

RUSSIA IS DELUDED
SAYS PHIL CARROLL

Major Announces Views Before Civic Club.

SOVIET HELD FAILURE

Recognition of Reds by America Opposed by Returned Relief Worker in Moscow.

That Russia is in the grip of a great delusion, that it must run its course to the end, when a rude awakening will occur, was the gist of the talk given by Major Phil Carroll before the Civic club luncheon at the Benson hotel yesterday by Major Phil Carroll, late of the American food relief forces in Moscow.

Major Carroll said bolshevism has a right to be tried if any people want to try it, but he said he has elected to follow that course. Personally, he said, he could not see anything in it and, judged by results so far, he said, he had proved a failure, in his opinion.

The speaker said the United States expended $50,000,000 in relief work in Russia during the past year when 3,500,000 children were reached and 4,000,000 adults helped. During the coming winter, he said, 1,500,000 children will be fed, but the need that existed before is now less and the work is dropping down in scope.

"Communists in Russia number about 350,000," said Major Carroll. "But the entire population is one of 160,000,000. The communists control the larger city centers. Of the 2200 delegates elected to the legislative assembly, 1900 are of the soviet faith. This swinging the cat by the tail is done through the absence of a secret ballot. Voting is done by a show of hands and the result is that the leaders are able to impose their will upon the mass.

Currency Takes Slump. There is no heat and no comfort for the average person in Moscow. When I arrived in August, 1921, it required 50,000 rubles to equal the value of a United States dollar. In the following winter, the ruble descended until it was necessary to gather 3,500,000 of them before they would be worth $1, and now they have fallen again. It requires 1,000,000 rubles to trade even with $1. Now Russia is printing 50,000,000 ruble notes for common circulation.

Last summer there was prohibition in Russia. It was enforced about as effectively as prohibition is now enforced in this country. Then the bars were let down for the use of wine and beer and now, as a means to raise revenue, vodka is back. Its sale is in the hands of the government only, so the cycle has been completed back to pre-prohibition days.

Transportation is bad. The biggest feature in the reconstruction of Russia is transportation, and this has broken down badly. The railways are in dire straits. Every year thousands of roads, it is said, must be replaced. New engines bought from Germany could not be run because the roadbeds were in such poor condition they would not hold up the heavy machines. Transportation is functioning about 7 per cent of normal.

The Red army in Russia is not specially formidable if it has any real position. As a fighting machine it is far from being impressive. I do not favor recognition of Russia by the United States at the moment. I do not see where the United States would gain anything by it. So long as the dominant Russian party maintains its present attitude, that country should expect to go alone. Communism and capitalism do not work well together and they cannot exist side by side.

Major Carroll created a small memorial monument with statue and fountain to be unveiled in Marble Hall of Fame in Lincoln Park.

Wynken, Blythen and Nod one night sailed off in their little boat, sailed on a river of misty light into a sea of dew.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Eugene Field, "the children's poet," best known for the poignant lines of his "Little Boy Blue" and his series of lullabies, will take his place Monday in Chicago's marble hall of fame with the unveiling of the monument, or a monument dedicated to him.

Children of Chicago, through newspaper subscription funds, raised nearly half the cost of the monument, which was dedicated to him. Children of Chicago, through newspaper subscription funds, raised nearly half the cost of the monument, which was dedicated to him.

A brooding angel is depicted hovering over two sleeping children, sprinkling the sand of dreams into their eyes. Beneath, on one side of the memorial, is carved the first four lines of the Dutch Lullaby, better known as "Wynken, Blythen and Nod." On the other side of the sleeping figures are the opening lines of "The Sugar Plum Tree." "Tis a marvel of great renown. It blooms on the shore of the Lollipop sea. In the garden of Shut-Eye town.

A fountain, marble seats and the brief inscription "To Eugene Field," complete the memorial. The principal speaker at the unveiling ceremonies will be Melville E. Stone, counselor and former general manager of the Associated Press, who brought Eugene Field to Chicago from Denver in 1883, when Mr. Stone was associated with Victor Lawson in the publication of the Chicago Daily News. The poet remained with the News until the time of his death, in 1896, conducting a column called "Sharp and Flats."

ation at the luncheon when, in answering a question about the Turkish situation, he said the Turk is the best citizen in that part of the world. "He is a good worker and you can rely on what he says. I would rather deal with a Turk than any other nationality in that part of Europe," said the speaker.

Mr. Barbur Speaks. A. C. Newell, president of the club, was in the chair. City Commissioner Barbur was introduced to tell about the Ross-Island bridge project. He made it plain that the structure is very much needed to ease for traffic of the city and said there are only two bridge projects on the November ballot, the Burnside and Ross-Island structures.

BIG PHONE CABLE LAID

LARGE NUMBER OF WIRES PUT UNDER RIVER. Lines Covered With Individual Windings of Paraffin Paper, Whole With Lead Sheath.

A submarine cable carrying a larger number of wires than any ever brought west of the Mississippi river has just been laid by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company to connect its east side and west side service, according to an announcement yesterday by C. E. Hickman, division commercial superintendent of that company. Mr. Hickman said the extra-sized underwater carrier was necessary because of the reconstruction programme which will provide for the addition of the Garfield and Beacon machine switching offices.

"Although this cable is only three and one-half inches in diameter, it contains a total of 453 pairs, or 910 wires, which is 13 per cent more than any submarine cable in use in the west," said Mr. Hickman. "Yet the cable is so compact that it is not as large as some of the submerged cables formerly placed in this district."

The submarine cable connections are now being made at the foot of Oak street on the west side and at the foot of Washington street on the east side. The laying of the cable was made from the company's barge Joseph H. Thatcher and the total of 1400 feet, costing approximately $4000, was necessary to reach across the bottom of the river. The cable was manufactured under special specifications drafted by the Pacific company.

The wires are covered with individual windings of paraffin paper, then the whole mass is covered with a lead sheath, a layer of jute and a spiral wrapping of 36 galvanized steel wires. The entire weight of the cable is seven tons, or approximately ten pounds to the foot."

GUARD SCHOOL TO OPEN

COLONEL McCLEAVE TO GIVE LECTURES TO OFFICERS. Temporary Senior Instructor to Make Series Interesting to Citizen Commanders.

Colonel Robert McCleave, operating officer of the first term during the world war, took up his duties as senior instructor of the Oregon national guard last week in the absence of Colonel Clarence D. Dentler, who is on leave during the fall months.

Field officers' schools will be held at the armory the first and third Wednesdays of every month, company officers' schools the first and third Fridays, and general instruction for all officers stationed within Multnomah county will be held the second Friday of each month, according to the schedule of work outlined by Colonel McCleave yesterday. He will be assisted in instruction by Captain Paul Hathaway, regular army.

Colonel McCleave plans to make the study course of intense interest. It will consist of lectures on fundamentals which should be understood by every army officer, and will take up training, tactics and handling of troops in the field. Battle formations and modern strategy based upon revolutions of the world war will be discussed. The personal experience of Colonel McCleave in planning the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives, and participating in their execution, will supply the guard officers with concrete illustrations of great value.

In his first lecture last week, Colonel McCleave took up the subject of marching, pointing out fundamental principles which must be kept in mind by officers in charge of troops in movement, the speeds at which infantry can progress, the disposition of supplies, trains and formations to be taken up in enemy terrain.
