

ADJOURNED SESSION OF CIRCUIT COURT

Met in Hillsboro Tuesday, May 8th.

JUDGE M'BRIDE ON THE BENCH

Two Divorces Were Granted—Adjourned to Meet at Regular Term in July

Judge T. A. McBride Tuesday held an adjourned session of the circuit court here and the following orders were made: Charles Mitchell vs. R. B. Goodin, continued for the term. This is an action commenced to recover $200, being money placed in the hands of the county clerk by Mitchell's father for him when he should become of age. The clerk loaned the same to E. C. Hughes, ex-county clerk, and it is claimed that Goodin was negligent in not attempting to collect the money while Hughes was solvent.

Mary Ann Buffington, et. vs. Mary Ann Buffington, jr. was decided last term in favor of the defendant, and she was yesterday permitted to withdraw the exhibit introduced during the trial. Dera Hult vs. Leo V. Hult, plaintiff granted a decree of divorce. Mary E. Lystrop vs. R. L. Jenkins et al. default and decree of foreclosure; T. Payne vs. Joseph H. Thompson, judgment by default for $154.90 and $50 attorney fees and attached real property ordered sold; W. D. Smith vs. Washington county, action to recover justice fees, argued and submitted; E. C. Brannan granted a decree of divorce; Mary Heller Brock vs. John Brock, decree of divorce; State School Land Board vs. Lucy E. Yates et al. decree of foreclosure.

The jurors present were all excused for the term, and court adjourned until the regular July term.

The March quarterly of the Oregon Historical Society, in its article, "Reminiscences of F. X. Matthien" by H. S. Lyman, tells how the early settlers voted for American government as against British rule in Oregon. There were one hundred and two present at the meeting which was assembled and at the first call of votes on a division there were only fifty for American organization. Joe Meek, the father of S. A. D. Meek, of Mountindale, then in his prime, started the vote and by his promptitude of action saved the day. Meek carried the day by just two votes, the two being Frenchmen. Mr. Lyman says that only for Meek's action in calling a division the meeting would have broken up and American government postponed for some time. The meeting was held up the valley and when the Americans won the day, Lyman says, "Then went up the shout, led by Joe Meek and his mountain men."

Dr. Francis J. Bailey, Acting Assistant Surgeon U. S. A., of this city, departed this evening upon orders from the War Department to report in person to the Commanding General, Department of California. He is to be assigned to the Philippine service. N. S. Nelson and P. P. Reed, of the lumbering firm of Nelson & Reed formerly in the business near Middleton, passed through the city Tuesday evening with their boiler and smoketack for their new mill on Section 23, about ten miles northeast of Glencoe, where they have purchased a large amount of timber. They expect to commence cutting about the first of next month and will saw all the way from twelve to twenty thousand per day. Their mill proper will be 36x120 separate from the boiler rooms. Their mill will be located on the Willis place, which they have purchased. The company has also bought considerable railroad land on which there is a large body of standing merchantable lumber. The product will mostly be shipped through the Southern Pacific, the loading point to be Cornelius.

Max Burgholzer, of Buxton, the Union nominee for Assessor, was in the city yesterday and made his friends a visit. Mr. Burgholzer is by birth a German and has been in this country twenty years. He is possessed of a good education and is amply qualified for the office for which he has been nominated. He is one of the best penmen in the county and if elected his rolls will be models of neatness. HENRY B. TUCKER

Washington County Pioneer of 1852 Has Passed Away.

Henry Bellenger Tucker, aged 96, who came to Oregon in August, 1852, died at the home of his son, William Tucker, near Beaverton, Friday, May 4, of pneumonia. Deceased was born in Kentucky, December 12, 1804. His father, Wm. Tucker, was a North Carolinian, and was one of the Kentucky pioneers. When the war of 1812 broke out he joined Hull's forces at Detroit as one of the Kentucky riflemen. From there he never returned, and it is supposed he was ambushed by the Indians while returning from the frontier.

Early in life Henry Tucker went to Indiana, where he married Elizabeth McKay, daughter of a veteran of the war of 1812. The summer of 1852 they crossed the plains, their children coming with the train. They settled near Beaverton, where the wife died in August, 1881. Two sons survive—Thomas Tucker, a resident of Hillsboro, aged 69, and William, aged 67, with whom the father was visiting when death came.

Deceased was in the early days one of Oregon's famous rifle-shots, and his prowess as a hunter was a credit to the reputation of Kentucky for producing the world's greatest marksmen. Mr. Tucker's first presidential vote was cast for Andrew Jackson. Since the Civil War, however, he has been an ardent republican.

The funeral occurred Sunday from the house of his son, William, and burial took place at the Crescent cemetery, three miles southeast of Beaverton.

