

THE ARGUS

THURSDAY, AUG. 29, 1895

—J. I. Knight has money to loan or buy notes.

—Mrs. Voss, who lives near R. H. Walker's, died Tuesday, under very peculiar circumstances. Five children and husband are left, in destitute circumstances.

—The officers had the wrong man in the Beaverton case, wherein one Gambino was charged with giving liquor to minors. The Italian was promptly discharged when brought before Knight. John Goodsmith was also discharged in the case wherein he was charged with appropriating a sled, the property of J. J. Whitten.

—For bargains in shoes call at Schulmerich & Son. Oxford ties for misses and ladies at reduced prices.

—The grass is getting short, owing to the continued dry spell, and pasturage needs rain badly.

—A great number of our townspeople are going to North Yamhill to pick hops. They will start next week.

—The tax rolls will be ready for the board of equalization in about four weeks.

—The court house seems deserted these days. No Cornelius to tell a good story; can't Josh McCormick, as he is gone; and Goodin being away, and Bruce Wilkes—say it's lonesome!

—Any one wishing a sewing machine call at the Bazaar, as I now handle the Climax, Ideal or New Home. Will trade either the Climax or Ideal, for dry wood.

—From Tuesday's Telegram: The incorporation of two new companies recently, having for their object the revival of the suburban electric or motor line from the terminus of the Barnes Heights and Cornell mountain road to Hillsboro, west of the city, is being gladly welcomed, and many hopes are expressed that the actual work may soon be carried through to completion and the line put in operation.

—Caples & Thomas buy a heap. Sell cheap, and keep forever at it.

—Dr. K. A. J. McKenzie was out from Portland last evening, and in company with Dr. Linklater made a call at the Ross farm, where Capt. Ainsworth, an old friend of Mr. McKenzie, is spending the summer.

—The Bryan Laidlaw Co. has just received an elegant new line of gentlemen's and boys' clothing and furnishing goods which will be sold at prices which cannot be duplicated in the city of Portland.

—Come and examine our lines and be convinced that you need go no further to get the values for your money. See our $1.00 Ladies' shoes.

—J. P. Hicks is building an addition on the Hicks House. Still the improvement goes on. H. M. Cronkite is the architect.

—H. M. Cronkite will soon leave with his wife for Newport, where he will assume the principalship of that city's schools this winter.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Hicks visit with relatives at Sherwood Sunday last.

—Only a few of those boys' pants and suits left. Am closing them out. Pants, 30 cents up; suits from $1.00 up. Hillsboro Bazaar.

—The Andrews Lumber Co. is furnishing the lumber for the N. C. Richardson residence below town.

—G. F. Behrens, a resident of Bridgeport, this county, and father of H. F. Behrens of this city, died at his home last Thursday morning. Mr. Behrens was born July 9, 1818.

—Men's and boys' clothing in all styles at prices to suit the times at Schulmerich & Son.

—D. W. Dobbins, Hillsboro's city recorder, and A. B. Bailey, who is spending the summer with his parents, returned yesterday morning from the Netarts. The hot wave came with them, and they are wishing they were back to the coast again.

—For every $1.00 cash purchase at the Delta drug store you will receive one sheet of popular music, selected from a large assortment.

—S. D. Powell, who has been in the southern Oregon mines for the past ten months, is expected home the latter part of the week to remain for some time.

—J. C. Hare and John Hay and families returned last evening from their camping expedition to the beach over in Tillamook county.

—All the latest and most fashionable shades of men's hats have just been opened at Bryan Laidlaw Co. Cash Store; also ladies' shoes at $1 a pair.

—Robert Imbrie Sr. made a business trip to Corvallis yesterday. Mr. Imbrie and son will harvest 45 acres of hops this year, and it will require 150 pickers. Owing to the prevalent smoky condition of the atmosphere, hops have not matured as rapidly as was expected, so picking is set back somewhat.

100 lbs best extra "C" sugar, 45
100 lbs "C" sugar, 4 25
Caples & Thomas, Forest Grove, buy a heap, sell cheap, and keep forever at it.

—The leaves on some of the shade trees are commencing to turn, and the mornings are cool enough to make one seek the fire. Another month will bring the rain and frosts.

—W. N. Barrett and wife spent the Sabbath in Clackamas county. They were in attendance at the funeral ceremonies held over the late Rev. H. P. Webb.

—Mrs. W. E. Brock and Miss Ada Rhea came in from Newport on Saturday evening's passenger.

—The Hillsboro Bazaar is closing out Mexican hammocks. $1.25 plain, now $1.00; $1.75 colored, now $1.25; Close woven colored with pillow attached and spreader, worth $2.75, now $2.00; one child's colored, $1.00, now $.50; one child's, colored, $.75 now $.35.

