

HILLSBORO TEAM BREAKS THE ICE

Wins Last Sunday's Game in a Walk-over.

THE BOYS PUT UP GOOD BALL

Will Play Upchurch at Portland Next Sunday. $1.00 Round Trip. Special Train.

The Albina ball tossers were unable to connect with McClain's curves so the Diamond-We took them into camp by the good round margin of 11 to 5, and the wise ones say that they could have made it worse if it had been necessary.

The Diamond-We show some improvement in form over the previous games, but there is still evidence of lack of practice in team work. The boys are all good men with the stick and give great promise of becoming a rapid team before the season closes.

RICHARD S. PERKINS DIES IN PORTLAND

Was Well Known in Washington County.

OWNED FINE FARM AT BEAVERTON.

Built the Hotel Perkins at Portland. A Well Known Stockman.

Richard S. Perkins, 79 years old, a pioneer of 1852, and well known to all Washington county, and who built the Perkins Hotel, at the northeast corner of Fifth and Washington streets, Portland, died Tuesday night, at his home, 665 Flanders street, Portland, from paralysis. He had been ill for several months.

Mr. Perkins, who was one of the best known cattle-raisers in the Northwest, was born at Bristol, England, February 4, 1823, and emigrated to this country in 1851, locating at Cleveland, Ohio. In 1852 he was seized with a desire to try his luck on the Pacific Slope, and he went across the plains to Oregon, driving four yoke of oxen, along with Robert Perry.

In November, 1852, Mr. Perkins arrived at The Dalles, and then went to the Cascades. Toward the latter end of the month he arrived at Portland, where he secured work for a few weeks with Albright & White, butchers, and then he and A. H. Johnson formed a partnership under the name of Johnson & Perkins, butchers, and had their store on land now occupied by the First National Bank building.

In 1860 he began the erection of the Perkins Hotel, a six story building. This was opened for business February 4, 1861. Suddenly the commercial depression of 1863-64 set in, and Mr. Perkins unfortunately got into financial difficulties, and was compelled to part with his hotel in 1866. Then he and his family took up their residence on Flanders street.

Mr. Perkins was married to Miss Elizabeth East, daughter of John East, of Polk county, in 1857, and she survives him, along with three children: Robert Sifton, Richard Andrew, John Arthur, Charles Henry, George H., Jane, May and Daisy Perkins, and Mrs. H. N. Babb and Mrs. C. A. Malbecoff.

REGISTER NOW.

The registration for Washington county is about 1000 shy that of two years ago. If voters want their franchise it should behoove them to register at once. Of course, a man can be sworn in at the polls, but this takes much time, and is annoying to all concerned, the voter as well as the judges and clerks of election. The total registration by precincts, comparing the present with that of two years ago, is:

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Local talent from Cedar Mill will present a drama at the Hillsboro Opera House, Saturday evening, May 17, and those who have seen the play and farce which follows, state that it is one of the finest ever given the public by any of our county people. The presentation is said to be full of humor and pathos, and it will meet with hearty support. The proceeds will go to the aid of the Cedar Mill Catholic church and residence, and many will be in from the country to witness the production. Reserved seats will be on sale at Wehrung's, and the posters will be out in a day or so. Do not fail to turn out if you wish an evening's splendid entertainment.

A FATAL AFFRAY AT HOLBROOK

Parties Well Known in the Eastern Part of County.

NICK ANDERSON KILLS G. L. TOOLEY

Alleges That He Killed Him in Self Defense.

Nick Anderson, a half-breed Indian, stabbed one Geo. L. Tooley, at Holbrook, a week ago Sunday, and is now in jail, while his victim died at a Portland hospital. Anderson says that he was assaulted by Tooley; and that he drew a pen-knife and stabbed him in self defense. Tooley, so Anderson says, accused him of insulting his wife, and assaulted him with a hatchet, after having beaten him with his fists. Anderson retaliated with the knife. Tooley's wife was a witness to the encounter. The affair happened in Multnomah county, not far from the Washington county line. Hundreds of people in the Bethany and Cedar Mill vicinities are acquainted with both parties. Tooley died Saturday night.

McHARGUE SUES BUTLER.

