

The Sunday Oregonian

VOL. XLII—NO. 45 Entered at Portland, Oregon, Postoffice as Second-class Matter

PORTLAND, OREGON, SUNDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 5, 1922

PRICE FIVE CENTS

CAMPAIGN SEEMS LIKE HORSE RACE

Both Oregon Parties Are Hit by Desertions.

PIERCE IS ON DOWNGRADE

Refutation of Misstatements Undermines Cause.

BITTERNESS IS NOTED

High Feeling Is Caused by Injection of School Measure Into Political Battle.

After listening to the contradictory and confusing reports from all parts of Oregon the impression given is that the gubernatorial contest is a horse race. More mixed reports have never been collected in political campaign in this state nor has any previous contest been characterized by such bitterness and rancor. This feeling has been aroused over the injection of the so-called compulsory school bill measure, which has broken party affiliations.

Looking at the registration figures, if Walter M. Pierce can turn 60,000 republican votes next Tuesday to the democratic column he will defeat Ben W. Olcott, republican candidate for governor, provided, also, he can hold the full democratic strength.

Wholesale Desertion Needed.

Unless the democratic nominee can cause such a wholesale desertion from the republican ranks Pierce will fail of election. It is true that many republicans have their determination to vote for Pierce and thousands of democrats are lined up for Olcott. More republicans are bolting their party than democrats, but Olcott can lose a far greater percentage than Pierce and still win.

The silent vote will elect the governor.

As an offset to the desertions from the democratic party, Pierce has gained the backing of the Ku Klux Klan and the Oregon Federation of Patriotic Societies. There is an expressed desire on the part of many substantial citizens to see Olcott elected because of the prejudicial advertising Oregon would receive throughout the United States if it was believed that the Ku Klux Klan had elected an Oregon governor.

Suspicion Is Aroused.

Mr. Pierce obtained this support by pledging himself to the school bill, but his failure to stress the measure in his speeches has recently caused his sincerity to be viewed with suspicion, particularly among the voters of the federation.

The campaign utterances of Pierce have been a series of misstatements and exaggerations and as fast as one of his misstatements has been nailed and exposed he has followed it with another equally without foundation. He has played the farmer against the city man and appealed to latent prejudices. He has undertaken to capitalize dissatisfaction with local taxes and, by inference at least, has promised to reduce taxes 50 per cent. He has not told his auditors that most of the taxes were voted by the people and that a governor has little control over taxation.

Tax Reduction Need Cited.

The Olcott campaign has consisted in showing that two years ago Governor Olcott, in his message, pointed out the need of tax reduction and appointed a committee to make a scientific survey and report its recommendations at the 1923 legislature. This committee has a concrete plan for tax reduction. As a member of the committee, Pierce, appointed by Governor Olcott, has tried to steal the governor's thunder. The main fault of the Olcott campaign is that it has failed to point out the need of tax reduction.

STEAMER IN DISTRESS WITH BROKEN RUDDER.

TOMI MARU IS CAUGHT IN 65-MILE WIND.

Vessel, Out of Provisions, About 1500 Miles West of Seattle. Orindono Stands By.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 4.—With a broken rudder and out of provisions, the Japanese freighter Tomi Maru was in distress in the Pacific ocean about 1500 miles west of Seattle, according to wireless advice received here tonight.

The Orindono Maru was reported to be standing by the Tomi Maru, but unable to give any help on account of the wind. The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia was said to be hurrying to the aid of the Tomi.

The Tomi Maru, owned by Mitsui & Co., left here about a week ago loaded with wheat for Kobe, Japan. Her tonnage is 3740. Her present position is given as 52 degrees 27 minutes north latitude, 158 degrees 24 minutes west longitude.

POWER LINE IS BROKEN

Street Car and Electric Service Paralyzed Nearly One Hour.

Breaking of a high-power line near Fulton last evening seriously interrupted street-car and electric service in the city and caused thousands of commuters to arrive at their homes after schedule time. The break occurred at 6:01 o'clock and conditions were reported normal at 6:50 o'clock.

The line was one of those which bring power from the stations at Oregon City to Portland. In falling the wire struck one of the steel supporting towers, then fell to the ground. The break occurred at 6:01 o'clock and conditions were reported normal at 6:50 o'clock.

