DEDICATION of the Neighborhood House theater was an important feature of the open meeting of the Council of Jewish Women, held at the Neighborhood House last Thursday night.

The initial play, "Tides," a Middleton production, was presented admirably by the pioneer company.

Mrs. Ben Jacobson was fine as the radical, William White, who, when his country entered the war, gave up fighting against the current and allowed himself to be carried with the tide, being among the first to offer his services.

Miss Edith Mozorasky portrayed the role of Hilda, the wife, with a splendid naturalness, and Samuel White, as Wallace, the son, was admirable.

The play was given under the direction of Miss Bess Whitcomb and was the first of many plays to be produced by the Neighborhood players. As Mrs. Julius Louison, president of the council, said, "the theater affords a splendid outlet for hidden talent and opportunity for its expression and in time may give rise to a new Bernhardt, Nazimova or Warfield."

Proceeding the performance William Scheinbaum gave an interesting talk on the "Maccabean Spirit," which is in keeping with the approaching festival of Chanukah.

Mrs. Henry Metzger charmed her hearers with a group of songs, accompanied by Edgar E. Coenen, and Mrs. S. M. Blumner, third national vice-president of the Council of Jewish Women, who has just returned from the executive board meeting held at Atlantic City gave the dedicatory address and presented a comprehensive and interesting report of the national work along lines of immigrant aid, which includes work at Ellis Island and other parts, co-operating with international and federal agencies; the rural work, with its programme of education; health and recreation for women on farms; and the reconstruction work of the reconstruction unit, which gives personal service to European refugees in the port cities of central and western Europe.

Selections by the Neighborhood House orchestra concluded the programme.

A packed house, in spite of the storm, testified to the interest taken by the council members in all their meetings, which are presided over by the president, Mrs. Julius Louison.

The Woodlawn Parent-Teacher association will meet on Tuesday at 3 P. M. in the school auditorium. The afternoon will be devoted to short talks on "The Children's Leisure Hour."

Miss Helen Woodard will render two piano solos—"Morning Mood," by Grieg, and the 17th étude, by Heller.

Mrs. Lena Flaherty will give a report of the convention held in Eugene.

Tuesday evening Marguerite camp No. 144, Royal Neighbors of America, held its regular business meeting. There was a good attendance and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Oracie, Anna Randall; vice-oracle, Beatrice Scott; chancellor, Dena Sams; recorder, Nellie Culpian; receiver, Agnes Sulpan; marshal, A. I. Dahl; inner sentinel, Anna Wathendorf; outer sentinel, Iris Reames; managers, Blanch Hoffmann, Emma Baxter and Petra Olan; musician, Mildred Saum; physicians, Drs. Roth and Bardsdorf.

Next Tuesday will be regular meeting night. All touring Royal Neighbors are invited.

Mrs. E. J. Jaeger was hostess to Chapter A of the P. E. O. sisterhood at her home on Westover terrace last Monday. Following the luncheon and regular business meeting, Rabbi Joseph B. Wise gave a talk on the Zion movement. Rabbi Wise gave many bits of historical and geographical information of great interest to the audience. The next meeting will be held tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Ralph Burnside, 529 East Seventeenth street. North luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock and all visiting P. E. O. are welcome.

Mrs. A. B. Moore entertained the missionary department of the Women's society of the White temple at her home, 815 Capitol avenue, Wednesday afternoon. The programme was in charge of Mrs. David Poulkes. Several letters written by Miss Kate Falling of Portland, now a missionary in South India, and also from her mother, Mrs. James Falling, were read. Mrs. Falling and her daughter, Henrietta have been visiting Miss Kate and meeting the orient for the past year. They are now in Egypt and later expect to visit Palestine, arriving in Portland late next year.

Mrs. Robert Robertson was soloist and sang "Holy Night," with violin obligato by Miss Beulah Blackwell and piano accompaniment by Mrs. B. P. Shepherd. The Women's quartet, which includes Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. E. J. Dempsey, Mrs. J. W. Marchbank and Mrs. John Brookman, sang a group of songs appropriate for the Christmas season. Tea was served by the hostess.

The luncheon to be given by the Pennsylvania Woman's club has been postponed until Saturday, December 15.

An attractive and appealing letter has been issued by Miss Jessie McGregor, chairman of the board of trustees of the scholarship fund committee of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, in which the immediate and generous support of each and every one of the federated clubs of the state is asked for this enterprise.

January 31 will be scholarship loan fund day, the red-letter day of the federation year, and in order to call attention to this fact Miss McGregor's letter is significantly printed in red. Her letter follows: "May I remind you that early that the last Wednesday in January is scholarship loan fund day, and that we are asking the various clubs to give early and generously to this most worthy activity, which we are pledged to support?"

