GOOD ADVICE. The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from dyspepsia and liver complaint.

TWO DITCH CASES IN CIRCUIT COURT.

One from Beaverton, one from Centerville.

INJUNCTION AND DAMAGES ASKED

Plaintiffs in each case want ditches opened. Delplanche asks for $200.

Two injunction suits have been filed in the circuit court this week. Both are dam cases. One is filed by Margaret Forester and Louis Hodler, and asks that Michael Welch be restrained from keeping closed a ditch that the late Patrick Forester built fifteen years ago, alleging that by obstructing said ditch, he has caused water to overflow on the meadow land of the Forester estate. They allege that Welch first made the obstruction two years ago. They ask perpetual injunction from further interference with the water way. The land in controversy is situated near Beaverton. The other case comes from Centerville. J. B. Delplanche is the plaintiff and C. P. Wunderlich is the defendant. Delplanche alleges that he is owner of 51 acres in the M. Wren Donation and that the defendant owns fifteen acres which is subject to overflow from Dairy Creek; and that the defendant has made an artificial dam which causes overflow of the plaintiff's land, and prevents from cultivation at proper time. The plaintiff says that he has been damaged in the sum of $200, and asks for a judgment for that amount and a perpetual injunction stopping Wunderlich from closing the ditch. Geo. R. Bagley is attorney for Delplanche.

The long distance telephone now has a station at Centerville and that place can now talk with the outside world.

Cycle grinders at A. C. Archbold's for $3.00; less than cost. Hardware of all kinds. Second Street, opposite Bandstand.

The rains which started yesterday will give late sown grain a splendid start but will somewhat retard seeding on the lowlands.

Almont Cartmill, late of Oklahoma, is the guest of his cousin, S. H. Dunbar, of Farmington. This is his first trip to Oregon, and he may locate in this section.

The postoffice fixtures have been newly stained and varnished, and as soon as the walls are kalsomined the apartment will be in first-class shape and look like business.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wall, of Portland, are in the city visiting their sons, Messrs. John M. and W. J. Wall. They start east in a few weeks to visit a son at Brazil, Indiana. They expect to be absent all summer.

The Hillsboro bicycle club, per Benton Bowman and others, is petitioning the county court to turn over the balance of the 1900 bicycle tax, about ninety dollars, for the improvement of paths already established.

The Finney Building, on Main Street, this city, has been sold to John M. Wall and F. M. Heidle. They will have the structure thoroughly overhauled and repaired and put in a tenant. It was purchased as an matter of speculation.

A. S. Pence, once Southern Pacific station agent at this place, now having charge of McMinnville, passed through the city last evening, enroute for Portland, where he will enter a hospital. He has been ailing for some time with rheumatism.

No matter who may be ill, the Hillsboro street fair will come off as advertised. Those who were going to cut out the fair and visit McKinley at Portland can now come in and see the exhibit. The street fair will be here—no matter who gets under the weather—unless Riley Cave should take down with the measles, or chicken pox.

The business men of the town have been canvassed and it appears as though there is practically a unanimous sentiment in favor of a Fourth of July celebration. A call will be made for a meeting in next week's issue, when committees will be appointed. It is intended to have the exercises in the city, as last year, and more tents will be secured. The court yard will be secured if possible and there isn't much doubt about this.

Mrs. J. M. Sappington, who, with her three little children, recently went from this place to Troutdale, and who, several months ago, was granted a divorce from her husband, will next Monday show cause before the Multnomah county court why the children shall not be given over to the care of the Boys' & Girls' Aid Society. While here the woman was industrious and careful. It is not known here what the cause of complaint is, although it is stated that her husband filed the charges and caused the inquiry. As a matter of fact, when Mrs. Sappington left this city she went to Vancouver, Wash., where she and Thurston Wilkes were married. They then removed to Troutdale. Wilkes is a big, husky fellow, and no doubt a good provider. Mrs. Wilkes will fight the proposition of taking the children away from her after she has supported them without the aid of the husband all these years.

If Hillsboro gets the railroad, well and good. But whether it comes or not, H. Wehrung & Sons will do business with you. Their new line of wash goods, ladies' muslin underwear, wrappers and spring dress goods, has arrived.