WAR SUPPLIES SEIZED

Guns and Ammunition Destined for China Labeled "Soap."

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Ten machine guns and other firearms and 150,000 rounds of ammunition were seized by customs officials here as they were about to be hoisted aboard the China Mail liner Nile last night. It was announced today by the customs service. The shipment is believed by these officials to have originated in Spain for use in Chinese revolutionary activities.

The arms and ammunition were in boxes labeled "soap." The Nile departed today.

BREAD PRICES REDUCED

Seattle Dealers to Sell Loaves for 2 and 3 Cents Less.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 4.—A reduction in the retail price of bread was announced here tonight, effective Monday.

The reduction is credited to a combination of delivery by three bakeries and it is estimated that consumers will save $3000 a day. A loaf for which 15 cents has been charged is to be cut to 13 cents and a loaf for which 12 cents has been demanded will be sold for 9 cents.

DEVIL-FISH GETS YOUTH

Young Fisherman Dragged From Rowboat and Drowned.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 4.—Dragged from his rowboat by a giant devilfish, which he had speared, Albert Garsone, 19, of Sunrise Beach, lost his life in the swift waters of the narrows near Gig Harbor.

The crew of a fishing trawl near by saw the accident and spread a purse seine around the spot, recovering the lad's body within half an hour, but efforts at resuscitation failed.

SOME RAIN PREDICTED

Normal Temperatures for Coast Are Forecast for Week.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4.—Weather for the week beginning Monday is forecast as follows:

Pacific states: Generally fair, except for occasional rains in Washington and Oregon. Temperature normal on the coast and somewhat below normal in the interior.

MOOD OF VOTERS HELD RESENTFUL

Old Parties Menaced by General Distrust.

WESTERN FARMERS ANGRY

Religious Hate Is Injected Into Election Issues.

PELLETIER CASE CITED

Appeal to Intolerance Becomes Nation-Wide Political Asset in Campaign for Office.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.
(Copyright 1922 by the New York Evening Post, Inc. Published by Arrangement.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4.—The generally prevailing mood of the country probably will not be expressed at the election next Tuesday. Only in a few states or communities is there any opportunity for its expression. It is a mood that is equally distrustful of both the old parties. So far as it expresses itself by voting democratic, it will do so, not because it loves the democrats more, but for the satisfaction of expressing anger at the party that has been in power.

It is a mood that is truculent toward both the old political parties, toward all political leaders, and toward most of the other accepted leaders and exponents of public opinion. Wherever there is a third party or a so-called radical running on one of the old party tickets, this mood will express itself joyously and heartily by voting for the radical.

Economic Inequalities Resented.

Part of this mood is resentment over economic inequalities. There is no angrier man in the country than the western farmer who has lost money this year, who must borrow money to pay his taxes, who in many cases must let his potato crop rot in the ground, because the price will not justify his digging them, and who at the same time sees the city homemaker and bricklayer and the common laborer getting anywhere from $6 to $12 a day. And this farmer's suspicion that he is being exploited by some subtle and invisible combination is increased when, in many cases, he sees these prices paid for common labor in the building of roads, for which roads the money comes to a large extent out of the farmer's taxes.

Wanton extravagance on the part of state governments, and city and county governments, especially the field of building automobile roads, is one of the clearest causes of the general feeling of distrust the farmer has against all politicians.

Pelletier Case Is Illustration.

Because it is so conspicuous an illustration of a kind of mood which appears sporadically in several different parts of the country, it will be worth while to describe the Pelletier case at some length.

Pelletier was the district attorney of Boston. Charges were made against him. The charges were very odious. They were to the effect that he had failed to prosecute a considerable number of crimes of a particularly distasteful sort. They were, in many cases, crimes involving women in illicit relations, the sort of thing which the parties concerned were especially anxious to conceal.

The charges against Pelletier went much further than mere allegations that he had failed to prosecute these crimes. There were implications to the effect that the immunity of many of the criminals was due to the fact that they were represented by a lawyer who made somewhat of a specialty of this kind of case, and who, politically and personally, had such relations with the district attorney that he was able to get immunity for his clients.

The charges against Pelletier, in-

WHERE IS HERMIONE? SCRIBES VAINLY ASK

REPORTERS AT DOORN FAIL TO GLIMPSE PRINCESS.

