

ITS LESSON.

When the hard times people will reap from experience, learning how to act with more care in business and how to appreciate the stringency of such times. With more care we will have less accidents, and much less suffering if we know the true remedy. In the field and work shop, indeed in all activities, sprains and bruises happen and bring the hard times of pain and suffering. Experience teaches that it is always best to get the true remedy, which is the cheapest in the long run. Experience points to St. Jacobs Oil without question the best remedy for such mishaps, being the surest and promptest cure. Suffering brings hard times even in prosperity. The best remedy for it is the surest way out of them.

Immense deposits of asbestos have been discovered in the Ferris range of mountains in Carbon county, Wyoming.

A poor family that seeks the western fields in the hope of winning a fortune, is reared from that insidious foe of the emigrant and frontiersman—chills and fever—by Hostetter's Stomach Balm. So effectively does that incomparable medicinal defense fortify the system against the combined influence of a malarious atmosphere and miasmatic miasms, that protected by it the pioneer, the miner or the tourist provided with it, may safely encounter the danger.

There is no substitute for thorough-going, ardent and sincere earnest.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—efforts that are in comfort in knowledge—many forms of actual disease, such as constipated conditions, which the pleasant family favorite, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts.

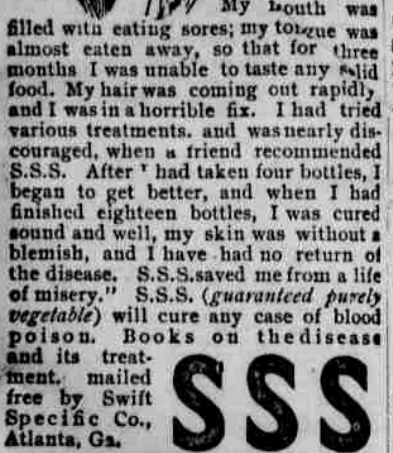

The genuine article, the genuine article, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists. If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Blood Poison.

Contagious Blood Poison has been appropriately called the curse of mankind. It is the one disease that physicians cannot cure; their mercurial and other remedies only bottle up the poison in the system, to surely break out in some more virulent form, ready to wreck the system.

Mr. Frank B. Jeweler at 926 Broadway, New York, says: "I was for a long time under treatment of two of the best physicians of this city, for a severe case of blood poison, but my condition grew worse all the while, notwithstanding the fact that they charged me three hundred dollars."

My mouth was filled with eating sores; my tongue was almost eaten away, so that for three months I was unable to taste any solid food. My hair was coming out rapidly, and I was in a horrible fix. I had tried various treatments, and was nearly discouraged, when a friend recommended S.S.S. After I had taken four bottles, I began to get better, and when I had finished eighteen bottles, I was cured and well, my skin was without a blemish, and I have had no return of the disease. S.S.S. saved me from a life of misery. S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) will cure any case of blood poison. CONGRESS IN SESSION.

Senate. The United States senate began its second session of the fifty-fourth congress with crowded galleries and with that accompaniment of activity and of greeting that usually attends the reassembling of congress. But the upper branch of congress never puts aside its dignity, and the meeting developed no demonstrations of dramatic interest. The reading of the president's message was the feature of the proceedings, and beyond this no attempt was made to enter upon the business of the session. To many of the foreign representatives occupying the diplomatic gallery, the message had special interest and significance, owing to the part they had taken in the conspicuous foreign events to which the president referred. On the floor of the senate printed copies of the message were distributed, and these gave the senators opportunity of reading. There was a small attendance after the reading had proceeded beyond the first half hour. After the usual formality of laying the message on the table, the senate, on motion of Hale, adjourned.

House.

While the scenes attending the opening of the house were both brilliant and interesting in the crowds that thronged the galleries, and the conspicuous personages present, the proceedings themselves were dull and spiritless, being distinctively routine. The house met, the chaplain invoked the divine blessing on the work of the session, the roll was called, and a committee was appointed to wait upon the president, and the latter's annual communication was read. The reading consumed about two hours. The holiday nature of the day was saddened by the announcement of the death of ex-Speaker Crisp, which Turner of Georgia formally made to his associates. Out of respect to the memory of the distinguished Georgian, the house, after adopting appropriate resolutions, immediately adjourned.

The Jury Didn't See Him Shoot.

John Thiel, who was supposed to have fired the shot that entered the head of a young girl at a wedding party in Ritzville, Wash., has been acquitted by a jury. It was proved that he borrowed the gun, and that the shot was fired from the gun, but no one saw him fire it, and so the jury discharged him.

A Brutal Murder.

Intense excitement prevails in East St. Louis over the brutal murder of Christopher Ludwig, aged 52, by Harry Schmelzer, aged 28. Schmelzer struck Ludwig on the head with an ax, killing him instantly. The murderer escaped, but is being pursued by a posse.

