THE SUPREME COURT. The Independent critic; The Asses assent its remarks on the recent Supreme Court decision, and wants to know what it means by a Justice court. The Asses means just what it said. And that means the kind of a court that can make its findings in direct sympathy with the wishes of the administration, regardless of whether or not flag and constitution go together; regarding the very essence of our organic law. The decision simply sets up that we have citizens and subjects distinctively. This is contrary to republicanism, and we know of no better summing up than that given by Justice Harlan, in his opinion dissenting to the majority ruling of the Supreme body.

direct, are you sufficiently intelligent to select men to do your legislating for you? This is a question of much importance, and gets at the real root of citizenship. Our President may yet change his mind about that third term. Remember that "plain duty" phrase of his about Porto Rico.

There is another breach in the pioneer circle of Oregon. When one considers the purity of life of the late Dr. Geiger; when one knows him as his neighbors of fifty years have known him, one appreciates his great simplicity of character, and his exalted position as a citizen of the highest type. Few men, with a thousandfold more opportunity, have reached the standard of eminence that was his by Nature's decree. As his life was a credit to a modern community, so is his death a regret to all.

Good pasture for horses and cattle, all summer. Plenty of living water. A. H. Johnson farm, Reedville, Ore. Inquire or write, J. J. Weisenbeck, Reedville, Ore.

Lumber is being hauled for the new residence to be erected by A. C. Shuts, cashier of the bank. Jos. Allison will superintend the work. The structure will be a handsome seven room affair with all modern conveniences. The Hillsboro first nine went out to Greenville Sunday and went up against the "real thing" when they met the Greenville grangers. The score was 32 to 14 in favor of Greenville, and the boys came back feeling that they had met a cyclone. Greenville and Cornelius will cross bats in the near future, and then ball enthusiasts can see a game worth their money. Unless our boys do better some of our old married men are going to trim up a little, throw themselves together, and enter the arena.
