WILL THE VETERANS MEET AT HILLSBORO?

Is at Present the all-Prevailing Question.

WILL BE DECIDED NEXT THURSDAY

Business Men of this City will Make the Encampment a Proposition.

Next Thursday the Washington County Veteran Association will decide upon the time and place of holding the annual reunion of that organization. The business men of this city will be prevailed upon to make the veterans a proposition to bring the meeting to the county seat, as the most logical center, and it is thought that the inducements of the past can be duplicated without any trouble.

It is proposed that if the reunion be held at the right time, Hillsboro will wind up the holiday with a grand and rousing Fourth of July celebration. Let Hillsboro shape itself to make the veterans a proposition when they meet next week to make their selection. And let their offer to aid be such that the old boys will come here.

MRS. TALBOT, OF CORNELIUS.

Mrs. Fannie Theodosia Talbot died at her home in Cornelius early Friday morning, April 20, 1900. Deceased was born in Brighton, Wis., June 14, 1856, and came to Oregon in 1872 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Neep, and settled at Cornelius. In 1878 she was married to Thomas Talbot, who for years was in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company, with headquarters on the West Side. Mr. Talbot, who is now retired, is the union candidate for county treasurer. Her father died in 1893. Surviving her are her mother, Mrs. Neep, and three brothers. The funeral took place from the family residence Sunday morning.

Mrs. Talbot was a splendid type of woman and she had a large circle of friends throughout the county. Her noble traits of character were expressive of large sympathy and her sense of justice and womanly qualities endeared her to all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. There was genuine mourning in many hearts when her death was announced.

Superintendent Ball will hold a Teachers' Institute at Cornelius, Saturday, April 28, the program to be:

John R. Bailey, of Buxton, tells an ARGUS reporter that he has a new proposition for the road work of the county. He wants all road supervisors done away with, and then have the commissioners for the county placed on a sufficient salary to justify them taking care of all the road work; all road taxes to be paid into a general road fund and over and above this a one mill tax for further betterment. He desires that the commissioners visit each district and let the road work to the lowest bidder for cash. He claims by this method that the $3,000 now paid road supervisors could with much more benefit be placed on the highways and that the system would be better in all respects. Mr. Bailey is of the opinion that this would, in a few years, insure us good roads and that at a lower cost than at present.

It is the little things in life that go to show what science has done. And this reminds us that John M. Brown has a rooster whose crow was heard twenty miles away. Some one in Hillsboro was talking over the telephone to a party in Portland, the other day, when the chattering suddenly lifted up his voice and wept, or cheered, as the case might be. He was distinctly heard by the Portland party. Twenty years ago and no one would have believed that a rooster, crowing in Hillsboro, could be heard in Portland. But such is life—and roosters in the far West.

Let not the good people of Washington county forget that a convention of all the bands of the county will be here on the first day of May. This county has a great deal of musical talent, and when all the boys get together there will be music to burn. One feature will be a grand concert of all the organization playing one selection at a time. If the weather is fine there should be a splendid turnout, and it is assured that the boys will appreciate an interest in musical organization.

Geo. Summers last week learned that a saw is not a very good thing to get one's hand in touching distance, when it is in motion. He is now nursing two or three badly scratched fingers as a reminder of getting too close to a wood saw when it was in motion.

Talk about shoes for men, women and children—if you don't believe H. Wehrung & Sons have the most complete line in the city you should go and satisfy yourself. Also a few odds left over, regardless of cost, if we can only fit you. Come and see us.

A. O. Brown, the Iowa Hill sage, was in the city Monday, and made this office a pleasant call. Incidentally he subscribed for THE ARGUS that he might get the news. Mr. Brown is of the opinion that our national ills will not be overcome until we have socialism.

We lead in low prices—others follow: we lead in best qualities at bottom figures: "Sixteen ounces to the pound and thirty-six inches to the yard," is our motto.—Wehrung & Sons.

THE EVANGELICAL CONFERENCE CLOSED

Bishop Dubs Preached to a Large Audience.

IN THE BAPTIST CHURCH, SUNDAY

is a Powerful Exhorter and Inspired Zeal in his Hearers.—To Tour Oregon.

The Evangelical Conference for Oregon closed its sixth annual meeting in this city Monday morning, after a session lasting since last Wednesday. Bishop Dubs, the noted evangelist, did not arrive until the second day of the meeting, and he then took hold of his work with a will. The next conference will be held at Corvallis.

