WHO IS TO BLAME.

It is a fact, which no one can in any measure of success dispute, that when the democratic congress was elected the nation was then in the throes of a great financial panic. The result of the election was marvelous, for the whole commonwealth seemed to raise in its strength to overturn political conditions before the policy ruined the country.

Still, it is unfortunate in the extreme that the democrats came into power at this juncture, for the severe depression, then in a great degree obtaining, for the future inevitable as it were, would be, and has been by many who reason not from cause to effect, laid at the door of democratic administration, and no doubt there are many today who attribute the ills of the nation to democratic policy, simply not taking the trouble to logically determine the why and the wherefore.

Forgetful of the fact, that for years the industrial condition of the government was being sorely menaced; that business houses were daily failing throughout the land; that appropriations had been made without reserve and even the least of judgment from public exchequers: that public office has, since war time, been considered a private snap and that one administration could not remove and obliterate all these evils, there are many censuring the democratic party for the legitimate result of an unwise policy perpetrated on the people by republicans for nearly thirty years.

If the times were so good, as many of the republican newspaper men would have one believe, why did so many republicans vote the democratic ticket when Cleveland and both houses were elected? The answer is simple enough, for these people clearly saw the cause of the depression which was incubated for years and hatched 18 months prior to the last presidential election.

Democrats who have any pride in their political principles should recognize these things and not go after false Gods. The panic had to come, and as stated before, it was democracy's misfortune that it came into power too late to check the ruthless ravages of many years of g. o. p. rule.

Just where Theosophists prove that the "consciousness of the human man," after leaving the coarseness, is cognizant of all things that are in this plane, is not easily perceived. That they may be correct in their holdings is true, but as yet they have placed no evidence other than hearsay before the people, and that is insufficient. A theosophist at Portland recently stated the above at a lecture, and it was published in one of the dailies. Doubtless he meant to have said that "he believed the consciousness to be cognizant, etc.," and had he so stated and then added that such a philosophy would do much to elevate mankind, he might have secured for himself much admiration.

If a city desire substantial growth, it should have organization, just as business enterprises warrant. Up in Eastern Oregon, a commercial association was formed a few years ago, and this body has been a great factor in the upbuilding of an Oregon town. Through its efforts last year a scouring mill was secured and now they are making great headway towards getting a woolen mill as another of its enterprises. Hillsboro has a field for numerous industries of this kind but nothing will be done until there is preconcerted action. This city might profit by Pendleton's experience.

The Searchlight editor says he did not know what a scawlag was until "THE ARGUS" gave the facts. Ignorance has always been the plea of dishonesty. Had he looked at the circuit court records after the Oakland Home Insurance Co. concluded their suit he might have discovered just what kind of a being he was. Of course he will still have some following as such people generally do.

SUICIDE seems to be growing in popularity these times. Of all ways foolish, this, it would appear, is the most absurd of offenses one's troubles. Whilst it takes some nerve to get to the pitch of self murder, there is but one way for reasonable people to consider it. It is the coward's way to avoid the struggles of life, which, like danger, are always greater in the horoscope of the future, than are they when in present contact.

THE Oregon Road Club, an organization recently effected in Portland, is soliciting members amongst the newspaper men of Oregon. They appear to realize the benefits to be derived from such membership and have magnanimously offered to remit the initiative fee and one-half the monthly dues to this class. This offer may be deemed generous enough, and doubtless it is, but the club evidently forgets that the press generally works for the elimination of all public improvements and in many instances without remuneration. With these conditions obtaining, THE ARGUS waives the kind proffer, and submits that while it might have the ability to appreciate a membership on a "ministerial" basis, that it does not care to pay for the work which it conscientiously owes the public, when it can do that work just as well without expere.

Pague's Report.

WESTERN OREGON.
The week has been cool, cloudy and showery. On the 20th a heavy thunder storm, accompanied by hail, occurred in Douglas county. Friday and Saturday nights were foggy, cool, accompanied by heavy frosts. The temperature for the week ranged from 58 to 70 degrees.

CROPS.
The frosts were heavy enough, in localities, to injure vegetation; but no material damage was done, for most all products have matured. The rain was not heavy enough to materially interfere with hop picking, though the threatening weather had a depressing effect upon the pickers, and as a result many yards have been abandoned before the hops were thoroughly picked. The condition of the hops is hard to determine. Some owners claim that the rains have done no injury while others claim it has. It is safe to say that had it not been for the rains more picking would have been done and more hops would have been baled.

Harvest of all crops is about over; the hop picking will be finished this week. Prune drying continues, and has been very successful. The potato crop is now drying and will soon be stored for winter shipment and use. During the season of growth the rainfall was so light as to have an injurious effect upon the potato crop.

