The Hillsboro K. of P. team will go to Cornelius Saturday night and confer the Knights' rank on C. C. Hancock and Ben Cornelius, son of the late Jesse.

Wm. Frazier, was in the city the other day. Mr. Frazier recently purchased a fine black team from Mr. Milne. It will be remembered that he buys for the U. S. Army.

Moses McCoy is now confined in the county bastille awaiting the action of the Grand Jury. McCoy was held by Justice Hughes to answer a charge of conspiracy to obtain money on false pretense.

Many remarks are being passed relative to the services now held at the Congregational church. Rev. Evan P. Hughes is forcible and eloquent, and a thorough master of his subject and the Congregational people are well pleased with their new regime.

It is rumored that Hon. C. P. Yates will receive a place on the republican ticket for joint senator. Owing to the fact that a nomination almost to a certainty means election, it is said that Forest Grove and Hillsboro have several candidates each, for state senator.

The political situation is becoming interesting and the usual tactics are being used by practical politicians. Taxpayer, Equal Justice and Republican three "nom de plumes," have captured the columns and are running riot with the Independent. "The world do move."

In the article on the second page touching upon the question of the appropriation bill, and how Washington county members voted thereon, it is proper to state that the vote as given by house members is on the original bill, which was some $20,000 less than after the senate amendments were attached. The record, or House Journal, gives no chronicle as to how members voted after the senate amendments were received.

It is the community at or near a locality that makes property valuable. Take away your community from Hillsboro, or any other city, and your values are gone. It is not, then, politic to be too radical with the laboring classes, for it is these which create the true value, everywhere, primarily.

The school meeting yesterday, for this city and district, decided to have but six months school the ensuing year, and voted an 8-mill tax. As Hillsboro children learn rapidly, the intellectual average will even then rank with places where more school is held.

The governor has stated that he will call no extra session. He says the Telegram and Oregonian are the only papers of note which favor one, and seems to think public sentiment rather against the reconvening of the law-makers.

THE FIREMEN WILL CELEBRATE

Annual Ball Will be Held at the Opera House.

FRIDAY EVENING FEBRUARY 14th

An Endeavor Will be Made to Make This the Greatest Occasion of the Kind--West Side Departments to Attend.

Department Ball.

It has been years since the Hillsboro Fire Department attempted an entertainment such as it will hold on St. Valentine's day. The fire ladders are determined to hold a ball, and it will doubtless be a grand affair. The people of Hillsboro will turn out in round numbers, as they all appreciate the relation the fire department bears to the interests of the city, and the several committees will do the rest. The opera house will be the scene of festivities, and the best of music will be secured. The floor committee is one of the best, and their names insure perfect order. Supper will be served, as no ball is a success without refreshments to the inner man. The opera house will be tastily decorated and the boys will do their utmost to make all attending feel the hospitality of the Hillsboro Fire Department in a quantity not of minor proportions. Following are the committees:

- Executive—T. S. Weathered, J. B. Wilkes, J. M. Wall, U. G. Hanna, Jos. Schulmerich, L. A. Long. Music—D. W. Dobbins, Dr. C. B. Brown, W. W. McKinney. Floor Managers—J. I. Knight, U. G. Hanna, G. A. Wehrung, W. D. Bradford, W. H. Wehrung, G. W. Patterson. Supper—H. Schulmerich, A. M. Carlile, Jos. Schulmerich, C. Koch, Geo. Bagley, W. D. Wood. Decorations—W. Boucsein, Jas. Cave, Johns. Freeman, W. V. Wiley, H. F. Behrens, John Beauchamp. Printing—Frank Williams, W. V. Wiley, L. A. Long. G. A. Wehrung has been appointed a committee on ball, and James Lamkin, the veteran fireman, will take charge of the door. The entire department will be a committee on invitation. Will the Hillsboro firemen have a good time? Everybody thinks so.

"Naythur" of Them. The two factions of republicans, Dolph and Anti-Dolph, which glorified the party at Salem last winter, in their scant legislation and fullness of appropriation, remind one of the Irish boy who was watching a fellow playing cards. This boy, who stood behind one of the players, made casual remarks about the poor playing. After awhile the player turned and said: "See here, my boy, who is playing this hand, you or I?" "Naythur, be Jabers," was the prompt reply. This is the way of the two factions which constituted the whole. Neither did anything.

A CELEBRATED SUIT-AT-LAW

Suit for the Removal of a Mill Dam.

SITUATED ON TUALATIN RIVER

Aplin's Dam is the Bone of Contention--Evidence Now Being Taken by Referee Benton Bowman.

Injunction Asked For.

The case of Gaston v. Aplin has been having a hearing at the court house this week, before Referee Benton Bowman. The merits of the case touch upon Aplin's flour mill at Dilley, complainants claiming the dam obstructs the flow of water from Wapato Lake. The taking of testimony is long and arduous, but not devoid of interest. In the pleadings complainants set up that thousands of acres are not properly drained, owing to the presence of the dam; that it has worked a hardship on the fish in said Tualatin river; that said Tualatin river is a navigable stream; that logs and timber, in which the country above is abundant, can not float down; that said dam creates an overflow and a constant deposit on agricultural lands; that the condition makes malaria profusely abundant, besides numerous other recitals. The main point of the pleadings seems to be the contention that the mill owners are not using the dam, but operate by steam power, and expect to be generously paid by the setlers for removing the much abused obstruction. Plaintiffs further allege that no fish ladder is maintained as required by statute. They ask the Court to issue an injunction ordering the removal of the dam, for cost and disbursements of the action, and such further relief as may be met and equitable. Hon. Jas. Gaston represents the plaintiff and Hon. T. H. Tongue is counsel for the defense. The case is one of considerable importance and will be watched with interest. The dam, it is said, was originally built about 30 years ago.

They raise "some pork" out west also. The Hillsboro, Ore., Argus has this item: "Washington county is always to the front, and its motto seems 'whole hog or none.'" R. S.
