Workmen to Hear Pastors
as Lunches Are Eaten.

MUSICIANS TO APPEAR

Y. M. C. A. to Open Series of Religious Meetings in Sawmills and Factories This Week.

Gospel messages and music will be brought to workmen in seven Portland factories and shops this fall and winter while the men eat their lunches. Fifteen-minute programmes will be held during the noon hours and as the men gather brief talks will be made by Portland pastors and leading musicians will present numbers.

Arrangements for this programme of religious work have been made by the social and religious work department of the Portland Y. M. C. A. and will start this week.

"The messages will be from the Bible and will be practical and suited to every-day living," said James W. Palmer, secretary of the committee and in general charge of the meetings. "The meetings conducted for the last two years have proved popular with the workmen, who requested that they be continued."

Speakers Are Obtained.

Mills, factories and shops and speakers and chairman for the opening meetings this week are:

Eastern & Western Lumber company—Rev. P. A. Scarvie and A. K. Bishop.

Portland Railway, Light & Power company—Rev. P. A. Scarvie and A. K. Bishop.

Century-Wilbur Methodist church, and Chester Taylor.

Williamette Iron & Steel Works—Dr. J. Staub, Sunnyside Congregational church, and Carl P. Gaiser.

Inman-Poulsen Lumber company—J. W. Palmer, speaker; J. L. Hooper, chairman, day meeting; Mr. Palmer and W. F. Rouse will conduct a night meeting.

Jones Lumber company—Dr. Ward T. MacHenry, Mount Tabor Presbyterian church, and W. S. Hale.

Multnomah Lumber & Box company—Rev. Earl P. Dunsen, Second United Presbyterian church, and A. B. Carlson.

Oregon Institute of Technology Automotive school—Dr. W. T. McElven, First Congregational church, and J. B. Dinsdale.

Busy Season Inaugurated.

The Y. M. C. A. has begun a busy year in social and religious activities. It is holding a weekly entertainment at the government hospital No. 177, at East Second and Multnomah streets, under the direction of R. T. Blair, a committee member.

The "Y" dormitory club will hold a weekly dinner and meeting beginning Wednesday. The "Y" symphony orchestra will give a weekly concert. Weekly motion pictures and other service will be given. A Bible class will be conducted in the lobby once each week.

An important feature will be the Sunday afternoon service in the auditorium at which prominent speakers will discuss religious and social questions of importance to young men. The first of these meetings will be held beginning at 2:30 this afternoon when Dr. Carl Gregg Penny, president of Washington University, will speak, and Miss Ruth Lindrud, New York musician, will give selections on the harp.

Prayer Week to Be Observed.

Preparations have begun for the world-wide week of prayer which will be observed by the Portland association.

High interest is attached to the special recitals to be given in October and November by Robert Louis Barron, violinist.

Members of the religious and social work committee are: Carl P. Gaiser, chairman; A. B. Cutler, John L. Hooper, Fred Nelson, W. J. Lester, Walter Huntington, Robert T. Blair, W. S. Hale, G. H. Peterson, A. R. Carlson, Ray E. Close and A. K. Bishop.

HIGHWAY STAND LAUDED

REPUBLICAN POSITION BOON TO ROOSEVELT PROJECT.

People of Coast Counties Find State Conference Platform Fits in With Hopes.

TILLAMOOK, Or., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—According to Fred C. Baker, the secretary of the Roosevelt highway memorial coast highway association is well pleased with the action of the republican convention in Portland, Tuesday, in placing a plank in its platform pledging early completion of the Roosevelt highway. It was through the efforts of this association that the coast highway was made part of the state highway, and a large amount of road work being done, with the assurance from the state highway commission that the coast highway will be finished as soon as funds are available. Mr. Baker says several issues have been injected into the coming political campaign, none of which will help to build up and develop the coast counties as the completion of the Roosevelt highway. For that reason the people of the coast counties should continue to stand together and help elect the republican ticket, for there is no telling what the coast highway will be completed if a democratic governor is elected. This appears to be the opinion of all the directors of the association, which includes the seven coast counties.

Not only is Mr. Baker pleased with the action taken by the republican convention, but he is in receipt of a letter from Walter L. Toomey Jr., chairman republican state central committee, also pledging support to the early completion of the Roosevelt highway. Mr. Toomey says:

"I have your favor of September 20 and have noted contents. I note what you say about our friend Walter Pierce and his stand upon the Roosevelt highway. I think Walter Pierce would stand for anything that would bring him a few votes, figuring that promises are for election rather than solemn obligations that must be carried out after the election is over."

The republican convention tomorrow will adopt a platform containing endorsement of the Roosevelt highway, and if the republican party is continued in power the road programme, including the completion of the Roosevelt highway, will be carried out. This will be a solemn pledge of the republican party and not the irrepressible promise of a "chance" candidate for public office. Trust this will be satisfactory.

At a meeting last week the Unquama American Legion post was host to the wives, families, sweethearts and friends of ex-service men at the armory. They were entertained with a musical programme and dance, followed by refreshments. A large crowd attended.

