

ALONG THE COAST.

Items of General Interest Gleaned From the Thriving Pacific States.

Excursion to Alaska.
The New England delegates to the National Editorial Association will be joined in Portland by the New England delegates to the National Educational Association, and together a trip is contemplated to Shagway and Alaska coast points. The party will number about 100, and it is intended to be absent from home two months or more. C. W. Robbins, of the Enterprise, Old Town, Me., and William F. Jarvis, editor of the Journal of Education, Boston, Mass., are working up the party. The press committee and the citizens' committee in Portland are preparing a programme that will keep the National Editorial Association delegates there two weeks if they choose to remain that long. Every member of the Oregon Press Association has formed a committee of one, and no matter where located within the state limits, is preparing something unique with which to entertain the delegates to its national organization.

Weak Wool Market.
E. Y. Judd, of the Pendleton Wool Scouring & Packing Company, writes from the East that the recent organization of the worsted mill trust has demoralized the wool market and is largely responsible for the decline in the price of wool, as buyers are at sea as to the future action of the trust and are unable to determine what their own action is to be. Mr. Judd says that this trust alone will consume 100,000,000 pounds of wool annually, which is one-third of the total annual product of the country. The wool trust has not yet entered the market, and have given no hint of their intention. As soon as the uncertainty of their action is removed the market will have a firmer tone and it may not be the outlook for wool this year is not the best, as everybody is timid on a declining market.

The Fish Combine.
The control of the fish-taking agencies of lower Puget sound by the Pacific American Fish Company is an assured fact. The last dollar of the $100,000 of stock which the vendees asked the trustees to subscribe has been taken. The capital stock of the company is $5,000,000. Of this $1,000,000 is preferred and $4,000,000 common. In part payment, which averages about 7 1/2 per cent of the purchase price, the trustees are given preferred stock at par. For every dollar of preferred taken at par they are given a dollar's worth of common stock. The preferred stock is guaranteed to pay 8 per cent per annum.

Good Market for Cattle.
Cattle-buyers are busy interviewing the cattlemen of Malheur and Harney counties, and the outlook for stock shipments from that point this season is better than last. Superintendent Glicker of the Pacific Livestock Company, states that all the shippers of that large cattle company would be done at Ontario as heretofore, and that they would in all probability, ship more stock this season than last. Agents for some of the most extensive Eastern stockholders are located at Ontario, and are now busy contracting stock.

In Favor of the Government.
Judge Ross, in the district court at Los Angeles has handed down a decision in the case entitled the United States against the Southern Pacific Company, which involved title to 1,160,000 acres of land in Southern California. His plans are for an extensive plant sufficient to furnish all the tin required on the Northwest coast. VICTIM OF A SCHEMER.

Applauds Jack Crawford Loses His Fortune in a Klondike Venture.
San Francisco, April 19.—The Chronicle says: Captain Jack Crawford, the "poet scout," left here one year ago to work the properties and look after the mining interests of the Klondike, Yukon & Copper River Company in the frozen gold fields of Alaska. Now he is sorry he went.

According to a letter received yesterday by General R. H. Wardfield, the "poet scout" has lost the little fortune he possessed, and has been turned adrift by the company because he has refused to send out fictitious and glowing accounts of the richness of the company's claims.

The company is incorporated under the laws of Montana, with a capital stock of $12,000,000, divided into 1,200,000 shares of the par value of $10. Frank H. Vrooman, a Chicago clergyman, is president and general manager. Among the directors are United States Senator John L. Wilson, of Washington; Assistant Secretary of War McKeljohn, ex-United States commissioner of pensions, and others of equal prominence. These directors and all the various stockholders, according to "Captain Jack," have been agly victimized by President Vrooman, who, it is alleged, misrepresented the value of the properties.

Referring to the reichstag bill to appropriate 250,000,000 marks to build a canal between the Elbe and the Rhine, it says: "In consideration of the present impudent affront offered to Germany by England, it would be more expedient to spend the money demanded for building canals for the equipment of a large fleet which would be able to defend German honor when insulted."

Missouri River Flood.
Niobrara, Neb., April 19.—For the first time since the great flood of 1881, the Missouri river lowlands are almost completely submerged. The banks were full all yesterday, with heavy ice running and with a south wind blowing, which about midnight changed to northerly and sent the ice and current over Nebraska farms. The residents have not yet been driven to higher land, but boats are in readiness to rescue them, should it be necessary. The packet steamer Last Chance, moored at the mouth of the Niobrara river, is a total wreck.

When it seemed that the limit had been reached with wrought iron as the main reliance of the designer, mild steel had been so perfected as to enable progress to be maintained. The large boilers necessary to withstand the high pressures and furnish the power for high speeds would have been impossible but for mild steel, and the same thing is true of the moving parts of the engine. It may be noted also that workmanship had improved, and the use of anti-friction metals for bearings, combined with this improved workmanship, enabled the high rotational speeds to be carried out with safety and reliability.

The machinery of Wampanoag, designed in 1865, was so heavy that only 3.24 h. p. per ton of machinery was obtained. W. Melville, U. S. N., in Engineering Magazine.

The Rain Tree of Porto Island.
The island of Ferro is one of the largest in the Canary group, and it has received its name on account of its iron-bound soil, through which no river nor stream flows. In the midst of the island there grows a tree known as the raining tree, the leaves of which are long and narrow. It continues in constant verdure winter and summer, and the branches are covered with a cloud which is never dispelled, but, revolving itself into a moisture, causes to fall from its leaves a very clear water in such abundance that cisterns placed at its foot to receive it are never empty.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Largest Tree in the World.
The largest tree in the world is to be seen at Mamuli, near the foot of Mount Elma, and is called "The Chestnut Tree of a Hundred Horses." Its name arose from the report that Queen Jane, of Aragon, with her principal nobility, took refuge from a violent storm under its branches. The trunk is 304 feet in circumference. The largest tree in the United States, it is said, stands near Bear Creek, on the north fork of the Tule river, in California. It measures 140 feet in circumference. The giant redwood tree in Nevada is 119 feet in circumference.—Ladies' Home Journal.
