A QUESTIONABLE PATRIOTISM.

Those New York money speculators who are now endeavoring to bolster up the gold reserve are substantially the same parties who for several months have been assaulting the same. This action, considered in the light of common sense is but for the nonce feeding up the goose that lays for them the golden egg. The gold standard papers, with an insistence which has no other interpretation than to call the masses a set of fools, call this action "patriotism." The truth of the matter is it has no [illegible] they have already gone so far that the people will rise in wrath and do away with a system which means bonds in the time of peace.

This trafficing in bonds and repeated assaults on the gold reserve are all necessary adjuncts to a continuance of the gold standard, and the Jewish "patriots" feel that the people might resent these repeated assaults, being that an election is so close to hand. The assumption that their move to protect the treasury is patriotism is so very ridiculous, so completely an assumption that the average American citizen is a fool, that even a "free silver fool" can see through this bit of demagogy. It is such questionable patriotism that will cause the common people to vote for W. J. Bryan for president.

WANT TO BE FAIR.

THE ARGUS wants to be fair and for the benefit of its readers will give the only available gold standard arguments now running in press editorials, showing that republicans are right on the money question. In this it is not meant the average republican voter, who always wants to vote right, but the leaders who propose to hold the republicans, rank and file, by the nose and vote them straight by such arguments as these:

"Free Silver Lunacy."
"Fifty Cent Dollars."
"Anarchists."
"Fools."
"Repudiationists."

These are but a few samples of republican press argument and no comment is necessary.

JUST now the gold standard press are taking the position that the democratic platform is one of dishonor and assert theirs is the only honest and virtuous platform. There is an old adage [illegible] and extant, that [illegible] idea to wa[illegible] always pra[illegible] or a woman [illegible] lauding her virtue.

THE Oregonian is very quick to report defections of sound money democrats from the Chicago ticket but there is a painful void as to those republicans and republican papers who are bolting the republican platform and candidates.

STRONG CONVERT TO BRYAN.

Ex-Congressman Bingham, an Ohio Republican, Bolts His Party.

CADIZ, OHIO, July 26.—John A. Bingham, one of the oldest republican leaders in the state, has bolted the ticket and will support Bryan and Sewall. Mr. Bingham was a leader in congress during the war, and was United States Minister to Japan for eight years under President Grant. He represented the government in the prosecution of Mrs. Surratt for complicity in the assassination of President Lincoln and assisted the prosecution in the impeachment of Andrew Johnson.

Mr. Bingham was a power in the land during the darkest days of the war. He was Lincoln's trusted friend, and an orator second to none in either house of congress. He is now a very old man. He cannot possibly hope for any benefits to himself personally by the patriotic position he has taken; but his vote is the voice of the honest people who desire nothing but the general good. When such a man as John A. Bingham is at his time of life compelled to leave the republican party because it has betrayed the people, it is time that younger men who have the world before them should reflect before they cast a vote for McKinley, which is a vote for the enslavement of the people including themselves.—Silver Knight-National Watchman.

SHERMAN IN 1869.

"The contraction of the currency is a far more distressing operation than the senators suppose. Our own and other nations have gone through that operation before. It is not possible to take that voyage without the sorest distress. To every person except a capitalist out of debt, or a salaried officer or annuitant, it is a period of loss, danger, lassitude of trade, fall of wages, suspension of enterprise, bankruptcy and disaster. It means ruin of all dealers whose debts are twice their business capital, though one-third less than their total property. It means the fall of all agricultural production, without any great reduction of taxes. What prudent man would dare to build a house, a railroad, a factory or a barn with this certain fact before him."

SHERMAN IN 1896.

"Pile on your distress! I am no common jay of a farmer. Im fixed. Let her rip. It pays to represent your people in congress."

WHAT JOHN H. MITCHELL, OREGON'S U. S. SENATOR, SAID IN 1894.

"In my judgment, that party, whether republican or democratic, which goes into the next presidential contest, either pledged to the single gold standard, or a platform containing a broad straddle on the money question, one susceptible of different constructions, in the expectation of deceiving the great majority of the people, and with a candidate who is unwilling to be understood as being unalterably opposed to the single gold standard in this country, and in favor of the full constitutional demonetization of silver, the coinage of both gold and silver on equal terms at the existing ratio, will [illegible] gold coin generally, [illegible] largely, as [illegible] zation of sil[illegible] its demonetization could be bought with three-fourths of a bushel of wheat, or four pounds of wool, and which now costs three bushels of wheat, and twenty pounds of wool, is not an honest, but a dishonest dollar."

This, and supported by his senate record, is Senator Mitchell's record and position on the money question. According to the republican press howlings, Hon. J. H. Mitchell must be an anarchist! But is he? Is he not one of Oregon's best representatives in the national law-making body.

ENGLAND, with a gold stock many times that of her silver, since 1816 has nearly a dozen times suspended specie payment. Indeed, after the Baring Bros. failed a few years ago, the chancellor of the exchequer announced that owing to the increased competition for gold, a return to bi-metallism was advisable—this is his message to Parliament. Under the gold standard since 1816, England's 135,000 land owners have dwindled away to 30,000! And yet we are asked -here in these United States—to support such a system of finance. Fortunately the farmers are to vote on this question.

