IMPORTANT TO VOTERS.

Every voter not registered should at once so do, that he may at least vote for the direct lawmaking amendment to be voted upon in June. Do not let this matter go by default. Put the power to make or repeal laws in your own hands. Do not rest quiet and let the amendment go down to defeat. Do not place yourself in a position that it will be necessary to wear in your vote. Register, and then go and vote for the amendment. The state of Oregon—and you are part of it—needs the lawmaking power vested in the people. Register, and vote for the amendment and the union ticket, and you will have done your duty as a wide-awake citizen.

In his oration, which won for him the gold medal, W. G. Hale, of this city, compared John Brown, of Harper's Ferry fame, with George Washington. To this the Oregonians object. Mr. Hale's comparison may have been a trifle overdrawn, but in the main he was correct. Both were arch-rebels to constituted government. Washington made a success of his participation, while Brown was hanged for his failure. But we must all recognize that without the timely aid of France, Washington might have been hanged for his rashness. Both subjects were animated by a love for his fellowman. Each undertook a big task. One succeeded because of international aid. The other, by his effort, inflamed the nation to a sense of the wrong of slavery, and this was the effort that was the spark that set in conflagration that which made negro emancipation a reality.

The Independent of last week consumed two columns to show how Judge Rood paid off the warrant debt of the county—by taxation, of course. If the Independent has any "hot air" system whereby it can pay off county warrants it should proceed to have Mr. Huston secure it a patent, for there would be money in it. Judge Rood has made an excellent county judge, and one in whom the people have every confidence—even his most bitter political opponents admit that. Perhaps the Independent would like to have some more "depression" and this is the particular brand that gold-democrats favor.

The "Echo" whines for two columns' worth this week and the entire gang helps the legislative funk. As to one of its ideas, we will say that Ben and Long speak to pass the time of day as they always did even when they were out debating together in "ancient" history. And if they have ever wanted a drink other than water they got it here in Hillsboro—did not sneak to Portland and get it, after Sunday School, like Hu-ton's on a Friday, the Independent man.

The contract given the tailors for that immense vest pocket, in which the Huston legislative ticket is proposed to be carried to Salem, should not be signed until after the election. The pocket may then not be necessary.

The Germans have several places on the union ticket this year, and they are the people. This is because the ticket was not picked out by any "one man" concern.

Is a democratic governor to greet President Roosevelt when he comes to Oregon in 1903? Is a democratic governor to be at the head of Oregon's state government throughout the Lewis and Clark Centennial?—Oregonian.

This is the silly nonsense indulged in by Aunt Scott, the brains of the gold-democrat ticket. Does anyone suppose that the citizenship of Oregon will be swayed by such idiocy? The Fair is to represent the entire Northwest, irrespective of politics, from democratic Montana down to republican Beaverton. No one but a crazy old man, senile and sore at the possibility of political defeat, would scribble such rot. And it is just such drivel as that which will elect Mr. Chamberlain governor of a great state—a state which must surely rise above such ignominious dictation if it desire to make a success of the Fair—or anything else!

LETTER FROM LOWELL.

Judge Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton, has written the following to Mr. Chamberlain:

April 23, 1902. Hon. George E. Chamberlain, Portland, Or.

Dear Sir:—Permit me to extend congratulations upon your nomination for the position of chief executive of the state, and to express the hope that you may triumph at the polls.

I am, as you know, a republican, bred in the faith, and in accord with the historic principles of that party. Its candidates, with the exception of the nominee for governor, will receive my support and vote at the coming election. Its platform I fully endorse.

The issue raised, however, is not political, but moral, and goes to the very existence of popular government, the question thus to be settled at the ballotbox being whether or not the office of governor of the commonwealth is an article of merchandise, which can be bought by money, and attained by the arts of the political freebooter.

I, for one, propose to go on record in the negative, and shall vote for you. With assurance of high personal regard, I am, Respectfully yours, STEPHEN A. LOWELL.

WANTS TO ACCEPT.

EDITOR ARGUS: Knowing that your paper circulates more thoroughly in this county than any other medium, I ask space for the purpose of calling attention to the political situation as it presents itself to a republican—a republican of many, many years, not in name only, but in fact. The principles of that party have been my watchword, and its old and trusted leaders my star of hope. Principles placed in the hands of tried and trusted advocates are safe; but, alas, what do we, at this time, now behold? These principles, the pole star of my political faith, turned over and transferred into the hands of whom? Not the leaders, who, by their unceasing efforts and constancy to republican doctrine, have for years led the republican party of this state and county to victory; not into the hands of the men who have made sacrifices, worked night and day, in the interests of the republican party, and who have made victory possible. Not to these men! Then to whom? Disgruntled and discredited democrats. Lifelong republicans displaced by Furnish, the anything-for-office type—a man who fought republicanism for years—yes, and a little further down the line we have at the head of our county politics a Mr. Huston, who fought the republicans and advocated Cleveland ideas for some twelve years, more or less!

"Fall in line, gentlemen!" Give us "Harmony!" But will we? The invitation, considering the source from whence it comes, looks more like a request to "Go Way Back and Sit Down." Medsdy would not be trail-g in the dust if these gentlemen remained on probation a while longer—and not attempted immediately upon their conversion, to "take charge of the meeting," while the old liners are requested to get into back seats. For another, I protest right here, and on the 2nd of June—well, "let us watch and pray" that something will happen to these self-appointed leaders—remnants of the Cleveland bargain-counter. In my humble opinion the republicans of this state and county are not throwing out their dragnet into the political sea to catch the snots and jetsam of discredited democrats to lead us to victory. We have tried and trusted leaders who have led us to victory in the past, except when knifed by men who now claim to be republicans—and who have never used the snickerbox to kill their own men—but I am one of many who are willing to "Go Way Back and Sit Down."

Clothing That is Now Talked About

NOT many years ago men who desired to dress well thought they could do so only by paying exorbitant prices for their clothes. This prejudice has disappeared where K. N. & F. garments have been compared with just such high-priced apparel. People are talking about the K. N. & F. ready-to-wear clothing, and finding that it possesses all the style and quality that can be put into any suit of clothes. The K. N. & F. label on clothing is equivalent to the "Sterling" mark on silver. One hardly wants to know more than that about a suit.
