

PRIMARY IS FORCED BY SENATOR BORAH

Solon Determined to Fight for Direct Nominations.

PARTY STAND IS IGNORED

National Legislator Declares 80 Per Cent of Idaho People Oppose Convention System.

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Eighty per cent of the voters in the state of Idaho want a direct primary law in place of the convention system, in the opinion of United States Senator Borah, who, ever since he has been in public life, has advocated this system. Mr. Borah will take the stump during the campaign in Idaho this fall and urge the people to elect a legislature that will pass a primary bill.

Since his return from Washington Senator Borah has been in conference with primary advocates in his party and it is known that an agreement has been reached to conduct a vigorous campaign for the election of candidates to the next legislature who are pledged to the passage of a primary measure and will work for a bill that will restore the right to direct participation in the nomination of party candidates for congressional, state, county and legislative offices. Assurances of support for his programme have been received from every county in the state by Senator Borah.

Attitude of Senator Borah.

Speaking of the primary and his attitude, Senator Borah said: "I have advocated the primary principle in the election of our public officers for the last 30 years and will advocate it for the next 30 years. If I live long enough, I feel that it is not only my privilege but my duty to state to the people why I think the state-wide primary is a policy of good government. It is a matter of general opinion that there is a general division of opinion within the party, and I am going to discuss it during the campaign in this state without personal feeling or bitterness with those who hold a different view than I do. I shall discuss the primary before the people with candor and as I see it. I know that a great many men who have been nominated for the legislature in this state are for the direct primary. My opinion is that 80 per cent of the voters of the state of Idaho are for the direct primary. It is a sound principle of government and in my opinion it should be applied in this state. Another subject that I am going to discuss is the issue of taxation and economics in the state and national government. These are subjects in which I feel the honest interest and I think perhaps are uppermost in the minds of the people."

Stand of Senator Borah.

Naturally the position that has been taken by Senator Borah will cause comment, both favorable and unfavorable. His stand is almost directly in opposition to the plank in the platform of the republican party, nailed therein at the Wallace state convention held in August. That plank sets forth that the republican party in Idaho believes in the principle of the convention for the nominating of national and state officers, and in the principle of the primary applied only to the nomination of legislative and county candidates. Senator Borah has not said so directly, but he has let it be known that he does not consider he is bound by a plank in the platform that falls to advocate a principle like that of the primary. And his stand is not different from many other republicans in this state who are at cross-purposes with the plank in the platform which they say does

PORTLANDERS CELEBRATE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING.

MR. AND MRS. W. M. HENDERSHOTT.

In honor of the 50th anniversary of their wedding, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hendershott of 521 East Seventeenth street North were given a large reception by friends Friday night. They were also entertained at a dinner in their honor by the Lincoln-Gardfield post, Grand Army of the Republic, and by the Women's Relief corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendershott were married in Walla Walla October 6, 1873, by Rev. H. K. Hines, late of Portland. Mr. Hendershott served in the 159th Ohio infantry during the civil war. The couple have six children—Dr. H. M. Elwood E. D. C. Anno O. and Lora M. Hendershott, and Mrs. Don Robert Taylor—all of this city.

not by any means represent the majority sentiment within the party. They say that Senator Borah is doing a service for the party and that in due course of time the more prominent candidates for office will have to get into line on the primary issue if they expect to be elected.

Mr. Moore Makes Concessions.

C. C. Moore, republican candidate for governor, has already made concessions, having declared in his Meridian address that if a republican legislature passes a direct primary law he will sign it, but he will not sign a measure which he interprets as a product of a combination of democrats and republicans who will not sign it. Just what effect the concession of Mr. Moore will have on the convention advocates in the party has not as yet been disclosed. They are just as bitterly opposed to a primary law as they are ardently in favor of a convention law. They claim that so far as the republican party is concerned the matter of the convention and the primary was thoroughly threshed out at Wallace, during the state convention; that the convention advocates won and the primary advocates lost, and the latter should bow to the will of the majority of the delegates who were elected to represent the republicans of this state. They are not in accord with the stand that has been taken by Senator Borah, and are outspoken in their criticism. They claim there is no occasion for raising the primary issue since it was settled in the convention and that republicans should accept the platform their party has made and stand or fall with it. Platforms, they assert, were made to ride upon, not to overturn.

Democrats Raising Issue.

In the meantime the democrats are busily engaged raising the primary issue in all parts of the state and attacking the republican candidates because they are pledged against the primary by their party. Invading Moore's own section of the state, the democrats are bombarding the republican candidate for governor with the charge that he stands against the primary. Speaking at St. Anthony this week Lester S. Harrison, democratic candidate for attorney-general, said: "Mr. Moore is on record against a state-wide primary. The republican platform puts the republican party of the

Quarantine Relief Expected.

