

GARTHWICK LOT SALE

Now Going On

This Wonderful Residential Park Thrown on the Market at Unheard-of Prices

Don't miss this or you will always regret it. It will easily be possible to Double Your Money on many of these lots

Drive out and see this property today

Salesman on Grounds From Daylight to Dark

The buyers of other high-class property sold at liquidation prices have made good money on their investments---GARTHWICK is being offered at prices lower than any similar property has ever been sold in this city.

Terms of Sale

10% Cash, 2% Monthly
6% Interest
5% Off for Cash

COE A. MCKENNA & CO.

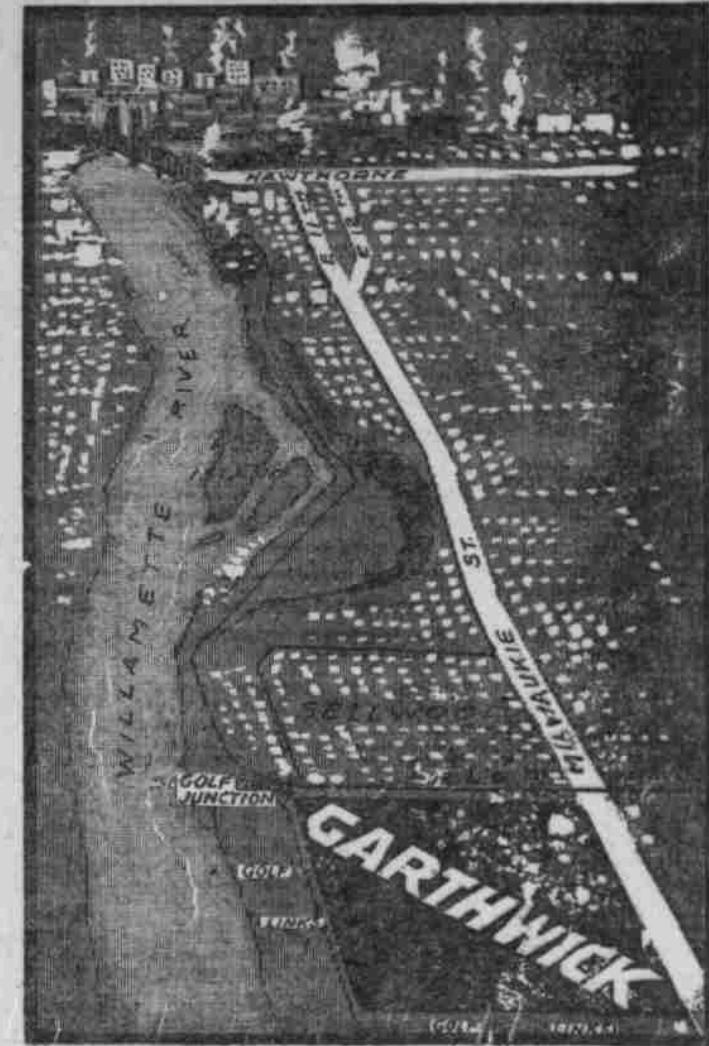

208 Artisans Bldg.

Established 1889

Broadway 7522

A few facts concerning—
GARTHWICK

*Six-Cent Streetcar Fare.
Sixteen-Minute Interurban Service.
Five Streetcar Lines Serve Property.
Adjoining Waverley Golf Club.
Near Municipal Golf Links.
Near Reed College.
Lots Contain 15,000 to 25,000 Square Feet.
Hard-Surfaced Streets and Alleys.
No Assessments to Assume.
Ornamental Arc Lights.
All City Utilities, Water, Gas, Electric Lights, Etc.
No City Taxes.
Greatest Bargains Ever Offered in This Class of Portland Real Estate.
Only 52 Lots; 40 Years' Building Restrictions.*

How to get to Garthwick
Drive out Milwaukee Road to city limits and you are there.

Take Oregon City, Milwaukie, Estacada or Sellwood cars to Golf Junction.

HEALTH COURSE BEGUN

PUPILS TAUGHT HOW TO DEVELOP BODIES.

Formation of Good Habits of Hygiene to Be Stressed by Oregon Public Schools.

To make Oregon first in wealth of health is the ultimate aim of the new department on health and hygiene in the new state course of study for elementary schools of Oregon, recently issued by J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction. The department replaces the old course on physiology and was prepared at the request of Mr. Churchill by Mrs. Sadie G. Thompson, director of the Oregon Tuberculosis association, assisted by L. A. Wiley, principal of the Couch school; H. B. Blough, principal of the Peninsula school; W. A. Dickson, principal of the Oakley Green school, and Miss Eva D. Thomson, professor of public health nursing, University of Oregon.

