has such a record for absolutely curing female ailments and kidney troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Medicines that are advertised to cure everything cannot be specific for anything.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will not cure every kind of illness that may afflict men, women and children, but it will and does cure all the ills peculiar to women.

This is a fact indisputable and can be verified by more than a million women.

If you are sick don't experiment, take the medicine that has the record of the largest number of cures.

Horses are said to be afflicted with hay fever the same as human beings. As hay fever is said to attack only beings of superior intelligence, this must be looked upon as a tribute to what is called horse sense.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The ground for strawberries should be selected a year in advance. It should be planted to some crop that requires liberal manuring and frequent hoeing, so as to destroy all weeds. It is grass and weeds that cause strawberry beds to become worthless after the first year, and after the rows are matted there is no way to get rid of weeds in the rows except to pull them out by hand. If the ground is kept clear the previous year but few weeds will appear.

Contagious Blood Poison

There is no poison so highly contagious, so deceptive and so destructive. Don't be too sure you are cured because all external signs of the disease have disappeared, and the doctor says you are well. Many persons have been dosed with Mercury and Potash for months or years, and pronounced cured — to realize when too late that the disease was only covered up — like Bogota Lake, driven from the surface, and to their sorrow and mortification find those nearest and dearest to them have been infected by this loathsome disease, for no other poison is so surely transmitted from parent to child as this. Often a bad case of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula or severe skin disease, an old sore or ulcer developing in middle life, can be traced to blood poison contracted in early life. The Sin of the Parents. Life, for it remains smoldering in the system forever, unless properly treated and driven out in the beginning. S. S. S. is the only antidote for this peculiar virus, and the only remedy known that can overcome it and drive it out of the blood, and it does this so thoroughly and effectually that there is never a return of the disease to embarrass or humiliate you afterwards.

SSS is purely vegetable and the only blood purifier known that cleanses the blood and at the same time builds up the general health. One little book on contagious blood poison is the most complete and instructive ever issued; it not only tells all about this disease, but also how to cure it at home. It is free and should be in the hands of everyone seeking a cure. Send for it.

HEALTHY TONE OF TRADE.

Business Not Yet Seriously Affected by Politics.

Bradstreet's says: Despite some irregularity both as to demand and prices, due partly to warm rainy weather, but likewise a reflection of a hesitancy to embark largely in new business, pending political events, the general tone of trade is a favorable one, and confidence as to the outlook for business in the remainder of the year is notable. Some diminution in the volume of jobbing business is noted at large Western centers, and continued rainy weather in the Northwest alike checked the movement of wheat to market, injures the grade of the same, and discourages retail and jobbing distribution. Ten cent cotton is the key to the very favorable report which comes from the South and the character of reports from this section is more nearly favorable than for many years past at this time.

The indisposition to contract heavily as to the future is perhaps most marked in the iron and steel trade and here, also, the most marked tendency toward weakness in the cruder forms of production is noted.

The industrial outlook has been improved by the signing of the tinplate scale, but the anthracite coal situation is, on the surface at least, rather more unfavorable than a week ago, more mines and miners being idle and production steadily diminishing.

Special strength is noted in provisions and hog products, in which the very strong statistical position is receiving more attention.

Wheat, including flour, shipments for the week, aggregate 4,459,167 bushels, against 4,243,810 bushels last week.

Business failures in the United States for the week numbered 177, as against 169 last week.

HELD THE FORT.

John Hartercorn Proved Too Much for a Band of Hostile Indians.

An adventure with hostile Indians, seldom surpassed in critical peril and exciting situation, was that of a French Canadian some years ago at Fort Pierre au Calumet, on Lake Athabasca. One day, when the chief trader was absent on a visit to York factory, and the other men employed in the station were playing lacrosse upon the ice, this man and an Irishman named McTaggart were the only persons left in the fort.