C. C. Poling, the presiding elder, reported a very good year's work, and gave the conversions at 278. The changes for the ensuing conference year have been made, and Rev. Balkantyne, who has the past year had the Hillsboro charge, will be given the Portland suburban work. Rev. A. W. Brickley has been assigned to Gaston, while Benj. Hartman will take Hillsboro. Rev. Pratt, who went from here to Salem three years ago, and who has since then steadily held that pastorate, will keep his charge another year. Wm. Plowman, well known here, was licensed to preach, and will be under the direction of the presiding elder, with headquarters at Sweet Home and vicinity.

The sermon preached by Bishop Dubs at the Baptist church, Sunday, was a powerful effort and inspired his hearers with much zeal. His appeal for missionary means received a hearty response, over $500 having been pledged. The bishop's son, who for some years has been editor of the Evangelical paper having national endorsement, is one of the missionaries selected by the board for the Chinese field.

AL. T. PHILLIPS, DEAD.

Al. T. Phillips, a native son of Oregon, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Phillips, Cornelius, Sunday evening, April 22, 1900, of consumption. Deceased was born Nov. 8, 1869, and spent his life in this county. As a young man, he worked at Hillsboro several years, employed by his brother who was in the harness business. Later on he fitted himself for tonorial work, but about a year ago ill health forced him to suspend all work. He was married at Prineville, in 1894, to Miss Sarah Huston, but no children were born to the union. In 1895 he went to Portland, where he was employed in a First Street shop. He finally was forced to retire from his employment and he spent his remaining days on the farm where he was born. Al was a general favorite, and his friends were legion. The young man had a disposition which naturally made friends and his fortitude in his struggle for life against the insidious disease rather negated his usual urbanity of temperament. The remains were interred Tuesday in the Hillsboro cemetery.

TRAINMEN'S EXCURSION.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will give their first annual excursion to Salem and return, on Sunday, June 3, 1900. Round trip fare, from all Washington county points, will be $1.00, and this will include admission to the State Fair grounds, where will be rendered a first class program, consisting of music, field sports and attractions. For tickets or information, apply to any Southern Pacific agent.

Card of Thanks.

The many friends who so kindly aided during the recent bereavement in the illness and death of my wife, Mrs. Fanny Talbot, are gratefully thanked. Thos. Talbot. Cornelius, Ore., April 26.

Fred Landrock was a Portland visitor, Tuesday.

U. G. Jackson, of Glencoe, writes THE ARGUS that H. L. Day and State Organizer Wheeler, of the Woodmen of the World, will be at Glencoe on the evening of May 1st, (Tuesday) and speak on the benefits of Woodcraft. The good people of Glencoe and vicinity will miss a treat if they fail to go and hear Neighbor Wheeler, as he is one of the most interesting and jolly platform men in the Pacific Northwest. The editor of this paper has known Neighbor Wheeler ever since Wheeler was a boy in knee breeches, and to say that he is a "ring snorter" from the very start, is saying too little. Wheeler is really an orator of splendid ability. He can catch your heart every time, and in pleasant manner he can give Mr. Bryan a close second. You will know Wheeler as soon as you see him—he is a little bit of a fellow with a very big appetite, plenty of pathos and plenty of logic—and he always has a good story. He is inordinately fond of "pi," being an old time printer, and they say that he still retains his digestive power, so the good people of Glencoe must prepare for him—he can't speak without pi.

President McClelland, of the Pacific University, in a letter to the Oregonian, denies that the people of that city are "banking" for a saloon, and that all reports going to that paper insinuating of such a sentiment are very much one-sided. THE ARGUS is not interested in this matter, but rises to remark that the erstwhile publishers of newspapers of Forest Grove should at once resort to another brand of "likker." Their present potations seem to dull their finer sensibilities, and something should be done in the interest of newspaperdom.

For each dollar in cash spent at H. Wehrung & Sons you will receive a ticket entitling you to a drawing on a Wheeler & Wilson, drop head, 5 drawer, $60 sewing machine; second prize, bicycle for boy or girl.

Fred Landrock, the Main Street shoemaker, went to Portland, Monday, to procure a ticket for Cape Nome, but all had been sold for the first boat. It is said that Sydney Luce will go via Seattle, and that he will be accompanied by his father, H. B., who is now on the Sound. C. D. Kimberlin has a rocker fixed up for shipment and he and W. L. Davis will get out on the first boat. Several of the Cornelius boys will also go, among them Mr. M. Cook, who is well along in years, but still young in spirit.

STATE FAIR BOARD MAKES A CONTRACT

With the State Bands for Music at the Fair.

THE BENEFIT OF ORGANIZATION.

The Idea First Originated in this City. --New Applications Coming in.

