Overheard in the Boys' and Girls' Own Bookshop

It came out this year in this beautiful edition to celebrate its twenty-fifth birthday. "Twenty-fifth? No!" "Yes, but is that too long? It seems just yesterday" mother gave me mine for Christmas. I remember nothing else. I'm no sooner finished than I began all over again. All the kids in our neighborhood borrowed at least one. I've got it yet—battered and broken, but I would not trade it—not even for the newest one of these new editions—beautiful as it is. Caroling in entitled to a fresh copy, though, and "Master Skylark" is one I'd like her to have in a fine edition.

In our stock you will find the books that stirred you, some of them, as in the case of "Master Skylark," in artistic new dress. You will also find books later than your day, but which YOUR children will thrill over and treasure in their hearts to pass on to THEIR children. We have the best of the old and the new. We can say that with all modesty, because they have been recommended by some of the finest men and women in the country, men and women trained in the observation of children, educators, librarians.

In this choice of books offered you and in the service given in helping you to make your selection, we endeavor to work out in a practical way our ideal of Not Just a Book, but THE RIGHT BOOK.
We suggest the following books for your Christmas giving. Among the old:
Master Skylark—Bennett.
The Black Arrow, by Stevenson.
The Wonder Book, by Hawthorne.
Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, by Carroll.
Moby Dick, by Melville.
Stories by Mr. Molesworth.
The Last of the Mohicans, by Cooper.
The Princess and the Goblin, by MacDonald.
The Blue Fairy Book, by Lang.
Hans Brinker or the Silver Skates, by Dodge.
A FEW OF THE NEW.
The Well in the Wood, by Taylor.
Treasure Things, by Wynne.
Kathleen, by Abbott.
Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, by Carroll.
Dusty Star, by Baker.
The Master's, by Hawes.
The Trail of the Spanish Horse, by Schultz.
Masters of the Guild, by Lamprey.
Wild Heart, by Squier.
The Story of Hanskin, by Van Loon.

Religious Gift Books

A Few Timely Suggestions From Our Large Stock: The Christian's Secret of Happy Life—Hannah Whitall Smith.
The Meaning of Faith—Harry Emerson Fosdick.
On the Rim of the World—J. Patterson Smyth.
Turbot's Teachers' Guide for 1923.
Peloubet's Notes for 1923.
Oxford Bibles and Testaments, with or without reference helps, concordance, etc.
Nelson Bibles and Testaments, small books with large type, American Standard or King James' Version.

Some Charming Little Books for Gifts

Choice but inexpensive books breathing the Christmas spirit—the spirit of inspiration for the coming year: The Greatest Thing in the World—Drummond.
Out From the Heart—James Allen.
As a Man Thinketh—James Allen.
The Story of Good Cheer.
