The cupola room at the court house is filled with interesting old records antedating the year 1850 and Judge McBride will have them tabulated and arranged so they may be preserved. As this is the oldest county in the state and at that time embraced a large territory, these old files are of immense value from a literary standpoint.

At the season of the year when pneumonia, la grippe, sore throat coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing is a fine substitute, "will answer the purpose", or is "just as good" as One Minute Cough Cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial trouble. Insist vigorously upon having it if "something else" is offered you.—Delta Drug Store.

Bagley was attorney for the plaintiff and a Portland lawyer appeared for the defendants.

"Stalkey and Company," Kipling's latest novel, an exposition of school days, is very interesting in its unique situations, but it has none so rich as that now worrying the faculty at the Grove. The school paper, The Index, has two or three articles on the temperance question which so aroused the masters that an investigation was held. The articles are very bright and contain humorous bon mots, reflecting upon the propriety of total abstinence.

Farmers, Attention! Ladd & Reed will again make the season in Washington county with their famous horse, Kalama. Season will open about March 15th. J. W. Karsteter, manager.

The Sunday closing ordinance has been enforced with no fatal results, so far in Hillsboro. The agitation, however, seems to have a good much trouble elsewhere in the county. Forest Grove will soon enforce a like ordinance, and, as the mayor of Cornelius states that city always keeps Sunday sacredly, David's Hill will this summer be the only available shrine at which to worship Bacchus.

In the case of State of Oregon vs. Grant Mann; Ira Workman, complainant, the defendant bound over to keep the peace, the prosecuting witness did not at all appear in court and Mann was released. As Workman took the trouble to lay his fears before the deputy district attorney, and then failed to appear, it looks as though the charge might have been unfounded.

One of the oldest bills of sale on record in Washington county is that conveying a stock of merchandise in the city of Portland, May 17, 1851. The party making the purchase was James Terwilliger, and the seller James Loring. The price paid was $4368, and the invoice recorded would make a modern buyer feel that times, indeed, had changed. The items clearly show the character of the trade. They are: 1 pair gold scales..... $30 8 kegs nails, at $8..... 64 14 pairs decanters, at $5..... 70 1 dozen handle-axes..... 40 4 French coats, at $18..... 72 9 coffee pots, at $4..... 36 84 pounds pepper..... 25 104 gallons cognac brandy..... 130 Brandy was cheap any way.

The offense alleged is said to have occurred in March 1897 and the following term of court indicted the young man Messrs. Barrett & Adams demurred to the indictment on the grounds that facts set forth in the instrument did not constitute a crime. Judge McBride sustained the demurrer and Hingley was discharged. T. J. Cleaton, the district attorney, assisted by S. B. Huston, who was employed by private parties, carried the matter to the supreme court. That body reversed the decision of McBride and held that the demurrer should have been over ruled. The case will now go to jury trial.

James Lee Jr., of Patton Valley, this county, must go to the penitentiary, the supreme court having affirmed the decision of the circuit court, which found him guilty of rape. Young Lee was convicted about two years ago and the case was appealed, Messrs. S. B. Huston and T. H. Tongue being attorneys for Lee. Deputy District Attorney H. T. Bagley prepared the brief for the state and adhered to the idea that defendant waived all technicalities when the indictment was not questioned by demurrer.

Save money by buying seeds at Greer's.

Miss Rose Wilcox, of this city submitted a design for a badge to be used by attendants at the national association to be held in Portland in July, and it is a thing of beauty. The ribbon is to be of salmon tint, containing lettering which will be denominational of the event, and a beautiful little hand painting of Mount Hood. The painting will be in colors, of course, and will be no larger than a good old-fashioned 16 to 1 dollar. The executive committee has not yet selected any design and it is to be hoped Miss Wilcox' effort will be preferred.

EDWIN FULLER IS AGAIN IN TROUBLE.

Broke Into Blaser's Saloon Saturday Night.

STOLE WHISKEY AND A REVOLVER.

Will probably go to the penitentiary. Seems to be incorrigible.

Young Edwin Fuller has gotten himself in serious trouble, and the penitentiary is now staring him in the face. Last Saturday night he entered C. Blaser's saloon and took therefrom several bottles of whiskey and beer and a Smith & Wesson revolver. He made his entrance through a back window and helped himself without being molested. On Sunday he was gloriously drunk and had whiskey "burn" in more than a sumptuous style. He gave the revolver to John McNamara and this connected him with the crime. He was arrested Monday morning and placed in jail after which he told the sheriff where he would find several bottles of the liquor.

It is really a sad case, as the boy has had the environment of a good home. His father is a prominent Kansas physician and his mother a very estimable lady. He is the same lad who served time in the county jail a few weeks ago for violation of the cigarette law. The lad seems utterly incorrigible and has broken into several houses in this city since he came here. The mother has the sympathy of all who know her.

JOHN SPIRRINGS JR.

John Spurrings Jr., of Co. H, Second Oregon, died at Manila on the 8th inst., of dysentery.

Young Spurrings resided at Greenville since boyhood and was 22 years of age. His father, John Spurrings Sr., still lives, but his mother died several years ago. When the call for volunteers was made, he, with his brother Albert Spurrings, was among the first to enlist at Portland. Both brothers had been reported as convalescent and the news of the death came as a shock to his aged father. The young soldier was born at Freedom, Wisconsin. He was an universal favorite with his fellows and the Greenville contingent in the Orient will deeply feel his loss.

GREENVILLE'S PATRIOTISM.

You may decant all you please upon patriotism, but Greenville, considering all things, leads the county. She sent six of her sons to Manila, and Buxton, a little further up, sent two. These eight were all acquainted, one with the other, and until the death of John Spurrings Jr., no break has occurred in their ranks.

Greenville's enlistment was: John and Albert Spurrings, Irvine Dooley, Ezra Kirts, Chas. Herb and Harry Heltzel; Buxton sent: Chas and Alfred Stevens.

E. E. White, deputy state organizer of the Woodmen of the World, is in the city for the purpose of instituting a camp. They have leased the Marquam and Army for the occasion and all profits received will be deposited with the Oregonian for the purposes mentioned. "Old Dominion—the Colony of Virginia," this time in connection with the problems and difficulties of our new policy of National Expansion. The other services will be conducted in their usual order.

Edwin Fuller pleaded guilty of burglary, Wednesday, before Judge McBride, and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. The young lad can have a long time in which to reflect upon the error of his way. He has had the benefit of a good home and all that could please a young man in the right path, but he seems to have chosen the broad and luckless way.

Dr. D. W. Ward, of Forest Grove, was in town today, conveying his splendid residence property in the college city to Laura Marsh Caldwell. The purchase price was $7,200, and included all furnishing, which are perhaps the finest in the county.