BAKEL, Or., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Word was received here today from Charles Parks, chairman of the state board of horticulture, that hay land in Baker county free from the alfalfa weevil, as determined by an investigator from the board, would be released from shipping quarantine soon. It is believed that the ban will be lifted on Baker valley and the district around Halmea, because probably $50,000 loss to the farmers.

New Forms of Sea Life Expected.

HONOLULU, T. H., Oct. 7.—The discovery of a vast wealth of deep-sea life which will yield in great number new and unexpected types of fish is predicted for Hawaiian waters by Henry W. Fowler, curator of fishes at the Academy of Natural Sciences, Philadelphia, who arrived here recently. Mr. Fowler is here to identify a great number of unnamed species that are in the Bishop museum.

Democrat Raising Issue.

In the meantime the democrats are busily engaged raising the primary issue in all parts of the state and attacking the republican candidates because they are pledged against the primary by their party. Invading Moore's own section of the state, the democrats are bombarding the republican candidate for governor with the charge that he stands against the primary. Speaking at St. Anthony this week Lester S. Harrison, democratic candidate for attorney-general, said: "Mr. Moore is on record against a state-wide primary. The republican platform puts the republican party of the

WASHINGTON FACES THREE WEEKS' FRAY

Final Campaign Activities to Begin Tomorrow.

POINDEXTER HAS AIDES

Secretary of Labor and Three Senators to Assist; Democratic Committee Is Busy.

PUGET SOUND BUREAU, Seattle, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The contending political forces of the state of Washington swing into the final activities of the campaign Monday. Senator Poindexter will make his first formal appearance at a mass meeting in Everett Monday evening, while his democratic opponent, C. C. Dill, is programmed to break out in six different places in Seattle and King county on the same day. James A. Duncan, farmer-labor nominee for senator, has not yet announced a speaking schedule, but promises a state-wide tour that will give the people of every section a chance to hear him and look him over.

Charles Hubbard, republican state chairman, called to Spokane by the death of his father, will be at his desk at state headquarters in Seattle Monday. George T. Christensen, democratic state chairman, will also be in this city next week and probably during the greater part of the campaign. John J. Davis, secretary of labor; Senator Cameron of Arizona and Senator Odde of Nevada are definitely pledged to tour the state in behalf of Senator Poindexter and the republican congressional ticket. Senator Borah will make his first speech in Spokane, October 24. He will speak in Seattle October 25 and in Tacoma October 27. October 28 has been held open, but it is expected "at the day will be given to Bellingham and Everett, the afternoon to one city and the evening to the other. Dates have not yet been fixed for Secretary Davis or for Senators Cameron and Odde.

Democratic Committee Busy.

The democratic committee is still engaged in efforts to bring some nationally-known speakers to the state. William Jennings Bryan, William C. McAdoo, ex-Governor Cox and others have been invited, but no acceptances have been received. Senator Poindexter's speaking programme has been fairly well mapped out, with engagements for Land Grab Bill Rejected.

The campaign is expected to live up with the return of the members of the Idaho congressional delegation to the state. Addison T. Smith, representative, has given out a statement in answer to the attacks made upon him for his support of house bill No. 77, the alleged and so-called "land grab measure," denying that there was any intention to pass a law that would be injurious to the interests of this state. The democrats are opening up their guns on No. 77 and declare they will put the members of the Idaho delegation on the stump before the campaign is much longer, explaining to the people why they voted for it.

Quarantine Relief Expected.

BAKEL, Or., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Word was received here today from Charles Parks, chairman of the state board of horticulture, that hay land in Baker county free from the alfalfa weevil, as determined by an investigator from the board, would be released from shipping quarantine soon. It is believed that the ban will be lifted on Baker valley and the district around Halmea, because probably $50,000 loss to the farmers.

New Forms of Sea Life Expected.

HONOLULU, T. H., Oct. 7.—The discovery of a vast wealth of deep-sea life which will yield in great number new and unexpected types of fish is predicted for Hawaiian waters by Henry W. Fowler, curator of fishes at the Academy of Natural Sciences, Philadelphia, who arrived here recently. Mr. Fowler is here to identify a great number of unnamed species that are in the Bishop museum.

Democrat Raising Issue.