The Citizen Veteran

THE recent war was the blackest of tragedies, but to the great majority of the men in olive drab it was merely a great adventure—an adventure in which at times there were disagreeable features. But always there were the silver linings to the clouds, the times of enjoyment, the amusing incidents, which made life worth while even in a dugout or a barracks.

Earl Hutchinson of Oregon City was acting as chef de table, according to the humorous comment of the little French switchman who occupied a switchhouse adjacent to the railroad construction job of the 18th engineers' railway, not far from Hordeneaux. That is, Earl was brakeman on a dirt train which was used in making a fill across a swamp.

The engine coughed away, piloted by "Dad" Phillips, veteran engineer of Portland, and the string of dirt cars was shoved further and further out into the swamp on the temporary track. Hutchinson occupied the lead car, his arms aloft signaling the engine to proceed. The meeting of the camp held last week.

Efforts are being made by Portland post, American Legion, to learn the whereabouts of Hugh Stenhouse Ludford, a laundry worker who is believed to be in Portland. The young man's mother is dying in Hesperia, Ariz., according to a telegram received.

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 30.—Philip L. Rife of Kailua was elected commander of the American Legion, Hawaiian department, at the annual convention here today.

Rife was a lawyer and was a captain in the 47th machine gun battalion at Camp Kearney.

About 25 American legion men and 14 members of the auxiliary are expected to make the trip from Oregon to the national American Legion convention held in New Orleans, October 16 to 20, according to an estimate made by Harry Nelson, state adjutant of the legion.

The Oregon party is planning to join with the delegates from Washington in carrying the "Olympic torch" to the convention.

Thousands of ex-service men are expected to attend the convention as a result of the announcement of a reduced rate for the round trip. Announcement of the reduced rate was made by E. A. Simmon, chairman of the legion's national committee.

The rate has been accepted as official by Hanford MacNider, legion national commander, which will be effective on all railroads, will apply to members of the American Legion and its auxiliary, widows of deceased members of the legion and to delegates to the convention of the inter-allied veterans' federation.

Legion convention officials estimate that a crowd of 100,000 visitors will attend the national gathering as a result of the fare reduction. Several thousand legionnaires also are expected to take advantage of the 50 per cent reduction granted on all vessels of the United States shipping board.

The railroad table based on the reduced fare shows that those in Oregon contemplating attending the convention will pay $28.35 for fare from Portland to New Orleans and return.

Myrtle wood bowls and candlesticks will combine with Oregon Legion products at the "Oregon table" at the dinner of the states at the convention. A fine display of Oregon products has been arranged by Mrs. Robert C. Dillard, Marshfield. Mrs. Dillard has been appointed by the president of the Oregon auxiliary of Oregon to present to the national convention the women's organization when it convenes in the "old port" city.

A beautiful myrtle wood bowl and block made from myrtle from Oregon woods, for use in future conventions.

Harold J. Wells has been chosen commander of the Lane county American Legion post to fill the unexpired term of S. S. George who has resigned to enter politics. At the meeting six members of the post were nominated for the vice-commander and a splendid fight was expected for this office at the next meeting October 12. Those nominated were: Lynn McCready, C. S. Elliott, W. C. Clough, Robert Earl, C. Koepke and Ray Turner. The post is planning for a big celebration of Armistice day.

Porter M. Hook, adjutant of the Ray Johnson Legion post of Medford, was in Portland on business last week. He reported the post to be forging to the front in good shape.

A programme for a class of candidates for United States citizenship was put on by the Pendleton American Legion post in the circuit court there last Wednesday.

An old school building at Bandon is being remodeled and put into shape for use as an American Legion club house there, according to Otto R. Sabro, finance officer of the Bandon post who was in Portland last week. The Bandon post is spending about $4000 in putting the place into shape.

Gresham post American Legion met Tuesday and formulated plans for winter activities. The post decided to have two meetings a month for the next six months.

The meeting was held in a social hall, the post will hold a celebration on Armistice day.

For the benefit of its baseball team, Rainier post American Legion will give a dance this week.

After a summer vacation the Carl B. Benton post of Dallas will meet Friday night. A large attendance is expected to assist in arranging for the proper observance of Armistice day. The festivities will be held in Dallas this week. The independent post being guests. Last year the programme was held in Independence with Dallas assisting. Delegates from the state convention will also deliver their reports at the meeting. The establishment of a veterans' La Societe is planned that evening.

Robert Murray, coach, is fast whipping a football team in slacks for The Dallas American Legion post, according to advices received from Post Commander Foley. The coach was in Bandon Sunday and went through a light practice.

The American Legion auxiliary recently organized at North Bend to the Sunset Legion post of that city now has 27 signers for a following. Following their recent meeting, the post and auxiliary met together and refreshments were served by the ladies and dances were enjoyed. The third Tuesday in October another joint meeting will be held.

At a picnic at Boardman tendered to the members of the Boardman American Legion post, Legion auxiliary served a bounteous feed, following which old-fashioned games were played. Due to the popularity of the affair, it will be repeated next month.
