

INVISIBLE COLOR BOOK for Boys & Girls

October 1, 1922

Do You Like To Play Tricks?
Solve Puzzles?
Paint Pictures?
Make Toys?
Read Stories?
LOOK INSIDE

PATENTED JULY 12, 1921

"GEE, I'LL TELL THE WORLD THAT'S SOME DRIVE!"

GIRLS in general, Johnny thinks, are more a nuisance than anything else. But Big Sister Gloria is different. "I'll tell the world she's different," says Johnny. "She can run like a rabbit and swim like a fish, and whistle—say, y'can hear her a mile."

But Gloria is at her best on the golf course, and if you don't think Johnny is proud of her, look at his face. Gloria won't have any caddy but Johnny if she can help it, and Johnny—well, he actually dodged the president of the First National, who is good for a $2 tip, to caddy for Gloria.

"When Sis wants to play she gets first choice of caddies" he says, "and first choice is ME."

IMPORTANT—READ THIS: Clear water and a brush is all you need to color the pages; it will surprise you to see the Magic Colors spring up in the path of the brush.

You can have lots of fun collecting the posters, puzzles and toys that appear each week. If you are very careful about cutting and coloring, you can hang the posters in your room or at school. Some of the other pages will make interesting scrapbooks.

(Copyright, 1922, World Color Printing Co., St. Louis, Mo.)