James Rears, who resides on the Wilson River road, above Galez Creek, had a narrow escape from a serious accident one day last week. He was going home with a load of lumber from Hiatt & Reasor's mill and while near the summit his four-horse team and wagon tumbled over an incline and were precipitated into a canyon. The outfit went down some fifty feet or such a matter. Rears saved himself by jumping clear of the wagon. The horses were badly bruised, but none was killed. The wagon was badly demolished.

If you want to look dresy and neat, go to Aug. Tews, the Second street Hillsboro tailor, and give him your measure for a spring and summer suit. His work gives eminent satisfaction. Ask any of his patrons.

The chief of the fire department is putting the Babcock extinguisher or owned by the city into shape, and the department now has loads for the machine. The extinguisher is worth thirty-five or forty dollars, but has not been in use for several years, if it was ever used. It is a very practical machine, and one load, which is generally sufficient for a small fire, costs but seventy-five cents. One can carry it into a building without any trouble and fire can many times be extinguished in this means with but trifling loss by water.

Keep on good terms with your "inner man" by buying groceries from H. Wehrung & Sons. Prices the lowest and quality the best. All their patrons will tell you this.

The horse sale at the Fair grounds was reasonably well attended last Saturday and fifteen of Mr. Tongue's youngsters were sold at auction. The prices were not very high, ranging on the average from $60 to $90. The animals were of good stock, and should have brought better figures.

Picnic parties will soon be the rage. Get your lunch meats of Dennis, who is the leader in choice groceries of all kinds. Fresh fruits always on hand.

A Hillsboro nine went up to Forest Grove last Saturday and played ball with a local nine of that place. The score was 7 to 5 in favor of the Forest Grove nine. Sappington and Williams were Hillsboro battery and Will Boos and Curtis for Forest Grove.

"Webfoot Flour," a great bread maker. Store this flour in a clean, dry place. Warm thoroughly before using.

H. B. Luce, a well known Hillsborite, is now at Delta, Idaho, where he is managing a mine for Albert Tozier. The property is that formerly owned by the late Judge Chas. Tozier.

O. G. Wilkes has the finest line of sundries and bicycles in the city. Also a neat repair shop in connection. All work guaranteed.

Forty chickens and ten gallons of ice cream will be served at the Chicken Dinner at the Grange Hall, Saturday. Come all and dine. Dinner during the noon hour. Ice cream served any time during the day.

If you think a guarantee on bicycle amounts to nothing, call at McCormick's Bicycle Store and investigate.

J. A. Sloan, of Portland, was in the city yesterday, paying taxes on his Beaverton property and calling on his friends. Mr. Sloan is a pioneer of 1852, reaching California in that year and coming to Oregon in 1858.

Fifteen head of Angora goats for sale or trade for cattle, at Butler ranch, four miles east of Hillsboro. Taylor & Foote.

George Billings recently returned from a trip to Lone Rock, Eastern Oregon. He brought back two or three of the bunchgrass horses and is ready for a sale or trade.

You are not in it without a Morrow conaster and brake. McCormick will put one on your wheel for $5.50.

Frank Stewart, of the Portland mail service, and A. G. Patterson, both Hillsboro boys of the past, were in the city Sunday.

Everything in readiness for a big time Saturday, May 18, when Hillsboro will celebrate by having a street fair and exhibit of dairy stock, dairy product and livestock of all kinds. There is promise of a fine exhibition of livestock and dairymen generally will bring in choicest animals and the finest of product. Riley Cave, proprietor of the Cave Hardware store and secretary of the association, has had stalls constructed for the stock and the program will be practically as outlined in last week's paper. Everybody in the county should take a day off and come in and see what our dairymen and horsemen have that is worth seeing. No where in Oregon is there finer livestock than here and nowhere do they put up better dairy product. Come in and see the exhibition. If nothing goes amiss, Washington County will give a greater fair next Fall, when farm produce of all kinds can be brought in fresh from harvest.