H. C. Carstens, a prominent farmer of Greenville, was in the city this afternoon.

Ford Groner was up from Scholls the other day, attending a meeting of the bicycle path commission.

When it rains it rains every day. There is such a thing as too much of a good thing.

Chas. Loudon, of Glencoe, was in the city this afternoon, on his way to Tigardville for a short visit.

Charles Olson and Miss Lena Johnson have been granted license to wed.

John E. W. Bennett, of near Thatcher, and who has been a resident of this county for fourteen years, was in the city today. Mr. Bennett is an old veteran of the Civil war and has always had a great regard for American institutions. The Porto Rico bill, however, he says, is in direct contravention to the liberty for which his forefathers fought in the Revolution.

James H. Sewell reports that his hope are doing very nicely this season and that he will harvest thirty acres this year. He has recently completed wiring fifteen acres of new vines which will this year bear the first picking. The wire for this purpose, he says, cost him $225, nearly double what it formerly cost. The wire business has profited somewhat by Mr. Sewell's venture—or rather, by conditions which allow the trust controlling the output to put the clamps on purchasers. THE ARGUS sympathizes with Mr. Sewell as that gentleman raises a great deal of grain and the twine trust will get another crack at him. Unless prices of his products advance somewhat he will be a candidate for a consolation meeting. What woes we farmers have.

Forest Grove still keeps up excitement about the recent inquest case. The Oregonian sent out a special reporter to write up the case and the stir would do credit to yellow journalism. The jury sent in its verdict after having heard all that was to be said and it is only reasonable to suppose that had the evidence been damaging in the least, Fletcher would have been held. The woman, Mrs. Hatch, died from natural causes according to the autopsy and the matter should rest there unless there be much more evidence than was given at the inquest proceedings.

We lead in low prices—others follow: we lead in best qualities at bottom figures: "Sixteen inches to the pound and thirty-six inches to the yard," is our motto.—Wehrung & Sons.

Secretary Peter Grossen, of the German Fire Insurance Co., writes us from Bethany that the house of Mr. M. B. Hoard, which recently burned near Glencoe, was insured for $200, and contents at $80. He states that the loss has been settled satisfactorily to all concerned. This society is one of the best institutions in the county and always meets its losses promptly. The report that there was no insurance was in error.

H. Wehrung & Sons are now issuing tickets on the second wheel to be given their patrons this season. Each $1.00 cash purchase entitles you to a ticket on a 1900 Columbia.

T. D. Hughes, who is now in the employ of the Terminal Company, Portland Railroad Yards, was in the city Saturday last, in the interest of the Conductors' excursion, which will take place on the 27th inst. Mr. Hughes is an old time conductor, and the late Sam Tucker, well known here, and W. V. Wiley, of this city, worked with him years ago. Mr. Hughes is a first-class railroad man, and there is none of the alphabet of the service that he does not know.

Mrs. Judge Roscoe, and Mrs. Sam Rosenberg, of Seattle, Miss Elsie Everitt, Portland, and Mr. Frank Bronson, of Seattle, were last week in the city, guests of Mrs. Guishawler.

The 10th anniversary of the Epworth League will be observed in the Methodist church by a special service Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock. The various Young Peoples' Societies of the city have been invited to attend. At the request of the League, Rev. H. Oberg will preach the anniversary sermon at 8 o'clock P. M. Subject: "Perpetual Youth." Subject at the morning service: "Sitting at the feet of Jesus." A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services.

If you are contemplating the purchase of a bicycle, do not fail to see the 1900 Crescent and Cleveland wheel, at Hoyt's, the Jeweler.

Last Saturday, Willie, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Barrett had the misfortune to fall over a chair while in play, and break the forearm. Dr. F. A. Bailey reduced the fracture and the patient still continues to attend school.

Greer, the grocer, has Black Minorca eggs—50 cents per setting of fifteen.

Bicycles, bicycle sundries, second hand wheels, wheels to rent and repairing neatly done, at McCormick's bicycle store. Get ready for the bicycle parade.

Remnant sale of shoes, new and old styles, cheap, at Schulmerich & Son.

Every citizen, regardless of politics, should vote for the direct legislation amendment at the June election. This will give the people more power than they at present have—in fact the lawmaking power, if this constitutional amendment carries, will be entirely in the hands of the people, where it should be. The measure is ardently supported by such jurists as Hon. Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton, and should certainly receive the support of the people at the polls. Next week the bill for the amendment will be published.

Sheriff Bradford's office has collected $35,792.82 on the 1899 assessment roll and the taxes are still coming in at a lively rate. The announcement of the sheriff that taxes would go delinquent earlier than usual has doubtless had much to do with collections. Max Crandall is assisting sheriff Bradford and Deputy Deichman with the work.