Throughout the whole eight grades the course is built on nutrition, rest, cleanliness, exercise, fresh air, recuperation of health habits from the fifth to the eighth grade inclusive, the course is correlated with the textbooks in physiology and civics.

The aims set forth for the eighth grades are as follows: First, the desire to play the health game and win; second, to see the need for good health and create a desire to attain it; third, the fixation of health habits; fourth, health obligation to one's neighbor; individual health means community health; sixth, to develop a community conscience; seventh, a sense of responsibility and right action; eighth, to make Oregon first in wealth of health.

The general aim of the course is set forth in the introduction parts of which follow: "The important work of influencing the formation of proper health habits must be done by the public schools because it is the only agency that reaches all of the children. It is hoped that work as here outlined will be correlated with opening exercises, civic duty first and language."

"It is suggested that the weighing and measuring be interpreted as finding the weight and the standing height of each child three times during the school year and reporting the same to the home. Too much stress should not be placed on over-weighted and under-weighted as several factors are involved. In these conditions, rate of gain in weight and height is of greater importance than a mere percentage of under-weight."

"In health teaching should tend toward and find expression in the fixing of proper health habits. This can be attained by arousing a decided interest on the part of the child, and this interest depends upon the enthusiasm, ingenuity and sympathy of the teacher. Health songs, plays, suggestions and helpful information may be secured from the state library, state and federal departments and private agencies."

The Oregonian publishes practically all of the want ads printed in the other three Portland papers, in addition to thousands of exclusive advertisements not printed in any other local paper.

CHINA SOON TO HAVE FIRST NATIVE WOMAN JOURNALIST

Another Chunk of Great Wall of Celestial Tradition Falls With Entrance of Miss Chang Into American College.

ANOTHER chunk of China's great wall of tradition has fallen. For the first time in Chinese history—and that began more than a thousand years before Christ—China will have a native journalist.

Miss Eva Chang, 21 years old, daughter of an ancient conservative Chinaman, has entered in the school of journalism at the University of Missouri, Columbia. She was educated at St. Mary's hall, a high school in Shanghai, where half of each school day was devoted to the study of English subjects.

Having completed her studies after four years' study in the United States at the college of her choice, Miss Chang came to America last fall and attended Oberlin college for a year.

Her real name, Chiy-ling Chang—pronounced "Chee-ling Chang"—has the music of tinkling bells. But Miss Chang thought "Chiy-ling" would distress American ears and tongues, so she adopted the name "Eva" for American use.

In a dress of dark blue silk, which she wears made with a kimono-style overskirt trimmed with bands of gold braid, her straight shining hair arranged in a knot at the back of her head, with her bright brown eyes, an unusually attractive smile and dimples, Chiy-ling Chang might just have stepped down a painted Chinese fan.

The young folk of China are too ready to take up something new, no matter what it is," said Miss Chang. "They never seem to be afraid, because they take up all fads without questioning them."

"But the old folks are too conservative. They like nothing new."

The very young Miss Chang speaks is precisely, carefully enunciating every word. She is delicate, too. I was going to say before I left China, but I didn't know what to choose. Then one night, just before I went to sleep, I thought and thought—then I knew. I wanted to be a journalist, she said finally.

The great mass of people in China should begin to read newspapers more and more, she says. Interested in social conditions in her country and anxious to help China in its present transitional stage, Miss Chang believes that she can do most for journalism than in any other profession.

China has women's magazines and women's pages in its newspapers, but they are edited by men, according to Miss Chang. She is more interested in newspaper writing, but I must know how to write for a newspaper before I can manage one," she said, smiling.

Before she left China the editor of one of the Shanghai daily papers tried to get Miss Chang to promise to work for his paper on her return to the orient.

Eva Chang, who will be China's first woman journalist.

"The first time I saw men and women dancing together, I think it would be better if the men danced with the men and the girls danced with the girls."

K. Z. Chang of Washington, D. C., secretary of the Chinese educational mission, is a brother of Miss Chang.

The young folk of China are too ready to take up something new, no matter what it is," said Miss Chang. "They never seem to be afraid, because they take up all fads without questioning them."

"But the old folks are too conservative. They like nothing new."

The very young Miss Chang speaks is precisely, carefully enunciating every word. She is delicate, too. I was going to say before I left China, but I didn't know what to choose. Then one night, just before I went to sleep, I thought and thought—then I knew. I wanted to be a journalist, she said finally.