Tuesday's Oregonian has the following article anent a suit in Multnomah, brought by U. S. McHargue, the Reedville teacher, against J. W. Butler, a former Hillsbororite:

"In the suit of A. D. McHargue against J. W. Butler to recover a balance of $319, on account of moneys loaned to the defendant by U. S. McHargue, Judge Sears yesterday allowed the plaintiff to file an amended itemized account. The controversy, according to the answer filed by Butler, is one of an unusual nature. Butler states that in the summer of 1895 he was induced by U. S. McHargue to leave his happy home in pleasant Valley, Multnomah county, and move with his family to Hillsboro, on a guarantee that he would earn at least $1 per day all the year round. Butler asserts that he did not earn more than $250 a year, and that McHargue is liable to him for the difference of $50 per year. Butler further avers that he furnished McHargue board, lodging, washing, etc., for 60 weeks, for which he received $94, leaving a balance of $255 due. He also asserts that his daughter was sent to school at Monmouth by McHargue, on the latter's own motion and suggestion, and that McHargue has charged him with this expense of $24, but should not do so. Butler denies that anything is due from him to the plaintiff."

Fred Shomburg brought in the first consignment of cheese from the Glencoe new cheese factory, Monday morning, and the article is first-class and commands a ready sale. The cheese is nicely made, is neatly packed up in "steins," and is excellent in quality and taste. The factory is now receiving 2,000 pounds of milk daily. The product will be placed in every store in Washington county. The firm intends instituting another factory at Mountindale in the near future, and one at this city, and possibly, later on, at other points in the county. Let the good work go on!

Who said suspenders? John Dennis has the finest line ever brought to Hillsboro. He has also put in a splendid line of hosiery, and will give you best quality for low prices. While you are buying the best shoes to be found in the county, just get your hose at the same place.

W. F. Hollenbeck, the Mountindale sawmill man, was in town Tuesday, and says that he is expecting trouble with Game Warden Quimby unless a refractory deer, which browses near his ranch, desists from coming to his barnyard and scaring the cows while they are being milked. The other night, while the girls were milking, his deer came into the corral with a bound, causing a stampede of the domestic animals, and much spilling of milk. W. F. may have to kill the deer as a matter of self defense, and run the chance of a twist with Quimby.

If you have any property to sell or rent, call on us. We are in touch with eastern prospective buyers. We think we can reach all who wish to buy as well as any body else, and we guarantee you an honest deal.—Hoyt & Barnes, over The Delta drug store, next door to The Argus.

The pool of mohair wool, formed last week, was sold to H. Wehrung & Sons', and, as the lot was a choice one, and a large shipment, the firm's correspondents instructed them to give a top-notch bid. The lot, over 3,000 pounds, was sold to them for 25 cents per pound, quite a little advance over that paid for small lots. So, it seems, then, that it pays to pool, and another lesson is learned in this industry.

We buy and sell groceries that are not excelled anywhere. Fresh and staple lines always on shelves. Buy from us once and you buy from us always. Highest market price paid for produce. H. Wehrung & Sons'.

He will also conduct a union temperance rally on May 4, in the city of Hillsboro, the place to be announced later.

There's nothing like making friends. They'll always come and see you. Dennis sells shoes to the same customers the year round. Latest styles, best quality and living prices.

Old timers are complaining that the spring which should be here is yet very raw and disagreeable. It begins to look as though nice weather is waiting for the return of Kenyon Crandall, who is now in San Francisco. When he arrives the good weather always gets a hustle on itself. Mr. Crandall may not visit Oregon this season, however, and we shall have to take it as it comes.

Washington county will vote "yes" and "no" as to whether goods shall run at large or not. The county clerk has been presented a petition of over 100 names, and under the statute the question must now be placed on the ticket. If a majority vote "no," then it becomes law that "haws kain't run." Vote just as you please—this applies, of course, to your four-footed hogs, only.

Each dollar cash purchase at H. Wehrung & Sons' entitles purchaser to ticket on following premiums: 1st prize, lady's or gent's 1902 Rambler bicycle; 2nd prize, girl's or boy's 1902 bicycle. H. D.