Just then forty Chippewa "braves" who had pretended to have furs to sell, but who had really been watching an opportunity to plunder, came up to the fort and poured inside the stockade. Pierre, the Frenchman, had barely time to bar the main door when they rushed against it, showing plainly their unfriendly purpose. A parley with the chief, through a small side-trap, resulted in the withdrawal of the Indians outside the stockade and an agreement to admit the chief alone, with the furs. Pierre thus relates what followed:

I instructed my man, McTaggart, to watch when the Indians were well out of the yard, and when the chief came in to make a dash and fasten the outer gate. I then opened the door. McTaggart slipped out, but had not made one step when the chief struck him with his tomahawk, killing him instantly. The savage then darted through the half-open door, and, parrying a blow I aimed at him, he seized the bar which fastened the door and threw it outside.

I had by this time got hold of one of my pistols and pulled it at him as he came toward me, flourishing his bloody tomahawk. The bullet took effect, for the savage, with a frightful yell, staggered through the doorway, where his cries soon gathered his band about him.

Before I could fasten the door the whole gang had burst into the fort. I sprang behind some casks and hid myself there, feeling, however, sure that they would find and kill me. There can be no doubt about my fate if the savages had not been more eager for plunder and whisky than they were for vengeance.

As it was, one of them at once rushed to a cask of whisky, the head of which he stove in with his hatchet, and with the greatest eagerness the whole crowd began to help themselves to the contents.

That they would drink themselves drunk was now my only hope and opportunity, and I quickly kept out of sight behind the empty barrels to await events.

The idiotic abandon and general "cutting up" of the savages as they came under the influence of the whisky was very ludicrous; but you may be sure I kept my laughter to myself. In an hour all were hopelessly intoxicated, except one big fellow who seemed to have a stronger head than the rest.

I now felt that with my pistol in my hand I might fight at least on equal terms, if a fight was necessary; but the rascal precipitated matters by turning over the cask of whisky while climbing to reach some plunder that he wanted on an upper shelf. In doing this a live coal was jarred out of the store into the liquor on the floor and the room was immediately in flames. The Indian who had caused the catastrophe sprang toward the door, but my pistol ended his career.

The whisky was soon consumed, as there was but little left, and the fire was put out without doing large damage, but many of the drunken savages on the floor were fatally burned. When the men came back from the lake and found so many dead Indians and saw the general ruin they were amazed, and supposed I deserved all the credit of the capture of the assassins, etc., when it was merely an accident that had accomplished it.

A Peter the Great Boom.

We are about to witness the outbreak of a boom on Peter the Great similar to that which has raged for some years round the person of Napoleon. Sir Henry Irving, with all the world open to him, has chosen a play on Peter the Great, written by his son, Prof. Oscar Browning is about to publish a life of the inevitable Peter; and J. M. Graham's historical novel, "The Son of the Czar," has already attracted considerable attention, and will certainly be widely read, as it gives a popular presentation of Russian life at the most critical epoch of Muscovite history. There is something significant in this renaissance of Peter the Great. The smaller states of Europe are vanishing, one by one, and everything points to eventual collision between the Teuton and the Slav. In the meantime everything that Holy Russia and the anointed person of the Kaiser can do to magnify their respective missions will certainly be accomplished—Harper's Weekly.

An Original Order.

An order came to a wholesale hardware house one day last week. That it was presumably an order, for it was written under a business heading and had all the general appearances.

The employee who opened the letter studied it and said it best anything he had seen up to date.

He sent it to a member of the firm who read it and threw up both hands. Since then he has been showing it to his friends. It was written by a rural dealer, and is as follows: "Gentlemen—Please send me at once two long-handled shovels, one dozen sixteen-inch hinges and two kegs of tennepny nails. Yours truly, "JOHN ROBINSON."

"P. S.—My son tells me we have plenty of above, so you need not send. J. R." —Chicago Tribune.

The Only One.

Miss Wellwood—Yes, I belong to the Daughters of the Revolution, and pride myself upon being the most distinguished member of the society.

Mr. Hargreaves—Indeed! I suppose you trace your lineage back to some man who was a lion in his day, eh? Miss Wellwood—No, my great-grandfather was only a private, but from all that I can learn he seems to have been the only one in the whole army.—Cleveland Leader.

GOOD FORTUNE

HOW AN ENTERPRISING FARMER STRUCK IT RICH.