"The women of Oregon should be proud of the fact that to date they have assisted 312 young women to secure an education that will enable them to become more nearly the type of young womanhood that our modern civilization demands."

"This year, because of the depleted condition of our treasury, your chairman has faced the heart-rending task of having to refuse aid to several worthy girls and to keep a number of others waiting a whole semester before a loan could be made."

"To date we have placed 26 new loans this year, which means a financial responsibility of $1908. There was $1488.71 in the treasury when we assumed the chairmanship in September, and we are counting on the proceeds of the red-letter day to supply the resulting large deficit. The women of Oregon will not fail to be confident, when they realize that this is their opportunity to help in the best and most constructive way by helping these young women to help themselves. May we urge you to send in your contributions promptly and if possible to increase the amount over that of last year?"

One of the first organizations to make a contribution to the fund this year was the Portland Federation of Women's Organizations, which last week sent a check for $100 to Miss McGregor.

AN INDOOR picnic supper was enjoyed by the industrial girls in their clubroom on Tuesday night. There was no special speaker because of the bazaar Tuesday.

December 12 Miss Wood will speak on her experiences in India, where she has been a Zanzibar worker.

There was a business meeting of the Blue Triangle club Thursday. After the business meeting Mrs. Alta Lewis Stephens began her series of lectures on life adjustment.

There will be a business meeting of the Blue Bird club of Tu-Bu-Biscuit company tomorrow. After the meeting a social hour in charge of Anna Wicklund and Augusta Posteri will be enjoyed.

Oregon Council of the National Motion Picture League held a well attended luncheon meeting at the

Our French Gloss Luster makes starched clothing nicer in every way, saves half the wear on clothes, labor, fuel, starch. 1906 under the leadership of William Mansell Wilder, and was incorporated in 1911, is the oldest strictly a-cappella male chorus in America and is the only male chorus on the Pacific coast that sings every number at all times entirely unaccompanied.

Assisting the chorus will be Miss Nina Dressel, contralto of the First Presbyterian church, one of the most prominent soloists in the northwest. She will sing "The Morning Wind," by Branscombe, and "The Lilac Tree," by Cartland. She will be assisted at the piano by Harold Graham.

The speakers of the day, representing the various clubs of Portland, will be John Douglal, chamber of commerce; Marshall N. Dana, Ad club; Judge Stapleton, Portland Progressive Business Men's club; Lester Leland, Kiwanis club; J. Roy Ellison, Rotary club; H. G. Beckwith, Portland Realty Board; A. V. Hemmings, Press club; E. T. Mische, City club; H. E. Judge, East Side Business Men's club; A. C. Nyberg, Oregon Civic League; E. J. Jaeger, 100 Per Cent club, and Lloyd Bates, Lions club. These speakers will be limited to three minutes each. Members are requested to be on hand promptly, as no one will be seated while the programme is in progress.

Ben Tillie Girls' Club Is Planning Big Bazaar.

THE Ben Tillie Girls' club is making extensive plans for a bazaar, which will be held at the B'nai B'rith building in the afternoon and night of December 17 to raise funds for a vacation home where girls and mothers, regardless of wealth or position in life, will be on equal footing.

Elaborate decorations are being planned by Miss Julia Poizner for the entire building and booths. Miss Anita Blum, assisted by a committee composed of Gertrude Rosummy, Anita Feldstein, Edith Debra, Nathan Betty Dascheff, Mollie Kravetz and Bessie Mesher, is working out lively stunts, which will be featured during the evening.

A new feature of the bazaar will be a frontier bar where mixed drinks, punch and beer will be served. The bar, which will be decorated with forest greens and ferns, will be in the hands of Miss Fannie Weinstein.

Tempting dishes will be served in the Cabaret Inn, of which Miss Anna Greenberg is chairman, who will be assisted by Sarah Bernstein, Fannie Gale, Ethel Galt, Deborah Nathan, Celia Horowitz and Mary Horowitz. Vaudeville and ballet dances will be featured at the inn.

At the country store Miss Gussie Brownstein, assisted by Elsie Lichtman, Rose Leverson, Bessie Weisblatt, Dora Segal and Rose Jacobson, will be in charge of the grocery department at moderate prices.

Misses Bessie Weiner and Celia Goldberg will have charge of the home-made candy, home-made pastry and cake booth.

The eight-unseen pond committee, composed of Emily Goldstein, chairman; Doris Miller, Charlotte Solomon and Mildred Lichtman, is bending its efforts in making its pond as interesting and profitable as possible.

