Opposed to Gold Mono-metallism. Believes in the Bimetallic Standard. Dear Money means Debased Property, and Profitless American Product. Our Consequent loss is our Creditors' Gain. Has no use for Marcus A. Hanna

NO OCCASION TO SNEER.

The commercialistic journals which are sneering so freely at the charge that in the surrender of power to the great commercial classes our free institutions are being threatened are without any basis of foundation for the levity with which they treat this subject. As a matter of fact, an oligarchy, if conducted by these powers, is much better than the elective idea, which may, from time to time, shatter what the administration has built in the way of greed. As a matter of human rights, the constitution is the greatest safeguard that a democracy ever had, and when we once trample on the instrument, we may do so again with impunity. Our treatment of Porto Rico is but a forerunner of what we may expect when we put away from us the regard for human rights. Once broken, and our regards for equal rights will soon plunge us into a labyrinth of action that is not compatible with free institutions and we will have a republic in name only. Such procedure merely makes us a government by force instead of a government by virtue of the authority of those who are governed, and the germ of this sort of government does not grow in the soil of democracy and republicanism. Commercialism has a great and powerful ally in commercial politics. We are now in the borderland of an oligarchy that will eventually be hard to control. Rapaciousness is one of its characteristics, and it is growing every day. Back this way with a big army, and you will have a government that will be vicious as compared with a monarchy.

BUT ONE OF MANY.

The ship subsidy graft is but one of many that have been purchased by the powers that lent aid and comfort to the administration, and if the administration shall deal honestly with its aiders and abettors a multitude of iniquities shall be given strength and place in statute. There is not an intelligent man in America but who knows that shameful deals, actual contracts, or implied, have been made between the Hanna regime and the great corporations of the country. Let us hope that we shall find some republicans who are not tied to the promises of the masters and who will shatter the superstructure that tends toward the debasement of our country. A vote against the ship subsidy scheme is a vote of patriotism.

WILL IT GO THROUGH?

The friends of the ship subsidy graft are trying every effort to get the measure drafted into law and it begins to look as though it will become a statute. Although it is a measure that is practical robbery, yet it has the support of the administration managers and that means victory unless through fear of rebuke there will spring up enough mug-wumpism to beat it. The bill will receive its greatest support by the unthinking through the fact that it is argued that the subsidising will cause expenditure and make business for the trades for the time being. This naturally appeals to the labor interests and no matter how great public sentiment may be against the measure, morally, because it is represented to do what it will not do—give labor and aid to ship building labor, it will get support that it should not receive, and, no doubt, pass. This is getting to be an age of graft from the many for the benefit of the few—in fact this sentiment was recently endorsed at the polls, and we must take our medicine on the grounds that whatever is right. The fact is the bill and ship owners already carrying and its greatest benefit will go there.

A MONUMENTAL GRAFT.

The Oregonian quotes the following from the N. Y. Times, and suggests the question, "Can the King do Wrong?"

The president concludes his message as follows:

In our great prosperity we must guard against the danger it invites of extravagance in government expenditures and appropriations, and the chosen representatives of the people will, I doubt not, furnish an example in their legislation of that wise economy which in a season of plenty husbands for the future. In this era of great business activity and opportunities, caution is not untimely. It will not abate, but strengthen confidence. It will not retard, but promote, legitimate industrial and commercial expansion.

This admonition to economy is, unfortunately, accompanied by an urgent recommendation to pass the ship subsidy bill, which is, in itself, an extravagant use of the public funds, and which is, moreover, a diversion of those funds from public ends to a private advantage. It is a measure that, under the cloak of protection to American industry, imposes on the producers of the country a tax for which they can receive no direct return, and of which the effect will be rather to increase than to diminish the cost of transportation of their products. It is also a measure for the benefit of an industry that is already in a most prosperous condition, and that needs only the stimulation of open competition to develop indefinitely. Surely, this is an illogical and inequitable employment of the surplus contributions of the taxpayers.

This is only one of the "grafts" which received indorsement at the polls in November. When you expose yourself to smallpox, the disease is yours.

Do not grumble at a little rain—remember that the east is now getting its snow and cold. A little rain is not to be sneezed at as it makes things look like Oregon. You know you would not live anywhere else, so what is the use of grumbling.

When Washington County gets the population that it is entitled to by virtue of its location, we shall do business—and that time is not far distant. From now on we shall get more than our share of the intending settlers coming from the east. Watch Washington County grow—and it will be a substantial growth.

The sooner a man finds out that he can't get everything he wants in this world, the sooner will he have learned the great lesson of life. Most men go down to the sunset ways before they discover this knowledge, and even then, hope in the same old way. Philosophy is easily preached but is a "powerful" poor thing to practice.

The Oregonian constantly throws sneering remarks at Oom Paul Kruger because that old gentleman is in Europe trying to get aid for his people. This is characteristic of that paper. It now wants the the old man to go out and fight. There is reason in all things—the Oregonian excepted. There is a chance for the rabid writers on that paper to go over to the Philippines and do a little scrapping on their own account.