In the meantime the democrats are busily engaged raising the primary issue in all parts of the state and attacking the republican candidates because they are pledged against the primary by their party. Invading Moore's own section of the state, the democrats are bombarding the republican candidate for governor with the charge that he stands against the primary. Speaking at St. Anthony this week Lester S. Harrison, democratic candidate for attorney-general, said: "Mr. Moore is on record against a state-wide primary. The republican platform puts the republican party of the nearly every day up to and including November 1. Accompanied by Representative Miller, Senator Poindexter goes Monday afternoon to Silverdale in Kitsap county, where the boys and girls of that poultry-raising community are staging a celebration. Both Poindexter and Miller will talk particularly for the youngsters, but possibly with some thought of benefit to their elders.

PACIFIC STAR NOW APPEARS IN NEWSPAPER FORM.

Edward Weber, Clyde Creighton, Prater Clement, William Business Mgr., Advertising Mgr., Mollenbender, Editor-in-Chief, Editor.

MOUNT ANGEL, Or., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The staff of the Pacific Star, the college newspaper here, consists of Prater Clement Mollenbender, O. S. B. censor; William Jeniges, editor-in-chief; Edward Weber, business manager; Clyde Creighton, advertising manager. The Pacific Star is a bi-weekly publication of the associated student body of Mount Angel college, and is published in newspaper form instead of the magazine form, as in previous years.

Dill's Campaign Strenuous.

C. C. Dill, the democratic nominee, will make four speeches in as many different places in Seattle Monday, and will also speak in Kent and Auburn. Mr. Dill starts his campaign with six speeches to Senator Poindexter's two, a ratio which should make his oratorical output much larger if he can keep it up for 30 days.

According to notice received at republican state headquarters Senator Jones will be in the state for at least the last two weeks of the campaign, during which time he will be subject to speaking assignments. A great array of state speakers, volunteering from all sections,

JENNING'S

Washington at Fifth

De Luxe Alcazar

—the Range with the Twin Ovens

Burns Coal or Wood and Gas

The Choice of Home Lovers for Economical and Satisfactory Cooking and Baking. America's most beautiful range—see the porcelain enamel models shown on our basement salesroom.

"In Time of Peace, Prepare for War."

In Time of Heat Prepare for Cold

—which is one way of suggesting that you come in tomorrow and select from our fine stocks of new

Wood and Coal HEATERS

displayed on the basement salesroom floor. You'll find our prices low and our terms liberal.

Heaters $2.50 and Up

Washington JENNING'S Washington

at Fifth Complete Furnishers of Successful Homes

Dining-Room Suites in the Better Quality

Offered This Week at Special Discounts

Mahogany, Walnut and Oak in Period and Modern Types

Our Finer Bedroom Suites Reduced in Price

For This Week's Selling

Phonographs Reduced 20% to 50%

Emerson Stradivara Widdicomb Windsor

With the coming of longer nights your thoughts will turn to evening entertainment. Let us suggest a phonograph. It will be something that every member of the family will enjoy. The outlay will be moderate, particularly in view of the very deep reductions we are making on the above four lines.

$125 Emerson Phonograph - $80
$225 Stradivara Phonograph - $145
$115 Windsor Phonograph - $75

Many Other Models at Similar Reductions

Offering This Week

Seamless Brussels Rugs

In 9x12 Size Regular Price $37.50

$24.75

This deep price concession is for one week only. We advise intending purchasers to make selections the first of the week.

Offering This Week:

Tapestry Overstuffed Davenports $97.50

Some of these davenports are displayed in Washington-street window. You can choose from a number of designs and colors in good tapestries. We consider the values exceptional at so moderate a price.

Displayed in Window Today:

Mahogany Living-Room Suite HALF PRICE

Davenport, Easy Chair, Fireside Chair

We have one suite only in this pattern. It is made of genuine mahogany, with panels of fine cane. The upholstery is of fine figured mohair, fringed. Some fortunate customer will get this suite at exactly half price.

Sales of Beautiful Draperies and Curtain Materials

3000 Yards CRETONNES

Priced to 80c

Special 39c

Many patterns now displayed on the second floor. An opportunity.

Continuing Sale of Curtain Materials Selling Up to 90c Special 33c Yd.

Suits

$25

$30

$35

Overcoats

$25

$30

$35

Fit For The President

Don't think because my prices are small that the clothes I sell are not up to standard in quality. I can fit almost any man from my stock of Regulars, Stouts, Longs or Shorts, and after competent tailors have made necessary alterations he is dressed fit to meet the president.

Volume selling and low second floor overhead give my customers

Good Clothes at Little Prices

JIM DUNN

UPSTAIRS—Broadway at Alder Cat-ty Corner from Pantages