On His Way to Mexico.

Percival Lowell, of Boston, whose astronomical researches with reference to the inhabitability of the planet mars have commanded wide attention, is now on his way to the City of Mexico, near where he has created an observatory. He will have with him in Mexico a distinguished party of scientific men, and it is the purpose to continue the investigations in that country for at least two years, if the climatic conditions prove favorable.

Swallowed Morphine.

Lizzie Emerson, a handsome woman, about 25 years of age, swallowed a dose of morphine, with suicidal intent, in San Francisco. When discovered she was taken to the receiving hospital, but soon after expired. The woman came to San Francisco from Seattle about three months ago. To friends she said that her husband had died about two months previously, leaving her with a little girl to support. She could find no means of supporting herself and child, and becoming despondent, decided to end her life.

OUR FLAG INSULTED.

Old Glory Trampled Upon by Turkish Officers.

New York, Dec. 7.—A letter from an American missionary for nearly twenty years a resident of Constantinople has been received by Rev. Dr. Strong, secretary of the American Evangelical League, which confirms the recent statement of Rev. Dr. Cyrus Hamlin with relation to the status of Americans and the American flag in Turkey, especially with regard to the occasion when the flag was torn and trampled upon in an Armenian village. The letter is dated September 30, and says: "The rascally police officer, Hassan Chausch, who tore down and destroyed our flag, was caught the Sunday following the massacre, with $500 upon him, obtained from the Armenians on his promise to save their lives, and whom he had treacherously given up to death. Everybody is asking whether Mr. Terrell will do anything to vindicate the honor of our flag, but as yet we hear of nothing being done."

Another letter from Constantinople dated September 30, only five days after the occurrence, says: "Haskey, the house which Mr. Gleason and Mrs. Seavey occupied, was looted and the servant left in charge doubtless lost his life. Men wearing uniforms headed the mob which attacked the house and pulled down and tore to shreds the United States flag that had been hung out."

A DARING HOLD-UP.

Highwaymen Loot the Office of a St. Louis Brewing Company.

St. Louis, Dec. 7.—Three highwaymen, with drawn revolvers, entered the office of the Home Brewing Company, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and held up the cashier, Robert Haverkamp, forcing him to hand over $400, and then, not being satisfied with the amount, went behind the counter, looted the money drawers and secured from $500 to $800 additional.

When the hold-up occurred, there were present in the office the cashier, a half dozen clerks and several customers. Two of the robbers held the occupants of the office in line while the other went through the safe and money drawers.

When the robbers had taken all the money and ransacked the drawers, they required nearly ten minutes, and it seems marvelous that they were not discovered.

Having bound their victims, the robbers warned them against making a noise under pain of instant death.

When the thieves had gone out, one of the clerks managed to free himself and then liberated the others. The police were at once notified by telephone.

Upon leaving the office, the robbers mounted a North Broadway car and went south when they left the car and went toward the river. The brewery employees were unable to give the police good descriptions of the men.

CAPTURED A BURGLAR.

Fleaky Act of a Woman Who Found a Man in Her Room.

Portland, Or., Dec. 7.—Mrs. E. E. Liddy of this city, made a plucky capture at 1:30 o'clock this morning of an aged sneakthief, who was in the act of breaking into her house. She was eating lunch upstairs with a woman, when she thought she heard a window raised in one of the side rooms, downstairs, and, rushing down, she opened a door just in time to see a man, who was half-inside an open window, make a hurried exit.

The street door was near at hand, and Mrs. Liddy, who is a muscular woman, ran out just in time to see the thief running up the street. The woman ran after him and caught him.

"What d'yer want?" exclaimed the thief, at the same time trying to break away from the woman, who had hold of his collar. "I want you," answered Mrs. Liddy, as she took a firmer hold and began walking her prisoner back to the house.

A woman in the house telephoned the police station, and when the patrol wagon arrived, Mrs. Liddy turned her prisoner over to Officer Nicolai.

TRAVELS OF HIMMAN.

Fought a Pitched Battle in a California Town.

Angel's Camp, Cal., Dec. 7.—A pitched battle was fought on the streets of Angel's Camp this evening between two officers and Robert Himman, the desperado who is wanted at Roseburg, Or., for breaking jail and shooting a deputy sheriff. Before the constable had an opportunity to prepare for Himman's arrest, he broke away and ran up the street, which was full of people. The officers followed him, firing at every step. Himman turned and took a shot at each of his pursuers, but without effect. The officers' ammunition was finally exhausted, and they were obliged to give up the pursuit, while their man disappeared in the darkness. A posse was organized and sent in pursuit, but up to a late hour he had not been found. It is thought by the officers that he was hit by one of the shots.

Burned to Death.