The ground is sufficiently well moistened as to allow of plowing, but owing to this being the period of fairs, etc., it is somewhat delayed.

The season throughout has been fairly favorable to farming operations and to the development of the farm products. Harvest is practically over, and as these holdings are for the period of planting to harvest, they will be discontinued with this issue for the current year.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

—A Mr. Roach, who has not been here since 1866, is in the city from Cowitz county. He at one time lived on the Sam Williams' place. Mr. Roach is here to take back the remains of a child buried long years ago.

—S. Williams, who has a brother living above Glencoe, died Saturday last. Deceased lately returned from a trip to California for his health.

—H. P. Ford, of the shrievalty, returned Wednesday from a trip to Puget Sound. He reports that there are thousands of acres of hops not being picked over there.

—One of John Carstens' little boys was caught on a shaft at the wash and door factory Saturday evening last, resulting in a fractured arm. The revolving machinery tore nearly all his clothing from him, when the parent, hearing his cries stopped the engine. The belt slipped however, before the machinery ceased to move, or it might have cost the lad his life.

—J. I. Knight made a nice shipment of exhibits to the Exposition the first of the week. He is ready for more.

—The State Fair at Salem is drawing its usual number of sight-seers from Washington County.

HOW TO SHIP EXHIBITS

A Circular Letter from the Chairman on Exhibits.

REURISTS IMMEDIATE SHIPMENT

And Gives Explicit Directions for Shippers—Read Carefully.

The following letter speaks for itself:

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 21, 1895.
The Exposition will open October 5th, two weeks from date hereof. It is necessary to have everything in place on the opening day. Many people throughout Oregon have promised to send us articles and produce for exhibit and we are very anxious to have them at once.

A large space has been set off for the exhibit of agriculture, horticulture, mineral, fish and forestry specimens, and to fill this space every person who promised to send something and everyone who has anything to exhibit should forward the same not later than the 28th inst., and earlier if possible. Many counties will have county exhibits; to them must be added many individual exhibits from other sections to make the state exhibit complete. We want grain of all kinds in sack and in the straw and we want grasses of all kinds; we would like to make a good corn exhibit. We want a large quantity of dried fruit in boxes for exhibit, and loose dried fruit that we can use for decorative purposes. We want fresh fruit for table exhibit; this will be a speciality, so send us wrapped in paper and carefully packed, fresh fruit not quite ripe. We want hops in large and small bales and loose hops. We want all kinds of manufactured articles, brick, tiles, brooms, wash tubs, step-ladders, brushes, buckets, wagons, chairs and all articles made from Oregon wood, clay, etc. We want minerals—our mineral exhibit will be especially attractive. We want the greatest variety of vegetables that can be obtained; and briefly, we want everything to show the progress and advancement of Oregon in all lines.

All specimens should be addressed as per enclosed card and when so addressed will be carried by the railroad companies, as FREIGHT, free of charge:

For CHAS. H. HUNT,
Superintendent
OREGON INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION,

Please put your name and address on your exhibit, in order that you may have credit for it. Such articles as may be desired will be returned at the close of the Exposition. Hops in bales and salmon in cases will be turned over to such warehouse or commission house as the exhibitor directs. Where an individual desires to make a personal exhibit of his produce or manufacture, the railroad will charge full freight rate to this city, and return same free of charge; except if the exhibit is perishable and it is unfit to be returned, then the railroad will refund the money paid for freight charges.

Everything is promising for a large, successful and interesting Exposition. Special railroad excursions will be run at intervals, when the fare will be for the round trip less than the present fare for a single way.

Please to forward your exhibit or specimen for exhibit at once.
Very respectfully,
B. S. PAGUE, Chm'n.

NEW COINAGE OF SILVER.

The free and unlimited coinage of silver, the product of American mines, the old ratio of 16 of silver to 1 of gold, is the only solution of our monetary condition of trade, manufacture and general business of the country. The surreptitious act of 1873, divorcing silver and gold in our monetary system, was a crime of untold magnitude. It was the rankest kind of class legislation in favor of the wealthy against the producers of wealth, and hostile to the prosperity of the United States. It was an act of treason because done at the instance of a European syndicate and for bribe money, "giving aid and comfort to our country's enemies." To shield the guilty parties, the well authenticated facts, often published, have been vigorously denied.

The Enquirer will continue to expose this unpardonable crime until right and justice are done the people by the full restoration of silver to its old companionship with gold. We need the assistance of the people in disseminating the truth, to which end we invite all in your selection of papers for the coming season to include the Enquirer, that costs only $1.00 a year. (Issued twice a week.) Liberal commissions and cash rewards given to club raisers. Sample copies free. ENQUIRER COMPANY, Cincinnati, O.