—The new residence of R. H. Greer is now ready for the plaster and hard finish. When completed it will be one of the neatest little homes in the city.

—Another week and the hop fields in this vicinity will present a lively appearance. Many hands will be employed, and hundreds of dollars will be paid out. Quite a number have gone from this county to Yamhill to work in yards.

—Only one croquet set left, worth $1.25, now goes for $1.00. Sea Island, or croquet twine, all colors, large balls, only 5 cents each, at the Hillsboro Bazaar.

—Courtney Meek and family arrived last Friday evening from Lapwai, Idaho, and will remain at their place near Glencoe for several weeks. Mr. Meek says that cash is very plenty up there since the government has paid the Indians the money derived from the sale of the reservation lands.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Dennis are again at home, having spent several weeks at the Netarts beach.

—J. C. Smith, a prominent citizen of Cedar Mill precinct, and a veteran of the Civil war, was a visitor to the county seat Friday last. Mr. Smith was recently granted a pension of $8 per month, and the application being of long standing, he received the sum little sum of $200. He is to be congratulated, and this paper desires to call the attention of republican brethren to the fact that the present administration has at least granted one original pension.

—Dr. C. B. Brown has returned from his short vacation and his parlors in the Morgan Block are again open to all who desire first-class dental work. All work guaranteed.

—For bargains in dry goods, groceries, boots, shoes, clothing, and tinware, go to Caples & Thomas, Forest Grove. They buy a heap, sell cheap, and keep forever at it.

—Col. Harrington, a prominent attorney of Portland, did business here the first of the week.

—Almon Hill, one of Wapato's oldest pioneers, was down from his ranch Monday, shaking hands with his many friends.

—The Junior Endeavor of the Christian church held a very pleasant lawn social in the Court yard Friday evening last.

—If you want the news, step up and subscribe for this paper. It will be one dollar well spent.

—Born, August 24th, to the wife of Benton Bowman, of Hillsboro, a son.

—For several weeks nothing has been heard from Attorney L. K. Aunans. It is supposed that he is busily engaged in clearing off a toboggan slide on Mt. Rainier's icy slope.

—Attorney J. M. Wall has returned from a few days' trip to Newport.

—Hon. C. P. Yates and wife, of Manning, spent Monday in the city. Mr. Yates stands as does no other man in this section, holding the office of state representative, elected on the republican ticket, and being the local Nashy under an administration democratic.

—All kinds of carriage trimming done at C. L. Hinman's Harness shop at Forest Grove by an experienced workman.

—Prof. J. H. Stanley will assist at a Teachers' Institute which will soon be held at Corvallis.

—Mrs. W. F. Nelson and child left Saturday evening for their Portland home after a several weeks' visit with Mrs. Jos. Downs, of this city. Mrs. Nelson is the wife of one of the incorporators of the company formed to build the Portland and Hillsboro motor line.

—W. H. Braden, at one time the publisher of a paper over in the Nehalem valley, was in town the first of the week, on business.

—Go to Schulmerich & Son if you want to exchange wheat for merchandise. They offer inducements you can not afford to miss.

—John Masters, of this place, was a visitor to the onion fields to the southeast of here; the latter part of the week. He states that one field which he visited contained no less than 30 acres, which gives promise of a splendid yield. The lice are doing but little damage.

—Justice Knight has purchased a handsome new Franklin typewriter, and he will now grow indolent with the greatest of "sang froid."

HOP HARVEST SOON ON

A Representative of the Agricultural College Visits Hillsboro.

OUTING SEASON IS ABOUT OVER

A Mammoth Bean Crop—Graduating Exercises Will Not be Abolished—Erroneous Idea.

Pague's Report.

WESTERN OREGON.

Harvest of cereals is over and threshing is now being completed. There will be little threshing to be done after this week's close. Though the season has been unusually dry, there is a fair degree of satisfaction expressed by the correspondents over the general results of the year's labor. The corn is doing very well. It would be materially benefitted by rainfall. Peaches and pears are ripening rapidly, the weather being moderately favorable to them, yet a little more sunshine would prove helpful. Prunes are ripening rapidly and within the next ten days drying will begin.

Hops continue to be in fair state. Weather is in their favor; warm sultry weather produces greater activity among the lice and there has been an absence of them this year. They are present, however, yet the most of the yards are in good condition. Active preparations are in progress, and picking commences within the next ten days.

Owing to the long period of dry weather the grass has dried up, more so than usual, and as a result the dairy interests are affected quite materially. Several correspondents report a decreased milk supply.

The Hop Industry.

The hop industry in a few years will have grown to mammoth proportions in Washington county. The soil and climate is peculiarly adapted to the raising of this staple product, and a large acreage is being planted each succeeding year. It will only be a question of time when each small farmer will have from five to ten acres in hops, as a dry house can be built by several, where the expense is too heavy for one. This is a product which has its market, the whole world, and as the population increases, the demand is proportionately augmented. Several hundred hands will be required to harvest this crop.