The state fair board has at last given the State Band Association a contract to provide music for the state fair this fall. A. C. Shute, the treasurer of the organization, was at Salem last week, and the papers were signed. He tells us that this is helping the bands of the state to a proper appreciation of what organization will do. Sherwood has a band which now wants to join, and this will make four county bands holding membership in the state roll. The bands will hold their tournament at Salem, concurrent with the state fair, and such a crowd of musical talent will never before have visited an Oregon town. The Salem Statesman of the 20th says:

Chas. E. York, president of the Oregon State Band Association and publisher of the Musical Times, of Portland, and A. C. Shute, the Hillsboro banker, secretary and treasurer of the association, were in Salem yesterday looking over the ground with a view to spying out quarters for the band boys who will be here to attend the meeting. As there will be an immense crowd here and the hotels and boarding houses will be full to overflowing, the idea has been advanced of providing tents and making a camp on the fair grounds for the members of the bands. If this succeeds, the people of Salem will probably be asked to provide them with eatables for the week. Messrs. York and Shute interviewed some of the officers and members of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday and a meeting of this body will probably be called for next Monday to consider the preliminaries and set in motion a movement for the organization of the public spirited people of Salem who would be willing to undertake to provide for the band boys as suggested. The annual tournament of this association at Albany last year brought the biggest crowd that city ever had. There is nothing like noise and music to attract a crowd and there is no question but this meeting will be by far the biggest drawing card of the coming fair the appreciation of which fact will no doubt be generously shown by the people of Salem, who will be the principal beneficiaries.

CONDUCTORS' EXCURSION

The Conductors' annual excursion will be given Sunday, May 27, going to The Dalles. Stops will be made at the principal places of interest along the Columbia river, allowing people the opportunity of seeing some of the grandest scenery in the world. Those so disposed can stop at any of those places and return trains will stop and pick them up. This will give them opportunity of examining the extensive government works at Cascades. Trains will pass Hillsboro at 7:45 in the morning. Tickets, round trip, $1.00.

H. SCHULMERICHT, P. M.

C. A. Hanley and Wm. Bagley' the road supervisors of Leisyville have had some trouble over a road line fence in the past, and Mr. Hanley, assuming that a recent survey ordered by the court, gave him right re-located the fence. Mr. Bagley went to move the fence and Mr. Hanley, believing the survey protected him, tried to stop operations. He was subsequently tried for assault before a jury in Justice Smith's court and fined $25 and costs. The fine was remitted, under the circumstances. It appears that the road has been traveled for more than ten years and under the statute is established on present lines.

A visit to the Greenville creamery the other day disclosed the fact that Greenville is forging to the front as a dairy producer. J. J. Hartley, the manager, states that the output is growing every week, and that the farmers are discovering that it pays to patronize a dairying institution. Huge milk cans were seen at the driveways of almost every farm. That section is peculiarly adapted to the dairy business and next year there is promise of a record breaker.

G. O. Graves, the genial salesman of Russell & Co., the firm carrying an advertisement in this paper, was in the city from Portland, yesterday and made this office a pleasant call. He has been riding over the county to find prospective purchasers for engines and boilers, threshers, etc. The firm for which he travels is a good one and THE ARGUS takes pleasure in recommending it to the general public.

Harry Gault, the foreman of the Independent's composing rooms, had the misfortune to badly cut his hand on a paper knife yesterday afternoon, and as a result he will be on a short vacation.

The Pomona Grange of Washington county, met in County Convention yesterday and there were 79 present. The subject for discussion upon which the most interest was centered, was, "How to Keep the Boy on the Farm." The dinner served, was characteristic of Grange dinners—the finest and most appetizing. There were programs galore and all had a good time. Three months the Pomona will again meet.

F. M. Heidel makes a specialty of buying and selling timberslands. Office on Main Street opposite Tualatin Hotel. Hillsboro, Ore.

The frosts of the past week have done considerable damage to the early bloomed fruit, and the prunes have been the worst of the sufferers. It begins to look as though we would have to be content with a fruit shortage this year.

There will be an open meeting of the Woodmen of the World on the evening of May 2, at Wehrung's Hall, at which time Wheeler, the State Lecturer will be present and deliver an address. The ladies are especially invited, but all are welcome. Mr. Wheeler is one of the most entertaining talkers ever in this city and you will be more than interested, to hear him lecture on fraternal insurance, and its valuable features. Don't forget the date, Wednesday, May 2, at eight o'clock in the evening.

A. T. Knox and Banker E. W. Haines, of Forest Grove, were in the city this afternoon and went away with a "whole sack full" of money. On inquiry it was ascertained that it was not a campaign fund, but until this was known for a certainty it made some of the unionists look blue for awhile. The "regular sack" will probably come later on.

Go to Greer's for seeds.
