was the soloist for the orchestra at Eugene. He is now a first tenor for the Orpheus male chorus.

A big feature of the luncheon will be a violin solo by Miss Helga Hansen, who is an accomplished teacher of violin, accompanied by Harold Graham, who is pianist for the Imperial orchestra.

The hostesses will be Mrs. D. N. Watt, Mrs. W. G. Scott, Mrs. A. Leonard, Mrs. R. H. Sawyer, Mrs. G. K. Cassidy, Mrs. D. F. McGill, Mrs. F. W. MacPike, Mrs. G. W. Fenstermacher, Mrs. A. L. Rush, Mrs. H. E. Miller, Mrs. John Beach and Mrs. H. L. Gano.

Current events will be discussed and each member is requested to bring a topic.

Members only of the Research club are eligible to the study department and reservations must be made for the luncheon. For reservations call Mrs. J. G. Gillingham, Sellwood 1264, and Mrs. A. L. Rush, Main 1033. Take Mount Scott or Hawthorne car to East Eighteenth street.

Ladies of the Elks' Card club played bridge and 500 Thursday afternoon. High honors in bridge were won by Mrs. R. L. Adams, Mrs. M. Wiprut and Mrs. Percy Willis. In 500 Mrs. F. M. Ewing, Mrs. W. M. Kennedy and Mrs. Emmet Drake had high scores. Mrs. A. Allard and Mrs. R. L. Yokum were hostesses.

A surprise party was given Saturday evening week in honor of Miss Mabel Parish while home for the week end from Oregon Agricultural college. The rooms were attractive in the Halloween colors with autumn foliage, which was used as the decoration. Sixteen of her friends were present.

Mrs. J. D. Barnwell, formerly Miss Lois Watt of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Watt, with Dr. Barnwell is returning from a two years' stay in the Philippines, where the doctor was stationed in charge of the X-ray department of the hospital at Fort McKinley. They have left San Francisco for Denver, where Dr. Barnwell will be stationed at the Fitzsimmons general hospital. Mrs. John Watt is with her daughter and is planning to remain for some time in Denver. They have named the baby Marjory Lois Barnwell. Her birthplace will be remembered as "at sea, U. S. A. transport Thomas; long, 144-0520 W. lat. 29:24 N."

Martin Wigton and Robert Summers, members of Jefferson high school, entertained a number of their classmates at a Halloween dance, Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wigton. Decorations suggesting the spirit of Halloween were everywhere in evidence.

Miss Helen Eaton added to the pleasure of the evening with her impersonation of a gypsy fortune teller.

Those who enjoyed the evening were the Misses Betty Cheney, Ina Cawley, Ruth Alexander, Kathryn Smith, Harriet Ferguson, Bernice Jude, Betty Benton, Beatrice Hamlin, Helen Eaton, Dorothea Wigton, Cecil Kennedy, Clem Reagan, Arthur Halley, Garland Jude, James Cook, William Thompson, Robert Summers and Martin Wigton.

The Kappa Phi sorority gave a Halloween party on October 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hobbs of Irvington. The decorations were colored leaves and corn-stalks, jack o' lanterns and other novelties. The guests were masked and costumed. The prizes for the best costumes went to Miss Edna Simmons, Miss Eva Wickdahl, W. E. Palmer and Edward Fitch. Dancing, games and a supper were enjoyed, as well as a programme with Hazel Fassett ball dancing and Ernest and Eugene Nordstrom dancing the old-fashioned cake-walk, jig and tango, and songs by Master Lawrence Hobbs. Musical numbers were given by Miss Edna Strowbridge, Mrs. Harry Hobbs, Ernest Nordstrom and Eva Nordstrom.

Those who partook of the evening's pleasure were: Messrs. and Mesdames Rudolph Scheetler, Lincoln Fassett, W. E. Palmer, Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Anderson, Elwell Eastman, Harry E. The co-ed residents of Anna Mann cottage at Reed college announce that they will be at home to their campus and Portland friends next Sunday night from 7 to 9 o'clock.

A Halloween dinner party was given Wednesday night for resident students and the faculty of Reed college by Miss Irene Harrington, director of halls and commons. The tables were artistically draped in Halloween colors and burning lanterns cast an autumn hue over the Reed commons. Flickering jack o' lanterns grinned upon the diners.

Miss Helene Dielechner entertained a number of her schoolmates with a party at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Jeannette Mcintosh, 330 Nineteenth street. A pleasant evening was spent with dancing, music and Halloween games after which supper was served. Those attending were: Ruth Altstadt, Miriam Oehme, Barbara Hazlett, Vida Oller, Bert Turner, Fritz Krause, Eugene Seimuel and Rudolph Gapsen.

Friday evening Alberta Griley, Beatrice Peters and Leslie Gage entertained with a Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gage in Rose City Park. Fifteen couples enjoyed an evening of dancing, music being supplied by an orchestra of young people. Artistic programmes, favors and decorations were prepared by the three hostesses to carry out the seasonal idea. Those attending were Maude Mueller, Ruth Cochran, Frances Morgan, Helen Martin, Helene Oates, Virginia Peck, Lois New, Irene Carlson, Marjorie Metzelaar, Helen White, Beatrice Peters, Leslie Gage, Alberta Griley, George Hoshire, Donald Griley, Horace Kilham, Marvin Buechle, Ray Dunlap, Al Goss, Harold Blazier, Ted Hewitt, Jim McKinley, Lawrence Armagh, Jim Sharkey and Eugene Reed.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.
The cadet team of Fram assembly No. 121, United Artisans, entertained Tuesday night, October 31, with a Halloween masquerade. A large crowd was in attendance. The prize for the best costume among the women was awarded to Mrs. C. W.

The mid-winter wrap

A garment of luxury—of clinging warmth—of furred depths—a marvel of beauty and comfort—such is the wrap of Winter. Fabrics of the deepest lustre and richest pile have a firm, new quality, as, for example, Heliosa. And linings—such as crepe Renee—are such as fashion some of the finest of our frocks!

The lady at our left wears a cape of lustrous black heliosa, banded and collared with black wolf, made with fine tucks from waist to hem. It is lined with platinum crepe Renee, priced 250.00.

Capes are decidedly unconventional

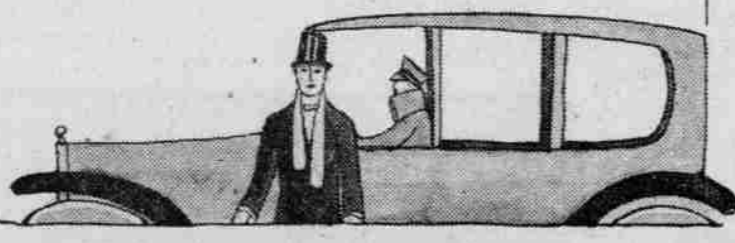

Many of them have taken to side panels; one notable example is tucked from hip to hem—others copy the French—but all give much attention to matching or contrasting furs—such as wolf, fox, caracul or beaver.

Coats derive much chic from the draped front

One unusually handsome coat—in fallow duvetyne—adds to the smartness of the draped front—the mousquetaire cuff, developed of beaver, with a choker collar to match. The yoked back is another charming feature of this exquisite garment—and you may wear it bloused or straight, at will.
