Miss Madeline Kras, who is attending school in Los Angeles

Mrs. D. I. Berger, A Recent Bride of Dubuque, Iowa

Helfield, formerly of Hood River, but now of Portland.
Mr. Eisenhauer served on a transport during the war and now is associated with the Union Pacific company.
Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhauer will live at 630 East Fifty-first street North, where their new home has just been completed.

Kappa Kappa Gamma alumni will meet at the home of Mrs. Edgar E. Piper (Katherine Burnside), 1320 East Thirtieth street, Friday afternoon, October 13. All Kappas invited. Phone Sillwood 4950.

Miss Dorothy Blakely returned last week to Los Angeles to resume her study of dramatic art at Cumnock hall.

The woman's progressive unit of Laurelhurst club recently elected the following officers, who are enthusiastically planning an unusually active season of social events in the interest of the club: Mrs. James Forbes, president; Mrs. F. Louis Stoeckel, vice-president; Miss Wilma Rinschert, secretary; Mrs. E. W. Bennett, treasurer; Mrs. Ray C. Bradley, charge of supplies.

Mrs. Fred A. Cook entertained for her youngest son, Roger, on his fifth birthday. The afternoon was spent in games and music. Halloween colors were used in the decorations. The two birthday cakes and paper caps, Halloween favors, and balloons were quite an attraction to the children. The guests were Billy and Janet Scott, Gloria Ruth Wicke, Richard J. Bellard Jr., Charles Edward Hirsch, Mary Marguerite Van Devort, Lea Van Devort, Craig Finley, Junior Barker, Robert and Billy Van Devort, Billy Keefe, Bobby Johnston, Marcus and Virginia Mahan, Barbara and Virginia Mahan, Russell and Donald McJury, Leah and Rita Harman, Corinne Pook, Jack Callahan and Freddy and Roger Cook.

Miss Harriet Fizzell of Monahan who is attending Monmouth College

Miss Howard D. Simpkins (Pearl Fizzell) who was married in California 6th birthday anniversary. Games were the pastime of the afternoon, after which a luncheon was served. Those present were Thelma Trout, Virginia Trout, Esther Page, Beth Hayward, Hazel Reynolds, Eula Jensen, Vivian Reynolds, Florence Reynolds and Mesdames Page, A. Peterson, C. C. Reynolds and W. Bradley.

Mrs. Henry McCracken entertained with a charming bridge luncheon Wednesday. Her guests were Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Theron Fell, Mrs. M. C. Alvord, Mrs. E. M. Andrus, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Mrs. W. G. Randall, Mrs. James Ladd and Mrs. Folger Johnson.

Plans are afoot among Reed college co-eds for a unique costume party to be held in the near future. Attendance will be limited to women, although men's dress suits may be in evidence as one feature of the masquerade. It is rumored that the co-eds will attend in couples and that a startling diversity of costumes will add vitality to the occasion. The date tentatively chosen is Saturday, October 17.

Miss Frances Barbey of Portland has general supervision of all preparations. She will be assisted by Miss Anna Lee Smyth, decorations; Miss Nancy Gavin, refreshments; Miss Alice Johnson, music; Miss Beale Steelsmith, invitations; Miss Beatrice Olsen, entertainment.

One of the most charming teas of the week was given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Ernest F. Tucker, complimenting a niece, Miss Sally Adams, and her fiancé, Charles Robert Parrot. A large number of society folk called between the hours of 5 and 7. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. John Bingham and Mrs. Erskine Wood. Mrs. Berwick Wood served the punch. The wedding of Miss Adams and Mr. Parrot is planned for the early spring.

Miss Helen Haller and her fiancé, Harvey Nicol Black, were the inspiration for a delightful dinner

Mrs. Henri Keates was a recent hostess for a box party, followed by tea for the following guests: Mrs. J. Norman Mateschek, Mrs. Michna Peis, Mrs. Leslie Scott, Mrs. James Lyons, Mrs. Raymond Charles, Mrs. Wurtzweiler and Mrs. W. Lyons.

Welcoming Mrs. J. A. Keeler, who recently returned from the east, Mrs. L. R. Pearl was hostess at a luncheon Tuesday. Covers were laid for Mesdames J. N. Keeler, L. B. Pearl, G. H. Charney, William Courtney, Emily Robertson, E. C. Ritter, C. F. Price, W. R. Gardner, A. R. McCullough, J. R. Hall, Charles Mason and Lillian Vandergriff.

Mrs. A. L. Reynolds entertained for her daughter Florence last Saturday week on the occasion of her will be the maid of honor and Miss Patricia Smith and Mrs. Harry P. Edward will act as the bride's attendants. Little Patricia Temple, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Temple, will be the flower girl, and Master Harry Haller Sealy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neagle P. Sealy, will be the ring bearer. Clarence Bruce Stephenson will act as best man. The ushers will include Mr. Sealy, Franklin Koroll, Douglas Nichol, Harry P. Edward, Colin Livingstone and Wallace Moore.

A large number of the younger maids and matrons called at the home of Mrs. Jay Russell Coffey, when Miss Elisabeth Richardson entertained for the bride-elect, Miss Margaret Bronough.

The following young people were invited to spend the afternoon and to celebrate the first birthday of Richard Beach Mathiot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zane Mathiot: Maxine Golden, Marjorie Ellis, Ruth Bees, Aedine Hollister, Jack Mathiot, Mary Jane Kipper, Mildred Solabury, Doris Jean Evanson, Jimmie Kipper, Margaret Wickensham, Franklin Hollister Jr., and Richard Mathiot. A beautifully decorated table laden with dainty refreshments proved a pleasant diversion for the children. Master Richard was the recipient of many lovely gifts, flowers and telegrams.