Centerpieces, bureau scarfs, sweaters, luncheon sets and hundreds of other crocheted, knitted and embroidered articles are in readiness. Miss Julia Poizner, chairman of the fancy-work booth, reported.

The art committee, composed of Emma Lewis, Dorothy Arndt, Hanita Asher and Goldie Jacobson, is busily engaged in inventing novelties, which have been seldom exhibited at bazaars.

A two-story doll house, toys of every description and dolls are waiting for the kiddies, reports Miss Fannie Weinstein, who is in charge of the flower committee, promises a wonderful display of an Oregon garden. The fortune-telling tent will include the Misses Frances Haas and Belle Rosenbaum. An added feature of the bazaar will be a complete home chest. The nominal sum of 10 cents will be charged for admission. A live turkey will be given away as a prize.

Miss Bertha Friedman, president of the Ben Tillie Girls' club, is general chairman, Betty Dascheff, cashier; Gertrude Rosummy, donations; Bessie Mesher, refreshments; Mrs. J. Lauterstein, chairman, and the following committees of the Daughters of the American Revolution, as patronesses of the bazaar: Mrs. Max Davidson, Mrs. M. Wax, Mrs. Z. Sweet, Mrs. M. Klapper, Mrs. A. L. Goldstein, Mrs. M. Baris, Mrs. E. Baron, Mrs. H. N. Heller, Mrs. S. Chalmov, Mrs. J. Danoss, Mrs. B. Simon, Mrs. M. A. Goldstein, Mrs. H. W. Rubin, Mrs. W. Weinstein, Mrs. George Rubenstein, Mrs. D. Nemerovsky, Mrs. O. Overbeck, Mrs. Joe Wood, Mrs. J. Solomon, Mrs. A. Weinberg, Mrs. S. Cohen, Mrs. E. M. Rosenbaum, Mrs. S. Schandling and Mrs. A. Rosenstein.

An interesting meeting is promised for tomorrow when mothers of the members and a committee of the Daughters of the Covenant will be guests of the Ben Tillie girls. A musical programme has been arranged after which refreshments will be served. Every member is urged to bring her mother.

The Alameda Tuesday club will meet with Mrs. Charles E. Dant, 325 Alameda drive, Tuesday, promptly at 2 o'clock, for a business session. Every member is urged to attend.

The woman's section of the Portland Social Traction will give a card party at the hall tonight at 8 o'clock. There will be refreshments and prizes.

The Catholic Women's league will hold a board meeting Tuesday at 10 A. M. at the league rooms in the Eilers building.

Daughters of Revolution to Meet Wednesday. Interesting Programme Arranged for Willamette Chapter.

WILLAMETTE chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold its December meeting Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the Business Women's club in the central building, Tenth and Alder streets. A pleasing programme has been arranged by Mrs. G. J. Frankel. The hostesses are Mrs. J. H. Gallagher, Mrs. W. H. T. Green, Misses Bertha and Marie Green, Mrs. Albert Hagen, Mrs. F. J. Haines, Mrs. Walter G. Haines, Mrs. John R. Handley, Mrs. Julia A. Hays, Misses Winifred C. Hays, Mrs. Edwin F. Hitchcock, Mrs. George F. Honey, Mrs. Chester W. Hopkins, Mrs. George A. Hopp, Mrs. C. B. Huott and Mrs. J. P. Huxtable.

A regular meeting of the housewives' council will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the story-hour room of central library. The programme will be arranged by the health and sanitation committee, which will provide a speaker. The welfare committee will also make its report and arrangements will be made to provide for a needy family at Christmas. The public is invited to attend meetings of the council.

The third annual dinner of the Fernwood Parent-Teacher association was held at the school recently. Mrs. George T. Perkins, Mrs. C. E. Wallwork and Mrs. E. E. Howard were in charge of arrangements and a delicious dinner was served between 5:30 and 7 P. M.

Fernwood Parent-Teacher association will meet Tuesday at 2:30 P. M. Selections by Miss Griffin's orchestra will be a special feature of the programme.

An interesting meeting of the Irvington Parent-Teacher association was held Tuesday. I. T. Felts gave a most instructive talk on the use of the automatic telephone, which system is being installed in the city at the present time. Miss F. Percie Donald of the Albina branch library suggested appropriate gift books for Christmas. Miss Ethel Mitchell from the Y. W. C. A. girl reserves told of the beautiful work the girls are doing, which served as an incentive toward organizing a club in this district.

A musical treat was enjoyed. The numbers by Mrs. Gabriel Pullin, soprano; Miss Mary E. Mullin, mezzo; Mrs. Katherine Gabriel, contralto; members of the Monday Musical club trio, with Miss Gertrude Van Horn, accompanist, were well chosen and delightfully rendered.
