

TEACHER McHARGUE'S CERTIFICATE STANDS

Revised Board Stood Unanimous for Non-Revocation.

TRIAL LASTED NEARLY THREE DAYS

Case Will Now Rest Until it Reaches Supreme Court.

The famous McHargue case, from Reedville, and which has attracted much attention for two years or more, will rest for some time, as the Board before whom a hearing was held for revocation of his certificate to teach, and granted in Clackamas county, decided after a three days' trial, to allow the paper to stand.

The Evangelist always says, "Now is the accepted time," and, of course, the Evangelist knows what he is saying. The saying equally applies to this wet weather and to Dennis' shoe stock.

The biggest really sale for several months was effected by F. M. Heidel, the other day, when he sold to J. C. Bechen, lately arrived from Minnesota, 275 acres of the Freeman place, near West Union, and northeast from this city about five miles.

Nearly all of Reedville was up to the hearing, and there were numerous witnesses on both sides. So, the celebrated case which has been foot balled in court for some time, is not yet in slumber, although McHargue is now at the bat.

The trial board found that McHargue's conduct at times has been reprehensible; held that the State Board of Education's finding that McHargue was guilty of immoral and unprofessional conduct was not of force, because McHargue's certificate had expired before the finding was made; and held that Supt. Ball had acted conscientiously and proper in refusing to take McHargue's examination in view of the State Board's findings.

MARRIAGES.

VanLoh—Martin—Dec. 31, 1901, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Leigbow, Mr. William VanLoh, of Seaside, Oregon, to Miss Rina Toitida Martin, of Fulton, Indiana, Rev. Greenlee, assisted by Rev. Ewing officiating. Miss Venus Coburn was bridesmaid, and Mr. Ira Trumbo was groomsmen.

Neep—Tibbitts—The Methodist church of Cornelius was January 1, 1902, in the afternoon, the scene of a very pretty wedding, the high contracting parties being Mr. C. W. Neep and Miss Estella Tibbitts, both of Cornelius, where both bride and groom for years have been popular among the young people of that place.

Beginning with Nov. 29, H. Wehrung & Sons are giving a ticket with each $1.00 cash purchase which entitles you to a drawing on the following prizes: First prize, 3-piece bedroom set; second prize, center table; third prize, antique oak rocker; pair white wool blankets.

Mrs. Mary Sarah Sudd, of Thatcher, this county, died at her home last week, aged nearly 73 years. Her maiden name was Mary Sarah Hopkins. She was born in London, England, and was married there to J. H. Sudd, June 25, 1852. She came to Washington county in 1884. She leaves four children—Harry James Sudd, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Mary Weatherall, Derryville, Canada; Charles E. Sudd and Mrs. Eleanor Bennett, of Thatcher. Mr. Sudd also survives her.

Buyers who want good stylish suits of fine quality and at low prices, are buying their clothing at H. Wehrung & Sons'. Their four great tailoring houses do the business, and people who are "next" buy at this store.

The opening of the Hillsboro Commercial Club last Saturday evening was one of the most successful social events of the season, there being in the neighborhood of about one hundred present. After the rooms of the new club were inspected, and after addresses were made by several of the members and guests, light refreshments were served. The new organization opens under very favorable auspices, and that it will honorably be a feature of the social life of the city is established.

Schulmerich Bros. will pay the highest market price for first-class potatoes, in any quantity. Will also take a carload of the Peerless

Hon. W. H. Wehrung and Wm. Schulmerich, depart Monday for Salem, where they will attend the State Dairyman's Association, and where each will deliver addresses on subjects assigned them by the committees. They will be at the session several days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kindt, and Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Brown, of Portland, were New Year guests here yesterday.

January 1, 1902, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Friday, of Cornelius, a son.

December 26, 1901, to Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Flint, of Kinton, a daughter.

December 28, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wisner, of Bethany, a daughter.

JOHN LOFTIS HAS THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Biggest Turnip Ever Grown in the World.

A MAMMOTH WHITE NORFOLK

Raised Beyond Glencoe, and Weighs Fifty Pounds.

John Loftis, of 44 miles beyond Glencoe, now succeeds to the championship belt of the world as a turnip grower. John has waited until all the 33 pound turnips have been brought in, and then caps the climax with a White Norfolk which has two circumferences bigger than barrels—one, 4 1/2 feet; the other, 4 1/2 feet—and weighs 50 pounds!

The biggest really sale for several months was effected by F. M. Heidel, the other day, when he sold to J. C. Bechen, lately arrived from Minnesota, 275 acres of the Freeman place, near West Union, and northeast from this city about five miles.

The steel trust has advanced the price of plows and harrows just ten per cent. This is no advertising dodge, but cold facts. Schulmerich Brothers looked for this, and took time by the forelock on a year's contract and they are enabled by this to sell plows and harrows at the old time figures.

The annual number of the Oregonian was this year more replete with information of the Northwest that is of value to readers, and of benefit to the section, than any number heretofore published. It will bear excellent results in the East, where people are looking for a home in a country where we have climate enduring and soil beyond passing in fertility. The resources of the entire Northwest are set forth in an attractive manner, and Mr. Henry E. Reed, who edited the number, has done the paper he represents, as well as Oregon and her sister states, an inestimable service. The edition is well illustrated.

The underlined desires to gratefully thank those who have so kindly lent aid and sympathy during the illness and death of his late wife. J. P. GARDNER. Hillsboro, Ore., Jan. 2, 1902.