Miss Catherine Henderson, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Evelyn L. Henderson, motored to Eugene Wednesday, where Miss Henderson has entered the University of Oregon.

Faust's gamble with Mephistopheles for happiness—happiness which evaded him through all the ages until he discovered the Lancaster Columbia Gorge camp at Bonaventure, was pictorially presented before Reed college students and faculty as the crowning event of the annual campus day festivities Thursday. Faust, impersonated by Howard Smyth of Portland, offered his soul to Mephistopheles, Curtiss Griffin, for one moment of genuine happiness. Through all the epochs of history the melancholy sage passed in boredom until he entered the modern 1922 environs of the Columbia river. He found no happiness in Troy, where the laundries were closed by a strike and where Achilles gave up his memorable siege in disgust once having viewed the renowned Helen. Domestic troubles in the court of Cleopatra dampened his ardor for Roman happiness. Four Roman scholars with a collection of modern college songs had no appeal for him. Even the high spirits of Lief Erickson's party, embarking to discover an arid America, failed to lift Faust's dejection.

It was only when the antics of "Katie," the donkey mascot of the Lancaster camp where many Reed students were employed last summer, aroused Faust's enjoyment in "such an intelligent beast," that Mephistopheles collected his bet.

Following the performance actors and audience joined in a jovial dance which concluded the campus day festivities.

Howard Smyth was chairman of the entertainment committee, which prepared the playlet in the course of a single day. The parody sketch was written by Dr. Barry Carl and Otto D. Richardson of the Reed faculty, assisted by students. The characters and their portrayals were: Faust, Howard Smyth, Portland; Mephistopheles, Curtiss Griffin; Helen of Troy, Miss Julia Opp; Achilles, August Belch; Cleopatra, Miss Helen Lee Grant; Lief Erickson, Raleigh Myers; Captain Swenson, Donald Ramsdell; Lief Erickson, Miss Margaret Westgate; Mrs. Swenson, Miss Anna Lee Smyth; Mrs. Nelson, Miss Rhoda Burpee; King of the Amazons, Anna Hutchinson; Amazons, Miss Anna Lee Smyth, Miss Elizabeth Strohecker and Miss Margaret Richardson; the Nubian slave, Donald Ramsdell; "Katie," the donkey, Phillip Silver and Ted Sweet; the donkey trainer, Robert Tomlinson; the Roman quartet, George Dambach, Robert Pipel, Sam Suwol and E. Alden; Miss Frances Barbey assisted in the production.

The men of house F. Reed college, will be at home this afternoon from 3 until 5 to all members of the Reed community and to their Portland friends.

Harold M. Kramer returned last week from a trip east via the Panama canal. While in the east Mr. Kramer visited in New York, Chicago and New England. He has entered the North Pacific Dental college here.

Among the events of the week was an attractive children's party given last Saturday by Evelyn Marston at her new home, 1113 Rodney avenue, in Walnut Park. The rooms were prettily decorated with autumn flowers and foliage and refreshments were served. Games and dancing enlivened the program. Miss Marshall's young guests included Mable Lauffin, Eunice Lauffin, Ruth Adams, Mildred Grimm, Margaret McWilliams, Margaret Bradford, Wendel Schaub, Melford Schilly, Lee Shelly, Phillip Schwarz, Charles Ennis, Emmett Brown, Ted Gurison and John Cunningham.

The Alpha Beta Theta society of the Oregon state college of Chiropractic initiated a class of 30 students Monday night followed by a banquet at the Multnomah hotel. Speeches, vaudeville acts and musical stunts were featured. Rev. Charles MacCaughy, Anthony Ewiger, Dr. P. O. Riley, John Gratie, Dr. William Hoffman, Dr. Roy Peebles were among the speakers.

Mrs. H. H. Moser was hostess at a 1 o'clock luncheon given in honor of the moving picture operators' wives. The following guests were present: Mrs. J. S. Haughey, Mrs. E. Haughey, Mrs. Boyd Lawrence, Mrs. A. Lemming, Mrs. Frank Belra, Mrs. Verrell, Mrs. M. Brown, Mrs. Shenfeld, Mrs. L. Greer and Mrs. Whitten. The afternoon was spent in music and card work.

Nydia temple, Daughters of the Nile, will give a buffet luncheon and card party next Wednesday in the Portland Woman's club building. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock, cards at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Charles E. Runyan, chairman of the committee, will be assisted by the following: Mesdames A. T. Bunney, Leander Martin, John H. Stevenson, F. McCullin, Fred D. Webber, N. E. Carpenter, Will H. Sea, H. J. Blasing, A. H. Schmidt, E. J. Bryan, L. E. Crouch, D. Perry Evans, Marion Versteeg, E. G. Leiby, George L. Parker, R. M. Irvine.

Last Tuesday afternoon a tea was given at the beautiful Woodstock home of Mrs. Clarence Segar, the occasion being a farewell to Mrs. Anna Otto and Mrs. L. M. Moore, who are leaving Seaside for Long Beach, Cal. The guests who were formerly residents of Seaside, now live in Portland and suburbs. Mrs. Segar's rooms were tastefully decorated. The color scheme of autumn shades was carried out in Oregon grape, asters and dahlias, white rooses and other flowers in touches of yellow, pink and red, giving an effect very pleasing to the eye. The afternoon was spent in conversation and music, closing with refreshments and farewells to Mrs. Otto and Mrs. Moore, who are soon to motor to southern California.

Utopia Social club will hold their opening dance and card party in Lina hall, 444 Irving street, next