May Die of Old Age.

San Francisco, Dec. 9.—The Durrant murder case came up again in the supreme court today, on a motion to dismiss the order of submission made at Los Angeles several weeks ago. As was expected, another delay resulted, the matter going over for two weeks. It is impossible to foretell when a decision in the case will be rendered by the court, inasmuch as the case has not yet been formally submitted. Meanwhile, Durrant is threatened with the frightful possibility of dying of old age behind prison bars.

VENEZUELA ACCEPTS IT.

The Arbitration Agreement Satisfactory to the Republic.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Secretary Olney has just received a cablegram from Senor Andrade, Venezuelan minister to Washington, now in Caracas, stating that the Venezuelan government has accepted the agreement reached by the United States and Great Britain for the arbitration of the boundary dispute, and an extra session of the Venezuelan congress has been called to consider it. Thus the last obstacle to the amicable settlement of the dispute will be removed.

The following statement given out at the state department embraces all the information in the possession of the department respecting the treatment by Venezuela of the proposed treaty:

"Secretary Olney received this morning a telegram from Minister Andrade, at Caracas, in effect that the memorandum agreed on between Great Britain and the United States for settlement of the Venezuela boundary question is accepted by the Venezuela government; that the memorandum will be published at Caracas this afternoon, and that an extra session of the Venezuela congress will be called as soon as possible that the memorandum may be carried into effect by necessary treaty between Great Britain and Venezuela.

The department also made public the text of the heads of the treaty, as agreed upon between Great Britain and the United States, showing that the advance publication through the Associated Press was perfectly accurate.

TOSSED IN THE AIR.

Three Men Were Blown Up With Dynamite.

Prairie, Wash., Dec. 9.—An attempt was made here last night to blow up with dynamite three men who were sleeping in the same building. The men were J. C. and C. L. LaPlante, owners of a shingle mill, and L. D. Walters, their engineer. About 2 o'clock in the morning they awoke, to find themselves being lifted into the air. A moment later they came down and went through the floor with the beds in which they had been sleeping, and the debris of the building fell on top of them. The men were partially stunned, but they pulled themselves out, and made their way to a neighbor's house, a quarter of a mile distant. The house was completely wrecked, with its contents, the timbers being smashed to kindling wood, and the bedding torn to shreds. Under the floor was a large hole in the ground, caused by the explosion, and the supposition is that the dynamite was placed in a bag, poked under the house, and then fired. It was a miracle that the men escaped, everything else being utterly destroyed.

HEAD END COLLISION.

Train Crew Went to Sleep and Got Matters Mixed.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 8.—A head-on collision between two through freight trains on the Southern Pacific near Waelder this morning, resulted in the death of two engineers, two firemen and brakeman. The crew of the east-bound freight went to sleep, waiting on a blind siding, and on waking, thinking the second section of the through west-bound freight was the third section of the train, took to the main track. The weather was foggy, and the east-bound freight and the third section of the west-bound train came together a few miles from the siding. A relief train was sent from this city with a corps of physicians, and the dead and injured were brought to San Antonio.

AN OREGON WOMAN.

Created a Sensation in a Kansas City Pulpit.

Kansas City, Dec. 8.—Mrs. Helen Dickerson Hartford, of Oregon, national organizer of the W. C. T. U. in this city, by denouncing, in unmeasured terms, the acceptance by the city of a memorial to be erected in the center of the city to the memory of Fred Heim, the brewer, lately deceased. The Heim brothers, who succeeded their father in business, had drawn plans for an imposing structure, to be erected to the deceased's memory, and subsequently tendered it to the city officials. Today, in the course of her sermon, Mrs. Hartford arraigned the city fathers for their action, alluded to the memorial as "monument of infamy" and appealed to the congregation to prevent its erection.

Five Negroes Killed.

Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 9.—A special to the Democrat from Malvern, Ark., says: "What may be regarded as reliable information has just been received here that last Tuesday afternoon at a point midway between Camden and Beardon, on the Cotton Belt railroad, a section gang, composed principally of negroes, with a white foreman, were engaged in improving the roadbed when a gang of unknown persons began firing into the crowd, killing five of them. The foreman claims he did not recognize any of the assassins."

MOONSHINING NO ROMANCE.

Beet with Dangers from Without and Treachery Within the Camp.

He is neither a bandit nor a highwayman, a disturber of the peace nor, in respect to formalities other than the revenue statutes, a lawbreaker. Least of all, perhaps, is he a desperado. Within a month of the present writing a traveler on one of the Tennessee railroads entered the smoking car of the train. In the rear seat sat an officer in charge of a "covey" of moonshiners, flushed by him on the mountain the night before. There were twelve in the party. They had yielded without resistance to one man, and, most singular circumstance of all in the South, the deputy had not found it necessary to put them in irons.