A happy New Year to Argus readers, and everybody else!

The nicest line of hats, caps and clothing in this city, arrived at Schulmerich Bros. this week.

H. Everitt left Tuesday for Roseburg, where he will reside with a son.

Wanted—A carload of No. 1 potatoes. Will pay the highest market price.—H. Wehrung & Sons.

S. Tunstall, of Phillips, was in the city yesterday, celebrating the advent of 1902.

Loaded shotgun shells; sporting goods, at Schulmerich Bros. Everything at very lowest prices.

Notice the inducements offered patrons by Hoyt, the jeweller, in his display in another column.

N. A. Barrett, Mitchell, Lewis & Staver's traveling man, was in town last week, making his usual round-up in Washington county.

Messrs. and Mesdames Clark and Chas. Gardner, of Portland, were in the city this week, attending the funeral of the late Mrs. J. P. Gardner.

Watch Night exercises were held at several of the churches Tuesday night, and at twelve the Old Year was bidden adieu and the New Year welcomed by the ringing of bells.

There will be a basket social at the West Union church Friday evening Jan. 3, for the benefit of the Sunday school. The young people of Glencoe will render a fine program.

Ward Swape, one of the county's popular educators, and now the principal of the Forest Grove public schools, was in the city, Monday, and reports school work in his town as progressing nicely.

Jerome Palmateer, who recently moved to Portland, from this city, has had a successful operation for cataract of the eye, and feels like a new man. Dr. E. C. Brown was the specialist who effected the operation.

NATIVE SONS' MASK BALL THE BEST EVER

The Social Event of the Winter Season.

LARGE CROWD IN ATTENDANCE.

The Natives Well Pleased at the Result.

The Native Sons' Calico Mask ball at the Opera House in this city, Tuesday evening, was the social event of the Winter Season, and it was attended by a large crowd, nearly two hundred people being present. Over one hundred and fifty participated in the festivities, and all are pleased at the royal time. This was certainly the finest ball of the series given by the organization, and each preceding has been a great success.

There are grocers—and there are grocers. Dennis is the grocer who will treat you right, who will make you a friend to his trade, and who will hold your trade when he gets it. He carries the nicest, cleanest, and best up-to-date stock to be found between the Willamette and Tillamook.

The Hebrews who opened up a cheap-John store on Main street a few weeks ago, have folded their tent and silently stolen away. That they sold cheap is true, and that their stuff was cheap is truer. Such a business should be looked after by city ordinance, as our business men all pay taxes. Here is something for the worthy consideration of our city dads. A small license would not at all come amiss in cases of this kind. Such transients pay no revenue for the support of the city, and yet enjoy police protection.

A shoe drummer was bodily "fired" out of Dennis' store one day last week. When asked the cause of the trouble Dennis replied: that the chap was trying to get him to lay in an inferior stock, and he "wouldn't stand for it." Moral—Go to Dennis' for your footwear.

Wm. Siegrist, who for several years was book-keeper in the First National Bank, and later with the Shute-Boote Bank, is in the city this week, the guest of his mother, Mrs. Verene Siegrist. He is now engaged in the jewellers' business with his brother, Herman, at Chehalis, Wash. He says that the lumber interests in his section are thriving and that business is very good.

E. H. Goodmurphy states that he will open the Antiseptic Barber parlors in the building formerly occupied by Wilkes' bicycle store, and next door to the Hotel Hillsboro, on or about January 1. Everything clean and neat, first-class and all tools sterilized.

Harvey S. Hudson, well known in and around this county, having formerly been a resident of Gaston, has received a promotion. For some years he has been at work in the Portland Internal Revenue Office as cashier. He is promoted to chief deputy and transferred to the California field. His many friends here are pleased at his good fortune.

People who buy their groceries at H. Wehrung & Sons' always feel happy—for their lines are A1 in every respect. Come and buy once and you'll surely come back. Everything first-class. We keep none other.

Dr. D. K. Pearsons, the Chicago philanthropist, has a warm place in his heart for Pacific University, and from the telegraphic reports this morning, it seems that he thinks that institution a "real gem." Pacific University will no doubt get a handsome gift from the doctor in the near future. He has aided it very much in the past.

Money to loan in any amount.—John M. Wall, Hillsboro.

New Year was quiet, and the bank and court-house were closed.

John Heisler was down from Gales Creek today, enroute to Portland.

See Hoyt for cut prices on fountain pens, any make, from 25 to 50 per cent discount.

Wm. Adkins, son of Dr. J. E. Adkins, has gone to Heppner to take a position as night clerk in a hotel.

The Scholl property, in South Coast addition, will be sold at sheriff's sale next Monday, at the court house.

So far this has been the most open winter in the Willamette Valley for years, and mild winters are one of the strongest of recommends for this part of the world.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tabor and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Miller, of Oregon City, and W. W. Lord, of Caldwell, Idaho, were guests of the Hoyts during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bagley, of Leisleyville, gave their daughter, Miss Nellie, a Christmas present of 45 acres in the Jesse Cornelius donation, close to the Bagley home place.

The report reaches this city that Rev. B. F. Moody, at one time pastor of the Hillsboro Congregational church, recently died at his home in Arkansas. Mr. Moody had many friends here who will regret to hear of his untimely death. Tuberculosis is said to have been his malady.
