

PROHIBITION ISSUE

TRANSFER BY ELECTION

Senator Smoot Says Parties Must Meet Situation.

WET BLOC IS FORECAST

Republican Reverse Is Attributed to Farmers in West and Big Liquor Faction in East.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—Modification of the national prohibition law must be given serious consideration by both the leading political parties in framing their platforms in 1924, Senator Smoot, Utah, one of the republican leaders in the senate, declared upon his return to Washington today.

Although he always has been a strong "dry," Senator Smoot declared that Tuesday's election result clearly showed that the prohibition issue cannot be evaded and that it will be a controlling factor in future elections.

Senator Smoot also expressed the opinion that an extra session of congress after March 4 is inevitable because the progressives and radicals will so shape events as to bring about this result.

Radical Wave Sweeps West. "There is no question about a radical wave sweeping the middle west," said Senator Smoot. "It may be called progressivism or by any other name. It is responsible for the election of many candidates in Nebraska, North Dakota and Minnesota.

"There was an uprising of farmers because of intolerable conditions. Their crops are rotting, even in Utah, and transportation to market could not be provided. They were ready to strike at anybody who did so at the party in power.

"While a radical wave swept the middle west, the same result was accomplished by a wet wave in the east. This was evidenced by the defeat of republican candidates in New York and New Jersey.

Wet Bloc Is Predicted. "In the next congress both parties must consider two groups. These will be the farm bloc and the wet bloc. Together, they certainly will be dominating elements. If they amalgamate, they will be put over anything in the shape of legislation.

In view of the situation that will prevail, when the next congress comes into existence, Senator Smoot predicted that full cognizance must be taken of the wet issue as raised during the recent campaign. He insisted that the party in power, in formulating their platforms in 1924, must take into consideration modification of the existing prohibition statute.

Senator Smoot would venture no predictions as to how far the farm bloc and the wet bloc will go in the direction of pooling their interests. He merely pointed out the possibilities that lie in such a coalition.

Nothing will be achieved during the approach of the next session, was the belief expressed by Mr. Smoot. He said a few supply bills may be passed, but some of these may go over to the extra session.

SHOW DECLARED BIGGEST

(Continued From First Page.) ranch and range held full sway. Beginning promptly at 12 o'clock the breeders started the serious business of loading their stock in special trains to return them to the great stock farms of the west.

One special train of 12 loaded cars of fancy stock left at 4 o'clock this morning for Chicago to be entered in the international exposition starting there December 2. The exhibition of other animals were started by express to the Chicago exposition grounds. Other special trains were made up for the Pacific coast and it is estimated that within 48 hours the work of shipping the stock will have been completed.

22 Cars Loaded at Time. A total of 22 separate loading platforms, where 22 cars can be loaded at one time, were worked to capacity throughout the night, and the work will continue in earnest until the last animal goes to its respective home, there to rest throughout the winter and to be groomed and sleeked up for the opening of the great stock shows and fairs again next fall. A veritable beehive of industry, where several thousand men are busily engaged in clearing the huge exposition pavilions, presents itself at North Portland this morning.

Attractions yesterday were varied and like the proverbial four-legged circus, where no one can see everything at once, it was impossible for everyone to see everything yesterday. The crowd was immense. It swelled the grandstands at the matinee to capacity and overran through the exhibition pavilion, and while purple ribbon winners stood in their respective stalls complacently chewing their cud or champing at bits, thousands of wide-eyed spectators gazed in amazement at them. The milking of the world's champion cow, Prospect, in the huge arena at the start of the afternoon programme was great interest.

World Champions Seen. During the exposition this cow has been the center of attraction. The milking, however, has been in the privacy of her own stall. Yesterday her attendant milked her for the benefit of the thousands in plain view of all in the horse show arena. In the ring at the same time were the three world champions in their respective breeds, the Jersey, Guernsey and Ayshire.

The popularity of the horse show matinee and the evening programme was emphasized by the fact that 1600 people were in line in front of the ticket booths from 10 o'clock yesterday morning until after the start of last night's performance and many were turned away disappointed when the tickets were completely sold out. Extending across the building and over the street, blocked traffic completely from 5 o'clock on until the opening of the horse show last night.

The milkmaid contest in the arena immediately following the matinee yesterday afternoon was a source of amusement to thousands of spectators, but it was all serious business with the 30-odd maids who competed. The entry list, which totaled 56 on the first day of the spread-day raffle for the best milkmaid in the west, had dwindled perceptibly until at last night's compe-dition the number was barely more than half at the start.

