 of the Macabees December 7 with the opening of the health center in rooms 533-539 Morgan building. Luncheon was served at the Portland hotel. A large delegation, with six candidates from Rainier, were present at the afternoon session. Roseburg review also was well represented, as also was La Grande, Salem, Buxton, Donald, Vancouver and Kelso. The meeting was opened at 2 P. M. by the officers and guard of Portland review No. 7, with Captain Little in charge of the floor work. Mrs. Minnie W. Aydelotte, great commander of California, was received and welcomed amid great applause. Mrs. Aydelotte was formerly deputy supreme commander of Oregon, but the great marathon meet in May, 1923, requires so much of her time, and as hostess for the meet, she has much to do.

Mrs. Emma B. Wilkinson, deputy supreme commander, also was received and welcomed. She comes from Port Huron, Mich., and has charge of the states of Oregon, Washington, Montana and Idaho, and is making great plans for the marathon meet in Portland, June 7, 1923, when 12,000 members of the association will be assembled. The association has over 250,000 members throughout the United States and Canada. Rainier review exemplified the beautiful flag service during the afternoon. At 8 P. M., after the opening by Portland review No. 7, the degree of fraternity was given to a class of 40 candidates by the officers and guard of Queen Elizabeth review No. 24, in charge of Captain Butts. The delivery of the charter to Commander Janet Swart was made by District Deputy Caroline O'Brien, for St. John review.

Liberty assembly, United Artisans, will give a card party and dance at the east side Woodman hall, Sixth and Alder streets, Wednesday, at 8 P. M. The programme will consist of cards from 8:15 to 9:45. Four prizes will be given in addition to a door prize of four tickets to the cedar chest. The remainder of the evening will be devoted to dancing.

The Oregon Electric council, Royal Arcanum, will hold a celebration in the Arcanum hall, Pythian building, West Park and Yamhill streets, December 19, and will have as its honor guest J. M. Leiter of Portland, who has been a member of the Royal Arcanum for 4 years. A snappy programme has been arranged with Past Grand Regent George Rossman as the principal speaker. All members of the order in this jurisdiction are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Ben Tillie Girls' Club Holds Bazaar Today.
 Funds Will Be Raised for Vacation Home.

THE Ben Tillie Girls' club, for the purpose of starting a fund for a vacation home where democracy will rule, is sponsoring a bazaar today from 2 P. M. to 12 P. M. at the B'nai B'rith building, Thirteenth and Market streets. Ample arrangements for the various concessions and an attractive list of recreational and entertainment features, both from social and business standpoint, have been provided.

Garbed in picturesque costumes, the cabaret inn committee consisting of Anna Greenberg, Sarah Bernstein, Ceila Herowitz, Mary Hornstein, Fannie Gale, Fannie Isenstein and Deborah Nathan are prepared to serve their many tempting dishes in the elaborately decorated inn. Vaudeville and ballet dances will be staged at the inn.

The frontier bar, which is decorated in the frontier way, will serve to "quench the thirst." Near-beer, punch and mixed drinks will be served by the frontier girls. Adjoining the bar, draped with oriental rugs, is the fortune telling tent in charge of expert fortune tellers, the Misses Belle Rosenbaum and Frances Haas. Adjoining the tent is the small Oregon garden where corsage bouquets and other flowers are sold by the Misses May Philian and Sarah Mozorovsky.

The Misses Anita Blum, Gertrude Rossmay, Mollie Kravitz, Sonia Willer and Bessie Meaber have worked out lively stunts which will be featured during the evening. In the gymnasium of the building which has been transformed into a market of a thousand bargains, while the kiddies will find much joy in the doll and toy house where a number of dressed dolls and toys of every description are displayed, the mothers will be attracted by hundreds of crochets, knitted and embroidered articles which are exhibited in the fancy work booth of which Miss Julia Folsner is chairman.

Pictures, paintings, decorated candles, vases and other novelties will be found in the art gallery of which the following committee has charge: Emma Baker, Golda Jacobson, Hanita Asher and Dorothy Arneberg.

The country store has a good selection of groceries which are sold at moderate prices by Gussie Brownstein, Rose Leveton, Bessie Weisblatt, Doris Segal and Rose Jacobson. Pure home-made candy, pastries, cakes and pies may be obtained in the candy and pastry booth.

A committee of the Daughters of the Covenant have charge of the chest tickets.
 Miss Bertha Friedman is general chairman of the bazaar, Miss Betty Dasher cashier, Miss Julia Polner decorator, and Miss Bessie Mesher, publicity.
 Mrs. Ben Selling is honorary patroness. Mrs. Jacob Rosenberg, Mrs. Phillip Gevurtz and the following committee of the Daughters of the Covenant, headed by Mrs. J. Lauterstein, will act as patronesses: Mrs. Max Davidson, Mrs. M. Wax, Mrs. Z. Sweet, Mrs. M. Klapper, Mrs. A. L. Goldstein, Mrs. M. Barde, Mrs. S. Baron, Mrs. H. N. Heller, Mrs. S. Chalmov, Mrs. J.