Newspaper Men Puzzled as to Whereabouts of Bride-to-Be of ex-Emperor William.

DOORN, Holland, Nov. 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Where is Hermione? This question is agitating the newspaper men here who are engaged in unravelling the tangled preliminaries of tomorrow's wedding, in which the Princess Reuss will become the bride of ex-Emperor William of Germany.

Scores of journalists today were vainly scouring the countryside in automobiles and watching all likely points for the arrival of the princess. While one report on excellent authority was that Hermione was at Amerongen, the former residence of the kaiser, other information was to the effect that she would arrive late tonight at Amerfoort, whence she would motor to Doorn house, staying for the night in the lodge which stands before the castle under the guardianship of the aged pastor Vogel.

The ex-kaiser, according to this story, took supper tonight at the lodge and will breakfast with the princess tomorrow morning.

The organist Koornhof, who plays every Sunday at Doorn house, will provide the wedding music during the religious ceremony. The organ in Doorn house being in a bad condition, Koornhof has had his own instrument removed to the vestibule of the castle. The Prince of Reuss, Prince Eitel Friedrich, Prince Feursenberg and Dr. Vogel arrived today.

The ex-German emperor and Princess Hermione will be married by the burgomaster of Doorn, Baron Schmalz-Pennik, in the presence of six witnesses, two of them Germans domiciled in Holland, and soon afterward Court chaplain Vogel will give the benediction of the Lutheran rite to the union.

TORNADO KILLS SIX; FIFTY ARE INJURED

MANY PERSONS MISSING AS RESULT OF STORM.

Colorado and Oklahoma Swept by Storm With Heavy Loss in Property.

DRUMRIGHT, Okla., Nov. 4.—Four persons are known to have been killed, 50 were injured, some seriously, and many are missing as the result of a tornado, which struck in oil fields just southwest of here early tonight.

The storm came in a northeasterly direction. It missed the town of Drumright. All the damage reported was to houses and property on the oil leases.

The known dead: Joe Jennings, Mrs. Joe Jennings, Fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings, —Dobbs, a boy 15 years old.

DENVER, Nov. 4.—Two persons dead, two missing, several injured and property damage upward of $50,000 was the toll reported tonight in the wake of a series of tornadoes and thunder storms which gripped southeastern Colorado today.

The damaged area was the center of a sleet and snow storm which hit the Rocky mountain states last night and reached the height of its severity today. Blizzard conditions prevailed in most western states tonight and heavy snowfall with lower temperatures were reported almost generally.

Wire communication south and west of Denver was demoralized tonight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—The territory west of the Rocky mountains was largely out of touch with the east for several hours today, when storms in Wyoming, Colorado and Nebraska tied up telegraphic communication.

High winds and sleet were reported in Wyoming, sleet in eastern

INDEX OF TODAY'S NEWS

The Weather. YESTERDAY: Maximum temperature, 47; dezer; minimum, 40 degrees. TODAY: Fair; westerly winds.

Departments. Editorial, Section 3, page 8. Dramatic, Section 4, page 8. Moving picture news, Section 4, page 1. Real estate and building news, Section 4, page 10. Church, Section 5, page 8. Books, Section 5, page 8. Automobiles, Section 6. Music, Section 4, page 8.

Women's Features. Society, Section 3, page 1. Women's activities, Section 3, page 10. Fashions, Section 5, page 6. Marion Rich's column, Section 5, page 1. Miss Tingle's column, Section 5, page 7. Auction bridge, Section 4, page 7.

Special Features. Why rich men's sons marry Cinderellas, Magazine section, page 1. Limousines of the sky, Magazine section, page 3. Newsy notes as seen by camera, Magazine section, page 4. Hills' cartoons, "Among Us Mortals," Magazine section, page 5. Portland livestock market dominates northwest, Magazine section, page 6. "Liana," fiction feature, Magazine section, page 7. Can't you see how on sale, Magazine section, page 8. Picture hints contest, Section 2, page 9. Baby exhibit interesting, Section 3, page 11. Gossip of world capitals, Section 4, page 8. Many artists represented in exhibit, Section 4, page 11. Big livestock exposition is on, Section 1, page 18. Motive for Hall-Mills murder, Jealousy, Section 5, page 2. Materialism said to have ruined genius of London, Section 3, page 2. Famous women, Section 3, page 10. Poems of Grace E. Hall in book form, Section 5, page 10. Daring cartoons on topics of the day, Section 3, page 11. Married life of Helen and Warren, Section 5, page 11.