The great mass of people in China should begin to read newspapers more and more, she says. Interested in social conditions in her country and anxious to help China in its present transitional stage, Miss Chang believes that she can do most for journalism than in any other profession.

China has women's magazines and women's pages in its newspapers, but they are edited by men, according to Miss Chang. She is more interested in newspaper writing, but I must know how to write for a newspaper before I can manage one," she said, smiling.

Before she left China the editor of one of the Shanghai daily papers tried to get Miss Chang to promise to work for his paper on her return to the orient.

Buy Rum Charlie Again Jailed.

The latest liberty of Charles (Bay Rum Charlie) Davenport was short-lived. Released from the city jail Friday, he was in again early yesterday. Inspector McCullough, seeing the absent defendant wandering about the jail, sent a constable to call him in charge and on investigation learned that the towels had been stolen from a north end hotel. Davenport is one of the regular residents of the city jail, having spent the greater part of the last Until she came to America, Miss Chang had never seen social dancing. "It made me feel funny," she said, ten years within its corridors.

ARTISTS TO GET TRYOUT

OPERA TO RECEIVE AMATEUR PERFORMERS.

Opportunity Day Inaugurated as Feature of Third of Century Anniversary.

Bidding activity for attention among the many plans perfected for observing the week of October 22 as the third of a century anniversary of Oregon's vaudeville is the "Opportunity Day" scheme to be inaugurated by Frank J. McGettigan, manager of the Portland Orpheum theater.

"Opportunity day" will bring joy to many young artists in the city and the state generally who have been unable to secure big-time vaudeville bookings with their varied talents. For Mr. McGettigan has designated Monday of each week as "Opportunity day," and in launching the plan as one of the fixtures with which the Portland theater will commemorate the 33 1/3 years of successful Orpheum history.

Each Monday, starting at 11 A. M., the manager will devote whatever time is necessary to receiving amateur performers who will be anxious to get Orpheum vaudeville bookings. Not only will he entertain their suggestions, but, if their ideas appeal as being of big-time class, he will arrange for trial performances or for professional service in presenting their ideas into shape for presentation.

Authors of sketches, dancers, or sponsors of novelty acts of one kind or another which might be developed into acceptable entertainment will be assisted in this manner, looking toward a try-out on the Orpheum stage. Arrangements will be made as well for rentals before the artist will be given a place on the big programme being assembled for anniversary week and a full report of the reception accorded will be sent to the New York booking offices.

St. Mary's School Opens.

MOUNT ANGEL COLLEGE, St. Benedict, Oct. 30.—(Special)—St. Mary's school opened for the coming school term last Monday, September 25. Three hundred and forty-two students registered, breaking all previous records for the number of students ever in attendance. The enrollment for the coming year are as follows:

Professor Miller, eighth grade boys; Sister DeSales, seventh and eighth grade girls; Miss Henrietta Berning, fifth and sixth grade boys; Sister Louise, fourth and sixth grade girls; Sister Catherine, third and fourth grade boys; Miss Rose Hassing, third and fourth grade girls; Sister Gertrude, second grade boys; Sister Angela, second grade girls; Sister Joanna, first grade boys; Sister Helen, first grade girls; and Miss Helen Kober, singing. New desks will be needed to accommodate this large number of students.

St. Mary's School Opens.

MOUNT ANGEL COLLEGE, St. Benedict, Oct. 30.—(Special)—St. Mary's school opened for the coming school term last Monday, September 25. Three hundred and forty-two students registered, breaking all previous records for the number of students ever in attendance. The enrollment for the coming year are as follows:

Professor Miller, eighth grade boys; Sister DeSales, seventh and eighth grade girls; Miss Henrietta Berning, fifth and sixth grade boys; Sister Louise, fourth and sixth grade girls; Sister Catherine, third and fourth grade boys; Miss Rose Hassing, third and fourth grade girls; Sister Gertrude, second grade boys; Sister Angela, second grade girls; Sister Joanna, first grade boys; Sister Helen, first grade girls; and Miss Helen Kober, singing. New desks will be needed to accommodate this large number of students.

St. Mary's School Opens.

MOUNT ANGEL COLLEGE, St. Benedict, Oct. 30.—(Special)—The oldest person in Brownsville, Mrs. Joseph Hardcastle, celebrated her 93d anniversary

Thursday. With her husband she enjoyed a birthday dinner. Mrs. Hardcastle came to Oregon from Nebraska about 15 years ago. As Mr.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.

Hardcastle is an octogenarian, the couple are by far the oldest in the city.