At their trial the members of this party will doubtless plead guilty to a man, though a little hard swearing would probably clear half of them. They will beg for mercy or for light sentences and those of them who promise amendment will most likely never be again brought in on the same charge, for the mountaineer is prone to keep his promise.

A venerable judge, in whom judicial severity is tempered by a generous admixture of loving kindness and mercy, and whose humane decisions have made his name a word to conjure with among the dwellers in the waste places, tells a story which emphasizes the promise-keeping trait in the mountain character. A hardened sinner of the stills, whose first and second offenses were already recorded against him, was once again brought to book by the vigilance of the revenue men. As an old offender, who had neither promised nor repented, it was likely to go hard with him, and he begged not for liberty, but for a commutation of his sentence which would send him to jail instead of the penitentiary, promising that so long as the judge remained upon the bench he would neither make nor meddle with illicit whisky.

He won his case and was sent to jail for a term of eleven months. This was in summer, and six months later, when the first snows began to powder the bleak summits of Chilhowee, the judge received a letter from the convict. It was a simple-hearted petition for a "furlough" of ten days, pathetic and eloquent in its primitive English and quaint misspelling. Would the good judge let him off for just ten days? Winter was coming on, and his wife and children were alone in the cabin on the mountain, with no one to make provision for their wants. He would not overstay the time, and he would "certain shore" come back.

His petition was granted, and, true to his word, the mountaineer returned on the tenth day and gave himself up to the sheriff. He served the remainder of his sentence, and, after his release, kept his pledge to the judge as long as he remained on the bench.—Lippincott's Magazine.

He Walked Behind.

A Japanese diplomat once said to an American, "When I marry I take a head servant; when you marry you become one." A man who recently visited Japan quotes a remark in a somewhat similar vein made by a Japanese interpreter. "I sat one day," he said, "at the door of a dining-room in a hotel in Tokio where all kinds of foreigners were staying, and I watched them as they came in. The Frenchman came in with madame on his arm. Then the Englishman came in so limping that a pompous, self-important personage. And his wife? Oh, she came after him like this (dramatizing a meek and timid woman following). And the American husband? The American husband? Oh, he's not in it. Madame walks in ahead of him, and he just walks behind wherever she goes."

Railroad Speed in Germany.

Germany has made some bold experiments at railroad speed on the line between Berlin and Gorfitz. The best performance was sixty-five and three-fourths miles, which was twelve miles better than the highest speed of the fastest German train, the Berlin-Hamburg lightning express, which does 17 1/2 miles in three and one-half hours. Ordinarily German express trains make forty-eight and one-half miles an hour.

TRIED MANY REMEDIES.

Paine's Celery Compound Was the Only One That Succeeded.

The essential difference between Paine's celery compound and the bewildering number of saraparillas and nervines that its success has brought into existence is that Paine's celery compound furnishes just the appropriate nutriment to the exhausted nerves, and securely builds up the system against disease, while the unscientific remedies confuse and add to the derangement of the organs.

Paine's celery compound not only relieves, but effectually and permanently cures. The most permanent and direct cure for debility, nervous weakness, languor, and a "run-down" condition, is the strong, reliable Paine's celery compound. The rasping, irritating effect of a badly nourished nervous system upon all the organs of the body ceases when this medicine is used.

Paine's celery compound is the most advanced nerve and brain strengthener and restorer known to medical science. The tired, worn-out sufferer, who is not advancing toward health, is falling back. There is no standstill in bad health. One can endure a headache or a backache once; one can endure it twice, but the repeated sick headache and the constant pain in the back and in the region of the heart must be got rid of. For the permanent and positive cure of these unhealthy states of the body, as evinced by repeated attacks of rheumatism, neuralgia, sleeplessness, or kidney trouble, there is nothing to be compared for a moment with the great discovery of Prof. Edward K. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth medical school—Paine's celery compound. If you are out of health or despondent because of repeated trials of other remedies, take a fresh start. The bracing weather is in your favor. Here is the experience—like that of hundreds of others—of Mrs. Lydia M. Hayden, of Marion, Ind.:

"Before commencing the use of Paine's celery compound I was treated by many doctors, and tried many remedies, but did not get any better. I seemed to be all broken down. I was tired all the time, and my constitution seemed to be giving out. I weighed only 115 pounds last fall when I commenced using Paine's celery compound. In less than two months I weighed 134 pounds, an unusual weight for me. I have had better health ever since, and have felt better this summer than I have for years."

"My little daughter was away from home on a visit, and came home looking as if she had had a hard sickness. I went right away and got her a bottle of Paine's celery compound, and she has had better health since than she ever had in her life, eats hearty and is growing fast."

There is no woman, who, in justice to herself, can fail to take Paine's celery compound under similar circumstances.
