WASHINGTON police are to be equipped with 7-pound tear-gas guns for riot-squad duty. Captain L. M. McBride recently demonstrated how compressed air in one cylinder draws tear gas from the other and throws a stream through the nozzle.

Carl E. Akely, noted sportsman, sculptor, artist and hunting companion of the late Theodore Roosevelt, is now engaged in modeling a face of a gorilla. M. Clemenceau visited the artist recently and showed great interest in the death masks of gorillas taken by Mr. Akely.

Ranchers near Lebec, Cal., are puzzling over a wild elk which recently appeared at the gate of a ranch corral and was satisfied only by admittance to the inclosure. The elk has manifested no desire to be free.

The "Little Theater" movement in Washington, D. C., has resulted in remodeling of the Washington home of the late Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, into a "Little Theater."

Little Master Herbert and Miss Mary Andrea, children of a commercial attache of the Netherlands legation, are among the many attractive children of foreign diplomats at the national capital.

Police in the national capital confiscated a gigantic still of 500 gallons capacity in a recent raid. They are also holding an expensive motorcar.
