CUBAN DUNGEONS

Americans Imprisoned in Filthy Quarters.

CASE OF THOMAS H. DAWLEY

Consul-General Lee Is Investigating the Condition of the Prisoners Dawley's Letter.

Havana, June 10 .- A local paper prints an interview with Consul-General Lee on the subject of his mission, in which he is quoted as saying that he came to inform himself on the problem presented in Cuba, and would report to Washington with strict impartiality and justice.

The reasons why he was selected were, first, his great friendship for Cleveland, with whom he is identified in ideas and sentiment; and, second, having commanded General R. E. Lee's cavalry and been accustomed to reconnoitre, he better than anybody else is able to understand the kind of war the insurgents are waging.

Consul-General Lee has visited the several Americans imprisoned in Cabanas fortress. He found the competitor men very wretched and in filthy quarters. He will apply for their relief at once.

It is reported that no formal change has yet been made in the case of Thomas R. Dawley, the correspondent of Harper's. It is expected he will be released soon. He complains that his arms were tied behind him when he was arrested, and that he was threatened with death because he could not carry baggage. General Lee has re-ceived this letter from Dawley, written in prison:

"Sir-I have the honor to call your attention to the fact that I am an American citizen, and am now imprisoned in military prison without having had any hearing. I took up my residence in Artemisa about the 1st of May last. The celador of the place threatened me with arrest at the time because I was an American. I obtained permission from the officer in command there to remain. About a week ago this officer came to Havana and General Melquiso went to Artemisa. The celador then tried again and succeeded in having me arrested. I am confined among political prisoners who are awaiting court-

New York, June 10 .- The World today says: After twenty years spent in organizing and accompanying expeditions to the uninhabited island of Coops, four hundred miles southwest of Panama: where he believed he would find the tens of millions of treasure which the pirate Morgan is said to have buried there, Richard W. Armstrong, of San Francisco, has come Sast to sue a wealthy Boston man, who he says, stole his maps and discovered his treasure. Waldor H. Phillips has taken his case. In the 40s, Armstrong says his father met an old Spaniard, sick and without friends. He provided for him, and on his deathbed, the wichh, he said, the treasure could be found. The father died and several expeditions were fitted out, but failed, through fights among themselves. Two years ago, Armstrong says an trees and boulders. General Deficiency Bill Signed. Washington, June 10.-The presiTHE SEAL FISHERIES.

HILLSBORO, OREGON, THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1896.

Sehring Sea Treaty With England

Washington, June 10.—President Cleveland and the queen of Great Britain will officially proclaim within a few days the Behring sea convention, which their respective governments have entered into. The senate made public the text of the treaty which provides for the appointment of a joint commission to agcertain the amount of damages by the owners of British sealing vessels seized in Behring sea by United States revenue cutters before they had authority to do so under the terms of the modus vivendi or the approved decision of the Paris arbitration

No definite selection has yet been made so far as learned, of the United States representative on the commission. It is thought Professor D. F. Dal, an expert in seal life, who is connected with the naval museum here, has about the best chance of securing the place. It is not believed that Great Britain will be far behind the president in making its selection, as it is the desire of both governments to have the matter settled as soon as possible.

The long preamble of the convention recites the facts of the treaty of 1892, and the failure of the tribunal of arbitration provided by it to amicably settle all matters in dispute and specify the additional British scaling vessels which have claims against the United States.

The convention proper provides that all claims arising under the treaty of 1892, and the award and findings of the tribunal of arbitration, shall be referred to the commissioners, one appointed by Great Britain and the other by the United States. The commissioners are to meet at Victoria, B. C. If either so requests, they shall also sit in San Francisco. Decisions reached by the commissioners in each claim shall be accepted by the two govern-ments as final. They are given full authority to examine under oath every question of fact not found by the tribunal of arbitration, and shall have power to procure or enforce testimony, as may hereafter be provided by legislation. If in any case the commissioners fail to agree, the differences shall be referred for final adjustment to an umpire, to be appointed by the two governments jointly, or in case of a disagreement, to be nominated by the president of the Swiss confederation.

The amount awarded to Great Britain under the convention is to be paid by the United States within six months after the award is made.

News of the throwing of the bomb spread like wildfire over the city, and aused a panic among the crowds drawn to the streets by the religious festival and the Sunday merrymaking usual to the city. The explosion occurred just as the Coprus Christi porcession was entering the beautiful and ancient church of Santa Maria del Mar. This is one of the most thickly populated portions of the city. The sound of the explosion and the distressed cries of the injured and the friends of the killed created an indescribable panic among the great crowd in the procession and the lookers on. Dervish Stronghold Taken by Egyptian Troops.

KHALIFA LOST A THOUSAND MEN

The Attack Was a Complete Surprise. but the Dervishes Were Finally

Fierket, Egypt, June 9.-This point was taken by Egyptian troops at an early hour this morning, and their manner of acquitting themselves in this, the first engagement of the Nile campaign, has given great satisfaction to the British officers in command of them. The Egyptian forces left Akasheh last evening, and the movement was a surprise, as it seemed to have been determined to hold Ahasheh as an outpost until the season was passed and the period arrived for the advance upon Dongola in the latter part of August or in September. The force responded promptly to orders, however, and was soon under way for this point. The distance is twenty miles. The greatest secrecy had been maintained as to all the arrangements, and precautions were taken to prevent the news of the advance from leaking out.

The long night march was pursued in absolute silence, in consequence of which the arrival of the Egyptians at the dervishes' camp took the enemy compleely by surprise. They quickly rallied, however, and rushed to arms. Far from being routed in the first skirmish of the attack, they stood to their positions and made a stubborn defense of the camp for an hour and a half, during which there was hard fighting.

The dervishes were finally put to rout by a flank movement, executed by the cavalry. Seeing themselves in danger of being surrounded, the forces of the khalifa took flight to the southward toward Suarda, pursued by the cavalry. Suarda is nearly 100 miles south of here, but is strongly held by a force of several thousand dervishes.

Reports received indicate that the oss to the dervishes will amount to 1,000 men. Among those killed is the Emir Hammuda, who was their commander, besides many important chiefs. Hammuda was in command of the largest force at Suarda. He was one of the tribe of Habbania, and was well known to Slatin Pasha while the later was a captive of the khalifa in the Soudan.

Washington, June 6.—The senate had one of the busiest sessions of this congress today Late in the day the filled-cheese bill passed, as it came from the house, by a vote of 37 to 13, thus completing the legislation on this subject. The measure is analogous to the oleomargarine law. The bill defines "filled cheese" to embrace "all substance made of milk, or skimmed milk, with the admixture of butter, animal oils or fats, vegetables or any other oils or compounds foreign to such milk, and made in imitation or semblance of cheese." Manufacturers of filled cheese are taxed $400 annually; wholesale dealers, $250; retail dealers, $12. In addition to these taxes, the roduct itself is taxed 1 cent per pound, and, if imported, filled cheese is taxed 8 cents per pound in addition to the import duty.
