

AMNESTY PARADE HELD IN CAPITAL

200 Carry Banners to White House Grounds.

PICKET LINE DISTURBED

Petitions Signed by Thieves and Pickpockets Travesty Purpose of Demonstrators.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—Petitioners for general amnesty for imprisoned violators of war laws today utilized the spirit of the day in another endeavor to influence President Harding to pardon the 44 men still serving sentences under the espionage act.

With a band of five pieces playing "The Marseillais" and two color bearers carrying American flags leading them, the amnesty seekers, more than 200 strong and with banners, descended upon the White House soon after the president had returned from Arlington, where, in the name of the American people, he had placed a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier. They had obtained a permit to parade on Pennsylvania avenue before the White House grounds, but after doing this they turned into West Executive avenue toward the White House offices and their troubles began.

Band Sent Away.

The procession proceeded quietly until it reached the entrance to the grounds near the executive offices, where a husky park police lieutenant stopped out, clearing the way for the band. The band then proceeded to the White House grounds, where an open-air meeting was held.

The meeting in Lafayette square opposite the White House had barely begun when a young man accompanied by half a dozen negro boys appeared with a new kind of banner. These banners, as soon as displayed, started a counter demonstration, as the amnesty seekers showed unmistakably that they resented the inscriptions, some of which ran as follows: "We extend our sympathy to the pickpockets, thieves, burglars and hoodlums—Strike Thieves, Inc." "We want out, too—Chicken Thieves' society."

Police Restore Quiet.

Police had to intervene between the two sets of demonstrators when quiet was the head of the anti-amnesty group, Herbert B. Mayer of New York city, who said he recently was honorably discharged from the 10th infantry, 5th division, after a long period of service, including two years overseas, explained his purpose.

"Upon being informed this morning the long-haired men and short-haired women behind this movement intended to parade on Armistice day," he said, "I communicated my views upon the subject to various patriotic organizations and their response was such as to lead me to believe that I was entirely wrong."

"Overwhelmed by the number of my error, I determined to make amends by showing sympathy with the cause of opening the jail bars for the anti-amnesty group, in a debate. Entirely at my own expense and representing no one except myself, I hired the boys and made the signs myself in a butcher shop."

Object is Explained.

Mr. Mayer said further that he "of course had no possible right to represent" the organizations named on the banners his cohorts carried, but added that "if this slight act of mine has in any way served to demonstrate the buffoonery and horror of demonstrations such as this on Armistice day—the day of which we honor our dead comrades, who did not stay in jail—the little feat will have achieved its purpose."

Speakers at the amnesty meeting which, like the parade, was held under the auspices of the joint amnesty committee, took their themes from the banners carried in the parade. The speakers made quotations from an address made recently by Senator Borah of Idaho, at an amnesty meeting in Chicago, and told the president that he respect the American ideal of free speech is the worstliest tribute to the unknown soldier, and that "one of the ideals the unknown soldier died for was freedom of speech."

Letter Sent President.

The amnesty petitioners, after the speech making, went to the Chevy Chase country club to picket when President Harding arrived there to play golf. While the parade was in progress the president was in his study and saw none of the demonstration. A committee sought to see him, but as no appointment had been made and as the president's engagement list was full, they left a letter to be presented to him.

The committee, which was composed of Edmund C. Egan, Mrs. Walter Cope and Dr. Franklin Edgerton of Pennsylvania, Robertson Trowbridge of New York, Mercer Green Johnson of Baltimore, and Mrs. Abby Scott Banker of Washington, D. C., represented "many thousands of people in the United States who are earnestly for the American principles of free speech, freedom of assembly, a free press and other so-called civil liberties."

SEATTLE FRUIT SHOW ON

Exposition Represents Industry With $100,000,000 Income.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 11.—Representing an industry whose annual income is put at $100,000,000, an estimated investment of $500,000,000, the second annual Northwest Fruit exposition was opened on the Bell-street dock here this afternoon, to close November 13.

The feature on the evening program will be the coronation of Queen Pippin, Miss Gwendolyn Bowman of Charleston, Wash., by John A. Gallaty of Wenatchee, president of the exposition, the keys of the city being presented by Mrs. Henry Landau, a member of the city council, as the representative of Mayor Edwin J. Brown.

