THE PRESENT OUTLOOK.

One hundred years ago the people of the United States had a presidential election which is a distinct counterpart of the one pending this fall. It was the Hamilton idea of government, supported by corporate wealth; supported by people who believed a liberal democracy was unsafe, supported by the brokerage interests; supported by those who wanted an alliance with a kingdom—as against the idea of Jefferson, who held that all men should be equal before the law, and that the government would be safe in the hands of the people. Jefferson was elected and his wisdom proved itself. We now have the same forces at work and may look for the same result. The indications are that Bryan will be elected and that the trend to empire will, as it did one hundred years ago, receive such a check that its influence will forever remain buried. It looks as though Bryan is to be our centennial president. History, then, will have repeated itself, and the cohorts of centralized government; the cohorts of the idea that only those anointed by the wealthy shall rule, will shrink away in silence. It looks as though the "silk stocking" forces, and those who have a worship of dollar wealth will be humbled. If indications go for anything Bryan will carry New York and the presidency.

NO SMALL WONDER.

It is no small wonder that the Oregonian objects to being exposed in all its political nakedness. It now returns to the exposition of its attitude against retention of the Philippines after Dewey had sunk the Spanish fleet, and when it argued that morality would not permit us to acquire the islands, by alleging that, in a round-about way, conditions had changed, and therefore it had changed. This is a very silly defense when one has watched the position of that high-minded and honorable journal. When Mr. McKinley sent in his ultimatum to Spain a few weeks after the Oregonian had been anti-expansion, it will be remembered that he left the Philippine question open. The Oregonian had flopped by that time, and abused the president beyond measure for his conceived anti-expansion policy. THE ARGUS said a good word of the executive. The powers in control of the administration had started the big papers in the imperial direction. The Oregonian had "seen" the light, and had reversed itself. Such shameless prostitution of intelligence in so able a journal as the Oregonian is an object lesson that should be noted by every intelligent citizen, for it tells the story of perfidy and insincere support for "cause."

YOURS IS THE PRIVILEGE.

If you want the millionaires and trust holders to hold a club over your head every four years, and say, "Vote for our candidate or we will ruin the country." then vote for Mr. McKinley. And if you want your country to follow the paths of a national highwayman, vote for Mr. McKinley. But if you want the people to govern themselves, vote for Bryan. If you want war all the time, follow the course prescribed by the fellows who never go to war, but who are always wanting some one else to go out and fight. If you want our nation to grow as the nation of liberty, vote for Mr. Bryan. If you do not object to the trusts and corporations to vote you, then stick to McKinley, and quit sending delegates to National conventions. Let the corporations inclined go and make up your platform

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.

Our Centennial President.

Jefferson, 1801-1809. Bryan, 1901-1909.

In other words, let those fellows exercise your right to think. Be a non-entity, and swallow the platform and all that it implies.

IS SCOTT A PROPHET?

In May, 1898, before the "bosses" gave out the word to "flop," the Oregonian gave an unbiased opinion and, also, a prophecy, both of which appear below:

We are not about to enter on a career of foreign conquest, but our position in the world requires us to have naval stations distant from our own shores. We need a naval station in the East Indies, another in the West Indies; and we need Hawaii. All these the fortune of opportunity now offers to us. We do not want to keep the Philippine islands, but we should keep a naval station there.

Already we are in one of the gravest perils of war—the clamor for territorial aggrandizement. The fever of conquest once in the blood is a raging poison hard to allay. We have no further rightful use for the Philippines than as a base of present operations and a hostage pending final settlement. A coaling station let us retain there, but our professions in this war debar us from retention of even Cuba, which is more naturally within our scope than the Philippines. If the war is prolonged, we shall certainly see rapid growth of vehement demand for acquisition of territory we should not take. It may be strong enough to turn the scale of a presidential election.

The Oregonian now predicates its support of acquisition with a defense which practically holds that nations have no morals. This may suit some, but others will object to such sentiment. There are thousands making enforced visits to institutions of detention through following, personally, what the Oregonian advocates nationally. For a moralist one is certainly referred to the Portland paper. But Salem, no doubt, has unwilling residents who would give as good advice on personal and national appropriation.

BRITAIN has subjugated the Irish and Ireland is a mere dependency; is now trying to subjugate the Dutch in the Transvaal; and her side partner, Marquis A. Hanna is now trying to bring America back under British domination. This is enough to make British Americans bolt the syndicate ticket this year. This is imperialism with a vengeance.

BRYAN'S election will not cause any panic. This is arrant nonsense, and the Wasp, a San Francisco paper advocating the election of McKinley, in its last week's issue, says that these assertions made by the republicans are mere foolishness. The corporations can not bring on a panic without squeezing themselves. They are now squeezing the people and working hard to get another four years to tighten up the cinche. Conditions bid fair to break their hold. But this break will not be made possible by sympathizers with the poor abused corporations.

The election of McKinley will mean the death-blow to labor-unionism. In the event of his election the trusts will then have the power to fix the buying price of material; the selling price of the manufactured article, and hence, the next move will be to crush the labor unions which have been a thorn in their side in the matter of keeping up wages.
