OREGONIAN AND ARGUS, $2.00

The Weekly Oregonian and this paper give you all the news of home, state, the U. S. and the world.

Dead Letters

The following is the list of letters remaining in the Hillsboro post office unclaimed: Anna Brown, Mrs. M. A. Stillwater.

H. SCHULMERICH, P. M.

All letters not called for by Sept. 15, 1900 will be sent to the dead letter office. One cent will be charged on each letter called for.

WILL WASHINGTON GET FIRST PRIZE?

The Argus Predicts that to be a Fact.

THE EXHIBIT HAS BEEN SHIPPED. Messrs. Heidel and Jackson have Secured a Splendid Showing.

The State Fair opens next week and all eyes from the agricultural section are turned toward the first prize for the best agricultural exhibit. Messrs. F. M. Heidel and T. W. Jackson have had the Washington county exhibit in charge and it is one of the best ever rustled together in the state.

New life seems to have come to the Oregon state fair, and the departure is in every way commendable. To get the counties of the state interested in displaying their products, to get a spirit of friendly rivalry abroad in the various sections of the state will do more than large appropriations towards making the fair a representative state institution.

Washington county will this year have the best representation it ever had at the fair, and if first prize reaches us, much of the honor will belong to Messrs. Heidel and Jackson. Watch us get it.

In a private letter received last night from President Wehrung, he states that all the stalls for live stock are filled, and that the exhibit in this regard will be the greatest the state ever held. The machinery hall has been filled to overflowing and a tent erected to furnish room for buggies, carriages and wagons. He says to tell the farmers if they want to see the best exhibit of stock they ever put their eyes on, to come and see the fair.

THE SPRITZER BOY SUES.

Everyone here remembers the Spritzer, who ran a laundry, as very industrious and honest people. From here they went to Portland, where the father has been engaged as a shoemaker. This morning's Oregonian tells of William, the 12-year-old boy, losing an eye, and a subsequent suit for damages, in language as follows:

William Spreitzer, aged 12 years, by his father, A. Spreitzer, as guardian ad litem, has sued Emmett Nealond, 19 years of age, for $10,000 damages, in the state circuit court. Spreitzer's eye was shot out by Nealond on August 12, near the residence of the former, at Sawyer and Twenty-third streets. Nealond alighted from a horse and wagon, which he was driving, and borrowing an air-gun, loaded with BB buckshot, from from a boy standing by, pointed it at Spreitzer and fired.

The complaint filed recites that the defendant maliciously and with wanton recklessness deliberately pointed and discharged the gun at plaintiff, and shot him in the left eye, the sight of which was forever and completely destroyed. Nealond's father, T. J. Nealond, keeps a grocery store at 335 North Sixteenth street, and it will doubtless be contended by plaintiff's legal adviser that the father is liable for any judgment secured against his son.

MILDRED HAZEN IS HERE.

Monday, September 10, 1900, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Landess, who reside near Scholls. The little new comer will play with her two twin brothers, Dewey and Sampson, who were born just after the admiral's arrival when they were named became famous. The Argus suggests that the little lady be named Mildred Hazen, after the wife of the famous Dewey.

Order your suit, tailor-made, at Dennis'. Over 500 samples.

The infant child of J. D. Roslair, of this city, died yesterday and was buried today.

School commences Sept. 24. Outfit your children with shoes at Dennis'. Best and cheapest.

C. C. Whitmore, one of Laurel's hop growers, was in the city today, and says his yard will be harvested this evening. The other growers will be through in a week. He reports a good crop and excellent quality.

Joe Campbell, who keeps a toll gate on the Wilson River road, was arrested the first of the week and brought before the county judge, who set next Monday as the date for hearing on a charge of having pointed a firearm at one Peterson, of Gales Creek. It seems that Sam Dallas, of Gales Creek, had killed a deer and he and Peterson had gone after the game with a horse. When they arrived at the toll gate, so Campbell says, they refused to pay toll to the daughter of the defendant, who was temporarily watching while the father was in the field. Campbell says they put their horses through a brush fence at one side of the gate and were making off when he intercepted them, telling them they must pay their toll. Campbell states that they all mutually agreed to go before a justice of the peace at Gales Creek the next day and settle the matter, but upon his going down to Peterson's house, he refused to go. As Campbell had a pistol when he intercepted the men after having passed by the gate, his arrest followed upon a charge of having pointed a firearm at Peterson. The other side of the story could not be heard but will come out at the hearing.