How the republicans are kicking because the democrats have put up a man whom the populists can support! And now it is "popocrats" to all who support Bryan? But we would ask our republican friends what they would call the men who supported the republican-populist ticket at Monday's election in Alabama? Would you call them "popicans?" Come, now, don't all speak at once.

"MR." EDWARD ATKINSON says the men who advocate free coinage are "half witted" and the gold bug papers are eagerly printing his gentlemanly expressions and with great avidity placing his wise utterances before the public. Mr. Atkinson is one of Nature's noblemen who believes he has a corner on all the gray matter in the universe and that all other gold standard brains are but reflective flashes from his gigantic intellect. Therefore, he reasons that all opposed, from this assumed fact, are possessed of but "half wit." The wise Mr. Atkinson will have discovered before he dies that it is generally the idiot who tries to establish such a claim of wisdom and after he dies he will find that maggots will equally find a field in his clay along with the "half witted" free silverites. The facetious nincompoop should be called off by his gold standard advocates and supporters before he completely ruins what some of them honestly believe to be an honest cause.

EVERY old line life insurance company has made enormous profits for years and every old line company is today so "honest" that they don't want to see free coinage of silver, because they will have to pay their claims in "50 cent dollars," which they say they will do. They would be immeasurably glad to pay their claims in "50 cent dollars." They would be pleased to do it. They know however that this is all buncombe, this 50 cent business, and if there were anything in it they would not be fighting it. The truth of the matter is there is a great per cent of British capital in these life insurance companies and water can't rise above its own level.

Do not let the word "republican" or "protection" fool you. This is a year when a man will support an American system of finance, or a British system. So long as we have a British system, each year cutting down the actual volume of circulation, just so long Great Britain will get a double standard measure of product for a single standard price. England knows how to grind the poor. For this reason our forefathers broke away from [illegible] own legislation [illegible]. Vote against it. It doesn't matter if your neighbor call you a fool or anarchist. Be an American.

THE less money we have to exchange for our product the less a farmer can get for the result of his toil. This is as England wants it, and as it is, she is just as well off as though we were under her rule—better in fact—for she don't have to call out the regulars to suppress any of our bread riots.

MCKINLEY once said, "A mortgage is evidence of prosperity." This was when McKinley knew he was a mortgaged candidate; hence his deduction. The people, irrespective of party will not bear the Major out in his calculations. That may be the English idea of prosperity, but it is not the American opinion of economic law.

ALABAMA [illegible] democratic notwith[illegible] populist and republicans again fused on their [illegible].

[illegible] TAMMANY Society, of New York, is out for Bryan, and when Tammany endorses look out for a fight to win.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

We declare that the act of 1873 demonetizing silver without the knowledge or approval of the American people has resulted in the appreciation of gold and a corresponding fall in the prices of commodities produced by the people; a heavy increase in the burden of taxation, and of all debts, public and private; the enrichment of the money lending classes at home and abroad; paralysis of industries and impoverishment of the people.

We are unalterably opposed to the single gold standard, which has locked fast the prosperity of an industrious people in the paralysis of hard times. Gold monometalism is a British policy, founded upon British greed for gain and power, and its general adoption has brought other nations into financial servitude to London. It is not only un-American, but anti-American, and it can be fastened upon the United States only by the stifling of that indomitable spirit and love of liberty which proclaimed our political independence in 1776 and won it in the war of the revolution.

We demand the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation. We demand that the standard silver dollar shall be a full legal tender, equally with gold, for all debts, public and private, and we favor such legislation as will prevent the demonetization of any kind of legal-tender money by private contract.

We are opposed to the policy and practice of surrendering to the holders of the obligations of the United States the option reserved by law to the government of redeeming such obligations in either silver or gold coin.

BOND ISSUES.

We are opposed to the issuing of interest bearing bonds of the United States in time of peace, and condemn the trafficking with banking syndicates, which, in exchange for bonds at an enormous profit to themselves, supply the federal treasury with gold to maintain the policy of gold monometalism.

Congress alone has the power to coin and issue money, and President Jackson declared that this power could not be delegated to corporations or individuals. We therefore demand that the power to issue notes be taken from the banks, and that all paper shall be issued directly by the treasury department. We hold that tariff duties should be levied solely for the purpose of revenue, and that taxation should be limited by the needs of the government, honestly and economically administered.

THE TARIFF.

We denounce as disturbing to business the republican threat to restore the McKinley law, which has been twice condemned by the people in national elections, and which, enacted under the false plea of protection to home industry, proved a prolific breeder of trusts and monopolies, enriching the few at the expense of the many, restricted trade and deprived the producers of the American staples of access to their natural markets. Until the money question is settled, we are opposed to any agitation for further changes in our tariff laws, except such as are necessary to make up the deficit in revenue, caused by the adverse decision of the supreme court as to the income tax."

Besides this they will doubtless ask for constitutional amendment to allow congress to pass the income tax.