Silver Cups Awarded. Miss Laura Uhlman of Scappoose, winner of the silver cup for the first night's race, who produced 7 pounds and 12 ounces in the allotted two-minute period from her Holstein milker, captured the sweepstakes in the spread-day relay. Her record for the three days was 19 pounds 8 ounces of milk. Mrs. L. F. Harmon of 403 East Third-third street, North, Portland, captured the cup awarded at the close of milking time Friday night with 7 pounds and 10 ounces of milk from her Jersey, and the Saturday cup was won by Julia Killam, R. F. D. No. 4, Portland, with 6 pounds 19 ounces of milk.

The milkmaid's contest provided one of the most unique competitive events ever seen at a livestock exposition, and undoubtedly will be continued as an annual attraction at the Pacific International. The winners of the three days' competition, announced at the close of the contest last night, were: First, Miss Laura Uhlman of Scappoose; second, Mrs. George H. Rouse, Park-rose; third, Mrs. J. Thompson, 630 North Central avenue, Portland; fourth, Mrs. L. F. Harmon, Portland.

Plummer Is Enthusiastic. Further evidence of the success of the 12th annual show was voiced last night by G. M. Plummer, secretary and general manager of the exposition, who declared this had been the most evenly balanced exposition in history. "Evenly balanced" in all branches of all divisions with an entry list in the dairy department exceeding the number of animals at the national dairy show at St. Paul and with the greatest sheep show in the country, along with all the other exhibits," were his words at the close of the Pacific International last night.

"The success of this exposition cannot only be attributed to the splendid public support but to the fact that there are 3500 stockholders representing every section of the west in the association which stages the Pacific International," declared Mr. Plummer. "The educational advancement of the livestock industry has been the aim of this exposition and every exhibit here must have an educational value or it is not allowed."

Show Well Supported. "This is a home enterprise, and the fact that Portland is so happily located in the heart of this great Pacific coast livestock country has earned the hearty support of all the other cities of the coast, which might easily be jealous of this exposition. The exposition this year has been a complete success from every standpoint, including financial, and it will be continued in bigger and better shape than ever before."

The premium list totaling more than $80,000 was said by officials of the show to be the largest offered in any exposition in the country and the total attendance was greater than that of any other livestock exposition held in the country. A total of 75,000 paid admissions was accounted for last night and the total attendance was placed officially at 101,000. This mark is expected to be exceeded this year with the coming of the day of counting after the official close of the exposition.

TIGER OFF FOR AMERICA

CLEMENCEAU LEAVES HAVRE FOR NEW YORK.

France's War-Time Premier Aims to Promote Kinder International Relations.

HAVRE, France, Nov. 11.—(By the Associated Press.) A hale, stout, sharp-eyed, brown-faced man of 82 was the most noticed person on the steamship Paris, which sailed from here this afternoon for New York.

He was Georges Clemenceau, France's war-time premier, on his way to visit the United States—that of visiting the United States for the first time since his youth and doing his utmost to bring complete understanding and sympathy between that country and France.

Although the departure of the "Tiger" was unannounced officially by either the French or American governments, he is looked upon as one of the most important figures ever to leave the shores of France. "What a wonderful old man he is," was the universal comment of those gathered at the pier. Besides his valise, Albert, he is accompanied by a characteristically remarked, only by his hat and cane.

10 ELECTROTYPERS QUIT Strike Results When Wage Cut Is Posted at Plant.

An attempted wage reduction led to a strike Friday of ten electrotypers employed in the plant of the Portland Electrotype & Stereotype company. The workmen contend that the operator of the plant, Ed Kraenick, broke his agreement with them. The strike has been sanctioned by the local and international unions.

According to the union men, their agreement with the local plant expired about a year ago, but the men remained at work under a "gentleman's agreement," by which it was understood that wages were not to be reduced until similar reductions had become effective in Seattle and San Francisco.

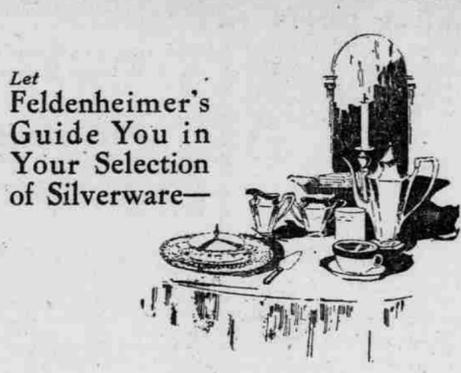

Another local shop, doing similar work, has agreed to keep up the wage standard of the past and remains fair to organized labor.