Foreign. Ex-premier pleads for middle course, Sullivan, Section 1, page 3. Section of Fascist against Mussolini is expected shortly, Section 1, page 2. Newspaper men at Doorn fail to get glimpse of Princess Hermione, Section 1, page 1.

Domestic. All Oregon split over school bill, says Sullivan, Section 1, page 3. Eve of national election finds voters in distraught mood, Section 1, page 1. Body of practically perfectly formed infant found in aged man's abdomen, Section 1, page 6.

Domestic. Sir Arthur ran by one Toronto paper's "narrow" attacks, Section 1, page 7. Governor Miller and Al Smith in close races in New York, Section 1, page 3. Many states vote on candidates and measures Tuesday, Section 1, page 2. Tornado sweeps Oklahoma and blizzard isolated Pueblo, Colo., Section 1, page 1. Non-stop fliers set new world mark, although forced down, Section 1, page 1. Steamer Tomi Maru in distress with broken rudder, Section 1, page 1.

Pacific Northwest. Good record made by Treasurer Hoff in handling state's finances, Section 1, page 8. Senator Polkholder wins support of drys, Section 1, page 6. Many big issues ahead of Washington voters, Section 1, page 4. Fitzsimmons' son fights tomorrow, Section 2, page 4. $500,000 lineup, Section 2, page 4. Benson's victory upsets all dope, Section 2, page 4. Husky Bear game is big drawing card, Section 2, page 2. Harbor-Davis bout to settle waterside championship of north, Section 2, page 2. Syracuse defeats Nebraska 9 to 6, Section 2, page 2. Minnesota beats Arizona by blocking kick, Section 2, page 1. Kenworthy buys interest in Beavers, Section 2, page 1.

Portland and Vicinity. Community chest campaign commands popular support, Section 2, page 6. Unsettled battle continues to rage all over Oregon, Section 1, page 2. Three-mile levy needed for city's safety, Section 2, page 2. Six indictments returned against Peninsula boat, Section 1, page 14. Portland credit cleared at stake, Section 1, page 18. Hall not pleased by Pierce's attitude on school bill, Section 3, page 12. Municipal campaign arouses local interest as secondary political attraction, Section 1, page 12. 25,000 attend livestock show, Section 1, page 1. Campaign appears to be horserace, Section 4, page 4.

Commercial and Marine. Scarcity of wheat in northwest causes stronger demand, Section 2, page 22. Copper shares firm feature of stock market, Section 2, page 23. Investment bond market recovers, Section 1, page 22. Tidal data are being gathered in Willamette and Columbia rivers, Section 1, page 22. Weather report, date and forecast, Section 1, page 22. Armistice parade plans completed, Section 1, page 26. Republicans point to present prosperity, Section 1, page 16. Fair and bridge boosters parade cheered away, Section 1, page 8. Baby left on porch in response to ad, Section 1, page 1.

NON-STOP FLIERS SET WORLD MARK

Aviators Forced Down After 2060 Miles.

Water Jacket is Cracked

Battle With Storm and With Winds of Mountain Told.

CLIFF NARROWLY MISSED

Fliers Escape by Three Feet as Wall of Rock Looms Ahead While Crossing Range.

DAYTON, O., Nov. 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—After thundering their way three-fourths of the distance across the United States, from San Diego to Indianapolis, through storms and calm, darkness and light, aboard the monoplane T-2, Lieutenants John A. Macready and Oakley G. Kelly relaxed tonight after their hazardous trip and related incidents of their record-breaking non-stop flight of 2060 miles.

The aviators were forced to land at Indianapolis at 9:47 o'clock this morning after they had exhausted their water supply owing to a broken line. They borrowed a plane and flew to Dayton this afternoon.

Goal Only 700 Miles Away.

Had they traveled approximately 700 miles further they would have succeeded in their attempt to cross the continent without stopping. Macready and Kelly, however, are not disappointed, for their flight demonstrated that a coast-to-coast flight is possible, they declared.