Commencing with Saturday, Sept. 1, each $1 cash purchase will entitle you to a drawing on each of the following prizes: First, a handsome $25 sideboard; second, gentleman's $4 umbrella; third, lady's $4 silk umbrella; fourth, choice of boy's $5 suit or girl's $5 dress. H. Wehrung & Sons, corner Main and Second streets, Hillsboro, Oregon. Most complete stock of general merchandise in Washington county.

Ralph Pratt has taken up the editorial quill of the Forest Grove Times. For a country paper the Times can make more changes than any other paper in the state. Its editors are as kaleidoscopic as the "plain duty" politicians. When will Wheelock take hold of his plant and give us his year in and year out management like he once did? Mr. Pratt announced last week that he was making his "bow" Mr. Eddy does not say what he will do in the future, but he will probably entertain himself with the exciting game of politics. He retires from the journalistic field of Washington county, no doubt, with the conviction that "got a good run for his money" in the recent campaign, anyway.

Leave your orders for fresh Portland bread at Gates' Ice Cream Parlors. Two deliveries per day, 10:30 a. m., and 4:30 p. m. Plain bread, three loaves for a dime; cream, French and Twist, five cents per loaf, Pullman, ten cents per loaf.

How little we know what our neighbors are doing at this particular season. Here is what the Chadbourne Messenger, published in North Carolina, says in its last week's issue: "Picking cotton is in order." And this is the way the same paper dishes up a killing which resulted from a land dispute—just as though such things were of weekly occurrence: "News reaches us of a dispute over a tract of land in which a man named Register and his son and a Mr. Lewis were involved, near Old Dock, last week, which resulted in the death of Lewis." A circumstance like this here in the "wild and woolly west" would have called for a whole column and a flash-head.

H. Wehrung & Sons have taken the agency for the famous Monarch Tailoring Co. We can outfit the largest or the smallest with tailor-made suits. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed. Why not try us?

Oscar Striebig, a Portland transfer man, and Larkin Reynolds, of Bethany, have posted four hundred dollars on the coming presidential election. A. C. Shute is the stakeholder, and the money is up. The Portland man is taking the McKinley end and Reynolds takes the Bryan side. Striebig says that he has several hundred more, and that he is ready to put it up on his ready to put it up on his favorite. He will probably get takers.

Fall and winter clothing now being received at H. Wehrung & Sons. Best selection ever made in Washington county. You can not do as well elsewhere. Call and examine and get our prices. We buy to sell.

A. T. Knox, the secretary of the Republican County Central Committee, of Forest Grove, was in the city Monday. He left this week for a business trip to Missoula, Montana, but will return in time to see how things are going politically in Washington county before the presidential election. Andy says that after the exciting election of last June that he is rather taken up with politics, and that if there is any campaigning going on he wants to see the fun.

Carstens Bros. keep a fine line of rustic, flooring and shiplap on hand, also doors and windows. Prices reasonable. Leave orders at Manning or Hillsboro. Estimates on building materials.

H. D. Wagon, Deputy Grand Master A. O. U. W., for Oregon, is in this city and Forest Grove this week and next in the interest of his order. His is a good institution and THE ARGUS wishes him success.

HILLSBORO SCHOOLS COMMENCE SEPT. 24

Postponed One Week Owing to Hop Harvest.

PRINCIPAL BARNES HAS ARRIVED. How the Present Corps of Teachers have been Assigned.

The directors of the Hillsboro public school have determined to postpone the commencement of the term until September 24, and have accordingly notified the corps of teachers. This is done for the reason that there are many of the pupils out in the hop fields and if school were started next Monday, as originally intended, there would be a very short attendance. The new arrangement will enable all to be home from the hop fields and all will start in on equal footing. Some changes have been made in the departments, and the teachers have been selected to fill the various assignments as follows: Principal, B. W. Barnes, Nebraska 7th Grade; Lulu Mann, Hillsboro 6th Grade; Grace Boscow, 5th; Minnie Osmund, Portland 4th; Lucy Humphreys, Hboro 3d; May Willis, 2d; Rose Wilcox, 1st; M. M. Pittenger, Primary. Principal Barnes arrived in the city this week, ready to commence his labors. He comes highly recommended and will capably fill position.

