

FOREIGN-BORN TO DISCUSS WORK AMONG FOREIGN-BORN

Mass Meeting Will be Held Tonight at Municipal Auditorium at Which Prominent Members of Laity and Clergy Will Discuss Problems of Church—Feature to Be One of Most Interesting of Convention

ANTICIPATED as one of the most interesting functions scheduled in connection with the triennial convention of the Episcopal church is the hearing which will be given the foreign-born Americans of the church at the municipal auditorium tonight.

The gathering will be a mass meeting, at which discussion will take place among prominent members of the clergy and laity on the problems of the church in its work with the foreign-born and their children. This is one of the particular matters to which the church directs its attention and a special administrative department of the church organization has been set aside to carry on the activity in this field.

Right Rev. John G. Murray will preside at the assembly and Rev. Thomas B. Burgess, head of the department for the care of the foreign born, will talk on "The Position of the Foreign Born in the Church." Other speakers who will deliver short addresses are George Zabriskie, D. C. L., chancellor of the church; Rev. Homer A. Flint, Th. D., administrator of the diocese of Pittsburgh, who will talk on the "Foreign-Born in Industrial Dioceses"; Right Rev. Edward Parsons, D. D., bishop of California, who will talk on the "Domestic Missions to Orientals"; Rev. George C. Stewart, rector of St. Luke, Easton, Ill., who will discuss "Normal Parish Work." The benediction will be given by the Most Rev. Germaine of Antioch, archbishop of Beirut, Syria, official representative of the patriarch of Antioch.

The Portland Union Bible classes opened with enthusiasm last week. In spite of the fact that several other religious gatherings are meeting in the city, the classes are almost as large as the best of last season. The leaders are taking this as a token that the interest in this Bible work is growing in Portland. The classes are all interdenominational and free from bobbies. An interesting feature of the Congregational Union of the West convention, which is to be held September 25, 26 and 27 at the First Presbyterian church, will be the congregational church, which is being commissioned to go almost immediately after the convention to do missionary work in Japan. Miss Mary Washington woman, she is graduate of the Cheney Normal school and of the University of Washington. She is the only Christian university in the world. She is preparing herself for a variety of missionary activities. She spent two years in studying at the Kennedy School of Missions in Hartford, Conn. She was given the degree of master of pedagogy. When she goes to Japan she will spend one-half of her time in the study of languages at Tokio and the other half in teaching English at the Christiana union college. Doornika university is the only Christian university in Japan.

The local church women are putting the finishing touches on their preparations for the entertainment of the groups of women that will come from Washington, Idaho, California and Oregon. Mrs. Gustava Brigger is the chairman of the housing committee, Mrs. George Tomlinson is chairman of the transportation committee, Mrs. E. N. Howe is chairman of the highway picnic committee, Miss Angelina Holm is chairman of the entertainment committee and Miss Marthine Grimsby of the publicity committee. The Oregon conference of Congregational churches will hold a three-day meeting at the First Congregational church of Corvallis, October 10, 11 and 12. Delegates from all the churches in the state are in attendance at the conference. Dr. F. M. Bishop of Forest Grove moderator. The Rev. Robert Alving is chairman of the Light committee on programme. He will serve as ad-interim superintendent. All of the services will be devoted to welcoming the Bishop and his wife, the newly-elected superintendent of the state conference. Dr. Hurdston has been elected secretary of the church building society of the Congregational church. He will welcome him and deliver an address in the evening. He will forth his plans for the state. Afternoon will be laymen's afternoon. On this afternoon a half-dozen of the leading Congregational laymen of the state will indicate what they think the churches ought to do. Another meeting will be devoted to the discussion of the ministry of the Church to University Students. Professor Tuttle of Pacific university will be in charge. The Rev. J. A. Ginn, pastor of the Church in the Present Social and Industrial Crisis.

The senior Baptist Young People's union of the city held its annual election Tuesday evening, which resulted as follows: President, Alice Haas; vice-president, Cecelia Sponberg; secretary, Thelma Alexander; treasurer, Earl Green; organist, Laura Waldron; press reporter, Jeannette Hartman. A social hour followed the business.

Last Monday at the close of the Methodist Episcopal convention at Salem assignments of the Methodist pastors for the coming year were made public and it was announced that the First Methodist church of Portland would be the receiving place of a conference next year. Bishop Shepard made it plain that he was making his assignments where he thought the men could do work most beneficial and in keeping with church standards. Several changes were made in the personnel, which has been serving in Portland Methodist churches during the last year. Rev. Charles Macauley will remain as pastor of the Centenary Wilbur church and will be assisted by Rev. H. P. Greene, until recently of Lewiston. Rev. P. A. Above are western bishops who are alumni of the Episcopal Theological school, Cambridge, Mass., those shown are attending the general convention here. Left to right, they are: Front row—Bishop Herman Page, diocese of Spokane; Bishop Julius W. Atwood, Arizona; Bishop William Lawrence, Massachusetts; Bishop Frank Hale Touret, Idaho. Rear row—Bishop Edward L. Parsons, condutor, California; Bishop Louis C. Sandford, San Jose; Bishop W. Bertrand Stevens, condutor, Los Angeles. Among important developments at the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church was the completion during the last week of plans to raise $1,000,000 by popular subscriptions for the Episcopal Theological school, at Cambridge, Mass. Announcement was made Wednesday evening at a luncheon held in the University club. Right Rev. William Lawrence, bishop of Massachusetts, announced the opening of the subscription campaign and also that he will give over much of the work of his diocese to his coadjutor-elect and push actively the subscription drive personally. Speaking of the school he cited the fact that one out of every 35 graduates, he said, have founded four schools and many are professors, headmasters and teachers in secondary and collegiate institutions.