The lieutenant broke the world's non-stop distance record of 1538 miles, made by the late Captain Jack Alcock and A. W. Brown in their flight across the Atlantic ocean from New Foundland to Ireland, according to records in aviation circles.

Fliers Battle Storm.

In giving to Major Bane their first official report of the flight, the aviators revealed that during their nearly 36 hours in the air they were in the midst of a storm and rain for 11 hours and 36 minutes.

In crossing the mountains the wind was so strong that it threatened several times to turn their ship over.

"At various times I thought the end was near," Lieutenant Kelly said. "I can safely say that two men never were nearer death than I and Macready were in the passes of the Rockies tossed us about like a toy."

"At one time we were flying smoothly at an altitude of 6500 feet, when suddenly a cliff loomed in front of us. I began to guide the ship to avoid crashing, and by a narrow chance I was successful in scaling the top of a precipice by about three feet."

Motor Found Too Hot.

"Our first intimation of real trouble came when we noticed the water leak while passing over Kansas."

"We made every effort to keep our radiator cool by using up our reserve supply of water, and jockeyed until we reached Indianapolis. There we made a final inspection of the ship and found that the motor was so hot that it would not permit us to go farther. We made the landing without trouble."

"Disappointed, but not discouraged, by their failure to finish the flight to New York, both fliers indicated that they want to repeat the attempt from San Diego if the war department will give its consent."

Lieutenant Macready, replying to a question, said that although in the air 32 hours as against 25 on the flight ending today, the recent endurance flight over San Diego was not nearly so nerve-wracking as the distance voyage.

Winds Cause Trouble.

"The winds in the mountains made the difference between the compar-

BABY LEFT ON PORCH IN RESPONSE TO AD

GRAND RONDE COUPLE GET ANSWER TO PLEA.

Child Is Put on Steps by Person Who Rings Bell and Vanishes in Darkness.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—In response to a newspaper advertisement, some unidentified person left a nine-month-old baby on the front porch at the home of Mrs. Al French, 1545 South Cottage street.

The baby was intended for Mr. and Mrs. Jesse French of Grand Ronde, Lane county, who recently advertised for a child to adopt, requesting that the infant be left tonight at the home of Mr. French's mother in this city.

The child arrived about 10 P. M. and was found when Mrs. Jesse French, who was at the house for the night, answered the doorbell. It was wrapped in a blanket and was dressed daintily. A quantity of well-made clothing was found with the baby.

Also there was a note saying that the baby's name was Maxine Brady, and that she had been adopted by a Mr. and Mrs. Brady who had since separated. The date of her birth was given as January 15, 1922, but the place of birth was not mentioned.

Mr. and Mrs. French decided to call the baby Zell Frances. She has black eyes and hair, and seemed well pleased with her new home. Mr. French is foreman of a sawmill at Grand Ronde and Mrs. French is a teacher in the public schools.

It was not considered likely that the authorities would try to trace the parentage of the child, inasmuch as Mr. and Mrs. French had advertised for it. Mrs. French said she heard someone run from the porch as she answered the doorbell, but she was not able to see whether it was a man or a woman.

26,000 ATTEND LIVESTOCK SHOW

Three-fourths of Crowd Are School Children.

HORSE EVENTS ATTRACT

Poultry and Pet Stock Second in Popularity.

BAND CONCERT TODAY

Dedication of Stimson Memorial Also to Be Feature of Official Programme.

An opening day attendance of nearly 25,000 persons, the greatest in the history of the Pacific International Livestock exposition, greeted the initial showing of the finest bred stock that the west can produce at the North Portland exposition grounds yesterday. Designated as school children's day and with competitive stock judging between students of high school and college as the leading attraction it would be safe to say that more than three-fourths of the record attendance was composed of Portland's school population.

No circus day with its attendant sawdust ring and pink lemonade, its crackjack and rally bedecked bareback riders, ever attracted more of the juvenile population of Portland to its arena than did the livestock exposition yesterday, and the attractions would vie with those of the greatest circus on earth. The huge arena with its capacity of more than 7000 persons was taxed to its fullest capacity while children shouted and clapped in pride at the exhibitions of fancy riding and jumping horses, tandems and four-in-hands, and even the Shetlands which were presented for the special approval of the youngsters.

Arena Best Feature.