GERHARD GOETZE, Wm. McQuillan, Auctioneer.

AFTER NINE YEARS.

President Thos. McClelland, who goes to Knox college from Pacific University, has the following paragraph in his formal address to the students and friends of the college: "As to the future, I have full confidence that the recent progress of Pacific University is only the beginning of great things for her. I am glad to concur in the opinion expressed by our trustee that the affairs of the college are now in better condition than ever before and it is with great satisfaction that I believe the work is committed to hands fully capable of carrying it out with energy and complete success. Professor Ferrin, through his long and efficient service as professor of mathematics in Pacific University, has gained an enviable position as an instructor, and those abilities have no doubt that he will be equally successful as an executive officer. I wish to bespeak for him what I feel confident he will receive, the hearty cooperation and enthusiastic support of all friends of Pacific University."

PUBLIC SALE.

The undersigned will sell at public auction at his residence, near the Klineham brickyard, Hillsboro, commencing at 10 a. m., on SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 2000 acres, 1050 and 1100; 3 1/2 wagon, set work harness, new 12-inch breaking plow, garden and farm tools, 2 tons cheat hay, few sacks oats, 2 cows, fresh next spring, half Jersey, half Durham, one 3 other 2 years old; 1 heifer calf, 3 months old; 4 Jersey; 3 hogs, 60 to 100; 7 doz. chickens, Monaca and Plymouth Rock, household furniture, etc.

TERMS OF SALE.

Ten months' time, approved note, sums over $10, $10 and under, cash. Five per cent off for cash, sums over $10. A. J. AVERY, B. P. Cornelius, Auctioneer.

H. H. Burlingame, who conducts the Main Street Bakery, was severely injured this afternoon by a bale of hay falling on him. At last accounts he was resting easy. Dress goods in cut pieces; no two alike; the best in town. Come and see them at Schulmerich & Son's.

Herman Prah, who resides on the Griffin farm east of this city, brought his little 2-year-old boy to town yesterday to have his hand dressed. One of the older children had dropped an ax on the little fellow's digits and the index finger was chopped off. Dr. Bailey sewed the second to its place and dressed the stump of the one which suffered amputation. The physician thinks that he can save the second member, although it is cut clear through the bone.

August Tews, the Tailor, Second street, states that he has received 500 fine samples from which to select you a suit. Get a suit that will fit as well as wear. You will save money in the long run.

News reaches this city that Robert Staples, the eldest son of Mrs. Benjamin, residing in California, suffered death a few days ago while working in a sugar factory. It seems that the young man was repairing a huge balance wheel and some one without his knowledge started the engine. Before the machinery could be stopped he was so badly injured that death ensued. His mother is a daughter of Isaac Butler, of this city.

H. Wehrung & Sons are now receiving their new and splendid lines of dress goods. Handsome flannellettes for ladies' wrappers, Call and inspect—and then you'll buy. We buy to sell. It is reported in this city that E. C. Schulmerich, who has been engaged in the dairy business in South Tualatin, on the Schulmerich ranch, will soon leave farming and come to this city to associate himself with Geo. W. Schulmerich in the mercantile business. Gerhard Goetze, who has been on the James place for some years, will conduct the famous Schulmerich ranch hereafter.

If you are not buying groceries from H. Wehrung & Sons you are making a mistake. Best and freshest line and at prices that other dealers cannot meet.

T. G. Meacham and J. Q. A. Johnson were in from Tacoma Monday morning with a load of 11,000 shingles—all cedar, for which they receive $2 per thousand. At this price one man can make over $2 per day, not counting the timber. Quite a few in their section are engaged in the industry. The shaver shingles they get out are much better than the sawed article.

F. M. Heidel makes a specialty of buying and selling timberslands. Office on Main Street opposite Tualatin hotel. Hillsboro, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Jacup s of Spokane, were in the city last week, guests of E. L. Abbott and family, whom they have not seen for 17 years. Mr. Jacup is in the carriage business in the eastern Washington centre, and took advantage of the excursion rate to visit the valley of apples and state fairs.

