Tanners Show Signs of Resuming Operations; Low Bids on Calfskins Refused.

There is nothing like general activity to the hide market at any point, but there are some signs of reviving demand in the cast. This small improvement is not reflected in any way in the Yoriland trade.

After five consecutive weeks of duliness in the eastern packer hide market, impacts are showing a disposition to resume operations. Small lots aggregating about 16,000 September-October-Nowhend all weight native cows were sold at St. Louis and Chicago at 1645 and 16 conta. These prices are regarded as exceptionally good, considering the fact that recent bids on Chicago big packer light native cows have been down to 18c, and the smaller packer native cows self and mostly lightweights. Packers are nominally listing selling prices of five weeks ago on other lines, but such fig.

Country offerings of corn were not large, one of the largest houses operating in fillinois and lows buying enty a few cars over night. Larger receipts are expected, however, as the Illinois Central is furnishing cars in central lillinois. Cash corn premiums were firm, with elevator interests good buyers.

Interest in cats is increasing, with a somewhat broader trade. Sentiment is more friendly to the buying side, with demand for cash grain fair and movement relatively light.

Despite talk of a big export business in rys, with saies of around 1,300,000 bushels reported at the seaboard the past two days, the market made a poor response to buying and closed slightly easier. Norway, Sweden and Greece were identified as buyers of cash grain.

Turkey Market 1s Lower.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—The turkey market broke here Friday on receipt of word from the Canadian prairies that good turkeys could be had for 27 cents wholesale and 30 cents retail, while the Pacific coast price was 45 cents retail, it is expected that the turkey supply will exceed the demand this year, as the purchasing power of the consumers is ight and less-expensive fowl will adorn the Christmas tables.

_ Truck and Driver Burled in Mud. OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 16 .- (Special.)-Ed Thompson, local bakery-man, drove his light delivery truck off the end of Fifth street, truck and driver dropping about 20 feet to the mud flats, late Friday night. The tide was out and the truck overturned, sinking deep in the mud. Thompson, stunned but not seriously hurt, was heard moaning under the wrecked truci. Patrol-man Hammond, taking a long run, jumped the intervening 15 feet, landing in the mud beside the truck. He pulled Thompson out and got him to the hospital. The truck, hopelessly wrecked and buried in the mud, was left to be covered by the next high tide.