The arena was the popular drawing card, although perhaps offering it the greatest competition was the poultry and pet stock department, where 2500 coops house twice that many exhibits of chickens, turkeys, geese, pigeons and rabbits. The other favorites of the young visitors included the two world champion cows, Prospect, the Holstein milker, and Lada's lota, the Jersey champion. Prospect's greatest record was 27,281 pounds of milk in 365 days. Lada's lota produced 1049 pounds of butterfat in a 365-day period.

For the more serious business of judging stock the six college judging teams and the 22 high school teams competed throughout the day. The colleges represented in both the animal husbandry and dairy judging departments included University of California, Oregon Agricultural college, Washington State college, University of Idaho, Utah Agricultural college and the University of British Columbia. Three members in each team comprised the delegations from the colleges, and a total of $1500 for trophies will be awarded the winning teams.

Different Species Judged.

Horses, cattle, sheep and swine were judged by the animal husbandry teams, the dairy judging competition including three classes in each of four breeds of dairy cattle, Guernseys, Jerseys, Ayrshires and Holsteins. The high school judging competition included the same as the animal husbandry of the college students and three-man teams from each of the 22 high schools as follows, who are receiving federal aid under the Smith-Hughes act for vocational education instructions, participated: Dufur, Elgin, Forest Grove, Gresham, Knappa, Lebanon, McMinnville, Medford, Newberg, Ontario, Prineville, Redmond, Union, Woodburn, Independence and Corvallis in Oregon; Ellensburg, Eatonville and Elma in Washington; Boise

26,000 ATTEND LIVESTOCK SHOW

Three-fourths of Crowd Are School Children.

HORSE EVENTS ATTRACT

Poultry and Pet Stock Second in Popularity.

BAND CONCERT TODAY

Dedication of Stimson Memorial Also to Be Feature of Official Programme.

An opening day attendance of nearly 25,000 persons, the greatest in the history of the Pacific International Livestock exposition, greeted the initial showing of the finest bred stock that the west can produce at the North Portland exposition grounds yesterday. Designated as school children's day and with competitive stock judging between students of high school and college as the leading attraction it would be safe to say that more than three-fourths of the record attendance was composed of Portland's school population.

No circus day with its attendant sawdust ring and pink lemonade, its crackjack and rally bedecked bareback riders, ever attracted more of the juvenile population of Portland to its arena than did the livestock exposition yesterday, and the attractions would vie with those of the greatest circus on earth. The huge arena with its capacity of more than 7000 persons was taxed to its fullest capacity while children shouted and clapped in pride at the exhibitions of fancy riding and jumping horses, tandems and four-in-hands, and even the Shetlands which were presented for the special approval of the youngsters.

Arena Best Feature.

The arena was the popular drawing card, although perhaps offering it the greatest competition was the poultry and pet stock department, where 2500 coops house twice that many exhibits of chickens, turkeys, geese, pigeons and rabbits. The other favorites of the young visitors included the two world champion cows, Prospect, the Holstein milker, and Lada's lota, the Jersey champion. Prospect's greatest record was 27,281 pounds of milk in 365 days. Lada's lota produced 1049 pounds of butterfat in a 365-day period.

For the more serious business of judging stock the six college judging teams and the 22 high school teams competed throughout the day. The colleges represented in both the animal husbandry and dairy judging departments included University of California, Oregon Agricultural college, Washington State college, University of Idaho, Utah Agricultural college and the University of British Columbia. Three members in each team comprised the delegations from the colleges, and a total of $1500 for trophies will be awarded the winning teams.

Different Species Judged.

Horses, cattle, sheep and swine were judged by the animal husbandry teams, the dairy judging competition including three classes in each of four breeds of dairy cattle, Guernseys, Jerseys, Ayrshires and Holsteins. The high school judging competition included the same as the animal husbandry of the college students and three-man teams from each of the 22 high schools as follows, who are receiving federal aid under the Smith-Hughes act for vocational education instructions, participated: Dufur, Elgin, Forest Grove, Gresham, Knappa, Lebanon, McMinnville, Medford, Newberg, Ontario, Prineville, Redmond, Union, Woodburn, Independence and Corvallis in Oregon; Ellensburg, Eatonville and Elma in Washington; Boise

NEWS PICTORIALLY INTERPRETED BY CARTOONIST PERRY.