Opposed to Gold Base-metalism. Be- lieves in the Bimetallic Standard. Dear Money means Debased Property, and Profits American Product. Our Concernment lies in our Creditors' Gain. Has no use for Marcus A. Hanna. SEND THE LIGHT. The Marshfield Mail, a republican paper published at Southern Oregon, has the following to say about the Chinese Exclusion proposition, and we are all pleased to see that some of our brethren on the Hanna side of fence are beginning to see the light that is gradually dawning on the horizon of expansion: "It becomes more and more apparent that there will be a strong and probably successful effort to defeat the re-enactment of the Chinese exclusion at the next congress. The act, which was passed in 1882, was for 20 years only and will expire next year. This coast is just beginning to awaken to the fact that no new measure will be enacted for the exclusion of the Chinese or any other Asiatics. The prospect of any unrestricted influx of Chinese cheap labor is not a cheering one for the working men of this coast, but they will probably have to put up with it. The East has never really believed in exclusion, and it was only enacted to keep the Pacific coast states from slipping their political moorings. Now we are after Asiatic trade and the open door, and we cannot very well ask commercial favors of a nation whose subjects we exclude from our shores. Perhaps the laboring men who will be displaced by the coolies may be unable to see where our new policies have resulted very much to their advantage."

HE WAS BUNCOED. A late proceeding in the United States court at Portland was the filing of a petition of voluntary bankruptcy in which Hugh Fields, of Brownville, is the petitioner. The dismal news is the first that has been heard from Mr. Fields since last October, when in the heat of the presidential campaign he appeared in a lengthy interview in the Oregonian, in which, as a former democrat, he urged upon the people the importance of electing Mr. McKinley to the presidency for the safety of the country. "I am a sheep owner," said Mr. Fields, "and if Mr. Bryan should be elected it would damage me $20,000 on my wool alone. There are days of prosperity," he continued in effect, "days of good times, and we cannot afford to turn our backs upon the good man in the White House who has poured out these rich blessings upon us."

Three or four days before election Mr. Fields was again heard from. This time he was in Eastern Oregon, where he declared with the confidence of a prophet that "within 24 hours after Mr. McKinley's election the price of wool would advance two cents per pound." All these utterances of Mr. Field were flashed through the prints like blazing rockets in a midnight sky. Mr. Fields was extolled in the republican papers as a patriot, and painted as a financial seer who foresaw the future with the ken of prophecy. Today, poor Mr. Fields, in sackcloth and ashes, sits in the mire of debt and weeps, an example of the sublime folly into which politicians lead foolish old men.—Corvallis Times.

W. H. Connell gives the following, from Beal's "Grasses of North America," for killing Canada thistles: "Canada thistles have long roots which store up nourishment during the latter part of the summer and fall, to feed the spring growth. To kill the thistles without the loss of a crop, have the land rich, if possible; at least have it well seeded to clover, and by top-dressing with land-plaster, ashes, or by some means, get as good a growth to the clover as possible. As soon as the clover is in full bloom, and here and there a thistle shows a blossom, mow and make the crop, thistles and all, into hay. After mowing apply a little plaster to quickly start the growth of clover. You will find this to come much quicker than the thistles. As soon as the clover has a good start—from July 20th to August 5th—plow down, being careful to plow all the land and to fully cover all growth. Then roll and harrow at once, so as to cover every thistle. But few thistles will ever show after this, and they will look pale and weak. When they do show, cultivate thoroughly with a cultivator having broad, sharp teeth, so as to cut every one off under the ground. In two days go over with a sharp hoe and cut off any that may have escaped the cultivator. Watch the thistles and keep using the hoe and cultivator until freezing weather. You will see them getting scarcer each time and looking as though they had the consumption. By plowing the land just before freezing you will have it in the finest condition for the spring crop. This plan not only kills thistles, but oxeye daisies and other weeds. It is much better than a summer fallow and without the loss of a crop."

B. F. HARVEY should not get a verdict against the Oregonian in his damage suit against that paper for libel. There is no reason why he should be successful, and besides, the editorial in question, touching upon Harvey's connection with the hideous performance which occurred on the train, was but truth. Papers should have the right to moralize upon such breaches of public decency, and THE ARGUS ventures to predict that no jury will be found to give a verdict of damages.

PULL together for the street carnival, and show the outside world that we have one of the best counties in the state. Every conceivable production should be exhibited, and every farmer who has a good sample of grain or grass, vegetable or fruit, should prepare to show the people what he has. That this county can put up one of the finest exhibits of dairy stock to be found in the state goes without saying. This excellence obtains in nearly all lines. Let each resident consider himself a committee of one to make the carnival a success and we will be proud of our county, proud of our productions, and proud of our efforts.