IDAHO GIRLS WIN FIRST PRIZE IN INTERSTATE CANNING CONTEST.

MISSSES LEONA STODDARD AND AGNES SCHUBERT OF TWIN FALLS.

The Twin Falls, Idaho, canning team, consisting of Misses Leona Stoddard and Agnes Schubert, won first place in the canning competition held at the Pacific International Livestock exposition Friday. Six states were represented by teams in the competition. The Idaho team scored 95 points out of a possible 100. The Oregon team took second place. It was announced that the two highest teams would go to Chicago in December in connection with the livestock exposition there to compete for the championship of the United States. The two teams scoring the highest there will get a trip to France to demonstrate canning. A. I. O'Reilly, county club agent for Twin Falls, Idaho, was in charge of the winning team here. Both members of the winning team are 17 years of age.

REDS COMMANDER CARS

I. W. W. LITERALLY TAKE POSSESSION OF TRAIN.

Hoboes Unable to Show Membership Cards Roughly Handled by Wobblies.

ASHLAND, Or., Nov. 11.—(Special)—Fifty I. W. W. literally took possession of a southbound freight train last night. All hoboes who were unable to produce a "red" card showing membership in the radical organization were treated harshly. One was thrown from the train near the station of Siskiyou, this side of the summit of the Siskiyou mountains. He rolled down a 50-foot embankment, but was not seriously injured. Railroad authorities at Dunsmuir, the next division point, were notified to meet the train and arrest those on board.

The "wobblies" are believed by local authorities to be some of those against whom the Portland police waged recent war.

"Men arrested here the past few weeks on charges of trespassing, have averaged about 20 a day. In a majority of cases they were released and warned to leave town the following morning. The riot last night was the first act of violence reported."

NAPLES HAS BIG FIRE

TEN MILLION LIRE EXTENT OF DAMAGE REPORT.

Blazing Naptha, Spreading Over Harbor, Envelops Ships and Sinks One Destroyer.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—A fire which started at the port of Naples at 4 o'clock this afternoon, when blazing naptha spread in the harbor, caused 10,000,000 lire damage, according to the Naples correspondent of the Central News.

The correspondent reported that the fire was still burning when he forwarded his dispatch, that many warships in the harbor were enveloped and that two gunboats had been destroyed and four torpedo boats were on fire, two destroyers were in danger and one cruiser and one destroyer had been sunk.

"The Stefani semi-official bureau reports from Naples that accounts of the harbor fire have been greatly exaggerated and that no material damage was done. It adds that the fire was without any military significance."

POISON TRUST GHASTLY

STARTLING DINNER MURDERS NOW AGGREGATE 12.

Permission to Exhume Bodies is Obtained by Chicago Police to Help Investigation.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—So ghastly and startling have become the "poisoned dinner" murders, involving Mrs. Tillie Kilmek and Mrs. Sturmer-Koulik, now estimated by the authorities at 18, that a special prosecutor has been assigned to the case by the state and will devote all his time to the "murder trust." Orders were issued today by the coroner for the exhumation of three more bodies, those of two men and a woman.

Permission to exhume the bodies of two children and one grandchild of Mrs. Koulik was obtained by the police this evening. Six of the 15 children born to Mrs. Koulik are dead. Surviving sons and daughters of the woman are talking freely and expressed the belief that poison will be found in the bodies of the three children to be exhumed.

OTHER EVIDENCE IS HELD

Purported Slayer Said to Have Changed Appearance by Trimming Hair and Mustache.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 11.—Mrs. Jane Gibson, who says she saw a woman in gray and a man with bushy eyebrows and black mustache at the Phillips farm outside New Brunswick, short time before the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills on the night of September 14, has identified a prominent New Brunswick resident as the man she saw with the woman in gray. The man identified by Mrs. Gibson is believed by the authorities to be the person who actually fired the shots that killed the minister and choir singer. Deputy Attorney General Mott, who is in charge of the case, says that he has identified this man on the charge of murder in the first degree.

Man Picked Out of Crowd.