H. Wehrung & Sons are now receiving their full line of boots and shoes. For quality and low prices we defy competition.

Claude Grear departed last week for Haines, Oregon, where he will take night charge of a flouring mill. He will be engaged there for about three months or such a matter, and then will return to Portland. He has had his training in the Climax mill of this city, and understands his business.

Fall and winter hats—finest shapes and great quality—at H. Wehrung & Sons. Come and see us before purchasing elsewhere.

Mrs. Mary A. Keats, of Tacoma, Wash. is in the city this week, the guest of her brothers, Messrs. J. W. and Geo. A. Morgan, of the clerk's office. It has been a number of years since she visited this city, and is pleased at the improvements. Her husband has for some years been connected with the Northern Pacific carshops at Tacoma.

Those wishing to consult Dr. Brown, dentist, will find him at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Morgan, September 24, and remainder of the week.

Dr. A. B. Bailey, Spokane's leading dentist, was in the city Friday and Saturday, a guest at the home of Dr. F. A. Bailey. He is doing a fine business at Spokane, and likes that city better than he anticipated. He returned the first of the week.

New line of Henriettas, Chevoits, Serges, Sacking and Homespun at H. Wehrung & Sons.

The weather shifted from cloudy to bright and warm the first of the week and Tuesday and Wednesday were ideal summer days. There was a trifle too much heat for comfort, but the change was welcome to hop growers, as it gives them a chance to get their crop harvested.

Schulmerich & Son carry a complete line of ladies' and children's caps and jackets. See their stock before buying.

Our friend A. K. Watson, who has been in the mercantile business in Mountaineer for several years, has moved his stock to Glencoe, where he will henceforth cater to his customers. He has a host of friends in his neighborhood and should do a good business.

Loaded shot gun shells at Schulmerich & Son's; smokeless and black powders, all sizes, at low prices.

ANOTHER PIONEER LEAVES THE CIRCLE

Mrs. Lydia Job Died Last Monday Night.

SHE CROSSED THE PLAINS IN 1850. Had Lived on the Homestead for Forty-Nine Years.

Mrs. Lydia Garwood Job died at her home, one mile east of this city, Friday eve, Sept. 7, 1900. She had been suffering for several years from dropsy, and recently had an attack of paralysis. Deceased was born in Indiana, January 23, 1835, and at the age of 15 crossed the plains with her parents coming direct to Washington county. In 1851 she was married to Noah Job, who survives her. For 49 years she and her husband have resided on the donation land claim continually. She was a member of the Christian church, and was noted for her Christian spirit, and kindness and charity to her neighbors. She was a niece of Thomas Thompson, the veteran Philadelphia lawyer and journalist. Six children survive: Mrs. Rebekah Pomeroy and Edward, in Idaho; Warren, in British Columbia; W. Lilburn and Mrs. Dora Taylor, of this place. The funeral took place here Sunday and interment was in the cemetery west of this city.

Mrs. Job was one of our truly good women and her death is a shock to her large circle of pioneer friends.

PUBLIC SALE.

We, the undersigned, will sell at public auction at the Butler ranch 4 miles east of Hillsboro, the following property, sale to commence at ten A. M., on

JOHN BEACH, S. W. CONOVER, Auctioneer, W. McQuillan.

A SIGNIFICANT STATEMENT.

Wilbur F. Wakeman, U. S. Appraiser, and a staunch republican, in an interview in the New York Times, which appears in the American Economist, a republican trust organ, says: In the spring of 1896 every one was saying that there was no question about the success of President McKinley. All kinds of odds were offered on the streets as to McKinley's nomination and election, and yet less than 25,000 votes properly distributed throughout the Union would have elected Mr. Bryan to the presidency.

In 1896 republican mayors presided over all the great cities in New York State. Today democratic mayors preside over most of the great cities of New York State. Tammany and Hill democracy, indifferent in 1896, are both in line and active for the democratic ticket. With the enormous influence of democratic mayors and the democratic machinery in line we must expect a great falling off in the great cities of New York. There is danger ahead!

PROBATE.

Semi-annual account and report in re estate of Alec McDonald, deceased, filed and approved.

The administrator of the estates of John Michalec and John W. Michalec, deceased, having filed the receipts of the heirs of said estates as ordered by the court, the bondsmen of the said administrator, Green Hale, are exonerated and discharged from further liability. The estates are ordered closed of record.