Graduating Course.

The report has been circulated that the graduating courses would be dispensed with in the Hillsboro public school hereafter. This is erroneous, and the report could but have been started by people who were in ignorance of our public school policy. Few people realize the importance of a well systematized school. When pupils have graduated out the Hillsboro city school they are well-fitted to enter any college that is run on purely educational lines. This city justly takes great pride in the efficacy of its public school system, and the report that one of its most important functions is to be abolished is too absurd to even receive consideration.

Fine Institution of Learning.

Mr. J. B. Horner, Department of English, Oregon State Agricultural College, spent last Friday in this city. This institution has a splendid faculty and gives four thoroughly scientific courses, its facilities in this regard being unsurpassed by any college on the Pacific slope. Then there are military instructions given by a commissioned U. S. officer, in itself no unimportant feature. Any person who has completed the studies of reading, spelling, geography, national history, arithmetic and English grammar, is eligible to entry. There is no tuition whatever, the College paying for clothing, board, and room, at an expense to the student of but $141 for the school year. Already, this college has passed from its portals over 200 graduates, many of whom now are enjoying responsible and lucrative positions in the northwest. The roster of 261 students, and 22 instructors, shows conclusively the regard throughout the state for this scientific school. The fall term begins September 19th.

Season Nearly Over.

Every day sees townspeople returning from the coast. The weather is now growing cooler, and having had their little outing they are ready to again get into the routine of business life, feeling the better for their trip. Saturday evening several loads of tourists passed through here on their return to the lower end of the county. Messrs. and Mesdames Max Crandall and C. B. Brown have arrived home and report having had a pleasant time in the Tillamook region. A few weeks more and all will be back.

Mammoth Bean Crop.

In about two weeks, J. W. Sewell will commence to harvest his crop of beans which comprises thirty acres. If the rains hold off until they are through pulling, Mr. Sewell estimates that he will realize about 1000 lbs. per acre. As this product will sell all the way from 24 to 4 cents per pound, the entire crop will net him a neat little sum in the gross. He states that it is not a hard crop to handle if one can get a variety sufficiently early to ripen before frost or rain of autumn catches them.

To Salt Lake.

The Editor and Manager of the Independent, accompanied by his wife, left Saturday evening for Salt Lake City, where Mr. G. intended to be present at an editorial convention which is soon to hold in the land of Mormonism. In some manner they missed connections at Portland and returned Monday.

Mr. Benton Bowman chased the fleeting item and manipulated the shears during his absence. As Benton is the fond papa of another boy, born Saturday last, if his editorials are pitched to "G," the public will understand and not be censorious.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

—Mrs. Rev. Lindsey, of Ukiah, California, is in the city visiting with her daughter Mrs. C. B. Brown. She will remain several weeks.

—Wm. Beamish is confined to his room at the Connell farm, and is reported quite ill.

—Mrs. John Willis, of Petaluma, California, and an aunt of Mrs. W. H. Morgan of this city, spent several days here recently, returning to her home Tuesday morning.

—Frank B. Jolly, one of Portland's attorneys, has been spending part of the warm month in this city and vicinity.

—Thos. Stewart is home from a visit with friends in Linn county. He also made a short sojourn at Newport.

—G. A. Wehrung and wife came in on the stage from Tillamook, Monday evening.

—Rev. H. P. Webb, one of the pioneer ministers of Oregon, and until lately pastor of Hillsboro parish, M. E. Church, died at Willoughby, the other day. He was well along in age and quite feeble, having been in poor health for several years. As a minister, he was well liked by his congregation; as a man of modest demeanor and many qualities, he had the esteem of the entire community. The universal expression of regret attests to the popular esteem in which the reverend gentleman was held. His wife survives him.

—Miss Lizzie Bowser, who has been in Portland during the summer, is in the city to remain several weeks visiting her parents.

—The court house is without a junior. Lin Whitecomb is over in the Tillamook country at present, having resigned his position.

—Bruce Wilkes left Tuesday for Alsea, south of Newport, to spend several days.

—The office room of County Superintendent is being remodeled and put into shape for occupancy. Wm. Pointer is the architect.

—The Misses Minnie and Zula Warren, Mrs. H. V. Gates, and Mr. John Gates have been spending several days in vicinity of Meacham's Xing.

—Jacob Anderson, who was proprietor of a drug store in this city some 18 years ago, spent several days in Hillsboro last week, renewing old acquaintances.

—W. H. Boscow and wife returned to their East Portland home Monday evening, after a fortnight's visit in this city.

—Dr. F. J. Bailey made a professional visit to Portland the first of the week.