Shattered by Disease, Robert White, While Endeavoring to Cure Himself, Made a Fortunate Discovery.

From the Democrat, Shelbyville, Ind.

Near Waldron, Ind., resides Mr. Robert White, one of the best known farmers of the community. He is well situated, and just now has had an unusual share of good fortune.

In his earlier days Mr. White was strong and athletic, but now while on the declining side of forty, hard work and disease have made him a different man, although today he is in good health.

For a number of years he has been troubled with rheumatism, catarrh of the head and stomach. Often in bad weather his ailments would be aggravated and he would be in a serious condition.

When the gripe visited this section seven years ago, Mr. White was one of those attacked by this fearful disease and was confined to his bed for several days. After recovering enough to sit up for a few days, concluded he was well enough to get out about his work.

He went out too soon. Most all patients do that. He had a relapse and was confined to his bed for several weeks. His old disorders became greatly affected. The efforts of his physician, who had been attending him all the time, proved unavailing. The doctor was dismissed. Several others were tried but their treatment was useless.

Mr. White doctored himself and used many remedies said to be good for his diseases, but he was not helped. He went to Mattisville and took the baths, but they did him only temporary good. "It seemed impossible to get relief," said he, "and I did not know what to do."

"At last I was persuaded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and they cured me. I commenced taking them last June, and after taking five boxes, I was entirely cured. They relieved me from all suffering. Of course I suffered from rheumatism most, and I am now completely cured of that. I had tried two catarrh specialists, who were said to be good for the trouble, and they each said my case was incurable. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People cleansed out my system, purified my blood, and I am now strong and well. These pills relieved me of miserable suffering, and my only regret is, that I did not have the good fortune to take them seven years ago. I have recommended the medicine to a number and the dealer in Waldron says he has a large demand for it."

It was nature's own remedy that accomplished this cure caused by impure blood, for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are composed of vegetable remedies that exert a powerful influence in purifying and enriching the blood. Many diseases long supposed by the medical profession to be incurable have succumbed to the potent influence of these pills. This universal remedy is sold by all druggists.

Ginger and Its Uses.

In a hundred thousand farm houses the essence of Jamaica ginger is regarded as one of the most valuable of family medicines. It is still used with sugar in the cold water furnished to haying bands for drinking. It makes a wholesome beverage for any one in hot weather.

Persons of weak digestion will find a few drops of the essence useful if taken in water before breakfast without sugar.

Ginger tea, made from the root, is of service, like catnip tea or sage tea, to produce perspiration in colds, or to stimulate the system after exposure. It is more palatable than the decoctions of sage and catnip.

In toothaches a bit of root ginger chewed slowly will remove the pain and make one comfortable till a dentist can be consulted.

Nearly all the good effects of alcoholic stimulants can be secured from ginger. But the so-called ginger habit has to be guarded against. So has the cayenne pepper habit.

An Overwhelming Thought.

Our son is a third-rate snit, situated in the milky way, of myriads of stars, and the milky way is itself one myriads of sectional star accumulations, for these seem to be countless, and to be spread over infinity. At some period of their existence each of these suns had planets circling around it, which, after untold ages, are fit for some sort of human beings to inhabit them for a comparatively brief period, after which they still continue for years to circle around without atmosphere, vegetation or inhabitants, as the moon does around our planet. There is nothing so calculated to take the conceit out of an individual who thinks himself an important unit in the universe as astronomy. It teaches that we are less, compared with the universe, than a colony of ants is to us, and that the difference between men is less than that between one ant and another.—London Truth

They who know God love Him, and they who love Him learn to know Him best.

It is a curious and interesting coincidence that while the old confederate cruiser Alabama was for a long time known as "No. 290," the new battleship Alabama was numbered "290" at the builder's yard before her name was decided upon, and without any thought of the original.

Brown—I can hit a good cateloupe every time.

Jones—You can! Well, say, how do you do it—by physiognomy or psychology?—Indianapolis Journal.