Taken up—Bay mare, about 16 hands high. Owner call, pay charges, pay for keeping, printers' advertisement, etc. and take same away.

Attorney Donough, of the firm of Donough & Adams, of Portland, was in the city today, on business with County Clerk Morgan.

A nice line of silks for trimming and fancy work; also waist patterns at Schulmerich & Son's.

W. L. Davis has returned from Nome and will remain home this winter, with the expectation of going north again in the spring. He says that there is plenty of gold up there, but that there is so much litigation that many claims are tied up awaiting adjudication. G. W. Shitt, late candidate on the Cornelius ticket, returned on the same boat with Davis, and cleared up several hundred in the north. Wilson T. Hume, the Portland attorney, Davis says, has made thousands of dollars up there this year. H. B. Luce and his son, Sydney, are still panning on the beach. Davis says that the country up there is all right for those who got in on the ground floor, and that conditions are much better there now than a few months back before a large per cent had returned to civilization, competition not being so close.

See notice of sale at James place, Sept 26. Mr. Goetze has 20 head of fine dairy cows, which will be sold. Read the sale notice in another column.

Jennie M. Rasmussen has filed suit in the circuit court against E. J. Rasmussen, asking for a divorce. She alleges cruel and inhuman treatment. The defendant is a resident of Sherman county. Another divorce filed is that of Edith Bryant against Frank Bryant. The plaintiff alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and desertion and failure to provide. The defendant resides in Iowa.

Another week of good weather and nearly all the hops in this county will be harvested. It is ideal weather now for the work but the sky looks threatening at times. All hands are putting in great efforts to get through as soon as possible. If we can get the crop harvested without trouble, we shall make up somewhat for the losses we have suffered through grain shortage.

Austin Craig, the once editor of the one time Hatchet, is now practicing law at Sumpter.

J. F. Wilcox, the engineer in the Patton & Holscher sawmill, near Gaston, was fatally scalded after supper Tuesday evening by the parting of one of the steam pipes connected with the boiler. He was engaged in lowering the water and was standing in front of the furnace when the pipe parted. He was so badly scalded that when his clothes were removed great pieces of flesh adhered to the garments. Wilcox bore his wounds with great fortitude. Although he was given every possible attention death came last evening.

Clean cheat seed for sale. Chas. L. Crocker, 1 1/2 miles east of Hillsboro.

E. E. Berst, wife and child, of Springfield, Missouri, are in the city, the guests of the family of his brother, I. E. Berst. Mr. Berst has been doing finished painting in the railroad shops back in Missouri, and owing to ill health is forced to quit the business. As soon as he can dispose of his interests in that state he will locate here.

Dr. C. B. Brown will be in Hillsboro Monday, September 24, to remain one week.

B. W. Barnes, the new superintendent of the Hillsboro schools, is stopping at the Tualatin. He comes from Haigler, Nebraska, where he has been teaching for several years. His particular town is now noted as being within a few miles of where a lone high-man last night held up a train and robbed the passengers of over $1000.

Grant Downing has purchased the interest of F. M. Earnest in the Main Street Meat Market and will enter the market the first of the week.

Frederick King, who was artilleryman in the 6th Wisconsin, Civil War, and who recently settled near Bethany, was in the city yesterday and made this office a pleasant call. Mr. King was in the engagement at Shiloh alongside the father of THE ARGUS publisher. He thinks he will like Oregon for a permanent home.

C. L. Hinman, Forest Grove, for harness, whips, saddles, etc.

Your fall plowing and seeding will soon commence. Get your harness from C. L. Hinman, Forest Grove. He can beat Portland prices. Saddles, whips, etc.

Chas. F. White, of Glencoe, was in town Monday, preparing for a trip to Tillamook. He and his wife and Henry Northrop and wife are going to spend a few days in that section.

U. G. Gardner, the blacksmith, who has been ill for several days, is able to be on the streets and will soon be at work.

Now is the time to subscribe for THE ARGUS. Vegetables are healthy. When you buy your groceries go to Dennis, who keeps a nice supply of fresh vegetables and fruits at all times.

Circuit court will convene here either tomorrow or Saturday, when McBride will decide some motions from the July term of court. The commissioners' court will be in session Saturday.

Hon. S. B. Huston and family have returned from Newport.
