of which Miss Elizabeth Hopper is the director, will have a conspicuous part in the exhibits at the state fair, soon to be held in Salem. The work of the A. L. Mills Open Air school will be demonstrated by means of an interesting display from the school, there will be specimens of hand work from the state hospital, and a large collection of posters. A health crusade fish pond will be conducted in the rest room, which will be open to all comers. The county public health nurses are arranging poster displays and weighing and measuring conveniences for the various county fairs.

Miss Hopper is much in demand as a speaker at the county teachers' institutes, and has already been scheduled to speak at the Harney county institute, which meets October 4, 5 and 6, and the Tillamook county institute, which meets on the same dates. Curry and Malheur counties will hold their institute October 9, 10 and 11; Gilliam county will hold its institute October 10, 11 and 12; Wheeler county will hold its institute October 18, 19 and 20. At each of these gatherings Miss Hopper will speak, giving valuable information and suggestions for the teaching of health and hygiene in the most approved manner and in a way that makes it highly interesting to the child.

Campfire Guardians to Get Training.

Great Interest Shown in Course Opening Tomorrow.

The very best--- DRESSES COATS SUITS

in the city at moderate prices

Only yesterday a woman looking for a silk dress said: "Why, that is the identical dress I bought at So-and-So's for ten dollars more!" That is an everyday remark at the Bon Marche. Because we buy from the country's best manufacturers and mark our garments at very low prices—thus selling many, many times the number we would at prices ordinarily charged for the same apparel.

Dresses

At $49.50 the most beautiful frocks you could ask for. Of handsome Poirer Twill—so popular this season, there are striking coat style frocks—beautifully embroidered models and strictly tailored.

At the same price a handsome satin Canton Crepe has delicate embroidery in metal thread on sleeves and under arms. Another has a brilliant cherry velvet girdle and narrow pleating on skirt.

At $39.50 you'll see striking Poirer Twill frocks. One has red and gray embroidery on the flaring sleeves to make it smart. Another is very simple with plain waist and flaring skirt smartly braided.

Silk dresses at the same price are charming. One model has skirt elaborately beaded in steel and jet. Another is solid blue with novelty open-braid from boat neck to hem, giving the smart long line. The same braid runs down the sleeves, in openwork effect.

At $25 there are any number of smart wool styles—the silks in a variety of smart models—plain, embroidered or beaded.

Coats

Every style you could ask for is here at a very moderate price.

At $125—Wonderful Marvella coats—one of midnight blue has handsome gray wolf collar and cuffs, in a most delightful style, with gray silk lining.

At $75 a navy blue Bolivia coat is smartly stitched in black silk and has handsome big chin collar of Siberian squirrel.

At $49.50 A rich black coat has an unexpectedly big collar of black fur, with cuffs to match. This, too, is stitched in black.

Suits

This is the time of year that a smart suit is so desirable and these are so moderately priced.

At $89.50 a rich model is built on long lines, with circles embroidered in flat stitching, broken by bands of the material. A soft, black fur collar and cuffs add richness.

At $65 a suit is made smart, indeed, by a band of wide stitching embroidered to hip depth above a band of caracul fur. With collar and cuffs to match. Long revers end above dull silver buckles.

At $39.50 one of the smartest suits we've seen—leaf brown duvet de laine with embroidery in harmonizing tone and chin collar of nutria. Bands of fur run the depth of the pockets.

NEW HATS

Smart as can be and wonderfully specially priced, you'll see, when you see them! Hats designed to lend softness to the face—made of hatter's plush, panne velvet and other fine velvets trimmed with ostrich, metal cloth, novelties and burnt goose—and priced from

$5 to $18.50
