WHY DON'T HE CRUSH THEM?

A great national party and that party in power! The great state of Ohio, and one of its distinguished sons a national president!

If the Ohio republicans, as managed by Mr. Hanna, are so eager to crush the trusts, why do they not telegraph the president to start the attorney-general to working on a miniature cyclone?

Really, it is to be wondered whether or not there are any thinking citizens who believe the pretensions of the Ohio platform.

CIVIL SERVICE NONSENSE.

Much has been said about the beautiful system of civil service, and volumes have been written about the peridy of the republican administration in perverting the established customs of that scientific life tenure of government "pap."

CRAIG'S WAIL RENEWED.

The Hatchet popinjay, in his last issue, prints a puerile and pulchre joblot of tommyrot about the unreliability of the Argus.

When the war with Spain broke out, in the absence of the Red Cross on this coast, the State Military Board called in to existance the Oregon Emergency Corps, for the purpose of helping to equip and provide the Oregon men with such things as are not usually numbered among a soldier's belongings, and also to provide for the welfare of all United States soldiers who might come within our borders.

afford to lose their time; still the Argus is right; The Argus merely quoted Bradford's attending physician about the article in the Oregonian sent from Forest Grove. The attending physician asked the correction to be made—the attending physician knows—and still the Argus is right; Craig's fourth indictment is childish—that about "continued" for contained—and is a great deal like Craig's own inadvertance in talking about his magnificent circulation; the Hillsboro band boys did show the Argus man their uniforms, but some of them had to be sent back to Craig's tailor to be re-fitted, or something of that nature; the Argus again was right. The Recorder and Assessor should have copies of the session laws, whether the law allows them or not. Both these officers will agree with the Argus; Both the Michaels' estates are figures of both estates in round numbers; the heirs will lose nothing; Craig has strained himself on this point. The probate docket says the account in the Thing estate was approved, and the widow will get her money; so the Argus said. The "Daily Teachers' meeting" was written up from the program furnished and the unavoidable absence of a man who assured the Argus he would be there did not stop the wheels of the universe, altho' it started them in a fool's head. H. T. Bagley, deputy district attorney, says the Argus' statement was right about the Forest Grove's sewing machine agent and his dismissal. The two Hillsboro lads were taken before the recorder—and reprimanded. The marshal was the notor.

The fake report sent about Melki Johnson's illness was given for what it is worth and the Argus stated no correction could be secured altho' an attempt was made. The Argus never reported Melki Johnson's death. The Hatchet lies when it says so, but the Hatchet isn't to blame—neither is Thompson. Mister Craig is the guilty cuckoo.

And now, where is this youthful tuft hunter getting off? At Dilley? Or at Gales spur? Probably, in the long run, at the station where all grafters land. But God isn't to blame for this little mushroom—he just happened—and Messrs. Thompson and Thornburg who are both excellent citizens, will agree with the "unreliable" Argus man, the "sympathizer of Jeff Davis."

RED CROSS REVIEW.

Hillsboro, Or., June 5.—To the Editor: In submitting our final report if you will kindly allow me space in your valuable paper I will make a few statements which may interest some of the readers of the Argus.

The Oregon Emergency Corps and Red Cross met Thursday p. m., June 1, in annual meeting. Reports and communications were read after which came the election of officers, resulting in electing Mrs. R. E. Bryan, Pres., and Mrs. Luce, Vice; Mrs. H. T. Bagley, Sec. and Treas. The report of the Treasurer showed the receipts for the year to have been $202.92; disbursements, $185, leaving a balance of $17.92 in the treasury. Those in charge of the monument entertainment reported the receipts to have been $77.20 less expense bill of 70 cents for lights, telephone, etc., leaving $66.40 for the county monument fund. Before the meeting adjourned, a vote of thanks was tendered the Hillsboro Grange for the use of their hall and a committee appointed to report the same at the next meeting of the Grange. We wish here to express our gratitude to all who helped us in this effort: The Rev. E. P. Hughes for his most excellent and interesting address on the Red Cross—both national and international; to Hon. W. N. Barrett for kindly words spoken in our interest; to the orchestra for a number of choice selections, and to all who so willingly responded when called upon to assist us, especially the musical numbers, which were unusually well rendered and thoroughly appreciated. Also to Mr. Wehrung for use of chairs, and to the drayman, Mr. Ben Champ, for hauling same. To all these our thanks are due.

Of the cash expenditures for the year, $30 was sent Chaplain Gilbert, at Manila; $20 to Portland headquarters; $20 to the Red Cross hospital at Manila; $10 to the State Red Cross for national work; and $15 to the State Monument fund. Other expenditures were for hospital supplies which were forwarded, and for carrying on the work. In addition to this the Washington county boys were all remembered with Christmas boxes. With one exception we have responded to every call during the year. Our efforts to raise funds has been successful in every respect, notwithstanding the seeming opposition and the many discouraging things we have met, and we can only attribute our success to a kind and generous public, and to our many faithful friends who have been ever ready to say some good word for our work, and whose loyalty to the volunteers has been shown by the liberal manner in which they have responded.

When the war with Spain broke out, in the absence of the Red Cross on this coast, the State Military Board called in to existance the Oregon Emergency Corps, for the purpose of helping to equip and provide the Oregon men with such things as are not usually numbered among a soldier's belongings, and also to provide for the welfare of all United States soldiers who might come within our borders.

Following is the Preamble to the Oregon Emergency Corps by-laws: The Oregon Emergency Corps realizing that its aims and objects are far-reaching, will remain a permanent organization, to assist in giving aid to the wives and children of our brave soldiers, many of whom will need care and support while their loved ones are absent.

Art. 11. Con.—The object of this corps is to assist and co-operate with the state and military organizations in advancing the comfort and welfare of the Oregon volunteers. When the work of outfitting the men was done, and the Oregon regiment had gone to the front, it was found that the only way to reach them with anything more than a letter with the sanction of the government, was through the Red Cross. Immediately correspondence with the national committee at Washington was begun which resulted in their sending a representative who established the Red Cross in Oregon, California and Washington. But as the Red Cross does not do local work it was thought best for us to retain the name of Oregon Emergency Corps (a name which for some unaccountable reason seems to be rather objectionable to some of our good people) so that we might continue our local work along with the national, hence our present name, O. E. C. and R. C. ity of us who are not really interested realize and it is right here where much of the local work of the O. E. C. has been so quietly and systematically done with never a word said about it but it has been thankfully received in homes where the bread winner is, under a tropical sun, doing service for our flag and today making history for our state and bringing the name of Oregon to the front. When these brave men are landed on their native soil the public will probably hear once more from the Oregon Emergency Corps, after which we sincerely promise our friends (?) that as an organization we will retire from active service and give up the field to more popular work but we will still defend the Scarlet Cross and its humanitarian principles. And now, to the Argus, let me especially tender our thanks for space at all times and for favorable mention of our work; for printing, and for valuable assistance in many ways. Mrs. R. E. BRYAN, Pres.