NEXT year the voters of Oregon will have an opportunity to vote for direct legislation. Direct law-making is no visionary scheme. It simply affords a chance for the citizens of a state to repeal obnoxious laws, or make good ones. Any man who is opposed to direct legislation is afraid of himself. Any man who questions his own intelligence as to whether he can vote correctly on a matter of this kind is unfitted for citizenship. If he can not vote properly on a law, is he liable to vote properly in a selection for men to do his legislation? There is no possible argument against direct lawmaking. Were we to have this our statutes would not be encumbered with laws of special privilege to the few and which are a bill of expense to the many.

THE Sunday train on the West Side is a paying institution so far, and that it will be a permanent feature of the railway service goes without saying. Of course there will be more or less opposition by those who prefer that people shall go to church on the Sabbath, but the train need not interfere with any one going to worship who so wills. In this age of close communication a Sunday train is a great convenience as well as a necessity. The poor from the city, with a very small expense can reach the country side, where fresh air and nature's bounty are free alike to all who come. Those who work the week in the country can visit with their friends in town with no loss of time to speak of if they so desire. The Sunday paper has become to many as necessary as the Sunday sermon, and the mails now bring this to your doors. It takes all kinds of people to make up a world. The Saturday Sabbath man is no doubt as earnest in his belief as the Sabbatarian proper. He takes his Sunday with his neighbors all at work. It is a safe proposition that over half of our people prefer the Sunday train to no train on that day.

CANADA THISTLE. W. H. Connell gives the following, from Beal's "Grasses of North America," for killing Canada thistles: "Canada thistles have long roots which store up nourishment during the latter part of the summer and fall, to feed the spring growth. To kill the thistles without the loss of a crop, have the land rich, if possible; at least have it well seeded to clover, and by top-dressing with land-plaster, ashes, or by some means, get as good a growth to the clover as possible. CARL LARSEN PLEADS. Carl Larsen had his hearing this morning on a charge of having committed larceny in a store, the offense alleged being the same one in which J. T. McNamara was involved and for which McNamara is serving a year in the "pen." Judge McBride appointed M. B. Bump as counsel for the defendant. Larsen pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for the second day of the next term of court. Judge McBride fixed the bonds at $300, and the defendant will likely furnish his surety in a short time, if not today.

BASEBALL GAME. There will be a game of baseball Sunday afternoon, on the Hillsboro new grounds, between the nine which played at McMinnville, last Sunday, and a nine made up from Greenville, Forest Grove and Gaston players. Game will be called at 2.30.

There will be no preaching at the Evangelical church next Sunday, the pastor being absent. Sunday school and Endeavor as usual. Mrs. M. M. Bridges is visiting the Degree of Honor Grand Lodge, at Portland, this week. Mrs. L. H. Deichman is the delegate from this place. Congressman Tongue returned home the first of the week from his tour with the members of the House Rivers and Harbors Committee.

Married—At the residence of Chas. H. Standbridge, July 17, 1901, Mr. Orin E. Rutherford and Miss Lillie M. Standbridge, Rev. M. D. Dunning officiating. F. M. Heidel is still accumulating exhibits for the 41st annual state fair, and that he will make a hearty effort towards pulling down the first prize goes without saying.

At the Congressional church next Sunday morning Mr. Hughes will speak on the theme, "May There be Some Explanations of the Delays of Providence?" In the evening the union services of the churches of the city will be held, when Rev. Ob. G. of the M. E. church, will preach.

This is the dry season, and slashing will soon be had. It will be well for ranchmen to be a little careful about how their fires are set and watched. Hastily a year passes but there is litigation, or threats of litigation over some one's fences being burned as a result of slashing fires. Neighbors should get together and agree on a time for burning and then the danger would be reduced to a minimum.

When staid citizens like J. A. Imbrie, Jos. Downs and others who needn't be mentioned get enthusiastic over a ball game, it is easy to see why the popular sport easily gets a following. These gentlemen were up to the ball game Sunday, and the way they bleached hushed all rivals. THE ARGUS can not vouch for the reliability of the report but it is said that one or two of our citizens who have children grown over in the back yard the other evening practicing catch. A large gunnysack was in front of the town fathers, and these were filled with hay, as a protector. Bird cages cased with masks. Is it any wonder that people like a game of baseball?

New York and Boston are reached the fourth day. This train, acknowledged to be the fastest between the Northwest and the East, is solidly vestibuled and its equipment is unsurpassed. Pullman drawing room sleeping cars, up-to-date tourist sleeping cars, library-smoking cars, free reclining chair cars, and unexcelled dining cars, the meals on which are equal to those served at the very best hotels. Remember this train runs solid Portland to Chicago; there is no change of cars, and the good of it is, it costs no more to ride on it than on other routes. We have other trains. The "Pacific Express" leaves Portland daily at 9 p. m., via Huntington, and the "Spokane Flyer" leaves at 5 p. m. daily via Spokane for St. Paul and the East. For rates, sleeping car reservations, etc., call on or write to any O. R. & N. agent, or write to A. L. Craig, General Passenger Agent, Portland, Oregon.