Money has been raised for the purpose of having the Forest Grove Ladies' band sound Saturday at the street fair. This will be quite an attraction for those in this end of the county who yet have not heard this institution play. They will be down in full uniform and that they will an attractive feature goes without saying. A complete band, comprised of ladies and all in uniform, will be attraction enough to warrant a visit to the county seat, to say nothing of the exhibits. Now will you be good and come and see us Saturday? Come and bring the family and have a good time. Here will be a chance for the farmers who have been busy for weeks to get their crops in to have a day's recreation.

MRS. J. F. CARSTENS DEAD. Mrs. Henrietta Deelwater Carstens, wife of J. F. Carstens, of this city, died at the family residence on First and Washington Streets, Tuesday, May 14, 1901. Deceased was born in Hanover, Germany, October 11, 1834 and emigrated to Indiana in 1854. She was married to J. F. Carstens, March 30, 1855. They came to Oregon in 1870 and have resided in Washington County ever since. Her husband and seven children survive her. The children are: Anton C. and Henry C. of Greenville; Mrs. Sophia Smith, of Forest Grove; Lewis F., John F., Mrs. Henrietta Williams, of Greenville and vicinity and Mrs. Emma McKinney, of Hillsboro.

Mrs. Carstens had been a member of the German Lutheran church from early childhood. The funeral occurred Thursday, at the Greenville Cemetery, Elder J. A. Campbell officiating.

Some years ago Mrs. Carstens, while driving across the Dick Arthur Bridge, across Dairy Creek, met with an accident from the result of which she never wholly recovered. The horse, vehicle and occupants went through the bridge. The horse was hurt so badly that it was killed. Mrs. Carstens never-recovered from the injuries, and has suffered very much pain.

PORTLAND A RAG DOLL, EH? This morning's Oregonian says that the Harriman-Southern Pacific syndicate has control of the Astoria-Goble road, and that that agency intend to build from Sheridan into the Nehalem and to Astoria. The Oregonian says:

Now that Harriman has made a move upon the Nehalem county, the Northern Pacific may be expected to follow suit. And the Portland, Nehalem & Tillamook will not lag behind if an effort will count for anything. The importance of an independent line to protect Portland's interests will be laid before the financial men of the city in a few days, and they will be asked what they propose to do about it. They will be told that Portland has millions of dollars of its capital in the banks, while only a few hundred thousand dollars is required to build 48 miles of railroad into the Nehalem country. Their decision will settle whether Portland is to be the mart for the Nehalem country or the rag doll between two transcontinental systems pulling in opposite directions, whether the traffic of Nehalem is to be diverted to California by way of Sheridan, or to Puget Sound by way of Scappoose.

If Portland enters the Nehalem, the line should tap central Washington county. Here there is product and profit. Any other line would be error. Let Portland get in touch with Hillsboro and Forest Grove with a line and the road will certainly handle the business in preference to support of the Southern Pacific, the same rates obtaining.

All infants born in the year 1901 are entitled to their first pair of shoes at Dennis'. If you are in the list, call in at Dennis' on street fair day and make your selection.

Thoroughbred Shorthorn bull for sale; 2 years old.—J. H. Shearer, Greenville, Oregon.

E. B. Tongue's Lovelace, a little the finest piece of horseflesh in the Northwest, has gone lame and the lameness will prevent his entering the mile saddle trot at Portland, this Saturday, when the Portland Hunt Club has its race meet. Lovelace is a splendid bay stallion and has a record of trotting that is magnificent. Lovelace has been trained for the mile trot under the saddle and was doing finely. That he would have won the race goes without saying. Tuesday, just after he had taken a mile, his right front leg went very lame and his entry will have to be cancelled. He had some trouble with his leg a year ago. Mr. Tongue is naturally disappointed. Tom Connor, who has been caring for the superb animal, felt so bad when Lovelace came in lame, that he had a "frog" in his throat altogether too large to swallow. It simply means that the horse can never again race. Lauretta, one of the entries for the ladies' race, is in the pink of condition and will be the mount by Mrs. Walter Reed.

Are you going to paint your residence, inside, or out, this season? If so, it will pay you to see M. Peterson & Son before letting the job. His fire and water proof paint cannot be excelled. Find him at the Tualatin Hotel.

BIG ATTENDANCE IS LOOKED FOR.

Everything in readiness for a great time.