The very latest is an alligator farm. A Florida capitalist has purchased 800 acres of swamp land near San's Bridge and will turn it into a breeding place for the ugly creatures. There is a large and increasing demand for alligator skin, and this man proposes to supply that demand.

The secretary of the interior has issued an order withdrawing from entry at the land office some 800 square miles of territory in New Mexico. The land contains many of the old ruins left by the cliff dwellers, and it is the intention to make a national park out of it.

A Cemetery for Dogs.

In Paris there has recently been opened a special cemetery for dogs where the deceased canines can be buried with as much pomp and be marked by as pretentious a headstone as their late masters can afford. Along the front of the cemetery grounds a handsome stone wall has been erected, and within the entrance on either side are the house of the concierge and the office. Directly in front of one entering is a handsome marble monument. A heavy relief in the stone represents the dog bearing a child on his back, and commemorates the saving of a little one lost in the snow of St. Bernard pass whom a St. Bernard dog found and brought to a safe refuge.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Neither Bright Nor Shining. Heine's wit was caustic. When forced into the arena to fight a silly duel, he said:

"The field of honor is dirty!" This is so true that it is hard to understand why this popular bubble thus deftly pricked did not collapse for good and all.

TAPE WORMS

"A tape worm eighteen feet long at least came on the scene after my taking two CASCARETS. This I am sure has caused my bad health for the past three years. I am still taking Cascarets, the only cathartic worthy of notice by sensible people."

To Make the Best of Things.

To make the best of things in the right way is to let things make the best of us. My next duty may be one I do not enjoy, but for conscience' sake to do it as though I enjoyed it is to be made a better man. Something that is a great delight to me knocks at my door. To make the best of it is not only to enjoy it heartily, but "heartily as unto the Lord" who let me have it. Then by my joys I am made a better man. So with sorrow and disappointments. They are not meant to diagnose, but to transfigure me. Live with God, and all things shall be His servants, and work together for our good, and make the best of us.—S. S. Times.

Bubbles.

A bubble is bigger than a drop, but it does no more to fill the spring, for bubbles are but drops distended. Bubbles of pride, bubbles of hypocrisy and self-assertion, bubbles of outward seeming unhelped by inward worth, shine on the surface of the river of time, until God's finger touches them and they are gone. It may be well for some of us to pray that we may not be bubbles on the stream, deluding others by pretense of worth; but we need to pray also that we may not be bubble worshippers, caught by social pretense or intellectual arrogance and forgetful of the limitations of human thought and the revealing touch of the finger of God.

Sweet Breath I Love.

An offensive breath is an insult to your friends when it can be quickly, permanently remedied by Cascarets Candy Cathartic. Druggists, 10c, 25c, 50c.

Providence.

God is the Master of the scenes; we must not choose which part we shall act; it concerns us only to be careful that we do it well, always saying: "If this please God, let it be as it is;" and we who pray that God's will may be done on earth as it is in Heaven must remember that the angels do whatsoever is commanded them and go wherever they are sent and refuse no circumstances; and if their employment be crossed by a higher degree, they sit down in peace and rejoice in the event.

Chinese Commercial Wealth.

The progress of China in the last 60 years is well illustrated by the fact that when the Yangtze valley was opened, about that many years ago, $500,000 represented all that the Chinese could buy or sell to foreigners, and a few small vessels carried all the freight and passengers. Now all the annual foreign trade of the Yangtze is valued at over $100,000,000, and a larger fleet of ocean and local craft ply between Shanghai and Hankow than on the Columbia, Mississippi and Hudson rivers combined.

The renewing of an old orchard in the fall should be done by plowing it and turning the sod under, followed by an application of 10 bushels of air-slacked lime per acre. A disk harrow may then be used, when a liberal coating of manure should be given, allowing it to remain on the surface of the ground as a mulch. Owing to the roots the plowing cannot be done close to the trees.

What Will Become of China?

None can foresee the outcome of the quarrel between foreign powers over the division of China. It is interesting to watch the going to pieces of this race. Many people are also going to pieces because of dyspepsia, constipation and stomach disease. Good health can be retained if we use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Some people spend so much of their time trying to be amiable that they haven't time to earn a living.