According to the authorities, Mrs. Gibson made the identification of the suspect in a way that could not be controverted by the defense. He was not pointed out to her with a question as to whether or not the man she had seen at the Phillips farm. The authorities say that she was taken to the Pennsylvania railroad station at New Brunswick on Wednesday morning and permitted to see if she could pick the man out of a crowd of commuters hurrying for a New York train.

According to the authorities, she picked the man out herself without any assistance, and said that she was practically certain he was the man she had seen with the woman in gray. The only doubt in her mind, she said, was that the man she saw at the farm wore no hat, and she was bareheaded or wore a cap, while the man at the railroad station wore glasses and a hat.

Identification Held Certain.

Mrs. Gibson is said to have told the officials she had never seen the man before the night of the murder and did not know his name. The authorities, however, announced themselves as completely satisfied with her identification of the man, because they have other strong evidence, not yet made public, which points to his having been at the scene of the murder with the woman in gray. One of the officials said the man had been identified "from another direction" besides Mrs. Gibson's identification.

According to the authorities they believe that the man who has been identified by Mrs. Gibson has attempted to change his appearance since the murder by trimming his hair and mustache, and has been questioned by persons who have seen him recently say that neither his hair nor his eyebrows are bushy, but the authorities say they are convinced that he is the man.

WIDOW ASSENTS TO PRINTS

Mrs. Hall Willing to Help in Determining Slayer.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 11.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, who was murdered on the Phillips farm with his wife, Eleanor, last night, said tonight through her attorney that she was willing to have her finger prints taken if it would aid in the search for the slayer of her husband.

Certain authorities conducting the investigation had said that several persons had been questioned and would be asked for finger prints.

Mrs. Hall is innocent and has nothing to fear," said Timothy N. Pfeiffer, attorney for Mrs. Hall.

AIR TRAFFIC LAW ASKED

Committee on Safety Code Has Session in Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—Proposed federal legislation to establish traffic regulations for the air about the country is urged by the committee on the aircraft safety code, which was in session today at the commerce department.

Traffic rules for aircraft are very likely to differ from those governing other types of vehicles under the proposals. A flying machine passing another from behind would pass to the right instead of the left, the reason being that the machine in front will probably be following a line on the ground and keeping to the right of it, while this same line also is followed by machines coming from the other direction.

FRANCE WILLING TO PAY

DELIVERY OF MATERIALS TO AMERICA ESSENTIAL.

Louis Loucheur Points Out Difficulties in Paying Debt on Gold Basis.

BY HENRY WALES (Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service, Copyright, 1922, by the Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, Nov. 11.—"The democrats' successes in the United States elections seem to indicate that Americans realize the difficulties of not co-operating with other nations," said Louis Loucheur today.

The former minister of the liberated regions and France's wealthiest citizen wishes to prevent a misunderstanding between France and the United States, emphasizing the fact that France does not contest the principles of its debts, and the taxpayers are willing to discharge them through increased taxation if practical.

"Further taxation would be fruitless because discharging foreign debts could only be effected through the delivery of gold and materials," he said. "Although the United States possesses the bulk of the world's gold, it is not anxious to receive foreign goods."

M. Loucheur insists that France is willing to pay, but demands the same conditions as those under which the loans were made—by exporting material.

"America loaned $3,000,000,000 to France, but certainly not in the form of gold bullion—she sent steel, ammunition and wheat," he continued. "We could now similarly send our goods across the Atlantic, but France has been barred by a barrier against French imports."

"It is frequently assumed that France could easily discharge its American debt if military expenses were diminished. It is a gross error to regard internal and external payments equally. We pay the army with paper francs and the pay America only on a basis of gold dollars."

TRIBUTE TO DEAD FATAL

Frenchman Falls Off Train While Baring Head Out of Respect.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—With head bared as the city's whistles sounded in observance of Armistice day, an unidentified man, believed to have been a former "blue devil" of France, fell to his death from the rear of an elevated train today.

The only identification was found on a card in his pocket. It read: "Monsieur Theophile Lezian, No. 157 Rue La Belle boulevard, St. Denis."

"On the other side of the card was inscribed: 'The dead we never forget—November 11, 1918.'"
