Used by Ancient Workmen. A two years' study of Gizeh has convinced Flinders Petrie that the Egyptian stoneworkers of 4,000 years ago had a surprising acquaintance with what had been considered modern tools. Among the many tools used by the phyramid builders were both solid and tubular drills and straight and circular saws. The drills, like those of today, were set with jewels (probably corun dum, as the diamond was very scarce), and even lathe tools had such outting edges. So remarkable was the quality of the tubular drills and the skill of the workmen that the cutting marks in hard granite gave no indication of wear of the tool while a cut of a tenth of an inch was made in the hardest rock at each revolution, and a hole through both the hardest and softest material was bored perfectly smooth and uniform throughout. Of the material and method of making the tools nothing is

PANIC IN SANTIAGO.

Business Demoralized by the Uncer-

Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 1.-A panicky feeling preveils in business circles here, owing to a fear that the Americans will turn the city over to the Cubans for self-government. No confidence exists, owing to the uncertainty of the future. Orders that were given during the first days of the American occupation have been countermanded by cable. European merchandise on through bills of lading via New York has been ordered unshipped and sold in New York, even at a sacri-

The same feeling extends to the Cuban merchants themselves, who seem to have lost faith in the ability of their own people to control affairs. The rebels demand independence, but the better classes, the merchants and landowners, dread such a possibility, and fervently hope that the United States will retain the reins of government in Added to this, several thousand mil- the island, as the only guarantee of stability or prosperity. Senor Julian Cendoja, agent of the

Ward line of steamers, says that a hundred Spanish merchants have applied for cabin and baggage room on the return trip of the steamer Philadel-phia, which is expected today, and they will leave the city unless there is some assurance from the American government that it intends to control the administration of public affairs in

This is the question uppermost in everybody's mind. Spanish, foreigners and natives are all alike anxious for a definite expression from Washington of the policy of the United States with regard to Cuba, and until the expression is made, no resumption of trade or commerce can be expected in Santiago, where today both are in a demoralized and chaotic state.

Filipinos in Europe Ask Us Not to

London, Aug. 1 .- Natives of the Philippine islands and British subjects who have interests there are alarmed records of illustrated comic literture in by the reports that the peace terms ina papyrus of the twenty-second dynasty clude the return of the islands to Spain. As a result they have held a meeting here, and after consultation with the Filipinos in France and Belgium, have cabled to President McKinley and to Senator Davis, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee. The message to President McKinley is as follows:

"The Filipinos resident in Europe pray you not to abandon the Philippine islands for the sake of peace with Spain. Our loyalty and trust in the honor of America, entitle us to your consideration and support. To hand over our country again to Spain is contrary to the humanitarian proceedings of your noble nation, and the wish of all classes. Civilization, trade and all will be lost if Spanish authority is reestablished in any form."

The message to Senator Davis says:
"A castiron agreement, binding Spain to form a government satisfactory to the inhabitants, is preposterous. To retain her sovereignty mean deception, oppression and bigotry. We place our rights in your hands, and pray you to induce the president and senate not to abandon in the hour of peace a people who, trusting in American honor, fought for their common $3.50, per gallon, solid, $1.80. interests.'

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER.

The average wheat trader is bearish, but does not stand short, an advance of Se to le running him in. He is afraid because farmers are not selling their wheat as freely as they did last year, although prices are but slightly different. Conditions a year ago were extremely bullish, foreign crops being short, and the majority of foreign traders were outspokenly bullish and had millions of bushels bought for September and December delivery. They kept up their buying right along and made heavy engagements for ocean room. Freights from Chicago to Liverpool a year ago were 11 10 a bushel on wheat, and now they are 7.8-8. The American grain trader saw the largest exports for the twelve months ending June 30 that he is liable to witness in many years. Not one in the trade ever knew their equal, and they may not witness a repetition. Foreigners are now selling wheat short, as they know that their home crops are nearly equal to their requirements. France will need very little, if any, the Danubian provinces have a larger surplus, and the majority of the European countries will not be in the market as buy ers. Export houses figure that we will not ship more than 140,000,000 bushels of flour and wheat for the coming twelve months.

The world's crop is estimated at 344,-000,000 bushels above last year's, which does not warrant higher prices unless there is an unusual wave of speculative buying, which for the present is not discernable. # THE DREAM OF DON MONTIJO.

In the barbor of Manilla
Lay the Admirant flotilla
Rocking gently at its appears in a sort of tropic swooni
All those shapes of war and slaughter
Slept apon the peacetol water,
That was mixed with molten silver from the overflowing moon.

Swang to oscillating lanyards in their hammocks lay the Spaniands, in their hammocks lay the Spaniands, Dreaming of the Guadalquiver and the country of the Cid; Longing for the lovely Ladies Of Scylle, Toledo, Cadie, And the balls and Separitas of Granada of Madrid. In his cabin, Don Montijo Being drowsy, mattered "Oho!
This is unexciting bosiness for a noble of Castile at
Lam weary of the Malay,
I will sally forth and waylay
The pigpens of the Yankee and my vengeance he shall feel."

Then he said goodnight "Ave"

And in dreams he ranked the navy

For a great and brilliant wirry ger the ships of ticle Same

Oh he led them a Tandango

From Hongkong to Rango Pango

And he shased them from new Zealand to the borders of Slam.

While he lay there softly steeping,
Up the harbor, creeping, creeping.
Came the lean and trusty greybounds of the little CommodoreYou may say that he was placky,
You may call him only lacky,
But torpedoes couldn't turn him nor big guns along the shore.

Don Montijo woke to wonder
At a sadden burst of Monder,
At a sadden burst of Monder,
In the harbor of Manilla
Lay the Admirals Motilla

Suddenly it was discovered that Borrowe had returned to this country, forsaken the ways of his former life, and was employed as a car starter on the trolley road in Newark. He had started in to work for a living and had begun at the bottom of the ladder.

He worked hard, and finally was made a division superintendent at a salary of $75 a month. For a time his doings in his new sphere of action were written about and talked about, and then the young man was forgotten again. He was not destined to remain forgotten long, however, for in November, 1896, it was anounced that Borrowe had married Miss Anna Wheeler Corbin, Austin Corbin's youngest daughter. It seems that the Borrowe and Corbin families had been intimate when Hallett Alsop was a schoolboy, and his especial friend had been the youngest daughter. The schoolboy love had remained through all the intervening years, and Borrowe had gone to work on the trolley line to prove that he had reformed and was living a life which made him worthy to marry his boyhood's love.

ON DRIVING HORSES.

A driver should study and know the horse he is to drive. Being familiar with the spirit of the horse is one of the very important things. A driver must also know how the horse should be fed, if he has no one upon whom he can implicitly rely to do the feeding. Reviewing these general matters of both driving and feeding, a writer on the horse says that some can drive thirty or even forty miles at a good rate of speed and have the animal in better condition at the end than another after driving the same horse five miles. It is not by any means driving fast that injures a horse so much as improper driving. Often more strength and vitality is taken out of a horse in two miles of fretting, through the mismanagement of the driver, than in going several times this distance with proper needed or not, and, while there is no hatpin,"-Cincinnati Enquirer. doubt that in some cases the whip is necessary, yet it is often the cause of One-half the world makes a good livmore fretting on the part of a lively ing working the other half.

Watering properly is fully as important as feeding. When a horse is being driven on the road he should not at any give water frequently, and, while he should have all he will drink, it should be given in small doses. A horse in good health can stand more work and more driving without injury than one that is in any way out of condition. The feed and care should be such as are best calculated to maintain health and condition, and then when on the road care must be taken to use his strength and vigor to the best advantage.