—Articles of incorporation were filed in the clerk's office, Aug. 23, the association being formed for the purpose of purchase and maintenance of a library, for the promotion of freethought and the intellectual betterment of its members. The name of the association is to be "The Forest Grove Freethought Library Society."

—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bryan visited Portland Tuesday to meet their son, E. J. Bryan, who was on his way from LaGrande to a California University for the winter classes.

—Thos. Tucker has at last realized on that crop of musk melons which he has assiduously watched all summer.

—J. F. R. Webber, manager and assistant Sec'y. of the Home Mutual Ins. Co., was in the city this morning on business.

—Wm. Townsend has been arrested on complaint of Wm. Bagley, charging him with making threats against the person of Mr. Bagley, and it is desired that he be placed under bonds to keep the peace. Examination Saturday.

—Wallace McCamant, Master in Chancery in this district of the United States Circuit court, with offices at Portland, was in the city on legal business Tuesday.

—A very pleasant social was that held at the residence of Mr. Masters Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies of the Evangelical church. A large crowd was in attendance.

—Money to loan in sums to suit. Mortgages and notes bought and sold. Room 13, Morgan Block.

—A. S. Venden does more "watch work" than any Jeweler out side of Portland. All work warranted. Prices to correspond with the times.

—In response to a telegram from Hastings, Mich., giving information of the serious illness of a brother, Mrs. J. E. Beam left Thursday evening last to be at the bedside. She will be absent several weeks.

—Homer Parish, the young man who was recently operated upon by Dr. Tammis, for appendicitis, is in the city for a few days, visiting his sister, Mrs. W. N. Barrett. He will soon start for his home in the Big Bend country, the great wheat belt of the upper Columbia.

—Jesse Cornhus is reported very ill at his home in Leisville.

—You can learn of a bargain in real estate by inquiring at this office. One of the best farms in the county will be sold at a sacrifice.

—Hillsboro's veteran tinner, J. C. Lunkin, has been working night and day for some time filling orders for kiln-piping for dry houses. He has manufactured pipe for Robt. Imbrie of West Union, Geo. Haythorn and Wm. Weston, who have yards near Laurel, and J. C. Meacham, of Reedville.

—The morning train leaves for Portland at the same old schedule used in the past, the evening train leaving at 5:30.

—Subscribe for THE ARGUS and get the news.

Messrs Frank Jolly and Al Holcomb did business at Corvallis yesterday.

—Those who think the county can't raise fine fruit should see some of it that is on sale at some of the stores in the city. D. B. Emerick has brought in the finest peaches so far this season. They were raised on his place near Scholls.

—The post office store keeps constantly on sale a line of standard periodicals, magazines and monthlies. Anything not on sale will be ordered for you. Inquire of J. M. Brown.

—The sidewalk in front of the Rucker property is being repaired, and as well, is the walk in front of the Holcomb residence property being relaid.

—The smoke has again gathered over the valley and plains which shows that fires are yet in the mountains.

—Harry Sliger has placed another whistle on the Water and Light plant's engine, and the two make a very nice calliope chime. The change was made rather suddenly, and when curfew was whistled the other evening, many were startled, thinking something had gone wrong.

—Any one wanting timothy hay can procure it of Johnston Freeman at $7 per ton.

—J. W. Sappington returned from the Tillamook country the first of the week in response to a telegram stating the illness of his mother at McMinnville. He left the court house party about 13 miles north of Tillamook, on the Nehalem beach.

—All members of the Rebekah Lodge are requested to be present at the next regular meeting. Important business.

—Hair cutting, 25 cents; Shaving 10 cents, at the City Shaving Parlors. Open from 7:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. Hot or cold baths—Phillips and Colestock, Main street, opposite Tualatin Hotel.

—Good money is scarce enough, but the spurious is getting altogether too plentiful for comfort. W. D. Bradford obtained possession of a $10 gold piece the other day, and strange to say, it was not a $10 gold piece, but a very clever imitation. Look out for them, and give all coins a practical test.

—Both mills at the station have been busily engaged in receiving wheat. Most farmers are disposing of a portion of their crop and will hold the rest for higher prices.

—Buy your apple boxes of R. H. Greer's. Cheap.

—Mrs. M. S. Daly, of this city, has been quite ill for several weeks.

—L. L. Hawkins, of the Ainsworth National bank, Portland, was in the city last evening, on a social visit to the Ross place, where the Ainsworth people are rusticated.

—Look at the Coast Carriage & Wagon Co.'s ad in another column.

—Portland has raised $10,000 for an exposition and an admittance fee of 25 cents only will be charged. An endeavor will be made to furnish home features, and a good exhibit is anticipated.

—Somebody Waiting.

That barrel of cider just cellared! Oit it praises the poets have sung—'Twill be mellow and sassy next winter, When we'll drink from a straw through the bung.
